

"Be Woman of Peace" College President Advises

Graduates Told To Love God and Neighbor; To Hasten Peace

Angelicus herewith publishes a letter to the graduates which the college newspaper received for special release from Mother M. Gerald, O.P., president of Barry College.

There are many things I would like to say to you before you leave our Sisters. In fact, I would like to see each one of you to bid you goodbye and to tell you over and over again that I wish you the peace of Christ in your souls as you go forth into this war-mad world, a world waiting to take hold of your youthful vitality and put it to work in this terrible carnage of destruction.

This is the only wish, the only prayer I make for you—the peace of Christ in your souls—for without it you cannot bear the temptations, the pain, the sorrows and sacrifices that will come to your hearts. You have not been taught to destroy. You have been taught to build—to build your characters in conformity with the law of God and the righteous laws of nations, to build them after Mary, the Tower of Ivory and the House of Gold, to build them as mansions for eternity. You have been taught to give the energy, the spirit and the joy of your youth to God, to give Him your whole heart and soul and strength and will. Your part, then, in this day of trouble is that of the woman of peace, the woman who humbly loves God and her neighbor, whose day is ordered in the peace of Christ through the Mass and the sacraments.

With this grace you will bring the peace of Christ to the world, to every eye that sees you; every ear that hears you; every heart that thinks of you.

This letter is a little wistful and sad. I think it is because you are going away from the Sisters. I hope that those of you who have more school days in store for you will return in the fall, and that all of you will remember that we shall always cherish you as our girls and watch you along the way.

Affectionately yours,
MOTHER MARY GERALD, O.P.

College Subjects Pay Homage To Queen Mary Kummer, Sophomore

"We hail you, oh Queen of the Campus," echoed between Rose Mystica and Maris Stella dormitories when Barry colleens crowned their choice, Miss Mary Elizabeth Kummer, Palatka sophomore, for this outstanding honor on May 24.

Queen Mary was presented with $10 in war stamps by Miss Mary Eileen Leonard, chairman, campus defense council. Students commented that they used "bullets for ballots" as each vote was cast with the purchase of a fifty cent war stamp.

Out of the eleven candidates, first and second runners-up, the Misses Mary Jeanne McCullen and Mary Jane Ward, respectively, served as the Queen's loyal ladies in waiting and the remaining candidates, the Misses Patricia Downey, Mary Steckel, Colleen Breslin, Patricia Kelly, sophomore, Francis Munroe, and Josephine Pflueger made up her court attendants.

Bearer of the Queen's train was Miss Joan Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Thompson.

Following the presentation of the students to the Queen by the Misses Frances Collier and Dorothy Bartlett the Gavotte Minuet was performed by dancers, Misses Margaret Adeb, Julie Usina, Audrey Hull, Victoria Parkinson, Betty Motschall, Pegge McGhan, Geraldine Kunz, and Bettie Dunn. It's Strictly Up To You

Barry graduate, your future is your own. No longer may you be guided and counselled in your daily activities by your teachers and your friends. From here on, it's strictly up to you.

The odds are against you, for this world you're stepping into is at its worst, seething with hatred, bigotry and human suffering. It won't be easy to make your way into such chaotic existence. There will be many times when you will border on decisions and ask yourself, "Am I right? Am I wrong?" The safeness, the security, the sanctuary that was Barry College will seem so desirable and so distant. When these thoughts reach out to engulf you, look deep into your hearts and know that Barry is not really as far away as it seems.

The wisdom that was your professors', the laughter that was your friends', the warm sunshine on long white buildings and lush green lawns, the clamor of the classroom, the coolness of the chapel—all, all of them are still with you, nestled deep within your hearts. Above all, the ideals that Barry College stood for, the fine traditions that were handed on to you are the bonds of courage that will lift you out of the darkness of despair into the light of hope.

When you walk through the college gates, a part of Barry will go with you—a part of you will remain here with us. The fine spirit that you have shown, the splendid example that you have set will be the goal for us who follow.

Your future lies ahead, graduate. The world belongs to you. Good luck, good living, and God bless you!

Will You Help Johnnie To Come Marching Home

Summer, 1943. This summer of our second year at war will find few of our nation's young women enjoying hours of idleness or recreation. Rather, most of them will be putting forth time and energy toward a more successful prosecution of the war.

Now more than ever, jobs are open to women, in order that both men and women may be released for active service duty. They are in demand for such important work as nurses' aides, airplane spotters, block leaders, U.S.O.-N.C.C.S. hostesses, and bandage rollers for the Red Cross.

These are some suggestions which can help us direct our summer activities. By volunteering for such jobs as these we are truly bringing Victory a day closer. We are bringing closer that glorious day when Johnnie comes marching home again!

No Vacation from Religion

Summer is the student's holiday, the time of year when books are set aside and play becomes the order of the day. So it has been in the past and so it will no doubt be for many of us this summer. Vacations are necessary; they enable us to relax physically and mentally and to prepare ourselves for the tasks ahead. Let us remember, however, that there should be no spiritual relaxation; we must never take a vacation from religion. Instead, summer provides us with additional time to devote to the honor and glory of God. Go swimming and riding and dancing this summer; enjoy life and the pleasures it brings; but don't forget to reserve a part of every day for Our Lord and His Blessed Mother.

"B" Mail

Your summer plans are many and varied. Barry girls, and you will be well scattered across the forty-eight states. For some of you there will be no return; for others, Barry will again be your destination next September. Graduates and under-graduates, all of you are linked by a common bond—you are Barryites. Keep that bond firm this summer; strengthen it with "B" mail. Trade news of activities and interests with each other. Send pictures, post-cards, packages and keep the post-office buzzing with Barry mail. This is the way to strengthen old friendships and form new. Above all, don't forget the faculty when you are writing "B" mail.

On Exhibition

Whenever you step outside the portals of Barry College, the world is looking at you. You are the women of Barry College and you reflect the standards of your school. This summer when you are out in the world, prove that your standards are high. Be a true Barry girl. Be proud of your education, as you have a right to be, for you have received the finest physical, spiritual, and cultural training to be found. You're on exhibition, Barry girl! Step out and show the world what you are made of!

News Review Notes Dutch Strikes Punishable By Death; English Queen Pleads For Christianization of British Homes

The Dutch News Agency Aneta reported that Arthur Seysz-Inquart, German commissioner for occupied Holland, decreed that strikes or reduction in output of that country would be punished by penal servitude or death.

Pan-American Neighbors:

A bill for the complete independence of Puerto Rico was opposed by Secretary Harold L. Ickes. He pointed this out as a probable "serious mistake both from the point of view of the United States and Puerto Rico in the light of conditions existing after the War."

Ibero-American students received their diplomas at Embry-Riddle School of Aviation here in Miami where they have been studying for the past year and a half. The ceremonies were attended by diplomatic, military and civilian officials.

Queen of England:

Queen Elizabeth of England, in a broadcast, paid tribute to the women of the British Empire who, she stated, earned "gratitude and admiration of all mankind by their quiet heroism and astonishing work in helping to win the war." She also pleaded for Christianization of British homes, and said that she was looking forward to a great rebuilding of family life as soon as war ended.

The War Front:

The American Army was closing on the main Japanese forces on Attu Island Tuesday. The enemy's plight appeared hopeless. The Commander-in-chief of the allied

WHAT THEY'RE THINKING

"The first real vacation in four years," is the opinion expressed by the six Barry College lay graduates on being asked their plans for the summer. But these scholastic young women have no intention of letting the whole summer lapse without an accomplishment of some sort.

Miss Audrey Bibeault plans to spend the summer months with her parents in Miami. She has decided to work and has her eye on a job with Pan American Airways. When asked as to how her years at Barry would aid her in future plans Audrey replied that the courses in social science taken at Barry will be a great factor in securing her entrance to the National Catholic School of Social Studies at Washington, D. C., this fall.

Mrs. Mary Hogenmuler who taught, previous to her entrance at Barry this year, desires to pursue her studies still further, working for her master's degree. Nevertheless, a complete rest is the main course in her curriculum this summer, which she will undertake at her parents' home in Massachusetts. The urge to teach is still strong within her and may very probably result in her occupying a teacher's desk next September.

Miss Mary Steckel, home economics major has plans for putting her well learned knowledge within the easy reach of eager-to-learn students. For the summer, however, Mary's plans are not so definite, but cover a multiple of planned accomplishments. They include mainly a two-week period of complete relaxation, secondly, about a month on the burning sands of Miami Beach and in September a trip to the West coast for the marriage of a school friend. The bride-to-be was a former student at Barry.

The students of Barry College wish to extend to those seniors they have come to know and admire during their all-too-brief acquaintance, their sincerest wishes and the hope for the greatest success in their future endeavors, and pray that the blessing of God be ever with them.

Frances Verhelle, who has majored in social sciences, plans to get a job immediately, instead of resting as we would expect her to do. Her plans are not definite yet as to the type of position which she hopes to secure.

Rosella Hoerschel, will continue working at St. Frances Hospital during the summer. This will not seem like a new job to her since she has spent a large part of her time at this hospital during the past year. Her four years of hard work will result in a successful position as laboratory technician.

Patricia Kelly, also is not planning on a restful vacation, but hopes to secure a position as soon as possible. Her wish is to find her place in one of the many essential war industries. Along with the spiritual and intellectual education which she has received at Barry, Patricia feels grateful for the matured outlook on life which she has acquired.

On Graduation . . .

Graduation for the Seniors

Is a day of great delight
For it means the end of homework
And of cramming half the night.

Of toiling on through mid-terms,
Of getting up at dawn
To drag along to classrooms
And sit and smother yawns.

Oh yes, you lucky Seniors,
Your days of work are through.
But pity us who must remain
To carry on for you.

Though someday we'll be leaving
This hard and hapless fate,
It's you for whom we're grieving;
We're quite content to wait!

—C. Breslin.

Kampus Kapers

The value of physical education to a Barry woman was illustrated by Miss Jean Mary Wilkowski on the students' last hayride. From a standing position some five feet from the wagon, Miss Wilkowski amazed all by making a running jump up onto the hay—and no hands!

Wings, bars, pins of every size, shape, and branch of the service are worn on campus. Barry is slowly but surely resembling a military organization in itself. Now we hear the latest and best news and have at last an explanation for the rosy cloud around Fran Gunderson's head of late. "Gundy's" been promoted to the rank of Lieutenant (j.g.). Congratulations, Fran!

Wagon, hay, and Mr. Albert arrived at 8:15 p. m. Thursday, May 3, to take the Barry gals on their much-awaited hay ride. After much ado the wagon was filled to capacity and by 8:30 they were off.

As the wagon left the gate, songs, laughter, and more nonsense predominated the affair. Relaxation and gaiety were sought, and found.

At 10:30 the wagon made a stop in North Miami in order that a little nourishment could be had.

By 11:00 the wagon rolled into Barry once again and this time with a few weak sounding voices and about twenty sleepy, well satisfied girls.

IN APPRECIATION

To the faculty of Barry College we wish to extend our deepest gratitude for the splendid guidance that you have offered to us this past year. Without your generous aid and advice we would never have tasted the full fruits of learning nor known the joys that come with a richer understanding and appreciation of spiritual values.

Point Rationing:

Point values of foods rise and lower in proportion to the supply of food on hand. This regulation is determined by the Office of Price Administration.

See "Ration Books"—Page Three

In your war rationing book you will find coupons bearing a number and a letter. The letter makes known the period in which the coupon may be used. The number refers to the value of the coupon in food terms. Foods are correspondingly numbered.

Annual Aquatic Meet Gives Highest Points To Athletic Freshmen

Beatrice Sevier and Dorothy Bartlett Point Winners

Beatrice Sevier, freshman swimmer, outplashed teammates and opponents in the annual swimming meet held in Pennafort Pool last Wednesday as freshmen dominated the aquatic affair.

Bea was high point winner of the meet totaling 105 points. However, the A. A. ruling which states that a participant can only receive 100 points as high point woman cancels the extra points.

She took first place in three events and placed in three. She easily won the 25-yd. back-stroke in 20½ seconds, and the 25-yd. free style in 18 seconds.

Closely following Bea was Dorothy Bartlett, another freshman with 100 points. Dorothy took first place in two events, and placed in four.

Rosa Mystica was victorious in one event, the Nightshirt Relay. Mary Kummer was anchor girl in the event and helped chalk up the one victory for the upper classmen.

For entering the meet a participant could earn 5 points; 1st place, 25 points; 2nd place, 15 points; 3rd place, 10 points.

The summaries:

25-yard Breast—Won by Frances Collier; second, Dorothy Bartlett. Third contestant disqualified. Time: 28 seconds. Beginner's Dive—Won by Frances Monroe; second, Mary Jean McCullen; third, Mary Leonard.

Balloon Derby—Won by Beatrice Sevier; second, Frances Collier; third, tie between Mary Eileen Leonard, Dorothy Bartlett, Mary Jean McCullen.

25-yard Back Stroke—Won by Bea Sevier; second, Frances Collier; third, Dorothy Bartlett. Time: 20½ seconds.

Nut in Spoon Race—Won by Mary Kummer; second, Julie Usina; third, Lorraine Miller.

Advanced Diving—Won by Dorothy Bartlett; second, Beatrice Sevier; third place contestant disqualified.

25-yard Free Style—Won by Beatrice Sevier; second, Dorothy Bartlett; third, Frances Collier. Time: 18 seconds.

Nightshirt Relay—Won by Rosa Mystica (F. Collier, M. Kummer, M. Leonard). Underwater Swim—Won by Dorothy Bartlett; second, Julie Usina; third, Beatrice Sevier.

Fimming Race—Won by Julie Usina; second, Mary Jean McCullen; third, Lorraine Miller.

Four Received As Dominican Tertiaries

The possibility that a Barry Chapter of the Tertiaries of the Third Order of St. Dominic will be formed next fall was expressed by the Reverend Cyril W. Burke, O.P., following the enrollment of three students and the resident nurse on May 4.

Before a local chapter can be organized, Father Burke explained, it is necessary to obtain permission from both the Bishop of the Diocese and the Dominican Provincial. If a chapter were to be established, its activities would include monthly meetings at which the college Chaplain would give instructions.

Those enrolled as Tertiaries were the Misses Florence McCarthy, Josephine Pflueger, Frances Collier and Miss Mary C. Steel. Four students who were professed following the ceremony of enrollment were the Misses Lorraine Miller, Betty McBride, Christine MacGill and Patricia MacGill.

Students Hear Helpful Hints On Summer Shopping

Attention, students. If you don't want to go hungry this summer, be sure you call for your ration books at the dean's office before leaving campus.

In a review of shopping methods of the college during the scholastic year, Sister M. de Lellis, O.P., dean, disclosed that 7,000 points a month were necessary for meats, butter, and fats; and 6,400 points for vegetables.

The college used approximately 134 pounds of sugar each month.

Warning that students promptly familiarize themselves with OPA regulations and war ration timetables in local newspapers was given by Miss Helen Meyer of the Home Economics department. She stated that cotton fabric has been frozen to the retailer until June 30.

The OPA hopes to have a new ration book out by that date indicating that more commodities would be rationed, believes Miss Meyer.

She advised students to buy well-designed dresses, clothes that will stay in style with the years to come.

"Spend time choosing carefully, but don't stock up on food and clothes unless you really need them and can put them into immediate use."

Barry's Equestrians Enjoy Last Ride Including Fried Chicken

Last, but not least! Only the staunch equestrians who experienced Thursday's, (May 20), horse-back ride can fully appreciate how adequately that phrase fits. The group feels that nothing will ever surpass their last ride.

Instead of the traditional Miami moon to add to their merriment, the Miami rainstorm came. But never for a minute did it dampen the rider's spirits. Hilarity was the order of the day for laughter started with the first rain drop and didn't cease til long after lights were out and the moon actually did come up.

Ask Betty "Speedy" McBride and Mary Eileen "Tanglefoot" Leonard as to how they acquired their nicknames. If you want a definition of fun ask the riders for an account of the ride beginning with the wasp nest to the golden fried chicken.

Three Received Lifesaving Certificates

Three Barry College mermaids, Fran Verhelle, Fran Collier, and Dot Bartlett, completed their senior lifesaving course last week. They were given an hour and half exam on practical rescue problems.

Miss Jean Wilkowski, physical education instructor at Barry, said that she believed the most difficult part of the exam was the problem concerned with lifting of the victim from the water over the side of the pool.

After the fifteen-hour course the swimmers believe their emblems are well earned. Each certificate winner wins 100 points toward her athletic award.

An outstanding batter in the softball tournament, Miss Mary Jeanne McCullen.

Top Honors Scored by Sophomores For Athletic Jacket and Emblems

Rosa Mystica Defeats Maria Stella in Softball Tournament

A triple play started by pitcher Pat Downey of Maris Stella brought a 10-9 victory over the Day Hops to the freshmen in the final game of the softball tournament won by Rosa Mystica. Maris Stella took second place honors.

The Rosa Mystics captured the crown by winning three out of four games. Their last battle was with Maris Stella, the team which defeated them in their first meeting. However, the tables were turned and freshmen bowed to upperclassmen.

Pat Downey of Maris Stella was high scorer with 16 runs. She was closely followed by Mary Eileen Leonard, Rosa Mystica, Mary Jeanne McCullen, and Frances Monroe, Day Hops who each scored 12 runs.

TABULATIONS
Team	Won	Lost
Rosa Mystica	3	1
Maris Stella	2	2
Day Hops	1	3

Girls who attended all but one practice, and who participated in all but one of the tournament games will receive 100 points toward their athletic emblem.

Teachers' Club Completes Civic Survey Project

With the closing of the school year, the Barry College Teachers' club concludes its survey of the City of Miami. The semester plan consisted of individual research and reports on city government, including education, public institutions, public utilities, welfare provisions, and postal facilities.

At monthly meetings, members of the Teachers' club submitted their findings and discussed the management of Miami in comparison with other large cities, and with regard to improvements. The city charter and its provisions for the various departments was studied and interviews with City Manager A. B. Curry and other city officials added a personal touch to the survey.

The Teacher's club plans to submit the result of its research to the Barry College library, where it will be kept for future reference.

During the year the club also conducted a panel on "The Effects of War Upon Education," in which the appalling teacher shortage and necessities of curricula changes were discussed before the faculty and students of the college.

being offered by the fine arts department.

Victory courses will be continued through the summer session, the dean announced.

"Here at Barry," the dean declared, "we are not shutting out of our vision the practical needs of our democracy."

The classical language department is offering courses in the survey of Latin syntax, and the history of Latin literature.

Mary Eileen Leonard First Student to Win Coveted Jacket

Mary Eileen Leonard, sophomore, is the first Barry student to receive an athletic jacket. Six other sophomores, Lorraine Miller, Mary Kummer, Rita Mulcahy, Betty McBride, Pege Reis, and Patricia Kelly, and one senior, Fran Verselle, will receive emblems through the point system which was set up last year by the Barry Athletic Board.

Mary Eileen has a score of 1071 and is closely followed by Ruth Waters, who has 995 points, Audrey Hull with 890, and Mary Kummer with 861.

Mary Eileen completed her freshman year with 515 points, thus meriting an emblem. Most of the sophomore's points were made this year by participation in the three-team sports and in all the horseback rides. She took part in all campus tournaments and made sixty points during the Play Day held in April. An outstanding basketball player, Mary Eileen was given recognition on the all-city basketball team after her showing in the city tournament at the Beach High School gymnasium.

Ruth Waters was awarded her emblem last year with a score of 575 points. This year Ruth earned points in team sports, tournament play, and by accumulating fifty points through Play Day. Unfortunately, the Jacksonville sophomore was unable to compete in this year's swim meet which would have given her the necessary five points to win a jacket.

Riding and team sports gave Audrey Hull most of her 890 points. She was runner-up in the tennis tournament and gained sixty points during the Play Day. Audrey also took part in the badminton, ping-pong, and archery tournaments on campus.

Winner of the tennis tournament, Mary Kummer, gained 135 points in that sport. She attended three rides and took part in all tournaments and all team sports throughout the year.

Another sophomore, Lorraine Miller, was winner of the archery tournament which gave her eighty-five points. She took part in two team sports, and participated in all the tournaments held on campus.

City Officials Daughter Here

Judge James A. Dunn's election as city commissioner gave an honor to his daughter as well as to himself. Bettie, it is believed, is the first student on the Barry College campus whose father holds a high position in city management.

However, Bettie will tell you that the honor is preceded by worry and anxiety during campaign time.

When the campaign started, Bettie began a scrap book of newspaper clippings from the local press.

Following her father's election she said, "I'm very pleased that the people of Miami chose my father to be city commissioner, and to take part in running the city of Miami. It was a relief when I found that he had won the election."

A freshman at Barry College, Bettie was graduated from Miami Edison High School last January.

Students Reach High Quota for Red Cross

Barry students rolled 18,000 hand-ages for the Red Cross during the school year, Miss Mary Steel, college infirmarian, stated in a report of campus war work.

Especially commended for the time they "willingly gave to the American Red Cross" were Joan Sahlfeld, Margaret Adeb, Patricia Downey, and Beatrice Sevier.

Miss Steel cited the contribution of upperclassmen "who are to be thanked for the time and work they gave before Christmas."

Three Papers Are Presented at Meeting

Three papers comparing the leading statesmen of Greece and Rome with those of South America were read at the final meeting of the Classical Club held May 11 in Rosa Mystica.

Ann Grimshaw presented a paper on Pericles, the Greek ruler. Mary Jane Ward delivered a paper on the two Romans, the Gracchi brothers. Florence McCarthy, on the great Venezuelan liberator, Simon Bolivar.

According to the first consul Miss Rita Mulcahy, the meeting of the Classical club, which this year had as its purpose the strengthening of the band of unity between the two Americas by showing a similiarity in the origin of their culture, "has more than adequately been fulfilled."

By Lines Given to Three Students

Four students from college wrote news stories and advertisements for the graduation edition of the Miami Herald appearing May 14. The main purpose was extra credit for the students.

A by-line was given to Frances Collier, who wrote "Pioneer Class from Barry Making Good" and "Barry College Plans Mary's Day Fete." Journalism Students Ruth Waters wrote "Barry Clubs Entertain." "4 Years Teaching Study is Offered at Barry" was written by Lorraine Miller.

Students of this class wrote ad-

Blessed Virgin Mary Honored During May

Sodalists of Mary honored her in a special way during May with a coronation ceremony in Cor Jesu Chapel, at 7 p. m., Sunday, May 16.

Students, carrying lilies, formed an aisle as Miss Colleen Breslin, prefect, and her attendants, Sodality committee chairmen, walked in procession to the altar of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

There Miss Breslin, attired in a white formal dress and a long blue cape, crowned the Blessed Virgin with a wreath of white carnations, and then led the Sodalists in reading the Act of Consecration. Virginia Crowley, flower girl, carried the crown of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

The Reverend Cyril W. Burke, O.P., college chaplain, gave a short talk in which he urged Barry students to keep Mary always in our hearts and to set her up as our ideal and model for good wholesome living.

Recitation of the Most Holy Rosary and the Litany of the Blessed Virgin Mary were followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament given by Father Burke.

During the ceremony Sodalists sang, "Tis the Month of Our Mother," "Bring Flowers of the Rarest," and "Mother at Thy Feet Is Kneeling."

Day Hops Lead in War Bond Drive

The Defense Council proudly boasts that over $262.75 worth of stamps were sold since the beginning of sales. During the week of May 16 the $25 mark was passed for the first time.

At the conclusion of sales the Day Students were in the lead because Lorraine Miller bought six bonds, therefore putting them on the top.

Students who worked at the booth were Mary Kummer, Frances Collier, Julie Usina, Ruth Waters and Mary Eileen Leonard, chairman.

In a message from the Chairman she states "As chairman of the defense council I wish to congratulate the faithful supporters of our booth whom we see every Wednesday. To the others, boarders or day students who have not been there, we hope to see you before the year is out. Our boys are depending on you. Are you going to let them down?"

Former Journalism Student Finds Place in 4th Estate

Christine MacGill, '45, comes from a long line of writers. Her father is Patrick MacGill, Irish novelist and playwright whose works can be found in the Irish literature section of the Barry library; her mother was court reader to Queen Mary and is currently doing free lance work for national magazines.

Perhaps that is why Chris determined to find a place for herself in the writing world, or Fourth Estate, as it is known to professional journalists.

Attracted by an advertisement for a copy girl in the Miami Daily News late in April, Chris applied for the position, and within a few minutes was seated behind a desk awaiting her first call to deliver news stories from city desk to composing room.

Although on the bottom rung of the newspaper ladder, the ambitious girl has already established herself as a writer. By her determination to "get into print," Chris had two signed articles accepted by the church editor of the News. Her first story was on the Easter services in the Miami Catholic churches; the second was a summary of the Mother's Day sermons to be given in the Miami parishes.

During her freshman year at Barry, Chris was an "A" student in journalism, a staff member of Angelicus, and a contributor to the school section of the Miami Herald.
