

Rev. Burke, O. P., Chaplain, Greets Returning Collegians

Barry Students, Welcome! Those three little words represent my greeting to you in the first issue of the ANGELICUS for the 1943-44 season. They are addressed to all of you. They are rather short words, but, do not be deceived, they are very expressive ones.

BARRY! That word identifies you with the youngest Catholic Women's College in the United States, and only Catholic College below the Mason-Dixon line on the Atlantic Seaboard.

Rev. C. W. Burke, O.P.

the loving memorial of grateful and generous hearts to the memory of the Most Reverend Patrick Barry, fifth Bishop of the historic See of St. Augustine.

STUDENTS! That word classifies you with approximately 87000 women who are presumed to be sincere searchers for truth in Catholic Colleges and Universities throughout the country. Yet you are distinctive. No institution of higher learning under Catholic auspices offers such a combination of conditions and dis-

Dean to Present Academic Gowns to New Students

Investiture of Barry College freshmen with cap and gown will take place Sunday afternoon, October 24. Miss Frances Collier of St. Petersburg will present new students to the dean, Sister M. de Lellis, O.P., and other members of the faculty. Assisting Miss Collier will be the Misses Josephine Pflueger, Angela Palmisano, and Marjory Moffit.

The Rev. C. W. Burke, O.P., will speak on the significance and history of the academic costume and on the responsibilities of the Catholic college student.

Miss Mary Jeanne McCullen of Miami will be presented to the students as their campus queen, with the privilege of representing them at various functions.

The program will close with an academic procession to Cor Jesu, followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Ibero-American, Jamaican Students Represented

The student enrollment at Barry college this year has increased by more than one hundred per cent over last year's enrollment. Besides representatives from various states of the union, there are six Ibero-American students, and one representative from Jamaica. Miss Elizabeth Haughton-James.

On September 24, the Rev. Cyril W. Burke, O.P., sang a Mass of the Holy Ghost in Cor Jesu Chapel. Both faculty and students prayed for the success of the fourth year of the Miami Catholic woman's college.

From the Republic of Panama are the Misses Ana Lucrecia Arias, Querube Solis, and Elida Zubieta. The representatives from Puerto Rico are the Misses Myrta Alvarez and Josefina Caballero.

The students from the states include the Misses Patricia Anderson Cleveland, Fla., who has returned to Barry after a year's absence; Ruth Anderson, Detroit, Mich.; Janet Athy, Worcester, Mass.; Mary Aulson, Salem, Mass.; Cecilia Bell, Tampa, Fla.; Dorothy Bierkamp, Youngstown, Ohio; Anita Bisbee.

Former Barry Student Wins Scholarship to Washington

Audrey Bibeault Attends Social Service School

Miss Audrey Labby Bibeault has been awarded a diocesan scholarship for a two-year course of study at the National Catholic School of Social Service in Washington. It was announced by Sister M. de Lellis, O.P., dean, upon receiving word from the Rev. Paul L. Manning, director of the Catholic Charities of the diocese of St. Augustine.

Miss Bibeault has already begun her studies at the school in Washington where this diocese is represented by four students this term. Miss Jane Quinn, St. Augustine, and Miss Betty Arleman, Miami, have returned for their second and final year, while Miss Martha Franco, Tampa, has begun her first year along with Miss Bibeault.

In addition to her social studies at Barry, Miss Bibeault completed English, French, Spanish and education courses and wrote a column for the college paper ANGELICUS. She was chairman of the Barry College Defense Council and received her Red Cross Life Saving and First Aid Certificates.

Gains Experience

Miss Bibeault is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfieri Bibeault of 8350 N. E. Fourth court, Miami, formerly of Putnam, Conn. During her senior year the Barry alumna assisted in the office of the Catholic Welfare Bureau of Miami, where she gained practical experience in the field of social service.

In announcing Miss Bibeault's scholarship, the Rev. Paul L. Manning, director of Catholic charities in the diocese of St. Augustine, asserted, "When young Catholic women with the proper qualifications choose to follow social work, they are choosing one of the highest types of Catholic action vocations possible in our age."

Reverend Manning revealed that Miss Bibeault will have the opportunity to obtain a Master of Science degree in social service from the Catholic University of America with which the N.C.S.S.S. is affiliated.

College Alumnae to Present Flag

Associate Members Enter at Meeting During Summer

A reception in November for the new students of Barry has been included in the plans of the College Alumnae Association, at which time a new American flag will be presented to the College.

During the summer there was a meeting and luncheon of the full Alumnae membership in honor of the induction of Colleen Breslin. Also invited to the luncheon were former students who attended Barry one year but did not graduate. These students were invited to become Associate members of the Barry College Alumnae Association. Associate members are:

The Misses Enid Patricia McCarthy, Mary Jean Perez, Margaret Waldeck, Doris Kathleen Donovan, Mary Margaret La Pointe, and Martha Gene Mims and the Mesdames Carmen Comas Brown and Eleanor Iderton, nee Condon.

Mrs. Jeannette Gomme, president of the Associate members, reports alumnae members shall be one of the following: (1) Full members shall be those on whom the College has conferred a degree and who shall then automatically become members. (2) Associate members shall be any former students who have completed at least one year's work at Barry College but did not graduate from the College and who, upon applica-

Sodality Elects Committee Heads For Coming Year at First Meeting

Two Added to Campus Faculty

Two faculty members are new to the campus this fall.

Sister M. Eulalia, O.P., B.S., instructor in art and home economics, replaces Miss Helen Meyer, B.S., former instructor in home economics. Miss Frances Schafer, with a Bachelor of Science degree in physical education from Texas State Woman's college, will supplant Miss Jean Mary Wilkowski, B.A., former instructor in journalism and physical education. Miss Wilkowski is now doing graduate work at the University of Wisconsin. Miss Schafer will direct the physical education program at Barry.

Honor Student Chosen Sophomore Mary Jeanne McCullen, Miami, Florida, has been chosen chairman of the Shrine in the Homes committee of the N. C. C. W.

The president of the Miami Deanery of Catholic Women, Mrs. J. Norton of Fort Lauderdale, asked Barry College for a representative to sit in on the newly-formed committee. Mary Jeanne, who has been elected, was also runner-up in the campus queen elections last spring. Her duties will be to gather ideas for the committee to present at the September meeting of the N. C. C. W.

Spiritual and Secular Activities Planned By Leaders

Elections in the Sodality of Our Lady were held September 29, when committee heads were chosen for the coming year. At the general meeting on October 6 plans were discussed for October, the month of the Holy Rosary.

Subscriptions for the Queen's Work are in charge of the Catholic Truth committee, announced Betty Mutschall, chairman. A collection of cancelled stamps for the missions and religious articles, magazines, and papers for servicemen will be carried out by this group. Miss Mary Jeanne McCullen was elected secretary of the committee.

Our Lady's committee, under the chairmanship of Miss Dorothy Mutschall, will plan a "living rosary" to be held on the last Friday in October. Girls representing the Hail Mary's will wear white dresses and those representing the Our Father's their academic gowns.

Sister Cyril Edwin, O.P., moderator of the Sodality, gave a word of welcome to all the new girls and emphasized the good derived from a "well-rounded Sodality." "To be a good Catholic is a necessity for being a good Sodalist," was the theme of the talk given by Miss Florence Hodde, freshman.

Kampus Kapers

In every state in the union at one time or another people have been asked this question: "What is your opinion of Bing Crosby and Frank Sinatra? Around Barry Campus, here's the answer.

Carlene Hoffman: "Bing Crosby is nerve-racking, but with Sinatra I swoon!"

Pat Anderson: "Bing is tops, Sinatra is bottoms!"

Pat Tillman: "Bing is mellow, and I've never heard of Sinatra."

Mary Margaret Percoco: "Bing will always be at the top, even though now the polls may show Sinatra. Sinatra's fame will be short-lived, while Crosby's popularity will continue as it has all these years. His type of singing is what the public will always want."

Jane Poleman: "I'm a 'hawg' about Bing. Sinatra is good, but Bing has him beat."

Frances Moses: "I think Sinatra is just out of this world, but Bing holds a close second."

Elida Zubieta: "I like both of them, each for his own style of singing, but prefer Sinatra right at this time."

Ruth Anderson: "Bing appeals to everyone; Sinatra needs a few vitamins for the voice."

Claire McCullough: "Sinatra sings well in low keys but Crosby's voice is more versatile. Crosby has been recognized as a popular singer for years and Sinatra is a comparative newcomer. Crosby is the better singer."

Jean Tillman: "Bing is always good, but I'm Sinatrally yours."

Gloria Goike: "Bing croons; Sinatra tantalizes, and all fans this side of heaven relax in animation. Why? because Bing 'gives out' with his heart. Sinatra 'gives out' with his charm."

Mary Jeanne Collins: "Give me Bing any day! He's got what it takes and has stayed with the public longer than Frankie ever will."

Many radio stations have been holding polls to see who is the better singer. Some reports come out with Crosby in the lead, and some with Sinatra. From this survey it looks as though around Barry Bing holds the crown. . . .

. . . Then there was the absent-minded Barry professor who walked into the telephone booth, took the receiver off the hook, and expected to sharpen her pencil with the telephone . . . Ask Sister Mary Paul who it was, . . . and who would have thought that the subject of an ice cream cone could occupy two Logic periods? . . .
. . . Seen around campus . . . Janith and Grace, those confusing twins . . . Doris Hart coaching would-be tennis players . . . lots of new pins and wings on Barryites since June . . . Sunny and Stormy dashing 'round . . . Hazel Boraiko in that cute red rain hood . . . much rushing out in the rain to close car windows . . . and there's always that freshman with the courage of her convictions who prefers Gone With the Wind to Shakespeare . . . and says so . . . that's all for now . . .

Welcome to Barry

With this issue of the Angelicus we bid a hearty welcome to our new faculty members, freshmen and upperclassmen. We at Barry have much to offer to these newcomers. The carefree spirit and happiness typical of college life are here in abundance, but they are sanctified and uplifted by a devotion to things eternal and by an ardent love of Christ and His Blessed Mother, while the spirit of the Dominican quest for truth underlies all else.

In turn these new members of our group have much to offer us. They bring with them new-kindled loyalty to Barry ideals, enthusiasm, and the intangible quality of school spirit. So we, the new and the old together, start our fourth year under the standard of Dominic and the patronage of Mary.

Devotion to Mary

Daily attendance at Mass and recitation of the rosary are desirable through the whole year but even more so during the month of October, so especially dedicated to the Queen of the Holy Rosary.

Barry students are making a splendid showing at Mass and at rosary devotions this month. Let it prove to be the beginning of a year of especial devotion to Mary through the prayer of the rosary and to her Son through the perfect offering, the most Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.

Bonds on Your Budget

Have you a budget? Does it include War bonds and stamps? If not, it should, because that item—in everyone's budget—may mean the difference between our winning or losing this war. It makes no difference how bravely your brothers, friends and sweethearts may fight—they are lost without equipment—and equipment can't be bought without money. And that money must come from you and me. Don't leave it up to the next girl. She may be leaving it up to you. Buy your bonds dime by dime or quarter by quarter if necessary—but buy them.

Dominican Tertiaries

Membership in the Order of St. Dominic is not confined to sisters and to priests alone. Laymen may participate in the advantages of the Order through membership in the Tertiaries, or the Third Order of St. Dominic.

Tertiaries strive to attain perfection while living in the world. Their aim is closer union with Christ, despite outside distractions. Already eight Barry students are Tertiary Dominicans and later in the year opportunity will be provided for others interested to become novices in the Third Order. It is hoped that sufficient students will enter the group to make campus organization of a chapter of Tertiary Dominicans possible.

Angelicus Ideals

Reverend J. B. Walker, O.P., chaplain of Barry College in 1940-41, proposed an objective for our school paper, formerly known as the Barry College Digest, in its first issue.

Father Walker stated that Barry students were well aware of the world we are meant to live in, of the changes that have taken and are taking place and of the "inhuman and depraved" ideologies which the world is wont to accept. Father added that we are also cognizant of the fact that the printed word is a speedy means of propagating the destructive doctrines which permeate this age.

His proposed objective for our paper was this: that we, being instilled with truth, should, in a small measure, wave the banner of "Christian ideas and ideals" in our publication, as a means of combating the enemy. Father expressed his desire that we "might always keep the spirit which we would need to continue waging war against numerically superior and strongly entrenched forces." He hoped that "our courage, thus manifested, would be a token of our appreciation of and love for the forces which set forth the principles for which we would fight."

Has Angelicus attained this high objective?

What They're Thinking Most Barryites Agree Shoe Rationing No Hardship

LAVERNE MURPHY, Freshman:

Shoe rationing hasn't affected me in the least. (Perhaps it is affecting my brother though, because I use his coupons!)

ANN GRIMSHAWE, Sophomore:

More than anything else my feet love comfort. The rationing means that only two pairs of shoes must be broken in each year. It is so nice to have old familiar shoes resoled!

AUDREY HULL, Junior:

I thought it was bad when we were allowed three pairs of shoes a year, but now with only two pairs . . . Oh, well, it's fun to go barefooted, anyway.

PEGGE MCGHAN, Junior:

The problem of shoe-rationing is not so difficult to adjust oneself to in regard to school-shoes because all shoe stores are offering unrationed playshoes. Therefore we can freely use our precious coupons for dress-shoes.

ELEANOR PERCOCO, Sophomore:

I am very easy on shoes, therefore two pairs of shoes a year are sufficient. By wearing unrationed playshoes I further preserve my two good pairs.

CECILIA BELL, Freshman:

I consider myself very fortunate in the fact that shoe rationing has not affected me much. Just before rationing some people bought supplies sufficient to last them months—or years. But that is hoarding! For the rest of us a little more shoe polish and a little less scuffing will help to make our shoes last longer.

Mother of Sorrows . . .

"And there shall be wars and rumors of wars."

And the stars shall shake in the skies.

And men shall be starving and cry out for bread

And faith shall have died in their eyes.

Then she will come again, she will be near,

And flowers will bloom and hillsides be green.

The glance of her eyes will bring a new hope,

The sorrowful eyes of a sorrowful Queen.

O, Mary, come quickly! The world lies in shadow.

The lips that would pray are long stricken dumb.

Men stumble through darkness to nameless tomorrows;

O, Star in the midnight, they search for thee!
Come!

New Dormitories Added As Students Increase

New property has been added! Incoming students are not the only ones who must be introduced to Barry and to whom Barry must be introduced this year. Former students found many changes in the campus when they returned for classes.

If you happen to want to make a visitor from Detroit feel at home, direct her to Stella Matutina, for here one finds not only all the proverbial comforts of home but also five charming Detroit belles to make the picture complete.

In case you are wondering whether such a pleasant and friendly atmosphere does not interfere with study, Sister Cyril Edwin, O.P., can tell you that these girls are actually eager to spend study evenings at their desks on the dormitory's cool porch. The neighboring dormitory is Villa Maria, occupied by ten girls and under the direction of Sister Rita Cecile, O.P., and Sister Mary Jane, O.P.

The most industrious students may be found in Regina Pacis. In this new and airy dormitory live the scholars of Florida working diligently and merrily, side by side. They are the ten girls who have been chosen to attend Barry on scholarship awards.

Miss Doris Hart, national girls, tennis champion and freshman at Barry College chats with Miss Francis Schaefer, instructor in physical education.

Beta Kappa Kappa Holds Election of Officers

New Members Honored at Tea

New members of the Barry Classical club or Beta Kappa Kappa were honored at a tea given in Rosa Mystica lounge on October 7.

Plans for the tea were arranged by the old members, who are the Misses Lorraine Miller, Mary Jane Ward, Ann Grimshawe, Florence McCullough, and Mrs. Gommo.

Those welcomed into the club were the Misses Phyllis Gray, Janet Athy, Claire McCullough, Eileen Meyers, Ruth Waters, Rita Marye Lavan, Betty Condon, Mary Aulson, Mary Theresa Crosson, Violet Garcia, and Cecilia Bell.

A short business meeting preceded the tea at which elections were held. The Misses Florence McCarthy and Lorraine Miller were elected as the two consuls; Ruth Waters, Quaestor; and Ann Grimshawe, Censor.

The theme of the club for the year will be "Greco-Roman elements which serve as a basis of Spanish-American relations."

positions for the essential reason of your coming here—a liberal arts education—as you find here at Barry. Excellent climate, finest appointments, spacious grounds, Pennafort Pool are just a few of the distinctive helps that are yours. Needless to say, it would be folly to use the facilities while abusing the objectives they were meant to make accessible.

WELCOME! That word has come to mean a hearty invitation to participate in the companionship of a social unit. Companionship at Barry extends all the way from Our Divine Lord in the Blessed Sacrament, down through the white-robed Sisters of St. Dominic, to girls from 15 states and 3 countries. And it is a fruitful companionship. Soul-saving actual and sanctifying grace is the reward of companionship with Our Eucharistic Lord; familiarity with the ennobling elements in human life as revealed in their persons and their teachings is the reward of companionship with the Sisters; a better understanding of each other as revealed in the exchange of ideas, problems and hopes amid the warm atmosphere of a happy household is the reward of your companionship with each other.

Need I say more than, BARRY STUDENTS, WELCOME?

The Misses Mary Campbell, Geraldine Freeman, Florence Hammond, Doris Hart, Joan Kelly, Frances McLein, Josephine McGill, Eileen Meyers, Camille Santini and Marie Vicknair are from Miami proper.

Class elections were held during the first week in October. The senior officers are Miss Frances Collier, president; Miss Angela Palmisano, social chairman.

The junior officers are Miss Audrey Hull, president; Miss Dollyanna Webster, secretary; Miss Ruth Waters, treasurer; Miss Patricia Anderson, social chairman.

The sophomore officers include Miss Margaret Adeeb, president; Miss Carol Doyle, secretary; Miss Carlene Hoffman, treasurer; Miss Geraldine Kunz, social chairman.

Newly-elected freshmen officers are Miss La Verne Murphy, president; Miss Rose Marie Wilson, secretary; Miss Clare McCullough, treasurer; Miss Rachael Warner, social chairman.

College Athletic Association Elects New Board Members

Dramatic Club Welcomes Eight New Members

The first official meeting of the Barry College Dramatics Club took place on Thursday, October 1.

The members include Mary Theresa Crosson, Gloria Koike, Justine Grout, Florence Hodde, Carlene Hoffman, Patricia McGill, Lorraine Miller, LaVerne Murphy, Shirley Rees, Eleanor Soulliere, Shirley Wagner, Rachael Warner and Ruth Waters. Although five of these girls are continuing dramatics, the others are new to the club.

Under the direction of Sister Mary Paul, O.P., the club plans on writing and producing one-act plays during the course of the year. The girls hope to develop poise and overcome stage-fright rather than become "stars." They are looking forward to the enjoyment of working together in producing plays for presentation.

Miss Helen Meyer, Former Faculty Member, Becomes Mrs. F. Projek

Saturday, October 16, at St. Mary's Church, Adrian, Michigan, Miss Helen Meyer, former home economics teacher at Barry College, will become the bride of Mr. Frank Projek.

The groom's three nieces will act as maid of honor and bridesmaids, while the bride's brother will serve as best man.

The bride has chosen a powder blue dress with pink accessories, and each attendant will wear a different shade of pink and will carry blue flowers. The altar in St. Mary's is to be adorned with blue and white flowers.

Sister Philomena, director of music at Siena Heights College, will play for the wedding and the Caccilian Choristers will sing during the ceremony.

After the nuptial mass there will be a breakfast for the immediate family and the wedding party at a tea room, followed by a reception and buffet luncheon at home for friends and relatives.

The couple plan to make their home in Detroit.

The faculty and students of Barry extend their very best congratulations to Miss Meyer and Mr. Projek.

the USN, the WAVES, as an officer candidate.

Mrs. Mary Hogenmuller '43 is now teaching in the primary grades at the Miami Beach Elementary School.

Miss Patricia Kelly '43 has a desirable position with the Army Air Corps at their Pan American Field in Miami.

Aspiring for her Laboratory Technician's Certificate is Miss Rosella Hoecherl '43, who is working at St. Francis Hospital, Miami Beach.

Continuing her graduate study at Fordham University is one of Barry's first graduates, Miss Eleanor Neary '42. Miss Neary, who majored in English and minored in Latin and Social Studies, received a Bachelor of Arts degree. She has spent the past summer as program director at Camp St. Joseph's Villa, Hackettstown, N. J.

Point Values For Team and Individual Sports on Competitive Basis

Holding its first meeting of the year on Tuesday, October 6, the Barry College Athletic Association elected its new board members.

Elected were Miss Ruth Waters, teamsports; Miss Beatrice Sevier, swimming; Miss Patricia Kelly, riding, and Miss Doris Hart, tennis.

Last Monday volleyball practice for competition among the classes began. The first two weeks are to be a practice period for the four teams, the next four weeks actual play between the freshmen and sophomore, the winner of which will play the juniors and seniors.

The point system as set up by the Barry Athletic Association last year is as follows:

POINT VALUES ON CAMPUS

Sports	Points	Conditions
Volleyball	100	Required attendance at ALL but one practice and one game
Basketball	100	Same
Softball	100	Same
Lifesaving	100	15 hour course and practical test
Swimming	100	High point: 50, runner-up 5, entering: 25, first place in any event: 15, second place: 10, third place
Riding	25	Each ride—4 rides: 100 pt. possibility
Tennis	100	Winner: 50 runner-up: 10 entering
Ping Pong	75	Winner: 50 runner-up: 25 entering
Badminton	75	Winner: 50 runner-up: 25 entering
Archery	75	Winner: 50 runner-up: 25 entering

Under the management of Miss Doris Hart a tennis tournament is progressing into its second week. The winner will be awarded 100 points toward her athletic emblem.

PROGRAM SET-UP

"The colleges of today have the responsibility of developing the total fitness on the part of every individual," according to Miss Frances Schaefer, Barry's new physical education instructor, who replaces Miss Jean Mary Wilkowski, B. A. This total fitness of which she speaks involves "mental and spiritual development, moral stability and physical ruggedness for all youth and adults of the nation."

Before coming to Barry, Miss Schaefer attended Texas State College for Women at Denton, Texas. In her opinion the basic principles of physical education always remains the same, with an emphasis on "continuous development in strength, endurance, stamina, agility, basic motor skills and morale."

Miss Schaefer is offering classes in tennis, volleyball, archery, basketball and swimming. The pool may be used anytime during the day provided the instructor or one of the appointed life guards is present.

"The program of health and physical education at Barry College has been set up to fulfill its responsibilities with the hope that all students will realize the benefits derived from physical education."

Sodality Leaders for New School Year

Pictured above are Miss Lorraine Miller, Miami, chairman of the Publicity committee of Our Lady's sodality, Miss Frances Collier, St. Petersburg, chairman of the Eucharistic committee, Miss Jean Travnikar, Cleveland, Ohio, chairman of the Social Life committee, Miss Dorothy Motschall, Grosse Pointe, Mich., chairman of the Our Lady's committee, and Miss Betty Motschall, Grosse Pointe, Mich., chairman of the Catholic Truth committee and Miss Patricia Kelly, Miami Beach, sodality prefect.

Secretarial Students Prepare For Post War Business Careers

With impetus lent by the demands of a war-conscious business world, Barry College freshmen have registered in force for courses offered by the secretarial department.

According to Sister M. Francis Clare, O.P., head of the department, these new freshmen, eager for a college education, are looking forward to a post-war future. With their college background of secretarial work combined with a liberal arts course, they have good reason to hope for fine positions after graduation.

Even now, says Sister Francis Clare, the war-minded business world is demanding well-trained college women to fill the many positions that are offered. Barry College hopes to turn out cultured business women who will be capable of meeting the demands of the post-war world.

Lowly Freshmen Obey Commands of Upper Classmen

"Praise Allah" rang through Barry's halls for two days recently as freshman initiation took place. Freshmen were banned from the smoking porch and forbidden to talk during meals, as sophomores carried out the yearly event.

At 8:15 daily, freshmen reported in front of Rosa Mystica for inspection. First day's attire consisted of a two-piece dress, worn inside out and one high-heeled and one low-heeled shoe.

Books were transported in a laundry bag, and a stuffed animal and a hobo bundle containing, among other things, candy for demanding upperclassmen, were also requisite.

The first day, hair was worn straight without the aid of bobby pins, and the second day curlers or pin curls were in order. Pajamas, skirts, leg makeup and gloves were also included in second day attire.

Activities were concluded with rat court, held on the evening of the third day, when sophomores, after a final putting of freshmen through their paces, turned the tables and entertained the lower classmen.

Exhibit Planned For Book Week

Barry College will participate in the American Library Association celebration of October 24-30 as British Book Week, according to Sister M. Michael James, O.P., college librarian. Miss Patricia MacGill, chairman of the Book Week committee, will plan a poster and an exhibit for the library.

The idea behind British Book Week, according to the Publishers' Weekly for September 11, 1943, is "the need to create mutual understanding between the United States and Great Britain in order to lay a solid foundation for postwar international relations."

Increased devotion to the Most Blessed Sacrament is the aim of the Eucharistic committee, according to Miss Frances Collier, chairman, and Miss La Verne Murphy, secretary.

Publicizing the work of other committees is the task of the Publicity committee. It has charge of a scrapbook to contain news of Sodality activities appearing in the Florida Catholic and other publications. Another of its responsibilities is the changing and posting of bulletin board displays. Miss Lorraine Miller heads the Publicity committee and Miss Carol Doyle is secretary.

Through the Social Life committee chairman, Miss Jean Travnikar, arrangements are being made for Barry women to attend a dance given in their honor as guests of pilots of the USN at Hollywood, Florida. Secretary of the Social Life committee is Cobbie de Christina.

Latin-Americans Mark Columbus Day at Barry

Ibero-American Students Present Spanish Songs, Dances in Rosa Mystica

Latin-American students took a large part in Barry College's celebration of Columbus Day, October 12. Held in Rosa Mystica Lounge, the program given was presented by the Spanish Club under faculty sponsorship of Sister M. Regina Marie, O. P.

"God Bless America" opened the event. The Spanish version of the song was presented by the entire group. Miss Josefina Cabellero, junior student from Santurce, Puerto Rico, gave a description of Latin-American customs, unfamiliar to her northern hearers.

The program continued with "Patria" recited by the Misses Querube Solis and Ana Lucrecia Arias of Panama City, Panama. Song and dancing were presented by the Misses Myrta Alvarez, Arecibo, Puerto Rico, and Miss Elida Zubieta, Panama City, Panama. Miss Alvarez sang "Borinquena," and Miss Zubieta's presentations were dances native to Panama.

Floridians taking part in the celebration included Miss Marie Vicknair, Miami; Miss Jayne Beaman, Miami; Miss Violet Garcia, Tampa, and Miss Mary Alice Nelson, St. Petersburg.

Rare Textbooks On Display At College Library

Rare old textbooks from the college collection and other valuable volumes from the collection of M. J. Cannon, 6550 Allison Island, Miami Beach, are on display this week at Barry in connection with a project of the class in Methods of Teaching the Language Arts.

Among the rare books owned by the college is a reprint of the New England Primer of 1844. Mr. Cannon's library of old readers includes a copy of the American Reader dated 1811 and other series that figured prominently in 19th century reading instruction, including the McGuffey, Standard, National, Hillard, English, and Cobb's New Juvenile Readers and the Monroe Series of Readers.

Sister M. Dorothy, O.P., is directing the study in consideration of the teaching of reading.

New Books Added To Barry Library

Reference Books, Modern Literature Available

Students returning to Barry found many improvements awaiting them in the college library. A new stack room has been added to the library proper, while the former seminar room now houses the reference collection of the department of education.

New additions to reference volumes available to students include the Summa Theologica of St. Thomas Aquinas, the Dictionary of American Biographers, the Oxford Dictionary and the Cambridge Medieval History.

In a lighter vein is See Here, Private Hargrove, current best seller by Sgt. Marion Hargrove. Added to religious literature available is The Family that Overtook Christ, by Reverend M. Raymond, O.C.S.O. It is the story of St. Bernard, the founder of the Cistercian Order, and of his saintly family. The Legend of St. Columba by Padraic Colum tells of the sixth century saint, while The Robe, product of thirty years' study by Lloyd C. Douglas, is the legend telling what befell the soldier who won Christ's robe in the lottery at the Crucifixion. Caroline Miles Hill is author of The World's Great Religious Poetry, a compilation of religious efforts of all faiths and all nations.

A survey of requirements for post war settlement is made by Edward Hallett Carr in Conditions of Peace, while Of Books and Men by Thomas J. Reilly appraises books and writers from Thomas More to Agnes Repplier.

Teachers' Club Elects Officers for Second Year

Objectives Cited by Presiding Chairman

The Barry College Teacher's club, entering its second year, held its first meeting on October 5. The meeting was opened by Miss Lorraine Miller, the only charter member of the club present.

Elections were held for the four offices of the club. Miss Lorraine Miller was elected chairman; Miss Dollyanna Webster, vice-chairman; Miss Patricia Kelly and Miss Josephina Caballero, co-secretaries.

Other members include the Misses Geraldine Kunz, Patricia Downey, Mary Campbell, Bettie Dunn, Ann Grimshawe, Betty McBride, Mary Jane Ward, Eleanor Percoco, and Sister Mary Una, O.P.

The objectives of the club as cited by the chairman are: (1) To provide an opportunity for open discussion on educational problems; (2) To expand the members' knowledge of current educational happenings; (3) To provide a means for keeping in contact with graduate students who are now in the field of teaching and thereby to give the prospective teacher a contact with real educational problems.

The program this year will be in the form of open discussion of problems to be presented at each monthly meeting.
