

Playhouse Opens Third Season

With casting completed on the first children's play of the 1948-1949 season, and details arranged for collaboration with the Gesu Drama Guild on their production of "Song of Bernadette," the Barry Playhouse is well on its way to the realms of light and heavy drama.

This year, by popular request, the playhouse is repeating "Rumpelstiltskin" as the first children's play of the season. The play was initially presented in April, 1947. This year "Rumpelstiltskin" stars Lya Garcia in the title role and Kay Justin as "the little girl who could not spin straw into gold."

An innovation in Playhouse performances is noted this year. With the Public School Board, Sister M. Trinita, O.P., director of the Playhouse, has arranged two public performances of "Rumpelstiltskin" at Miami schools, for Miami children. The play will be presented November 5 at Coral Gables Elementary School, and November 12 at Andrew Jackson. Barry showing will be November 6.

This year for the first time also, the Playhouse is working with The Gesu Drama Guild, one of Miami's most progressive community theatres, one one of the Guild's major productions of the season, "Song of Bernadette." The feminine roles will be taken by Barry girls, while the masculine parts will be played by Guild members.

Mary Kanaley was chosen as Bernadette upon joint approval of Sister Trinita and Fred LaFrance, director of the Guild. Others in the cast include Jacqueline Quinn, Margaret Castrogiovanni, Betty Jo Harrison, Betty LaCalle, Shirley Friske, Suzanne Imbus, Irene O'Neill and Alice Wright.

Students Like Domestic Courses

A bell rings as the clock strikes two. Girls from the halls of Barry swarm into a well-known, well-liked section of the college—the home economics department.

Eagerly they go about their work; intently they study the art of homemaking. It is evident from the size of the classes that many are seriously contemplating the ever popular step of marriage.

Presently the aroma of sundry delicacies may be detected from the foods laboratory; steady humming of sewing machines from the clothing department further indicates the keen desire of the students to benefit from this domestic course.

Realizing the importance of home training, special emphasis is placed on these courses. Soon the faculty and students of Barry will have the opportunity of viewing these future-homemakers and their work. Open house will be held in the near future and Sister Mary Eulalia, O.P., the instructor, hints that there will be ample refreshments for those who attend.

COMMITTEES FORMED IN RESIDENCE HALLS

Student Council members conducted House Committee elections in the various dormitories Monday, October 11. The results were as follows: Rosa Mystica chairman, Carmen Senghaas; vice-chairman, Mary Doherty Tafel; members, Smilia Arnoldson and Joyce Browne.

Regina Angelorum residents elected Claire Butterfield as chairman and Jeanne Pettengill vice-chairman.

Mary Kay Marelli received the chairmanship of Regina Pacis hall, with Mary Irene Barrett as vice-chairman and Betty Holm completing the committee.

Stella Matutina election results were as follows: first floor east chairman, Bertha Lauredo; vice-chairman, Barbara Bonjean; members, Mary Jo Carey, Joan Cantrell. Second floor east: chairman, Betty Bolton; vice-chairman, Margaret Schneider; members, Patricia Abernethy and Madeline De Chairo. Investiture Set For Month End

Freshman Investiture will be held Sunday, October 31 at three o'clock in Stella Matutina hall.

Following the ceremony, a tea, sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary, will be given for the freshmen, their parents, and other visitors.

STUDENTS MEET NEW LEADERS

Introduction of new class officers was made at a general assembly Sept. 29 in Stella Matutina hall by Evelyn Howard, Sodality prefect and Student Council president.

Freshman elections will be postponed until quarterly examinations reports are available. Students maintaining a "B" average will be eligible as candidates for class officers.

Forty Hours Held Oct. 1-3

Forty Hours Devotion at Barry was held this year October 1-3. It began October 1 with a Votive Mass in honor of the Blessed Sacrament. A procession of all students dressed in white and led by the choir preceded the Mass. The "Pange Lingua" was sung while the Monstrance was being taken to Its place of repose and honor at the main altar.

Perpetual adoration before the Blessed Sacrament was held Friday and Saturday to commemorate the forty hours Christ spent in the tomb. The Mass Saturday morning was said for peace, while on Sunday the mass of the Holy Rosary was celebrated.

The services were brought to a close at 11:00 Sunday morning when the faculty and students assembled for the procession, closing prayers and solemn Benediction.

FROSH BECOME KIDS FOR A DAY

Perhaps the onlooker thought Barry had been converted into a kindergarten—or maybe he wondered if the college were sponsoring a baby contest, for during the evening of September 29th "children" took over the campus.

Freshies were dressed by their big sisters, who played host to them at the annual big sister - little sister party.

Following supper, the "little sisters" were assembled in the auditorium and given directions to participate in a "kiddie" contest. Seniors had scattered little pieces of string over the lawn near Penafort pool. The two children who brought back the most string, tied together, each received a huge lollipop.

After the completion of this, the little sisters took part in such games as "Drop the Handkerchief" and "Farmer in the Dell."

Prizes for the most clever costumes went to Lya Garcia and Mila Wirth.

Performances given were as follows: Betty Jane Donnelly, marimba; Jane Sullivan and Litha Blanchette, vocal selections; Ann Condon, ballet dance; Margaret Considine, clarinet solo and novelty dance. Sister Mary Denise, O.P., was the pianist.

BISHOP ANNOUNCES NEW PARISH NAME

His Excellency, the Most Reverend Thomas J. McDonough, auxiliary bishop of the diocese of St. Augustine, announced Sunday, October 10, that the new parish in Miami Shores would be called St. Rose of Lima.

The parish is under the direction of Bishop McDonough, and is being administered at the present time by the Reverend Lamar Genovar with the assistance of the Reverend William McKeever. Father Genovar, a native of St. Augustine, spent some years as co-principal of St. Paul's high school in St. Petersburg. He is in charge of the building of Mercy Hospital in Miami.

Father McKeever arrived recently in Miami after completing a course of study at the Catholic University of America in Washington, D. C.

While funds are being collected for the erection of St. Rose of Lima church, Sunday Masses for the parish are being said in Stella Matutina social hall of Barry College.

CHAIRMAN NAMES COUNCIL OFFICERS

Sunday, October 3, the Student Council held its first meeting. Chairman Evelyn Howard announced that Mary Jane Mills was vice-chairman. The second vice-chairman is Joyce Nolan, and secretary is Collette Currier.

Plans were discussed for the ceremony of installation of Student Council members, October 14. On this occasion the new members sign the loyalty pledge.

According to the traditions at Barry, the chairman, vice-chairman, and secretary of the House Council are members of the Student Council, as are the presidents and vice-presidents of the classes.

Also, on the Student Council are the Campus Queen, Athletic Association president, editor of ANGELICUS, chairman of the Social Board, and Prioress of the Tertiaries.

Dances Start With 'Blue Note'

Under the direction of Miss Trinalee Depperman, the Social Chairman of the Sophomore Class, the first informal dance of the year took place Saturday, October 16, at eight o'clock, in the social hall. Special plans were made to make it a success, since it was the beginning of this year social activities.

Decorations, under the direction of Sandra Mitchell, were those of a night club with a floor show going on in an adjoining room (stage), appropriately dubbed "The Blue Note." There were small tables, candles, colorful balloons, and crape paper to add to the atmosphere. Pat Abernethy was in charge of refreshments.

The entertainers were: Virginia Mitchell, Ann Condon, Isabelle Williams, and Rosemary Carpenter, Miss Miami of 1948. They were all costumed in blue, carrying out the theme.

Queen Lucia Receives Crown

Barry's first formal dance, the annual Coronation Ball, will be held October 23. The highlight of the evening will be the traditional crowning of the Campus Queen, chosen by student vote for her all-round social and scholastic abilities.

Barry's 1948-1949 queen is Lucia Vallejo of Asheville, North Carolina. A loyal Barryite, this is her fourth year on campus. Lucia has combined a home economics major with many extra-curricular activities and membership in clubs. She served as vice-president of her sophomore class, and as social chairman of the juniors. She has headed Our Lady's committee of the sodality for the past two years. In her sophomore year, she also held the office of secretary-treasurer in the Santa Rosa Spanish Club, and has been an active member of the Science Club and Athletic Association.

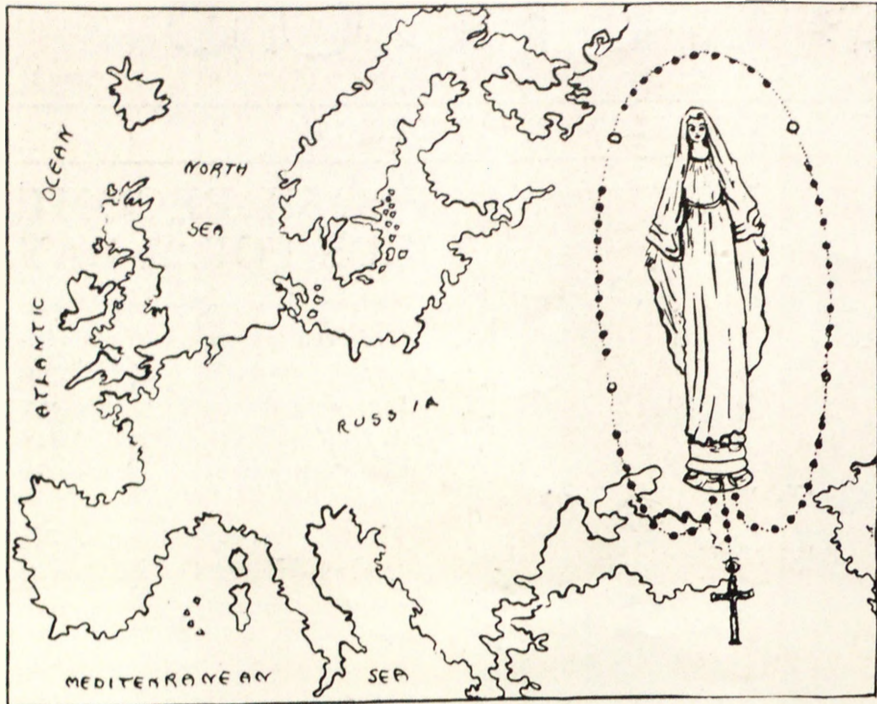

Members of her court will include: Mary Ellen DeDominicis of Miami; Mary Jane Mills of Miami Beach and Jacksonville; Jacqueline Quinn of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; and Emilia Arnoldson of Havana, Cuba.

Rosary Becomes Chain of Peace

The chain of slavery or the chain of peace, which shall bind us in the years to come?

To be bound by the first will make us like the millions of people in Russia and other Communist-dominated countries of Europe and Asia. According to the Communist doctrine, there is no God. He is not only denied, He is blasphemed.

Father Vincent M. Martin, O.P., in his pamphlet "Rosaries for Russia," says: "By a steady and relentless confiscation of the Orthodox churches, the Russian Communist government has reduced their number from 46,457 in 1917 to 4,225 in 1941, a reduction of 90 per cent." He also says that when churches were taken over by the government, they were used as schools, barracks, and even stables or barns. Communists persecute anyone they cannot convert to their beliefs.

How can we avoid the catastrophe that has overtaken these people? That is where the chain of peace—the Rosary—can help us. By praying the Rosary for the conversion of Russia, we can destroy this enemy of Christianity—Communism.

Our Lady assured the world at Fatima, "If they listen to my requests, Russia will be converted and there will be peace. If not, she will scatter her errors through the world provoking wars and persecutions of

Officers Elected At Sodality Meeting

The Sodality of our Lady at its first regular meeting of the year October 7 elected Veronica Barry and Vivian Decker to the offices of secretary and treasurer, respectively. Mary Doherty Tafel delivered a talk on "The Formation of a Real Sodality," and Evelyn Howard, prefect, outlined sodality objectives.

Volunteers who would conscientiously extend their best efforts on behalf of the sodality were solicited to serve on special committees. One representative of each committee gave a brief summary of the primary duties of her particular group. Patricia Young cited the Eucharistic Committee's chief work as fostering a greater love for the Blessed Sacrament. Jacqueline Quinn, in speaking for the Catholic Truth Committee, said that their project was the furthering of the Catholic press on campus. Lucia Vallejo described the Living Rosary which is sponsored every October by Our Lady's Committee.

Thimble Theater

Barbara Gavin—

Although she has been at Barry only a few weeks, Barbara Gavin has become well-known and liked by her fellow classmates. A Chicago girl, Barb comes to us from St. Thomas Aquinas High School; as you may have guessed, a Dominican school. Her curly brown hair and quick smile are likely to be seen anywhere from the torch porch to the post office and back again in the space of four or five seconds.

Barb enjoys diving, but either she is too long or the pool is too shallow, because she nearly lost a tooth on one spectacular swan.

She is probably the only girl in the school who has the distinction of having been stranded on the top of a Mexican mountain in a rain storm.

Jean Pernod—

Vivacious, friendly Jean Pernod entered Barry her sophomore year via St. Mary's of Notre Dame. Since then this southern campus has watched with awe Jean's endless supply of energy. Calling Chicago "home," Jean has "Brenda Starr" aspirations toward the Chicago Tribune. Now in her Junior year, she is majoring in English in order to make this "dream" become a reality. Jean's work on the ANGELICUS during the past year has also contributed to the attainment of this goal. Her contributions to this issue include editorship of page one and the writing of the other three personalities in Thimble Theatre.

She thrives on steak and onions, punctuates sentences with her favorite expression "crud" and currently has a blond, New Yorker heart-interest.

Carol Lewis—

The senior we see walking around campus with a grin that threatens her ears is Carol Lewis, one of the most sensible, yet mischievous girls around. That accent, which is as thick as a porterhouse steak, originated in Whiteville, North Carolina. No one has ever heard of Whiteville, North Carolina, but we all like Carol, so we take her word for its existence.

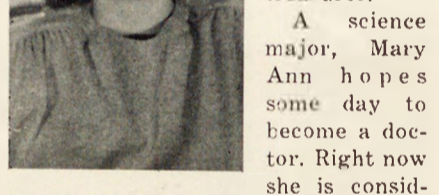

Carol likes to keep on the go, whether she is traveling across country, or just across campus. She likes to read, and since she is Editor-in-Chief of the ANGELICUS, she must enjoy writing and hard work. Her only apparent dislikes are gum-chewers and okra.

Carol Lewis's roommate is Caroline Lewis. No, Carol doesn't have a single; it is just one of those situations that make for mistaken identity cases.

Carol, who came here her sophomore year from Trinity College, is one of the most popular girls at Barry.

Mary Ann Cannon—

This is Mary Ann Cannon's second year at Barry, and her classmates have honored her by electing her their president. Last year, as a freshman, she held the position of treasurer.

A science major, Mary Ann hopes some day to become a doctor. Right now she is considering entering pre-medical school. Mary Ann is an active member of the science club and she is the newest and seventh member of the Cancer Research unit here at Barry.

"Mary Ann," and I quote her roommate, "sleeps like a log, and I have to pull her out by the hair!" She makes up for this disturbing trait by being a sympathetic listener to said roommate's tales of joy and woe.

Letters postmarked "Chicago" fascinate Miss Cannon for the usual mail, male reason. If anything develops along these lines, let's hope the ANGELICUS gets the scoop.

SPANISH CLUB HOLDS OCT. 12 PROGRAM

The Spanish Club sponsored the Columbus Day program on Tuesday, October 12, at a general assembly. The program opened with the signing of "America the Beautiful" by the student body. Norma Nevares, president of the club, introduced the speaker of the day, Mr. Frank K. Buckley of Fort Lauderdale. His topic was "After College—What?" or "The Role of the Catholic College Graduate."

Lya Garcia spoke on "Columbus, the Man," after which "Borinquen" was sung by a group of Puerto Rican girls. The flags of the twenty-one Hispanic American republics were displayed during the program.

NSA Elects Catholic Negro

Barry students gave three cheers when they learned that the new president of the National Student Association is a Catholic Negro, Ted Harris. Miss Helen Jean Rogers, also of our faith, was elected secretary.

What is the N. S. A.? The only nationwide organization representing American college students of all races, creeds, and colors. The selection of the president fulfills one of its aims: the eventual elimination of discriminatory practices in education.

Old students, remembering last year's pro-and-con debate on Barry College's affiliation, should rejoice that the vote was unanimously one of approval. Therefore, Barry's delegates, present at the national meeting, participated in the victory of American ideals over the Communist minority through the selection of Christian leaders.

Kampus Kapers

Last week at the "Big and Little Sister" party, a "frosh," while merrily playing "Farmer in the Dell," was heard remarking to a friend: "Gee, this is an awfully hard way to get a degree!"

Elaine Heilos's brother, Norman, is attending the U. of Miami. He had been here two weeks and hadn't gotten in touch with her, so she sent a telegram. It got results.

One of Carol Lewis's roommates this year is Caroline Lewis. Both were born in December and both have a sister Jane. How confusing for the Barry postal clerks!

The freshmen boast of two cute new girls from South America: "Jelly" Rodriguez and "Hershie" Mendez. "Sweets" on the campus.

A certain Russ Kirkpatrick came all the way from Alaska via penquin to visit Carmen. Could this be love?

Flash! Celia Vallejo has been getting boxes of candy and Isabel has been nibbling. For shame, "Izzie," what has happened to that diet?

Our campus queen had a birthday not many days ago, and was given a surprise dinner by her class-mates. Dat's nice.

Susie Miller, our peppy freshman of last year, married Joe Sabatino—one of the boys she met at a Barry dance. They will make their home in Miami.

A trip to Nassau her first weekend here was given to Mary Stark. At that rate South America will be covered long before the end of her freshman year.

Iris Manning of S. M. south wing just bought a train for her little five-year-old brother's birthday, but has been found playing with it herself—and during study, at that!

Mary Lou Smith was heard receiving phone calls during the hurricane from Ed; and Frances Conlin was the recipient of telegrams from Dick. Such concern!

Marilyn Craton had a terrific time last week while shopping for Allilian Starrett's birthday present. Marilyn thought she had achieved secrecy in buying the box of candy—then Allilian walked up to her and said: "Oh, buying candy! Who's it for?"

Mary Lou Hogan, it is told, wears a jeep cap in the shower 'cause she doesn't like the sound of rain on her bathing cap. Wow, these freshies!

The grey receptacle in Stella Mat. used for shaking dust mops is now known as "the guillotine" by the girls from 225. One of their members got caught in it the other day.

"Old Faithful" was in the laundry room again the other day, when Betty Jo Harrison and Sue Imbus put too much soap in the Bendix. They also combined red, white and purple clothes in the wash, and now have a lovely combination of colors on all their apparel.

Sr. Mary Paul was quite amazed to discover on one of her freshman interview assignments that one of her fellow professors, here at Barry, was born in 1825!

Lawyer Typifies Successful Grad

Tall, black-haired, 33-year-old Frank Buckley, who gave the Columbus Day address on "After College—What?" is easily one of the most personable young speakers ever to visit Barry College.

An interviewer's delight, he talks freely and easily with an infectious friendliness that makes the harassing business of questions and answers a pleasure.

As he sat in Rosa Mystica Lounge, wearing a light gray suit and blue tie, it was hard to realize that underneath the boyish appearance of this young man was a serious, hard-working, successful lawyer, and the father of three children.

Frank Buckley was born in Portland, Maine and received his A.B. degree from Holy Cross College in Worcester, Massachusetts. From there he went to Harvard Law School where he took his law degree in 1939.

How he happens to be living in Fort Lauderdale at the present time is the old story of "sand in my shoes." He laughingly says he came to Florida several years ago and decided that it was quite the place to be. Evidently it was, since his law firm now reads Saunders, Buckley, O'Connor.

During three and a half years in the Navy, Lieutenant Buckley served as an instructor in navigation at Cornell University.

Just before being discharged he studied Russian at the University of Colorado, after which he adds, "They will probably be calling me back to use it!"

Besides having a general civil practice in Fort Lauderdale, Mr. Buckley belongs to the Knights of Columbus, the Holy Name Society, the Boosters' Club, Elks, Junior Chamber of Commerce; he holds the position of chairman on the Library Board and secretary of the Broward County Bar Association.

Certainly no man is more qualified to speak concerning the Catholic college graduate's individual and social problems—he, who has mastered them all, and offers a lovely young wife and three beautiful children as further proof.

Mr. Buckley's speech was excellent and his manner of presentation conveyed the feeling that this was not just textbook philosophy being heard. His forthright, earnest manner deeply impressed the audience and his delivery was splendid.

Barry College received Frank Buckley enthusiastically and, with the same spirit in which he does everything, Frank Buckley received Barry enthusiastically.

Barryites Called 'Likeable' By Shores Police Chief

This year we have decided to add a new column to the Angelicus. It is to be about Miami Shores, its various shops and stores and the people we meet and often see, but never really know.

I thought the police department would be my first victim. Upon entering the door of the station, I became aware of the air of efficiency. A tall sergeant was behind the desk, ably handling a complaint, and in a room on the side, two ladies were explaining income taxes to a Shores resident. "Want your car checked, lady?" the sergeant asked me. "Goodness, if I had my car here I certainly wouldn't want it checked." But seeing an opportunity to speak, I raced forward. The explanation that I was a poor erring journalism student on her first assignment seemed to appease him, and I was invited to sit down.

The sergeant's name was Lonnie, "not derived from Alonzo," Byrd. He did not look as though he liked to arrest people, so some bit of courage forced me to go on with my questions. He explained patiently that the patrol car comes to Barry about once an hour all night, but if dances are held or any other special activity, they ride up more often. Some of the patrolmen are: Officers Wylie, Renegar, Chester, Sturrup, Qwynn, Cronk, Pendleton, Tanner and Graves.

"Many's the time," said the sergeant, "they have brought Barry girls home when they've been caught in a rain storm or if they have missed the late bus."

"What do you think of Barry girls?" I asked trying to look professional with notebook poised. Raising an eyebrow and rubbing his chin thoughtfully, the officer suppressed a smile and said, "We find them very likeable and attractive."

This column, he believes, is a very good idea for the interest and good will it will bring about between the Shores residents and the Barry girls.

When asked about Father Burke, Sergeant Byrd grinned and said, "Personally, I think he's a great man, very friendly and congenial; we had dinner with him once and were treated royally."

"Did you know we had four men attending the police academy in Miami? They graduated the ninth of this month. One of their studies was public relations." This he said matter-of-factly with a bit of a twinkle in his blue-gray eyes.

At that precise moment three eligible police students tramped through the office. "Hi, Sarg! Want a cup of coffee?" called one. "Sure, but no sugar."

Then phones began to ring, the two-way radio started buzzing, and more people began to come in the door. "What's the newest on the storm?" "Should we board the house?" "How about my car?" Sergeant Byrd began answering questions and phones, as this reporter leaped for her camera hoping to get a shot while all the "people" were dashing about. However, as luck would have it, no one would hold still. Later the sergeant did sit long enough for a flash shot.

Three irate people came in during the interview, but never once did the officer become angry. A police desk is a wonderful place to learn diplomacy.

The officers decided that since they have not seen Barry's Water Ballet, this year would be a good time to start.

During the entire time there, this reporter was making herself a thorough nuisance (stumbling around filing cabinets, behind typewriters—continually underfoot). However, everyone in the department was very affable. If all assignments are with people as thoughtful and as considerate, journalism is for me!

Leader Directs Shores Youth In Recreation

When it comes to entertainment, the youth of Miami Shores have the able leadership and direction of Ralph Donaghey. He has been in charge of the Shores Community House for three years; and during that time has formed an outstanding girls' basketball team, six co-ed bowling teams and many baseball and football teams, as well as a Junior Club which meets Monday nights for dances and beach parties.

Used for dancing and indoor games, the building is at N. E. 96th street. The youth that attend range in age from five to twenty-five.

Mrs. Betty Kimball is Mr. Donaghey's assistant. Evidence of their work is shown by the fact that two thousand attended the holiday events last year. Seven hundred and fifty were in the goblin parade on Halloween. Just a short time ago, 350 youngsters had a field day complete with decorated bikes. Shortly afterward came a pet and doll show; 44 pets made an appearance.

Thirty-five boys are trying out for the next city boxing tournament which is to be held in eight weeks. They are being instructed by police officer Bob Wylie.

A minstrel show is also being planned for the near future and the public is invited to attend.

Clubs

Spanish

Norma Nevares was elected president of the Spanish Club at its first meeting, September 28. Alma Ramirez was chosen vice-president; Belen Ortega and Agnes Galban, secretaries; and Mary Lou Smith, treasurer.

The aim of the Spanish Club is to exchange customs and ideas between the Spanish-speaking students and the North American girls at Barry, thus furthering understanding and love among the peoples of the western hemisphere.

Traditional activities of the club include Columbus Day assembly, the Posada at Christmas, and the Fiesta before Lent. Tea dances will be sponsored throughout the year for charitable purposes.

Meetings are held once a month in the Rotunda, and are under the direction of Sister Mary Jean, O. P.

C. C. D.

The C. C. D. held its first meeting of the year 1948-49 on Thursday, September 28. Elected as officers were Pat Young, chairman; Mary Irene Barrett, co-chairman; Mary Kay Marelli, secretary; and Rolande Gonthier, chairman of discussion groups.

The C. C. D. plans an active participation in teaching Catholic doctrine to small children.

Meetings are held once a month. Special indulgences and graces may be received by participating in the work of the C. C. D.

House Council

Carmen Sengaas of Rosa Mystica hall was elected chairman of the House Council at the first meeting of the nine house chairman October 12. Veronica Barry, Maris Stella hall, and Mary Kay Marelli, Regina Pacis hall, were elected vice-chairman and secretary, respectively.

Science

This year the Albertus Magnus Science Club has planned for its members a series of field trips to the various hospitals in Miami and Miami Beach, to the Institutum Divi Thomae in Palm Beach, a water trip through parts of the Everglades by way of the Inland Waterway. (The girls will be ready for the alligators this time.)

Also on the agenda for the coming year, are panel discussions on current scientific affairs, such as the opportunities for women in the various fields of science, and the work of women in modern science and medicine of today. This group will sponsor movies for the school. The first was "Cass Timberlane," which was shown on October 8.

Membership into the club is based on achievement and interest in the sciences, rather than the almost automatic membership of past years. Officers of this year are: Joan Weed, president; Alice Depenbrock, vice-president; and Joyce Browne, treasurer.

Alumnae Report

Four marriages take the spotlight in the alumnae news—we're referring to the marriage of Shirley Rees in Detroit, which several Barry students attended and at which Father Burke officiated; also the wedding of Jean Pastor which took place in Detroit and was an all-white wedding. We have also received word of Jayne Cleys' marriage to Mr. James Clifford Schrader which took place October 2 at River Forest, Illinois. Rita Shryock's wedding also took place a short time ago. Congratulations to all the newlyweds!

Mr. and Mrs. James Vincent Foody (Mrs. Foody is the former Jean Burr) announce the birth of a baby boy on August 31; he has been christened James, Jr.

Phyllis Gray is secretary to the priest in charge of the library at Catholic University in Washington, D. C. She is also taking courses which will lead to a degree in library science.

Adelia McInarnay from Jacksonville recently spent a week end with Mary Lou Lomaistro in Miami. Mary Lou is now doing substitute teaching in Miami, while Adelia is teaching the seventh grade in a Jacksonville school.

Barbara Thompson feels she is getting in a rut, having worked at the same job for two months.

Josefa Kunert tells us she is back with the Trapp family in Stowe, Vermont, where she is managing their store. She is still doing her bit in Austrian Relief work. A continued appeal is made to the public for contributions of food and clothing. Among the articles sold at the store are beautiful embroideries from Europe's aristocracy and paintings by a poor Viennese lady painter.

Anne Criado writes a most interesting letter from New York, where she is attending Katherine Gibbs. She tells us that the girls must wear hats, stockings, gloves and high heels, or at least dress shoes! Her business courses are proving to be most enjoyable.

Jo Ann Fehrenbacher tells us she attended Jeanne Lilly's and Shirley Reese's wedding. Marty Scheffer was in Jeanne's wedding party. Jo Ann is planning to work in Boston and live with Janet Athy.

Mary Jeanne McCullen was married to Robert E. Regan at the Little Flower in Coral Gables, Fla. Mary Jeanne was graduated from the Providence School of Nursing (Providence Hospital), and received her B.S. in nursing from Catholic University.

The Social Board includes: (L. to R.) Velma Bodee, Junior Social Chairman; Emilia Arnoldson, Senior Social Chairman; Lucia Vallejo, Campus Queen; and Trinalce Depperman, Sophomore Social Chairman.

L. Friedheim Wins State Scholarship To Barry College

This year for the first time in Barry's history, a state scholarship has been used here. This is the Senatorial Scholarship, and the winner of it is Louise Friedheim, a sophomore, from Belle Glade, Florida.

In order to win this scholarship, Louise received the highest mark in an examination given in her district by the state. These examinations are given in October and May.

The purpose of the scholarship is to help those students who wish to attend college and to encourage teaching. In return for every year given by the scholarship, a year must be devoted to teaching or governmental work by the student.

In order to keep the scholarship, Louise must keep high grades and be recommended for continuance.

Dean, Registrar Attend Meeting

The Florida Teacher Education Advisory Council held a convention in Tallahassee, October 7, 8, 9. Sister Mary Dorothy, O.P., Barry's representative, and Sister Mary Ann, O.P., attended.

This council, established by law in the past year, was organized "to aid in developing desirable standards and particularly to assist in the improvement of teacher and administrator in the state. . . ."

While in the northern part of the state, Sister Mary Ann, O.P., Supervisor of Adrian Dominican schools in Florida, visited schools in Pensacola and Fort Walton.

The Tatler

Barry girls are already taking advantage of the 1948 season in Miami. The Freshmen have been investigating the sights of "America's Playground," and it won't be long before they'll be thinking of Miami as their second home.

Betty Lou Kepler had a pleasant surprise this week when Virginia Mitchell, Joyce Pamentier and Charlotte Holme (attending Miami University this year) gave her a surprise birthday dinner at Howard Johnson's.

It was a gay weekend in Fort Lauderdale for Nancy Conine, Betty Kerby, Margaret Schneider, Jeanne Lehman, Catherine Crowe, Pat Abernathy, Mary Ann Cannon, Ann Mercier and Madeline De Chiaro. Nancy's parents bought a new home, giving Nancy possession of the old one for a house party.

Silvia Soler, Blance Lanuza, Felisa Cobo, and Nora Urquiola had a regular old-fashioned beach party (packed lunch, swimming and all) last Saturday.

Joan Weed has been a guest at Jackie Koop's house, keeping her company while her parents are still up north.

SYMPHONY OPENS ANNUAL SEASON

The Barry Little Symphony under the direction of Bower Murphy will open the third annual season of the MIAMI SHORES CONCERT SERIES in December and will present concerts featuring both orchestra and guest soloists.

The season will open on December 1, with a concert devoted to Viennese music. Setting for this initial program will be the Calaroga Gardens of the Barry campus.

Sylvia Rosenberg, violinist, will be the first guest soloist to be presented on December 8, followed by Marcella De Gray, harpist, on January 12; Theodore Lettvin, pianist, on February 9; and Henry Gregor, pianist, on March 9. The Oratorio of

COLLEGE GIRL'S LAMENT—

"What'd you say?"
 "A letter today."
 "No siree—
 None for me."
 "I'm awfully glad, you understand—
 It's such a bother to write a man."
 "Things are rushed
 And I'm so busy,
 A letter would only
 Make me dizzy."
 "And a lot of trouble
 To read and write,
 When I've other things
 To do each night."
 "I'm really bored with your suggestion,
 Why writing a man is out of the question.
 And even today, at this very minute,
 If I got a letter—
 There'd be nothing in it—
 That would interest me
 At all—you see—"
 "Excuse me please—
 Pardon me—
 The mails arrived—
 I've got to see,
 Maybe a letter is waiting for me—
 Oh by golly there'd better be."
 "Maybe a letter from my man,
 Not that I care—you understand."
 —MARY JOANNE OLLMAN.

The Passion will conclude the series on April 4.

For the information of new members and patrons, the Barry Little Symphony is an organization of professional musicians from Miami. It is a project of Barry College in collaboration with the Barry Little Symphony Association to sustain this orchestra and to give its patrons a distinctive musical program apart from the various musical endeavors and enterprises already existing in Miami.

Program material is taken from the chamber works of the great masters, especially those of Mozart, Haydn, Purcell, Lotti, and other eighteenth century composers. To aid in acquainting audiences with American works, the second half of the program is dedicated to works of contemporary composers.

A.A. Forsees Active Year

This is your A.A. reporter saying "hello again to all you old members and welcome to all you new ones."

Another year has rolled around and we're all back at school "toting" books, battling hurricanes, giving surprise parties, and just plain having good times.

The Athletic Board wishes to extend its welcome to everyone and hopes this will be a very active year. We all have that well-known spirit but some of us just have to dig a little deeper to find it.

Now is the time for introductions. The Athletic Board presents Sister Thomas Mary, O.P., our moderator; Miss Husson, our Physical Education instructor; Elaine Heilos, president; Joyce Browne, vice-president; Pat Abernathy, treasurer, and Betty Kerby, secretary.

These girls are more than willing to do their part. Let's all give them a hand to make this a year Barry will never forget.

Remember, A.A. still means "always active."
