BARRY COLLEGE, MIAMI, FLORIDA, OCTOBER, 1950

Trade Mart To Unite Americas

Highlighting the Columbus Day program at Barry College was an address by Sheila Brown of the Santa Rosa Spanish Club. Sheila spoke on Inter-American Culture and Trade Mart plans which were launched in Miami on Columbus Day.

Barry students were made aware of the fittingness of the day chosen for the plan's initiation. Just as the leaders of Pan American countries wish for a united Americas to stand as a bulwark against Communism, so did Columbus strive for the ideal of a "world united" when he made his discovery voyages.

Those at Barry interested in the furthering of Pan American relations on the campus were pleased to note that one of the proposed sites for the Trade Mart is at 138th Street and Biscayne Boulevard near the college.

The Mart will serve as a meeting place for the peoples of the Americas where they may enjoy the beauties of parks and recreational facilities, agricultural and economic exhibits, as well as the cultural advantages of an opera house and art displays.

This year the Spanish Club will be in charge of the International Relations Committee of the Southeastern Florida Chapter of the National Council of Catholic Women's meeting here.

On the club's agenda for the year is first of all, the Columbus Day program, October 12.

Elected at the first meeting of the Santa Rosa Spanish Club were: President, Cilia Valledo; vice-president, Maria Lloveras; secretary, Raquel Gastambide; treasurer, Sheila Brown.

Foreign Students Appear In UN Bayfront Program

Barry was represented in a United Nations Day program given in Bayfront Park October 19. Participating in the affair sponsored by the Greater Miami Women's Clubs of Miami were: Libuse Kouklikova, Czechoslovakia; Alicia Luna, Colombia; Cilia Valledo, Colombia; Ingrid Jarwall, Sweden; Amelia Tourino, Panama; Janet Albuquerque, Brazil; Luisa Bonnelly, Dominican Republic, and Yolande Roy, Canada.

Other countries that were represented include Greece, Denmark, Norway, India, Israel, Ukraine, Syria, Great Britain and Hungary.

The program was divided into two parts with the girls from Barry participating in the first part. Each girl represented one of the main branches of the UN and gave a brief talk on that branch. The second part of the program was devoted to songs and dances. A mixed chorus of 400 voices sang United Nations songs and songs of the countries represented in the program. The chorus was under the direction of Professor Nicholas Vamasescu of Rumania.

On United Nations Day, October 24, the public was invited to the 24th association meeting of the United Nations. John B. Hicerson, Assistant Secretary of State, was guest speaker at the meeting held in Bayfront Park.

United Nations Day is the anniversary of that day in 1945 on which the United Nations Charter came into force as world law, expressing the mandate of the peoples of the world that THERE SHALL BE PEACE.

Campus Leaders 1950-51

Betty Kerby Leads Student Council; Members Installed

The formal installation of the Barry College Student Council took place October 12, in the Stella Matutina Social Lounge.

Installed as the officers for the Student Council this year are: Betty Kerby, chairman; Louise Friedheim, honorary chairman; Rolande Gonthier, vice-chairman; Isabelle Williams, second vice-chairman; and Mary Alice Droze, secretary. Following installation, the officers took the oath of loyalty, pledging all their efforts to help form a closer bond between the faculty and the student body.

Those holding memberships in this campus organization are: Sister Mary Dorothy, O.P., dean of the college; Sister Mary Paul, O.P., faculty advisor to the House Council; Louise Friedheim, Sodality prefect; Mary Alice Droze, Sodality vice-president; Patricia Aulson, prioress of the Dominican Tertiaries; Rolande Gonthier, senior class president; Isabelle Williams, junior class president; Patricia Oak, sophomore class president; Angela Clark, senior class vice-president; Pat Heldman, junior vice-president; Rosemarie Hoag, sophomore vice-president; Jeane Jacob, president of the Athletic Association; Isabel Aguilera, campus queen; and Mary Jo Carey, editor of the Angelicus.

The senior class representative is Bernice Gagnon. The junior, sophomore, and freshman representatives have not yet been elected. The freshman president and vice-president, and the chairman, vice-chairman and secretary of the House Council will also be elected in the near future.

F.I.P.A. Officers Plan Convention

An executive council meeting of the Florida Inter-Collegiate Press Association is scheduled for October 27-28 at the University of Miami.

Representing Barry at the meeting will be Ruth Marcus, business manager of the Angelicus, and Mary Jo Carey, editor.

The Executive Council will attempt to complete its constitution and formulate plans for the FIPA convention December 8-9 at the University of Miami.

Attending the later convention will be another Barry delegate, Mary Alice Droze, editor of the Torch and Shield, 1951 yearbook.

B. C. President, Prefect, Report On SSCA, NSA

The opening general assembly of the Barry College academic year was highlighted with reports by various student leaders on scholastic conventions, at which they were delegates.

Barry's Sodality prefect, Louise Friedheim, attended the New York State Summer School of Catholic Action. Louise's trip to Fordham University was sponsored by a Sodality fund. The prefect reported that 140 college students rallied with active participation and powerful suggestions for student leadership-at-home, at the conclave.

The representatives assisted daily at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass followed by numerous assemblies, committee meetings and project discussions. Father Hector Daly spoke on the stratagem of "Sodalists in Christian Families." Other topics analyzed at general meetings were "Mary and You," "Mental Prayer," "Mary Psychology" and "Masses in Family Life."

Betty Kerby and Bernice Gagnon attended the U. S. National Scholastic Association at the University of Michigan, and they described the activities of college delegates of sundry religious and political opinions. In particular was noted the diverse policies of those United States students who were advocates of the Communist party. Three hundred twenty-three colleges were represented.

Because Barry's enrollment is less than 500, the school was allowed but one vote. Classes attended by the two B.C. delegates covered instruction on student government procedure and freshman orientation. Barry is the only Catholic college from Florida represented at these annual conventions of the N.S.A. The University of Miami is the one Florida university that sends delegates.

Betty Kerby pointed out that the United States division of N.S.A. was considering severing its connection with the International Scholastic Association because of that group's communistic trend. The convention lasted ten days, the last two of which were concerned with political campaigns and elections of 1951 N.S.A. officials.

Addendum to Game Room

Just the thing for rainy afternoons and weekends when late permissions are all gone is the new television net. Barryites (and faculty) missing from the Hurricane rooters on Friday nights will be found following the games in Stella Matutina I West.

Barry is especially grateful to Nancy O'Brien's parents for their gift to the game room.

Freshmen From 23 States Receive Cap and Gown

Rev. E. F. Philbin Rev. C. W. Burke Gives Address Leaves Barry

Ample space has been given to discussion of new additions to the Barry College campus. But a vital element is missing: the person of the Rev. Cyril W. Burke, O.P.

Barry was privileged in being the recipient of Father Burke's ministrations and counsel for nine of its ten first years.

To the grief of the faculty and upperclassmen, the "Padre" in the white habit of St. Dominic, was not here to help usher in the 1950-51 school year.

Religion and philosophy students regret the absence of the professor, and miss his always profound understanding and appreciation of St. Thomas, as well as the deep earnestness of Father's explanations of the Summa.

All will miss those unique Thursday night sermons started with a vivid picture or startling statement that made his audience wonder, "What's this leading up to?"

Most of all, students miss the chaplain, the equanimity with which Father met every situation, the prudence of his counsel, and the graciousness with which he acceded to untold demands on his time.

Seniors especially feel deeply Father Burke's absence and predict that bright expectations of graduation will be a bit dimmed if he is not here.

At present Father Burke is assigned to the Dominican House of Studies, Washington, D. C.

Campus Queen

I. Aguilera To Be Crowned Campus Queen

At the Coronation Ball November 4th, Isabel Aguilera will receive the Campus Queen's crown.

Forming the queen's court will be members of the senior class and three attendants, Patricia Karsh, Betty Kerby and Mary Jo Carey.

Active in campus organizations since her freshman year, Isabel is a member of the Tara Singers and Cor Jesu choir, past chairman of Our Lady's committee of the Sodality and was social chairman of the junior class.

Older students will remember her work in the Barry College playhouse. She is a member of the Tertiaries and Santa Rosa Spanish club.

Rev. E. F. Philbin Gives Address

Formal investiture took place Sunday, October 22, for 112 freshmen from 23 states, Washington, D. C., five foreign countries, and the Virgin Islands. The Rev. R. E. Philbin, pastor of St. Michael's church, gave the address.

Sodality--International Way of Life For Praying, Working, Playing

Just what is the Sodality and how does it do things in a college atmosphere? That's a pretty general question so we'd better narrow it down to half-size. What is the Sodality at Barry? That's better. Now we can talk.

The Sodality is international but it has but one president. So, of course, Barry has her too—Mary, the mother of God. The Blessed Virgin, acting through that glorious generosity (the character trait which places her so near that Throne) comes to Barry every two weeks and goes straight to the social hall in Stella Matutina, where she assumes the form of a tiny statue, caped in blue. There on the stage the kind lady holds her Child, and listens with all her heart, while Louise Friedheim, prefect, conducts her meeting.

The tiny statue scene wouldn't be complete were not Our Lady contented by the presence of the Child in her arms. That's because her club's motto is "To Jesus, Through Mary." The little Christ is there to receive his gifts. Gifts, you ask? . . . when what He sees is only a group of interested Sodality members to be sitting in an assembly. Why sure, gifts! What those gals plan to do for Him, 'twixt committee projects, money-raising carnivals, Mary days like the Living Rosary, the crowning of His mother's statue, only to mention a few), and all the fun that comes through Sodality dances, outings, and all that sort of thing, looks as though we'll have to use a lot of wrapping paper.

The terrific part about it is that Sodality members are not simply die-hards at cutting stencils for announcements, planning assembly programs for groups, making posters—heavens no! That's only a part of the whole make-up of these people. A Sodality is another Mary, just as a priest is another Christ. And did you ever see a priest who did nothing but say his office? Witness the Barry chaplain, some time. The Sodality is another Mary. She is engrossed in her personal sanctification and like the mother of God, she is longing to bring Christ to others that they may share this sanctification.

Her studies are a preparation to bear Christ into her fellow man's life and her corporal works of mercy such as aid to needy students abroad are manifestations of that preparation.

Sodality members are doers, leaders of all that everyone wants to do. They throw dances, and give wiener roasts, and play canasta in sister groups, . . . and then they make a little mental prayer for the blue-cloaked Lady and say "Here it is, Mother, now what can I do next for you." During all this, then, and when the wonderful (wonderful, because it's happy) day of the Mary gal comes curtain calling with night, her fingers tingle with that marvelous feel of the rosary.

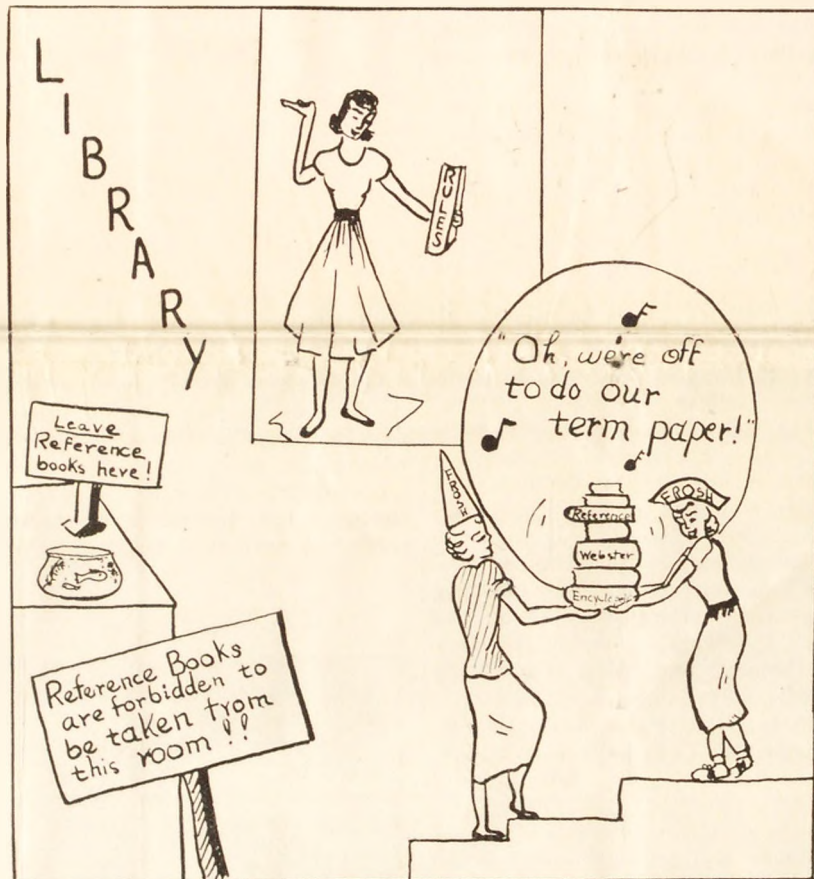

We can't even be subtle about the wonderful indulgences attached to all this joy.

It's just as our prefect said in that opening meeting the other day.

The Sodality is a way of life. It's not meeting at 11:00 on every other Thursday morning, or going through the extra inconvenience of wearing hard-to-keep-spotless white dresses at special functions (or, for that matter—caps and gowns on First Sundays). Oh, those are just misty white clouds around the stars on an otherwise clear night. The stars themselves, are the Sodality members up the high-grade Sodality path. You know, the thing that astonishes is the feel of those star points, they're so darn smooth that you'd think you'd like always to take this way.

IN SYMPATHY

The students and faculty of Barry College wish to extend assurance of our prayers and deepest sympathy to Mother Gerald, O.P., president of Barry College, on the death of her brother, John Barry; to Sister Thomas Mary, O.P., whose father died during the summer, to Sister Marie Antoine (Bernadette Pelland, ex '51), whose brother was killed in action in Korea, and to Patricia Patterson, whose father died October 20.

Freshmen Write Open Letter; Upperclassman Take a Bow

An open letter to the faculty and upperclassmen:

To perform an act of kindness for another is an edifying experience, but to receive heartfelt thanks for this same act is satisfaction indeed! For this reason, we of the freshman class wish to convey our sincere appreciation for the help, guidance, and freely-offered time which the members of the faculty and the upperclassmen have so generously given during our introductory days at Barry College.

Acclimating ourselves to an entirely unfamiliar routine of life would have been an arduous task were it not for the apropos suggestions, friendly advice, and sympathetic understanding shown by all who aided us.

We therefore wish the faculty and upperclassmen to have the pleasure of knowing that not only have they paved the way for us to lead a happy, complacent life here on campus, but they have also made Barry our "home away from home." For this, especially, we are truly grateful!

An open letter to the freshmen:

Our Barry campus would be an incomplete and unduly quiet spot were it not for the influx of each year's freshman class. They bring with them a spirit of vitality and heartiness. Upperclassmen claim they are a sure cure for the occupational disease of "droop and groan" experienced by most sophomores, juniors and seniors at some time or another.

It is a pleasure for us to watch your enthusiasm and to play the role of "big sister." Let us help if you have trouble becoming adjusted to the new experiences of college life. For instance, there was the freshman who was about to take her first college level examination and looked a little green. Turning to a complacent upperclassman nearby she said, "I'm scared, aren't you?" The reply, "Nothing to it, stop worrying!" And—who got the "D?"—Right!

There's no doubt about it, freshmen are pretty nice people to have around. Will you pardon our wistful look as we "Remember when?"

For Ann

The sophomore class feels keenly the death of one of its most popular members, Ann Griesedieck of St. Louis, Missouri.

Perhaps nothing higher could be said of Ann than that she was a living example of an all Catholic, all American young woman, respected and loved by the faculty and students of Barry.

Ann was unpretentious in every way, always willing to help in a cheerful manner. Her ready wit and even temper rescued many a day for some of her more excitable classmates.

Last year Ann was a member of the Tara Singers, Liturgical Choir and the Water Ballet. She was cited at the Faculty Convocation in May for excellence in biology.

Ann was killed in an untimely accident on graduation night, May 31, 1950. Although we grieve our loss, Ann's death has served as a lesson to all of us. Let us pray that the rest of us will be as well prepared as Ann.

Mary Rose Scanlon.

Juniors Sponsor Fall "Foot Ball"

Football was added to the curriculum of Barry College Saturday, October 12, when the junior class sponsored the first dance of the semester, "The Foot Ball."

The guests defied the "land of sunshine" weather to arrive, though some needed rowboats after the four and a half inches of rainfall that day.

In keeping with the current football season, the hall was laid out as a football field complete with scoreboard and goal posts. College pennants completed the decoration scheme. The bids were miniature footballs.

Guests included members of the Newman Club from the University of Miami and personal friends.

The music was supplied by Bobby Joseph and his orchestra.

Committee members were Dorothy Hoff, Pat Genter, Joanne Ollman and Margaret Conlon, who had charge of the bids, decoration, invitations and refreshments.

Record Of "Nifty '50" Already A Success Story

A check-up on the June graduating class finds most of them very busy indeed. Carrying Barry's ideals into the world, they have begun to make their way as outstanding Catholic laywomen.

As might be expected, Joan Coleman's career sounds glamorous. Joan is now in Manhattan. From the middle of July until now she has worked for Burl Ives in a secretarial capacity. She also submitted TV scripts to him on a free lance basis. However, since his show is going on the road next month, she has taken a new position with Eastern Broadcasting, writing radio continuity.

Bernadine Sersen has been offered a position with the Army as an Overseas Recreational Director in Japan. During her two-year tour of duty she hopes to travel to the Philippines, Australia, Hawaii, or Hong-Kong.

Yesterday's pupils are today's teachers. Eva Marie Mitchell is teaching kindergarten in Little Flower School, Hollywood, Fla. Joyce Pamentier teaches at Rosarian Academy, West Palm Beach; Mary Clare Condon has a kindergarten class in Charleston, S. C.; Yolanda Marin is teaching fourth grade at St. Mary's School, Miami, and Claire Butterfield presides over a "little red school house" in St. Augustine.

Others of the class of '50 have joined the procession of graduate students. Molly Lorms is enrolled at Ohio State for a master's degree in sociology. Carolyn Lewis is taking advantage of her scholarship in sociology at the Catholic University in Washington. D. C. Velma Bodee is enrolled in a modern dance class at the University of Miami where Lorraine Howard is studying English. Alice Depenbrock is taking courses at West Palm Beach Junior College in dietetics and doing her intern work in St. Mary's Hospital there.

Mary Elizabeth Adams entered the Sisters of St. Joseph in St. Augustine in September.

The married state has received its share of Barry's 1950 graduates. Gladys Boscio pronounced her vows to Jorge Lucas Vidal July 9 at the Cathedral in Ponce, Puerto Rico. Norma Jean Van Scoyoc became Mrs. William Mercer June 12 in the Trinity Methodist Church, Miami. Virginia Johnson married Richard Lee Worley and is now waiting to join her husband in Japan, where he is stationed.

The business world has called several Barryites. Joyce Nolan is working for the Mutual Liberty Insurance Company, Miami. Veronica Barry is with Sheed and Ward publishing company. Mary Edith Lautner is still working for Pan American Airlines.

Mrs. Dorothy Walker is busily engaged in alumnae activities. Finding the exact spot in which to apply their talents is still a problem for Joyce Taylor, Mary Patricia Adamshick, Margene Johnson and Florence Lange.

Margene Johnson will represent Barry at College Council Day at Highland Park High School, Chicago, late in October.

Childhood Prevails For Little Sisters

Childhood invaded this southern campus for the annual Big and Little Sister party held October 11. Upperclassmen erased lipstick, powder and nail polish from their little sisters and replaced these "grown-up" items with freckles, hair bows and dolls.

The party was planned by the senior class who served hamburgers, punch, apples, potato chips and cake on the lawn in front of the pool. After supper, entertainment was provided both by the little and big sisters. A milk drinking contest, in which the frosh had to lap up the milk "cat style" was won by Adrienne Hoffman. Loretta Witkins was the winner of the potato hop race, and Shirley Hodge was judged by the faculty the best-dressed little sister.

Victoria Galban provided the audience with a lesson in the essence of reserve as the completely unconcerned contestant in the nerve wracking game of musical chairs, which was won by Joanne Fitzgerald. Seniors Virginia Mitchell and Loma Rafferty sang and pianists were Pat Karch, Isabelle Williams and Pat Heldman. A treat was provided by Sister M. Denise who played several selections on the piano. The program was closed with a song fest.

Kaleidoscope

By JOAN PEACOCK

For the next few years the students of Barry College will spend most of their time here in Miami. This is an advantage not offered to everyone. To those who have this marvelous opportunity, the following information is offered to help them learn more about and to better appreciate their 'home away from home.'

Of course, the Beach is the mecca of all newcomers and that is as it should be. Everyone must feel a certain awe the first time she sees the splendid hotels on Collins Avenue which are matchless accomplishments of modern architecture. And there is a breathless excitement when one stands on the beach and sees the mighty Atlantic which stretches beyond the realms of the imagination.

There is Lincoln Road—the most fabulous street in the world's most fabulous city—as the advertisers put it. Here are located shops where the latest in resort fashions may be bought. A china shop which sells beautifully made figurines and other objects which appeal to the artist is one of the most attractive shops on Lincoln Road.

The only bad thing about Miami Beach is its inevitable hustle and bustle. Sunny Isles, near Hollywood, is just the place to go if peace and quiet is needed. A beautiful stretch of white sand where the sun always shines—this is Sunny Isles and it's the perfect place to spend a lazy Saturday afternoon.

Coral Gables, noted for being planned, street for street, before work was started, is one of Miami's most beautiful residential sections. Here, distinct types of homes are all built in the same vicinity. For example, there is a Chinese section where all the homes are of oriental type of architecture.

No visit to southern Florida is really complete without a drive down to Key West. Perhaps the most attractive feature about Key West is the beautiful drive down there. Forty-three Keys connected by Thirty-nine bridges, with the Atlantic Ocean on one side and the Gulf on the other make this an unforgettable trip. Don't expect much of Key West, but it is the southern-most point in the United States.

These are just a few suggestions for a more complete enjoyment of the most colorful city in America, the playground of the nation, Miami.

ed Dominican Academy in New York. Also from Havana, Zoila Hiribarne was graduated from St. Patrick's High School on Miami Beach. Ada Casares of Caibarien, L. V., Cuba, came from the Institute de Remedín. Amalia Maristany from Havana went to school at Tereriano. Isabelle Lago, Havana, was graduated from En Angel de la Guarda.

Library Facilities A Joy To Students, Research Workers

To freshmen, the library was just one more thing to be taken in stride while being orientated to a new campus, but to older students returning it was an event that brought home the realization, "Barry is growing up."

With the completion of this new wing, ample space is provided for students to work in an atmosphere of quiet conducive to study.

The entrance to the new library is at the northeast end of Angelicus Hall. The library has three main rooms, one being the Memorial lobby with its terrazzo floors, flexwood walls, acoustic tile ceiling and recessed lights. At the west end of the lobby is the card catalogue. Display cases to contain relics of the founders of the college are on the east and south sides.

At the rear of the lobby are the charge-out desk, current files and reserve book shelves.

To the right of the main lobby is the reading room containing all the reference books and current periodicals. The reading room is equipped with 16 reading tables to accommodate more than a hundred students. An acoustic tile ceiling insures quiet for study.

To the left of the Memorial lobby are the stacks. Fifteen carrels border the walls on the first floor and there is an elevator to facilitate handling of books and supplies going to the upstairs stack which contain bound periodicals.

Because of the semi-tropical climate of Miami, the library is air-conditioned throughout.

Educators Discuss Accrediting Criteria

Proposed standards for the accrediting of Southern Association schools were discussed when the District Conference of Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools met October 6 in Miami.

Representing Barry College at the meeting were Sister Mary Dorothy, dean, and Sister Mary Albert, head of the education department.

Other points on the agenda were a consideration of the ways in which the services of a state committee and the Southern Association may be of greater service to member schools, and the arrangement of a date, December 3-7, for a meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools to be held in Richmond, Virginia.

Sociologists Intern At Local Charities

Marilyn Byrnes, and Annette Huckans, senior sociology majors, will begin their field work at the Miami Catholic Charities the first week in November. They will observe and assist case workers from the Charities office. A combination of practical field work and classroom study aids these girls in preparing for positions as actual social workers.

The sociology class will visit St. Joseph's Villa every Saturday and help the Sisters there in caring for the children in their charge. This has been a regular feature of the sociology department for the past two years.

Registration At Barry Resembles UN Roster

The registration at Barry this year resembles the register of the United Nations. Not only are many of the Latin American countries represented but also Germany, Sweden and Canada.

Anna Christina Czorny of Germany has a life story based on an itinerary of Europe. Born in the Ukraine, she moved to Poland when she was quite small. She spent five years in northern Germany where she attended high school, a conservatory of music, and worked on various German youth papers. Before coming to the United States last year, she lived in Switzerland. Anna Christina plans to major in languages at Barry.

Representing Sweden is Ingrid Jarwal of Gothenburg. She arrived in the United States just a few weeks ago and at Barry October 2. Ingrid studied English for five years before coming to Barry. She is enrolled in the pre-med classes.

Kapusking, Ontario, Canada, is the home of Yolande Roy. She attended grammar school and was graduated from high school there before moving to Alabama this past year. She is planning to major in French at Barry.

The girls from Latin America are represented by Zoila Hiribarne of Havana, Cuba. She is majoring in music at Barry.

Completing this southern group are Amelia Carmen Tourino, Colon, Panama; Addy R. del Carmen Suarez, Santa Clara, Cuba; Teresita Rivera, Reneca Carozal, Puerto Rico; Teresita Gutierrez, Sancti Spiritus, Cuba; Joan Avna Puritz, St. Thomas, Virgin Islands; Aida Luzortez, Cabo Rojo, Puerto Rico; Amalia Maristany, Havana; Isabelle Lago, Havana; Luisa Amelia Bonnelly, Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic; Janet Marie Albuquerque, Belem, Para, Brazil; Olvido Santiago, Cupey Bajo, Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico; Mirta Rodriguez, Santiago de Cuba, Cuba; Maria Lloveras, Santurce, Puerto Rico; Naomi Garcia, Fajardo, Puerto Rico; Elisa Cartana, Havana, Cuba; Alicia Luna, Bogota, Columbia; Polito Lugo, Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico; Isabel Aguilera, Havana, Cuba; Elena Hernandez, Santurce, Puerto Rico; Raquel Edith Gastambide, Santurce, Puerto Rico.

Most of these Latin Americans chose Barry because of the similarity of Florida's climate to that of their home country and also to learn and observe our language and customs.

Many of these students will represent their native countries in a United Nations Day program to be held in Bayfront Park. The Junior Woman's Club of Miami is sponsoring this event in which one of Barry's favorite groups will participate.

Sister M. Albert Education Head, New Supervisor

The newest addition to the faculty is Sister Mary Albert, O.P., the smiling and sharp witted head of the Education department, who came to Barry from Muldoon High School in Rockford, Illinois.

Sister Mary Albert's home is in Michigan, where cold weather is prevalent, so she is enjoying her first trip to Florida. Since she has taught with most of the faculty before, she refers to teaching at Barry as "home-coming." Besides teaching classes in education, Sister spends two days each week supervising the Dominican schools in Florida.

"If I didn't love the teaching field I wouldn't be in it. Teaching is a very gratifying and enjoyable profession and I love every moment of it," she declared.

The latter is confirmed by her willingness to speak of education day and night.

"I believe that Catholic or religious training within the school is important because without religion the child does not develop fully. In the beginning of the school system, each sect had its own schools and then they all banded together into one school to teach the Bible. But in our modern times public schools are almost anti-religious in their teachings," she stated.

A.A. Organizes Softball Classes

Softball is in season at Barry College and the A.A. has announced the schedule for practice workouts. Sister M. Dorothy's, Sister Ann Charles', and Sister Agnes Cecile's religion classes will form teams Sister Mary Paul's and Sister Jean Marie's religion classes and Sister Mary Jean's character education class will play against each other.

All six of these classes will practice Mondays and Thursdays. The sophomores will practice Wednesdays and the juniors and seniors on Tuesdays. Playoffs will begin November 13. A pennant will be awarded to the winning group.

The A.A. has also planned a hayride for October, but the date has not been decided upon.

Freshmen Program Complemented By Lecture Series

To complement the religious and social orientation of Barry's freshmen, a series of lectures were given weekly on campus by faculty members and laymen trained in specific occupations.

The series began on October 4 with an address by Sister Agnes Cecile, O.P., on the subject of Barry traditions and ideals: "... Queens you must always be; queens to your lovers; queens to your husbands and sons; queens of higher mystery to the world beyond, which bows itself and will forever bow before the myrtle crown and the stainless sceptre of womanhood. . . ."

Sister Agnes Cecile showed the girls a group of Barry College scrapbooks which is a growing record of outstanding events in the history of the students and their activities on and off campus.

The instruction sessions continued for a period of approximately ten lectures, during which time Mr. Anthony Lazzaro of North Miami, spoke on good grooming and hairdressing. Sister Michael James, O.P., librarian, and library assistant, Miss Eileen Meyers, gave a joint address on the potentialities of library material in coordination with student research.

Sister Marie, O.P., and Sister M. Elaine, O.P., lectured on campus courtesy with the assistance of the Home Economics department which presented skits on the subject.

Sister Mary Jane, O.P., told the freshmen of Dominican ideals. Detailed study was given the Barry grading system and study methods.

Miss Velma Bodee, '50, president of the Barry Chapter of Delta Epsilon Sigma, spoke on the background and requirements for membership of this national Catholic Honor society.

Addresses on vocational guidance were offered by several of the instructors.
