

Rings, Pins Blessed On Senior Class Day

Yesterday, wearing their colors of blue and white, the seniors attended Mass and had their rings and pins blessed. At noon they and the other classes sang songs around the pool. The occasion for this celebration is senior class day, traditionally called Torch and Shield Day.

In the afternoon the class entertained the faculty and students in Stella Matutina social hall with a skit. After the skit the seniors enjoyed dinner at the Fu Manchu restaurant. Sister Dorothy gave them 10 o'clock permissions for the occasion.

Those on committees are: Lucia Vallejo, Belen Ortega, and Mary Ellen DeDominicis, menu; Jacqueline Quinn, Joyce Brown, Norma Nevares, Maria Luisa Rivera, Carmen Senghaas, Colette Currier, Vivian Decker, and Elaine Heilos, program; Maria Dolores imonpietri, Patricia Young, Isabella Ruffolo, Carol Lewis and Agnes Galban, decorations; Irene Graham, songs; Evelyn Howard, hospitality hostess; Norma Nevares and Mary Dougherty Tafel, mimeographing.

ANNUAL STAFF ANNOUNCED

Mary Jane Mills, senior class president, announced Oct. 26 that the project of the seniors would be the sponsoring of the yearbook, TORCH AND SHIELD. Class members are now at work planning social activities to raise funds for the annual.

First Year Students Don Caps and Gowns

Freshman investiture was held Sunday afternoon, Oct. 31, at 3:00 P. M. in Stella Matutina hall. The Rev. C. W. Burke, O. P., Barry Chaplain, conducted the ceremony. Father Burke addressed the parents, faculty and students in a speech outlining the significance of the cap and gown. Father stated that centuries ago people wore the cap and hood as general attire until gradually it became distinctive of only the educated people. Now, after some alterations, we have the present academic cap and gown which is worn by teachers and students.

Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament in Cor Jesu Chapel completed the ceremony.

After Benediction tea was given in the rotunda for parents, relatives and friends of the students. Elizabeth Donnelly entertained by playing the marimba.

Eighteen states were represented in the 1948-1949 freshman class, 47 students being from Florida. The freshman enrollment includes students from Cuba, Puerto Rico, Santo Domingo, Colombia, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Venezuela and the British West Indies. Highest enrollment is from the following states: Illinois 12, New York 11, Ohio 7.

Barry Unit Elected President Sodality

Barry College was chosen head of the sodalities of the Southeast Coast Deanery at a meeting held October 31.

In the sodality at Barry, three committees have been formed to spread devotion "To Jesus Through Mary": the Eucharistic committee with chairman Pat Young and secretary Mollie Lorms; Our Lady's committee headed by Isabel Aguilera with Cilia Vallejo assisting; the Catholic Truth committee with Mary Alice Droze and Shirley Jean Wright, chairman and secretary, respectively.

The latter committee was in charge of a general assembly on Nov. 4. Its purpose was to bring to light the views of Barryites on current books. The following girls participated in the program: Elaine Heilos, Mary Lou Hayes, Joan O'Brien and Dolores Duffy. Vivian Decker reviewed The Fire Was Lighted by Theodore Maynard. Shirley Jean Wright spoke about Michael, the latest book of Owen Francis Dudley. Dry Wood by Carryl Houselander was reviewed by Agnes Calban.

This committee is assisting Sister Michael James and the N. C. C. W. in selecting Catholic historical books on Florida to add to the bibliography of this society.

Our Lady's committee had as their first project of the year the traditional procession of the Living Rosary.

Sodality officers in academic caps and gowns and volunteer sodalists in pastel formals fashioned the impressive tribute to the Blessed Mother. Singing of the student body from the balcony of Angelicus completed the ceremony.

Playhouse Joins Drama Guild In Presenting 'Bernadette'

For the first time in the history of Barry's three year old dramatic organization, the Barry Playhouse has joined hands with a civic drama group in the presentation of a play. In collaboration with the Gesu Drama Guild of Miami, the Playhouse will present Franz Werfel's stirring drama, "Song of Bernadette," to the public December 7 and 8 at the Highland Park School Auditorium.

An extensive performance schedule is announced by Sister M. Trinita, O. P., director of the Playhouse and collaborator with Fred LaFrance, Drama Guild director, on the production. In addition to the two Gesu sponsored performances December 7 and 8, "Bernadette" will be presented at Pratt General Hospital December 5 for convalescent service men, and at Booker T. Washington School for the Negro community December 6. A performance for the Sisters of St. Joseph will be held in the Gesu Center December 11, while the Barry performance will be December 9.

Barry girls constitute the female members of the cast, while the men appear from the ranks of the Gesu Guild.

Mary Kanaley, a freshman from Detroit and a new member of the Playhouse appears in the role of Bernadette. Jackie Quinn is cast as Sister Vazous, with Margaret Castrogiovanni, Shirley Friske, Suzanne Imbus, Irene O'Neill, Theresa Bruscatto, Betty Ann Rice, Mathilde Wha-

'Turkey Trot' Benefits Yearbook

The Torch and Shield staff gave an informal Thanksgiving dance Friday, Nov. 19, to raise funds for the yearbook. The dance was held in Stella Matutina Social hall from 8:30 p. m. to 12:30. Ed Swenko and his orchestra played for the occasion. During the dance a turkey was raffled, and cider and doughnut were old.

General chairman was Jacqueline Quinn. Those on committees were: Mary Doherty Tafel and Jacqueline Quinn, decorations; Norma Nevares and Carole Lewis, refreshments; Irene Graham, turkey raffle; Mary Jane Mills, tickets; Joan Coleman, orchestra.

Among the chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Constantino Garcia and Mr. Edward Sullivan Tolan.

Delegates Attend C C D. Congress

Nov. 11-13, the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine held a Southern regional conference in Jacksonville. The meetings were devoted to discussions of religious topics, to aid the members in their Catholic Action.

The speakers from Barry at the convention were Mary Kay Marelli, Claire Butterfield, Pat Abernathy, and Joyce Nolan, who participated in a panel discussion with Joyce as chairman. Also at the convention was Mary Alice Droze, who spoke on "The Function of the Helper in the C.C.D."

This year the girls in the campus C.C.D. are teaching almost 100 children. Saturday mornings they instruct the children of St. Rose of Lima parish, and Sundays, they assist the Sisters at St. Michael's parish.

lin, Joanne Ollman, Lya Garcia, Kay Justin, Betty La Calle, and Jeanette Watters in supporting roles.

Men in the cast include Monte Fremont, William Finney, William Elliot, Dennis Wepman, Joseph Sauer, Joseph Rathell, and Larry Lennartz.

The Playhouse recently concluded production of the first children's play of the season, "Rumplestiltskin," starring Lya Garcia as "Rumple" and Kay Justin as Mary Miller. In addition to the usual Barry show, performances were given under the sponsorship of the Miami Children's Theatre at Andrew Jackson School and Coral Gables Elementary. The Gesu group is also on the roster of that children's organization for three performances of "H. M. S. Pinafore" in April.

"Bernadette" is the second of the Gesu Drama Guild's five productions this season. The first was "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" produced September 25 and 26. Velma Bodee, a Barry Junior, was seen as the co-lead, Emily Kimbrough. A group of Barry girls with season tickets to the Guild's productions, attended the show and gave reports of an enjoyable evening.

Information concerning tickets for "Bernadette" may be obtained from Florida Club members, Mary Ellen DeDominicis, president. Information about reserved season tickets to the Gesu Drama Guild may be had from Playhouse member Betty Lou Kepler, or Velma Bodee.

President, Former Vice-President Celebrate Founders' Day Here

Reverend Mother Mary Gerald, O. P., president of the college and Mother General of the Dominican Sisters of Adrian, Michigan, was one of the guests of honor at the eighth annual Founders' Day celebration. Accompanying her was Sister Mary Gonzaga, O. P., former vice-president of the college.

Solemn High Mass, which commenced the day's program, was preceded by a procession of the student body into Cor Jesu Chapel. The celebrant of the Mass was the Right Rev. Monsignor William Barry, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Miami Beach. The Very Rev. John J. O'Looney, pastor of St. Anthony's Church, Ft. Lauderdale, was deacon. Sub-deacon and master of ceremonies were the Rev. Francis J. Dunleavy and the Rev. Gerrard J. Manning, respectively. The Cor Jesu Choir sang the Mass "Orbis Factor." At the Offertory they sang "Pie Pellican" by Sister Florentine.

Following the recessional, brunch was served to guests and students in Calaroga hall. Joan Weed, toastmistress, introduced the speakers of the day. Irene Raywood discussed Bishop Barry as Bishop of St. Augustine. Evelyn Howard brought out the parallel between Mother Gerald and St. Albert the Great as outstanding educators. The contributions to the college of Monsignor Barry, Sister Gonzaga, and Mr. John G. Thompson were related by Mary Jane Mills.

Music for the program was contributed by the Tara Singers and the string ensemble. The first group sang "Ave Maria" by Vittoria and "I Heard a Forest Praying" by De Rose. The ensemble played "Barcarolle" by Offenbach.

Freshmen Initiated By Sophomore Class

Under the direction of Mary Ann Cannon, president of the sophomore class, freshman initiation was held Oct. 27, 28. Plans were made the preceding week, at which time each freshman was given a sophomore "sister" to whom she was responsible.

"Rats" decked themselves out in pajama tops, upside-down skirts, socks, one high-heeled and one low-heeled shoe, and large signs bearing their names and the names of their home towns. Make-up consisted of cold cream, and eye-brow pencil to outline their lips. At the sound of "hurricane" from a sophomore they all dumped their books (carried in trash cans) and "took cover" under the trash cans. Duties were to open doors, carry books, for sophomore task-masters.

The high point was "rat court," held Thursday night, Oct. 28. Officials were: Isabel Aguilera, judge; Margaret Schneider, prosecuting attorney; and Nancy Conine, defense attorney. Members of the sophomore class formed the jury and guard of honor.

Freshmen having the most demerits, given for not obeying, had to go before the court to be tried and sentenced. The surprise came at the end, when the sophomores gave a party, complete with refreshments, for their freshman guests.

STUDENT LEADERS ATTEND CONVENTION

Five Barry student leaders attended the joint convention of Florida Student Government Association and Florida Intercollegiate Press Association at Miami University, Nov. 4-6.

Evelyn Howard, Student Council chairman represented the college at meetings of FSGA. During the convention she directed the workshop on NSA. Joyce Nolan and Veronica Barry, Junior class president and vice-president, respectively, also attended the sessions of FSGA.

TORCH AND SHIELD editor Mary Jane Mills, and editor of ANGELICUS, Carol Lewis, attended sessions of FIPA. The former took part in a symposium on "Sparkling Your Yearbook Sales Campaign" and the latter participated in another symposium on "Features to Please Your Readers."

Auxiliary Chairman Speaks to Assembly

Mrs. A. J. Ryan, general chairman of the 1948 American Legion Auxiliary Convention, spoke to the student body Nov. 11 on her work with the Florida Girl State.

Mrs. Ryan was elected president of the Florida department for 1946-1947. It was during her administration that the Florida Girl State was established.

She has held the additional offices of department membership chairman, Pan-American affairs and legislative and post war chairman.

Mrs. Ryan, the mother of two sons, 21 and 19, and a daughter, 23, makes her home in Dania, Florida.

Solo Dramatist To Appear Nov. 29

Barry College is fortunate to expect as a visitor late this month Miss Mary Louise Hickey, one of the most talented monologists ever to enter upon the American stage. Her outstanding performances in the field of solo-drama have carried her from coast to coast many times, always leaving thrilled audiences, anticipating her return.

She brings to the audience a complete theatre, yet she uses only one or two props, and off-stage music, to create the proper atmosphere and to bring about the illusion that many actors fill the stage.

Miss Hickey not only creates and adapts much of her own material and arranges the music used to heighten effects, but she designs her own costumes.

Monday night, Nov. 29, Miss Hickey will present for the students of Barry College and their friends, her interpretation of Rudolph Besier's, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street". Regarding this particular characterization, the San Francisco Monitor has said, "Thoroughly absorbing and delightful interpretation of the great love story of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning."

Miss Hickey has won the enthusiastic praise of the Most Reverend Richard J. Cushing, Archbishop of Boston, the Most Reverend Joseph Francis Rummel, S. T. D., Archbishop of New Orleans, and Edward F. Murphy, S. S. J., of Catholic Action, New Orleans.

What Is Your N. D. Man?

In the editor's mail bag was found this letter from Notre Dame:

Dear Editor:

You have undoubtedly heard of Notre Dame. It is a University in Indiana. It has a football team. It also has a student body. This student body is made up of 5,000 males. They are a weird lot. They are so weird that we need help in classifying them. So we are conducting a survey. We want to know what college girls think of Notre Dame men.

We are asking them to write us letters on the subject: THE TYPICAL NOTRE DAME MAN. We do not care if the girls writing us have ever met a ND student. Let these fortunates use their imaginations. We just want a whole mess of letters and opinions on the subject.

Here is where you come in. The only way we can let the girls know what we want is through your papers. You are our only source in publicity on this survey. Give us a break. Tell the girls all about this. Here's the way it works:

Letters can be of any length.

They may be serious or otherwise. The best of them will be printed in the SCHOLASTIC along with the author's picture if same is inclosed in printable condition.

All letters should be addressed to: Survey, Notre Dame SCHOLASTIC, 118 Main Building, Notre Dame, Indiana.

Thanks for everything, Notre Dame SCHOLASTIC GREG HALPIN, Feature Editor,

A Dream Is Realized

"Go ye and teach all nations" was a challenge to Bishop Patrick Barry. He founded the first Catholic college in Florida, believing that intellectual, spiritual and physical training were essential for good education.

If Bishop Barry could visit the school he founded, he would see how his ideals are being continued.

He would observe that the Barry girl is trained physically through her participation in the activities of the Athletic Association—water ballet and inter-collegiate sports. By attending the dances, teas, and dinners, she cultivates the social side of her life.

A visit to Angelicus would reveal how the Barry student is educated intellectually. In the classroom she is taught the philosophy of St. Thomas Aquinas formally, and as part of the other courses for Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree. He would notice that plays, concerts and lectures give her opportunities for cultural enjoyment.

Bishop Barry would surely be pleased at the many spiritual advantages that Barry offers. Among these are Thursday Holy Hour, the annual retreat, and daily Mass. Campus organizations which aid the spiritual nature of a Barry girl are the Sodality, Missions, Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, and Tertiaries.

While visiting the campus, Bishop Barry would notice that it is not only the girls from the United States who are being educated here, but foreign girls, too.

As the Bishop left our Alma Mater, would we hear him utter a prayer of thanksgiving to God for making his dream a reality?

Plea of the Soul

My God, my God, why hast Thou forsaken me?
Open Thy Heart, listen close to my plea.
Father, into Thy Hands I commend my soul,
The journey is over, I've reached my last goal.
The picture is finished, the painting is clear,
I've don it myself, and I tremble with fear.

Plea of Our Lord

Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do.
Their commitments are many, their virtues are few.
My Father, help them, assist them, bind them in Love.
Have pity, have pity, Great God up above.

—Joanne Ollman.

Students Tour Courts, Printers

To earn more of the practical side of their class work, students from the sociology and journalism classes went on field trips in November.

Two groups of the sociology class visited the Juvenile Delinquency court last week.

Before the cases were brought forward, the judge of Dade County, Mr. Walter Beckham, explained the procedure.

He said that the Juvenile Delinquency Court is an institution with the purpose of protecting youth, not punishing it. The court starts to keep personal record of the child the second time he is brought to court. He is also placed under the vigilance of a probation officer to whom the parents must report the behavior of the child.

The class was present for six cases and was able to observe the reactions in both the children and their parents.

A group from the journalism class visited McMurray Printers in order to get a clear idea of the work done in a printing office.

Mr. William Forbess showed them the place and asked each worker to explain to the girls the details of his job.

McMurray Printers prints ANGELICUS and TORCH AND SHIELD.

Mary Jane Mills—

Mary Jane Mills, after four years at Barry, exemplifies the ideal senior.

She is editor-in-chief of the 1949 year-book.

She hopes after graduation to enter the field of radio, working with music. Upperclassmen will not forget her voice recital in 1946. Although her traveling has been limited to the East and Middle West, Mary Jane would like to go West and to South America.

She is a rabid fan of Jimmy Dorsey, as well as a personal friend of his. Men, beware, Mary Jane sees red upon sighting a bow tie, but watch her eyes light up when stuffed celery is put on the table.

Joyce Nolan—

and in such a willing manner, that in her junior year she has again been elected president.

She is also chairman of the Mission Club. In her spare time Joyce likes to write drama. In fact, she is a kind of female Orson Welles, because she acts, too. She also enjoys going to Gainesville for a "restful" weekend now and then.

Joyce's main claim to fame was the title awarded her at St. Patrick's High: "The girl with the worst voice." Last summer she worked on the College Board at Hartley's. Joyce is what we like to call the typical American girl, attractive, popular and vivacious.

Isabel Aguilera—

One of the most outstanding Latin girls on campus, because of her height and personality is Isabel Aguilera—

Her mother is from the United States, while her father is a native of Cuba. Isabel calls Cuba home, although she has traveled to a good many states. She remembers vividly the religious discussion she had with Sholem Asch at Saratoga Springs.

Isabel likes sleep, which "she seldom gets." She dislikes short hair, so of course, she had her jet locks cut down to nothing. Style is style.

Isabel's hearty laugh and her 5' 11" of height have been the inspiration for her many nicknames.

Marilyn Conlin—

One of Barry's bright new freshmen, Marilyn Conlin, by virtue of her obvious qualities of leadership and her scholastic achievements in her high school, was appointed temporary chairman of her class.

had something to do with it. It seems the charm and blarney have come out strongly in this dark colleen.

Marilyn hails originally from Champaign, Illinois, but she now calls Ocala, Florida her home. There her father is waiting for her to finish college so that she can step into the business administration of his concern.

Marilyn is really a very smart girl! Proof—only 350 demerits during initiation. However, she feels that she is scarred for life by her sophomore suite-mates. Marilyn has twin brothers—one is good looking, the other is engaged.

Kampus Kapers

Our Campus Queen had been overheard making remarks about the mattress in her royal suite at Rosa Mystica; so her classmates told a mattress company which had been phoning Barry of late to deliver one to Miss Lucia Vallejo at the first opportunity . . . What ya going to do with two, Lucia? . . . There seems to be a frenzy of locking doors in Stella Matutina, as a certain faculty member found out lately. It seems the freshmen in 225 thought she was a sophomore, and proceeded to lock her in the bathroom . . . Mary Clare Condon spent the week of Oct. 24th teaching at Vero Beach. Her first and second graders presented her with many an apple and orange; and also the title "Sister Mary Clare" . . . Rosa Mystica's house committee gave a get-together party, in order that everyone in the hall could get to know one another better. Sounds delightful. When do we have ours? . . .

Anyone who wants to know how many days, hours and minutes there are until Thanksgiving, just ask Pat Sullivan. She can tell you to the last second! . . . Regina Pacis has a popular young thing in Inez Nistal who went to the U. tea and game Oct. 29 and the Tex Beneke dance Oct. 30 . . . Joyce Taylor and Betty Lou Kepler also went as did many of the Barry gals. All report a huge crowd and grand time . . . Jeanne Jacob celebrated the anniversary of receiving her 50th letter from the man in her life on Sunday the 24th . . .

Pat Aulson and Mary Lou Connelly got a yen for some good old New England apples; so Pat sent home for some. Papa Aulson responded with a crate. S. M. 234 is fairly sprouting MacIntoshes now! . . . Mary Lou's mother came down for the week-end of the 29th so Pat, Elaine Heilos, Mary Jo Carey and Mary Lou report a delightful dinner party at Huyler's Halloween night! The Barry seniors were responsible for many of the frosh running short of candy during initiation. The lofty ones are perhaps demoting themselves two years? . . .

Twenty minutes of eight at night is the elite hour when Miss Patricia Tobin and friends proceed to learn the domestic art of bed making . . . Jeanne Hennessy was a very excited little gal when Pat Bleep put a phone call through to Barry to ask her to accept an engagement ring at Christmas. Pat is attending John Carroll University in Ohio . . .

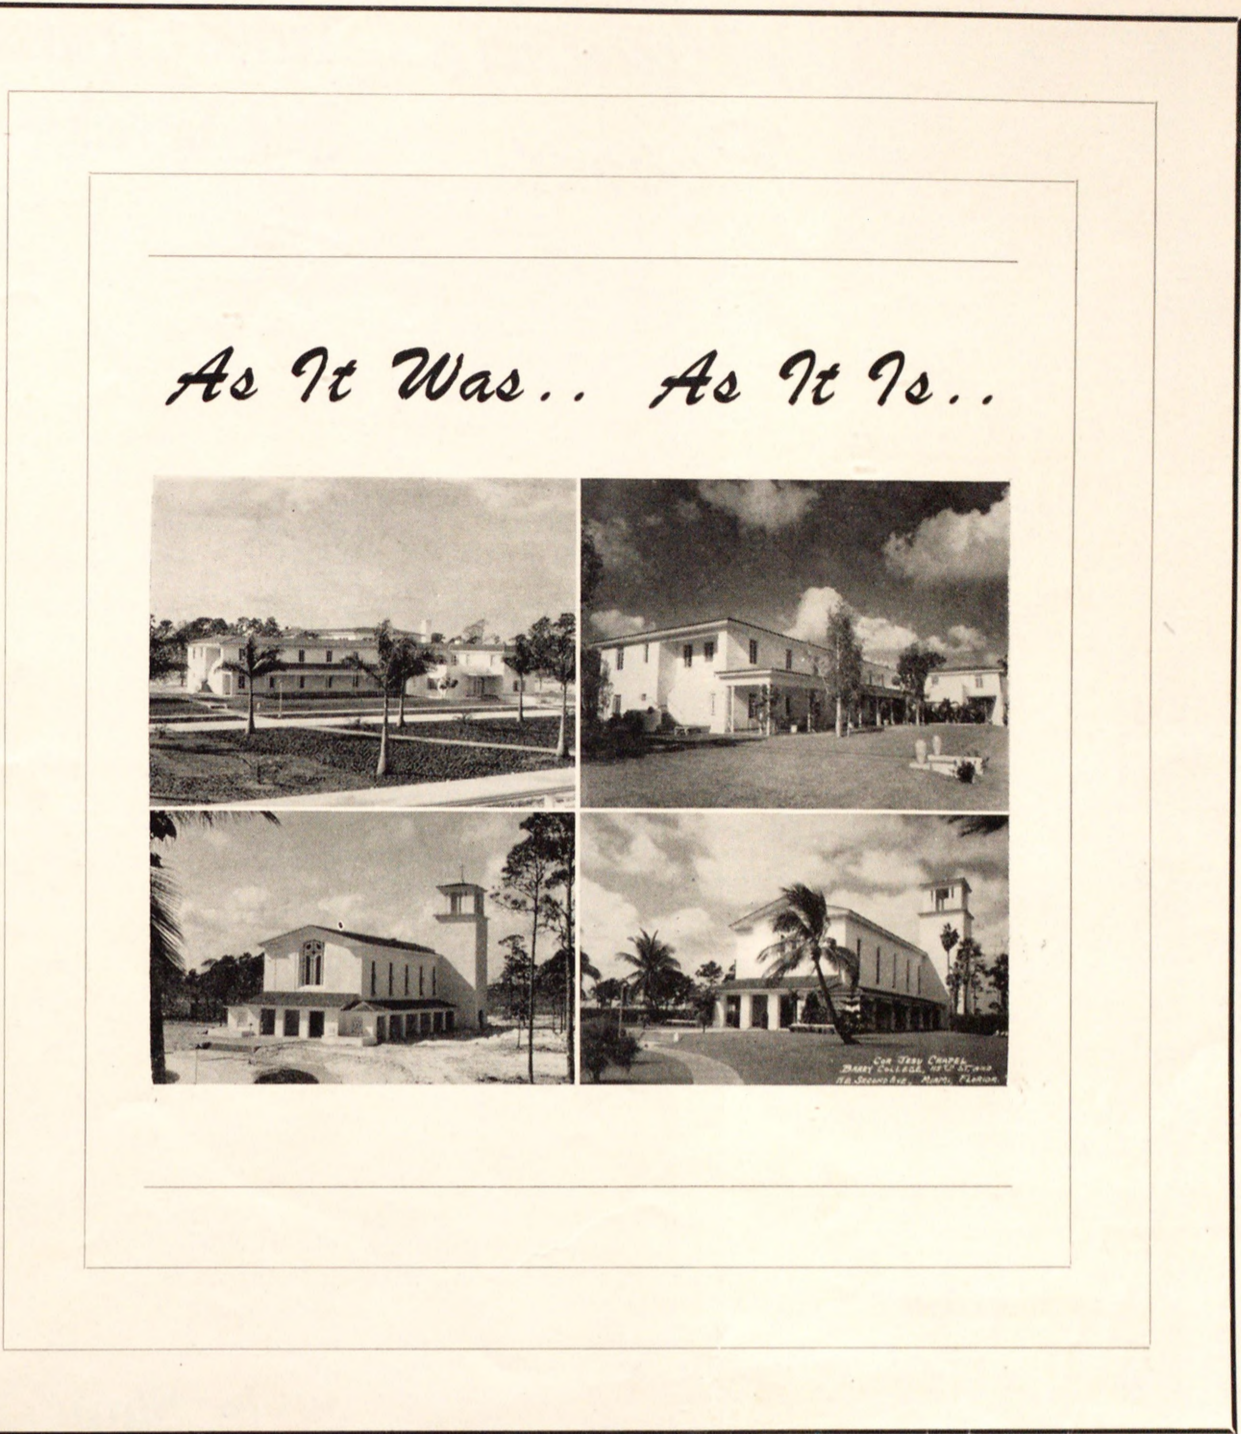

Helen Joseph and Claire Klein had a pleasant surprise while they were reminiscing between classes one day. They discovered they both "hailed" from Scranton, Pennsylvania. Names and places were flying around fast. Claire is a new sophomore who spent last year at Misericordia College in Pennsylvania . . . Sally Newton had an exceptionally good time, at the Coronation Ball. Her escort came down from the University of Florida to attend the dance.

Student Teachers Begin Careers

Mary Barbara Baker, Colette Currier, Vivian Decker, Mary Ellen De Dominicis, Mary Lou Smith and Patricia Young will report to St. Patrick's School, Miami Beach, November 16, to begin their observation and practice teaching program.

Sister Mary Aurelia, O.P., principal of the school, will act as immediate supervisor in cooperation with the directing Sisters on her faculty.

Sister Mary Ann, O.P., coordinator of the student teachers, will also visit their classrooms and supervise their teaching.

Browsing Barryettes Always Welcome

For the second installment of the Village column your reporter has chosen the Village Book Store, famous for its records, stationery and Hallmark cards.

Upon entering we were greeted by a huge black and white dog, which cocked his head in a very knowing fashion. Deciding that he would not spring at our throats, we began to speak with the smiling young lady behind the counter. Her name is Sarah Huff. She and Miss Jean McPherson have been working in the Village store since it opened June 7, 1947. "Many of the Barry girls come in just to browse around and listen to records," stated Miss Huff. "They prefer the popular or the old favorites," called Miss McPherson from a distant corner of the room. "Barry girls are always very pleasant to have around. They come in two or three times a week and our best sales are made on the greeting cards they buy," laughed Miss Huff.

"Your college is really the prettiest I have ever seen; only a short time ago we took a drive after supper just to see it again," stated Miss Huff.

The two young women look like college girls themselves. Miss McPherson, rather petite, with light brown hair, was wearing a smartly tailored white blouse and dark skirt. Miss Huff is of medium height with blond hair and blue eyes, which were enhanced by her blue print dress.

"In the time I have been here," said Miss Huff, "I honestly have never met a Barry girl who has been unpleasant. The only complaint I have is that they don't come often enough."

CLUB NEWS

B. K. K.

Old members of Beta Kappa Kappa Barry's classical club, met Tuesday, Nov. 2, to elect officers and discuss plans for the year. Mary Alice Droze was elected First Consul and Nancy Cassin, Censor. A motion was adopted that the other officers, Second Consul and Quaestor, be chosen at the first general meeting for new members, Nov. 30.

Interest in the classics and their influence on modern life is the only requisite for membership. However, this year French and German students, as well as Latin, should profit through participation, for the 1948-1949 theme is "The Influence of Classical Mythology and German Literature."

Members meet twice a month, Tuesday at 11:00 and Thursday at 4:00, for discussion on certain aspects of the main topic. Entertainment and a social hour conclude the afternoon meeting.

Any language student interested in joining Beta Kappa Kappa is invited to attend the meeting Nov. 30.

MISSIONS

The Mission Council's annual charity raffle, being held now, is for the purpose of raising money to buy Christmas presents for underprivileged children. The money not used for this will go toward furthering the aim of the Mission Council, that of propagating the Faith.

The raffle prizes, which were donated by the Hurst Electric Company, Miami Shores, include a dishwasher, three vacuum cleaners and a radio. There are five additional prizes of $100 credits on the purchase of $299 Laundromats.

The tickets are 25 cents each or a book of five for a dollar. The drawing will be December 2, 1948.

SCIENCE

Albert Magnus Science Club held its second meeting Nov. 1. The program was conducted by students assisting in research. Their topic was, "The Effect of Various Germicides on the Production of Peroxidase." The students gave an explanation and demonstration of the work being done.

SPANISH

Ten members of the Spanish Club presented a program of Spanish music and dancing at the Miami Y. W. C. A. Nov. 20. The program was in honor of World Fellowship Day.

Rosemary Carpenter played two selections on the accordian. Those doing dances were Jacqueline Quinn, accompanied on the piano by Shirley Friske; Maria Dolores Simonpieri and Blanquita Lanuza, who did the Mexican Hat Dance; and Bertha Lauredo, Rosa Maria Montane, Felisa Cobo and Yolanda Arcila, who did the Raspa.

"Cielito Lindo," sung by the whole group, concluded the program.

FLORIDA

The Florida Club held its first meeting Oct. 26 to elect officers and outline activities for the year.

Mary Ellen DeDominicis was elected last May to serve in the presidency. Newly elected officers are Claire Butterfield, vice president, and Mary Lou Connelly, secretary.

Included in the list of tentative plans are a scavenger hunt, a barn dance, and a beach party. The Florida Club is also sponsoring the ticket sales for the Barry-Gesu Drama Guild's production "Song of Bernadette."

A A Holds Hayride

Nov. 6, the Athletic Association gave its annual Hayride and from all reports, it was very successful. The wagons left at 6:00 p. m. and took us to Northwest Riding Academy, where under the capable hands of Betty Kerby and Pat Abernathy, the food was waiting. Those two girls made a hit with everyone! (wonder why?)

Among the honored guests on the Hayride were Miss Husson, physical education instructor, "Howie", the prefect of the Sodality, and our campus Queen, Lucia Vallejo.

There will be more such activities given by the Athletic Association, so keep up with our bulletins. On our next Hayride we will feature a new and different game entitled "coffee pot."

Many thanks go to Sister Thomas Mary, O. P., Sister Cleophas, O. P., Miss Husson, Joyce Brown, Betty Kerby, Pat Abernathy, Mary Lou Connelly, and all you people who bought tickets. The Hayride couldn't have been such a success without all of your assistance.

Senior Attends NCCW Meeting

Evelyn Howard, sodality prefect, represented Barry at a meeting of the Southeast Coast Deaneries of the National Council of Catholic Women held at Gesu Church Oct. 26. This organization is composed of Catholic laywomen whose purpose is the fostering of Catholic action.

Father McAtee, S. J., pastor of Gesu, welcomed all present on behalf of the parish. Evelyn reported on the projects of the Barry sodality and was congratulated for its many activities.

Following the meeting a luncheon was held at Manning's Restaurant in Miami.

American Flag Given by Alumnae

The Alumnae Association formally presented a new American flag to the college November 16. This ceremony, called Alumnarum Donatio Signi, is held every year.

Mrs. Eugene Sullivan, president of the Association, presented the flag, and Miss Lorraine Miller gave the presentation address.

Alumnae Report

Word has reached us that Sister Patrick Joseph of the Maryknoll Sisters has left the United States and is traveling to the mission of Calo Calo in Cachabambi, Bolivia, where she is stationed for ten years of missionary work. Sister Patrick Joseph is the former Mary Aulson, class of 1947.

Elaine Miller is teaching the third grade at St. Mary's and likes it very much.

Sister Martha Marie, the former Betty Condon, is teaching at St. Anastasia's School in Fort Pierce Florida.

Phyllis Gray, '47, who is now at Catholic University in Washington, informs us she enjoys her work tremendously. Included among her courses are: Introduction to Librarianship, College and University Administration, and Reference and Bibliography. Her activities in Washington have included the following: attending a meeting of the Catholic Library Association, and seeing "Hamlet" in which Laurence Olivier was starred. She also went to Baltimore to see the Navy-Notre Dame game.

Mary Huthansel, '48, was married to Mr. A. Mittauer, Jr., of Miami, at St. Mary's Church last June. Congratulations to you both!

Mr. Edward Kelly of Miami Beach, Father of Patricia Kelly, '45, died the last week in October following a long illness. Our sympathy to the family. Please remember him in your prayers.

Freshmen Fete Sophomore Pals

A wiener roast was given by the freshmen, Nov. 16 at 7:30 near Stella Matutina Hall. The party was held for the sophomores to show appreciation for the guidance they have given to the freshmen.

All seemed to have a good time and when it came to roasting the wieners, it could plainly be seen who were the out-door type, for great skill was needed.

After having a meal of hot dogs, potato chips, ice cream and soft drinks, the girls settled down to singing and enjoying the evening around the fire.

Tertiary Profession Held November 22

The Dominican Tertiaries held profession of members Monday, November 22 at four o'clock in Cor Jesu Chapel. The Rev. Cyril W. Burke, O.P., performed the ceremony. Former professed members formed the guard of honor.

The girls professed were received into the Third Order of t. Dominic last May. After a probation period of about six months, applicants are professed if they so desire and have the approval of their director.

The Third Order of St. Dominic is "an association of persons living in the world, under the government of a Religious Order and in accordance with its spirit. The members are pledged to aim at Christian perfection in a manner conformable to their mode of life, by the observance of the rules approved for them by the Holy See." This association of men and women living in the world, without vows, was founded by St. Dominic.

One of the duties of a tertiary is to try to say the Little Office of the Blessed Virgin Mary every day. If she is unable to do this, she tries to say a rosary.

Style Show Termed Success

The Barry Little Symphony Association sponsored a style show November 17 around Penafort Pool.

Among the models were Colette Currier, Jacqueline Quinn, Stephanie Swiniuch, Margene Johnson, Jane Sullivan, Sandra Mitchell, Catherine Crowe, Rosemary Carpenter, Pat Patterson, Alice Depenbrock, Rosemary Bellin and Norma Von Scoyoc.

Holiday wardrobes from Althea's, Coral Gables, were featured in the show.

The Tara Singers sang the "Barry Loyalty Song," Two Miami University cheer songs, and the "Bells of St. Mary's." Sister Mary Denise, O.P., was at the organ.

The Tatler

The biggest outside social event this month was the Homecoming weekend at the University of Miami. Besides the usual game, teas, parties, and fraternity dances, there was the added attraction of Tex Beneke's Orchestra. Barry was well-represented by Jeanne Pernod, Claire Butterfield, Jeanne Pettingill, Sarah Bowery, Joan Coleman, Pat Taylor, and Irene Graham.

"Moon Over Miami" seemed to be the central theme for a pleasant experience for Florence and Loretta Galardi and Carol Courtney. They were escorted to a moonlight boat ride up and down the shores of Miami.

Shirley Jean Wright was one busy girl during the Legion Convention. She helped entertain the Chicago delegation of of Legionnaires.

Pat Murray, Stella Grimaldi, and Mary Lou Hayes had dinner at Huyler's a few nights ago. Their evening was cut short for they had to be back at school at that bewitching hour—7:30!

Pat Brooks entertained Sue Imbus, Suzanne Germann, Martha Yagiello, and Jane Held at her home in Hollywood over a recent weekend.

A good friend of Madelaine DeChiara's came down from Georgia University to visit her a few weekends ago. They spent a delightful day in Lake Worth.

Barry girls turn domestic: Therese Mendoza, Dolores Mackey, "Hershey" Mendez, and Recie Slusher cooked a spaghetti dinner for their dates from Miami University. Mother must have told them that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach.

Guests of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity recently were Margaret Schneider, Jeanne Lehman, Cathy Crowe, Pat Abernathy, and Nancy Conine. They went up to the University of Florida in Gainesville to see the Rollins-Florida game.
