BARRY COLLEGE, MIAMI, FLORIDA, OCTOBER, 1951

Latin Beauty To Reign As Queen

Raquel Gaztambide, senior from Puerto Rico who was elected campus queen last year, will be crowned at the annual coronation ball November 3 in the social hall.

At the ball, one of the leading events of the year, the Barry heirloom, a sparkling rhinestone tiara, will be placed upon the head of the new sovereign. The four runners-up in the election who compose the court will attend the queen. These are: Margaret Conlon, Patricia Heldman, Barbara Ann Braun, and Isabelle Williams.

Raquel was graduated from St. George's academy in Santurce. After graduation she attended St. Catherine's junior college in Kentucky. Having finished two years she came to Barry to take her degree. A biology major, she will receive a B. S.

For the coronation Raquel plans to wear a white nylon net and satin gown with a fully-flared skirt embroidered with patterns of satin flowers, and a net bodice with smaller, though corresponding patterns of satin flowers, which repeat the theme of the skirt.

As campus queen, Raquel will be chairman of the social board. Her duties will consist primarily of presiding over the social functions on campus.

Upperclassmen Fill Offices

Elections of the top officials of the sophomore class and the remaining leaders of the junior and senior classes were held last week. Freshman class officers will be elected later this year.

The sophomore class chose Marie Dudley of Richland, Georgia, president. Also president of the Mission Council, Marie is a music major.

Shirley Hodge, vice president, hails from Jacksonville. A secretarial major, Shirley is business manager of the Angelicus, and vice president of the Mission Council.

Georgann Travnkar of West Palm Beach was elected secretary.

Two candidates were re-elected to positions which they held last year. Mary Emma Grady of Jacksonville was re-elected social chairman, and Rosemary Geyer of Hamilton, Ohio, treasurer.

The senior class elected Marguerite Lapham secretary-treasurer.

The junior class filled three vacant offices. Matilde Ramos of Key West was elected treasurer, Margaret Mary Reiss of Lake Placid, New York, social chairman, and Beatrice Hagner of Louisville, Ky., secretary.

Moliere Comedy to Open Sixth Year of Playhouse

Featuring ring-theatre style, The Playhouse will open its sixth year of dramatic productions with Moliere's comedy, "The Doctor in Spite of Himself," to be given during November in the social hall.

The cast for the fall presentation has not been selected, pending further try-outs and enrollment of new members.

Sister Mary Trinita, O.P., director of the speech department, announced plans for Stations of the Cross in time to be staged during Lent. The final performance of the year has not yet been released for news publication.

Barry Sends N.S.A. Delegate

Isabelle Williams and Patricia Heldman represented Barry college at the fourth congress of the National Student Association held at the University of Minnesota, August 19-29.

There are 350 member schools representing roughly 670,000 students. The president of the French Union of Students, a representative of the Dutch Union of Students, and a Brazilian representative were among the 500 delegates present at the congress.

By almost unanimous approval, the congress upheld the college "honor system" despite the recent controversy over the expelling of 90 cadets from West Point for cheating on exams.

The congress also urged the "continuance and furtherance of the honor system in college communities." The resolution pointed out that infractions and violations had occurred but it also stated that "Violations though not condonable are the result of shortcomings of a system which involves human beings and consequently is subject to human error."

The congress took two steps against discrimination on the college campus when it asked its college affiliates to set a five-year limit for the elimination of discriminatory fraternity and sorority clauses, and to establish a national sub-commission to exchange information regarding discrimination and segregation. Headquarters for the sub-commission will be at the University of Miami.

NSA's international commitments for the coming year drew the hottest debate of the congress. The group heard foreign delegates express their views on the formation of a new world union before it voted against

Rev. C. W. Burke Rejoins Faculty

Two new faculty members were welcomed on campus this year in addition to one familiar by reason of nine previous years of residence.

The Reverend Cyril W. Burke, O.P., returned to Barry after a year in Washington, D. C., where he was assigned to the Dominican House of Studies and taught at Trinity college. Father Burke is teaching philosophy, political science, and religion for the juniors and seniors.

Sister Mary Alice, O.P., has been appointed assistant dean and is teaching English and secretarial courses. Sister Mary Alice has just completed six years as superior and principal of Dominican high school in Detroit. While studying for her master's degree in English at the University of Michigan, Sister Mary Alice was the recipient of one of the Hopwood Awards for creative writing.

In the music department Sister Maura, O.P., replaces Sister M. Rose Therese, O.P., as choral and choir director. Sister Maura was graduated from Columbia University School of Music in New York and came to Barry from St. Ambrose high school in Detroit.

Sister M. Rose Therese, O.P., has been transferred to the Mother House at Adrian, Michigan, where she is teaching in the novitiate and Siena Heights college.

Miss Margaret Mary Cook, R.N., has taken over the duties of resident nurse.

The Playhouse is ready to begin casting for its first production this year. Anyone interested is invited to try out. Old and new members are welcome. Watch for notices.

Freshmen To Be Invested In Formal Ceremony Oct. 21

The formal investiture of 128 freshmen representing 20 states, the District of Columbia, and 13 foreign countries will be held Sunday, October 21.

Florida

Florida girls make up a large part of the class. Gloria Alper is from Miami Beach and is a graduate of Robert Louis Stevenson High School, New York City. Sts. Peter and Paul graduated Marguerite Barnes and Carol Marshall, both of Miami. Ruth Bastow attended Miss Harris's School and is a resident of Miami. Mary Cavalaris of Miami and Florence Krupp of Miami Shores are alumnae of Gesu High School.

Rosarian Academy contributed three girls to the freshman class. They are Alene Caroly of Miami; Sandra Martin and Helen Trivette, both from West Palm Beach. Marathon is the home of Elizabeth Cheselbrough, who was graduated from the Convent of Mary Immaculate, Key West. Miami Senior High is the alma mater of Miamians Caroline Childs and Patricia Curry. Helen Conner has her diploma from St. Theresa's, Coral Gables.

Miamians Madeline Dagher, Sylvia Moore and Barbara Schmid are graduates of Miami Jackson High School. From Vero Beach comes Carole Eckhoff, a graduate of Vero Beach High School. Washington and Lee, Arlington, Virginia, graduated Mary Eisinger, a Miami resident. Joyce Mohlich was a student at Batavia High School.

Susan Gillen attended Lake Wales High School in her home town. Edith Gould, Mildred Hill, and Janet Howard, all Miami girls, were graduated from Edison Senior High. Zephyr Hills High School is the former school of Mary Jo Groselle from Dade City. Marie McCormick, a Miamian, went to school at St. Patrick's, Miami Beach.

Miami is the home of Maria McKittrick, where she attended Sts. Peter and Paul High School. Carmen Martinez has her diploma from Assumption Academy in Miami, her

Student Council Members Installed

Formal installation of the Barry College Student Council took place October 11. After the introduction of the individual members, the solemn oath of office was recited by each.

Officers of the 1951-52 student council are: Isabelle Williams, student body president and chairman of the student council; Margaret Conlon, honorary chairman of the student council; Patricia Heldman, first vice chairman of the student council; Patricia Oak, second vice chairman of the student council; Patricia Genter, secretary of the student council.

Class charters were then renewed and signed by the senior, junior and sophomore class officers. After the freshman class officers are elected their charter will also be presented.

home. St. Mary's High School graduated Mary Mayes, a Miamian. Ann Monti of Miami Shores took her schooling at the Academy of the Sacred Heart, St. Charles, Missouri.

From Tampa comes Nan Mullan who went to school at the Academy of the Holy Names. Carlotta Neal of Marianna was graduated from Marianna High School, Marianna.

Ruth Ogden and Shirley O'Hearn, both of Miami, are graduates of Miami Edison High School. Patricia Pellicer was a student at St. Joseph's Academy in her home town of St. Augustine. Pasco High in Dade City is the alma mater of Alice Shepard, although she makes Miami her home.

From Delray Beach comes Delores Snow, a graduate of Seacrest High School. Another St. Augustine girl, Carol Stanford, attended St. Joseph's Academy, St. Augustine. Alice Tierney and Betty Topley of Miami are graduates of St. Mary's High School. Marymount, Tarrytown, N. Y., graduated Catherine Tweddle, a Miami resident.

Jacqueline Webster was a member of Miami Edison's senior class. June Wittekind of Miami Beach attended St. Patrick's. A graduate of P. K. Yonge Laboratory School, Joan Zinn makes her home in Coral Gables.

Arkansas

Sue Turnbull calls Hot Springs, Arkansas, home. She attended Lakeside High in that city.

Iowa

From Iowa come Gretchen Figge and Lauralie Pilcher. Gretchen makes her home in Cedar Rapids while Lauralie is from Davenport. Both girls went to school at the Immaculate Conception Academy, Davenport.

Pennsylvania

Rosemarie Brickley came to Barry from South Hills High in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Eden Hall is the alma mater of Jane Kennally of Meadowbrook, Pennsylvania; Natalie Manson, of Philadelphia, was graduated from the Cecilian Academy. Dushore is the home town of Barbara Obert, who attended St. Basil's School.

New York

New York State's lone representative is Winifred Kine. Winifred lives in White Plains where she was graduated from St. John's High School.

Georgia

From Georgia come five freshmen. Margaret Coste and Mary Ann Little, both of Savannah, attended St. Vincent's Academy. Mary Harant, who was graduated from Sacred Heart School, is an Atlanta resident. Also from Atlanta, Nancy Hoar is an alumna of Christ the King. JoAnn Murphy of Decatur went to school at Sacred Heart Academy, Atlanta.

Tennessee

Wait a minute. That girl that you just passed in the hall. Do you know her name? Ever speak to her? No? Why not? She is a Barry girl too, you know. She is probably far from home too, and feels that same sort of loneliness that you felt once. Why not go out of your way to say "hey?"

In fact, let's declare October 23 "HEY-DAY" at Barry. This is your chance to be more friendly than ever (for our Barry girls maintain a reputation for being friendly). To every one you see on the 23, let's say a very wholehearted and friendly "hey."

1951 on Two Continents "Who's Who" on Campus Honor Is As Honor Does

(It is such an easy thing to do, this taking things for granted. We Barryites are as guilty as the next one. For this reason, we are reprinting portions of a letter received by Sister M. Dorothy from Edith Leyerer in Munich, Germany. Edith and her friend Waltraud visited Barry during Easter vacation, 1951.)

Dearest Sister Dorothy, my beloved Barry college,

A couple of weeks ago I went to the movies "Moon Over Miami". Colors, palmtrees, sand, water! The result was Homesickness for Florida, for Miami, and especially for Barry College! You know, I have lots of pictures of Barry. Everytime I show them to my friends, they think Barry college is a modern kind of paradise. Well, they are right. . . .

. . . I returned to Germany on June 7. Waltraud and I went home together by plane. It was a very sad farewell from America. We went up to Labrador, where we had a short rest, and from there to Ireland, where many of you Catholics come from. It is a lovely country with soft green hills and its people talk a kind of English, which is quite different from yours.

From Ireland we went to Belgium, where I had the worst coffee for breakfast I ever had. One hour later we arrived in Frankfort and Waltraud blushed for joy like a rose. Not me. I got pale when I saw the difference between your rich country and our poor one. After one year of traveling, I saw everything with different eyes. And it was especially shocking to change two continents within 18 hours.

Next day I went back to Munich, our lovely old city, which was founded about six centuries ago by monks. You see, the name of my hometown "Munchen" is still similar to the German word for monk, which is "Monch". In the course of centuries, the name has changed a little.

As I told you, it is a pretty city, completely Catholic with a wonderful green river, blue mountains in the south and lovely churches. My house is just between the green Isar river and an old Gothic church.

. . . Give my love to all my friends and tell them that Miami is the gem of all my memories. Sometimes I close my eyes and think of my last Easter vacation. I remember Mass on Easter Sunday, when the doors of your church were wide open and bird's song and the fragrance of blossoms were coming in. I remember all the moon-nights with the palmtree in front of my window and the smelling of orange-blossoms. It is so different to live so far in the north as I do. . . .

I would like to sign off with my best wishes and all my gratitude for everything you have done. . . . Remember there are no oceans, no distances in this world, which are able to separate a grateful person from friends she loves and from a place she wants to see again one day, because it is God's masterpiece.

Yours very sincerely,
Edith Leyerer.

A Sodalist? If Not, Why Not?

There is no quicker way to reach Our Lady and her Divine Son than through her Sodality. This is one of the many reasons why the prefect, Margaret Conlon, vice prefect, Patricia Genter, secretary, Catherine Wodtke, and treasurer, Matilde Ramos are urging all new Barryites to join the Sodality of Our Lady.

Before the new sodalists are inducted into Our Lady's Sodality, they must go through a period of probation. This period gives the probationers an opportunity to learn the rules and purposes through special weekly instruction periods.

The purpose of the Sodality is summed up in its motto: "To Jesus through Mary," and this is exactly what it is aiming at in its organization. The Sodality is divided into three committees: Our Lady's, the Eucharistic, and the Catholic Truth Committee.

The aim of Our Lady's Committee is to foster greater devotion to Mary through the daily rosary and other activities. In the Eucharistic Committee, the members seek closer union with God through His Church and Blessed Sacrament. The Catholic Truth Committee spreads Catholic literature among the students.

The aim of the Sodality is to aid its members in leading a fuller life, having as their goals personal sanctification, the sanctification of their neighbors and the defense of the Church. They have Christ and His Mother as their models, and seek to follow their footsteps.

A girl cannot call herself a Sodalist if she is unwilling to give up the twenty minutes of extra sleep each morning for Mass and Holy Communion. To be a true child of Mary, she must give of herself in the aid of others as Mary did and is still doing. Prayer without sacrifice is of little value.

The Sodality, in order to become a better integrated group, has social functions where it is easier to meet fellow members. A few of the coming plans include a card party, October 25, and a picnic at Crandon Park, November 10.

Keats believed that, "Beauty is truth, truth beauty." The essence of Keats' philosophy is easily applicable to the two-fold purpose of college—the development of culture and morality. We shall concern ourselves only with morality specifically as it applies to the so-called honor system in examinations and class room tests.

It should not be necessary for professors to speak to their students about cribbing on tests. Anyone really desirous of a well-rounded education should receive it strictly on his own abilities. It is just as bad, morally, to steal another's knowledge as it is to take a dollar or a coat belonging to another.

A student who receives a bachelor of arts or science degree on the achievements of her classmates cannot hope to cope successfully with problems outside the college walls. The girl who gets promotion in the office is not the same girl who writes her letters on the office letterheads and mails them with office stamps.

Our country desperately needs honest citizens to guide her in the future, and students of today will be leaders of tomorrow. A student's sense of justice should be a sufficient stimulant for him to make an honest, sincere effort to make every moment of his diligent research work count toward efficiency in everything he attempts.

The Student Council suggests that students refrain from cribbing and breaking other standards of honor, but a pledge of sincerity is not obligatory. The college honor system is based on the assumption that an obligatory pledge is not necessary at Barry because her students are mature Christians steeped in the tradition of justice.

What Weapon Shall We Use?

The stage is set for the war of fear. The curtains part in a darkened area. Suddenly in the hush of expectancy a terrific roar reverberates among the audience. A gigantic column of water rose as if pulled by the heavens from the sea—then billowed into a cloud of latently lethal vapor.

The U. S. rested complacently in the false peace that was the second act of the atom bomb explosions. Now suddenly in the third act of this world-encompassing play, we find we no longer have the monopoly on our devastating death dealer. The action continues as each nation races to be in the more powerful position, each ready to contend with the other. We have troops on foreign soil once again. What now?

The ridiculous thing is that we still have the only weapon left that has any value. In comparison, the others aren't worth a Confederate nickel. Why don't we use it? Well, in the first place, it's too easy. Secondly, it's cheap! Thirdly, the government hasn't investigated it for subversive tendencies, or even recognized its existence. But it does exist, not as a vague hope—but a definite promise. Unlike other peace proposals, this one is guaranteed.

The promise is this, given to us by the Blessed Virgin in her own words. "If my requests are heard, Russia will be converted and there will be peace." Our Lady went even further to say:

Great errors will be spread throughout the world, giving rise to wars and persecutions of the Church; the good will suffer martyrdom and the Holy Father will suffer much; different nations will be destroyed.

Knowing all this, we sit complacently around and let governmental authorities, the men in Korea, and other military attempt to solve the problems of peace. To top it all, these men disagree among themselves!

What are you going to do about it? Will you offer the first Saturdays for peace? Will you say the rosary each day in October? The peace depends on you.

Sister Duos Share College Life; Freshmen Follow In Sisters' Steps

Every new school year at Barry finds a number of sets of sisters on campus, and this term is far from an exception. Eight sister-duos have been reported among Barry students.

Residents of Bogota, Columbia, are the Gnecco sisters, Maria and Carmen. Both of the girls are freshmen.

Another freshman twosome are Hilda and Elinor Roguly. Originally from Yugoslavia, the girls now live in Opa Locka, Florida.

The third in her family to attend Barry, Mary Cavalaris is a freshman. Her sister Carolyn is a former student of the college and Clarissa is now a junior at Barry.

Ileana and Esther Lopez, formerly from Puerto Rico, now live here in Miami. Esther is a freshman and Ileana, a sophomore.

Freshman sisters Theresa and Elizabeth Allen from Port-au-Prince represent Haiti on campus.

Margaret Warner, freshman, is following in the footsteps of her sister Patricia in coming to Barry. The Warners come from the windy city of Chicago.

Monroe, Michigan, is well-represented at Barry by Norma and Elizabeth LaBoe. Norma is a sophomore this year and her sister is a junior.

Barry can even boast a set of twins on its campus this year. Jane Burman, an art major, joined her sister Joan after attending Siena Heights College at Adrian, Michigan, for two years. The Burmans, of Dearborn, Michigan, are juniors.

To several of the freshmen, since Colombia. They were graduated from the Gimnasio Femenino.

they have sisters who have attended Barry, the school is not at all unfamiliar.

Ruth Cannon, of Grosse Pointe, Michigan, has a sister, Mary Ann, who is a former Barry girl.

Anya Mercado, a freshman from Santurce, Puerto Rico, was preceded by her sister, Hadadina.

Apparently Barry runs in the Howard family of Miami. Lorraine, who was graduated in the class of '50, was followed by her sister Suzanne, who is now followed by her sister, Janet.

A freshman from Miami, Anne Joseph has a sister, Helene, who is a former Barry student. Helene is now Mrs. Thomas Zaydan.

Henrietta Dick's sister, Sister Therese Martin, was on the Barry campus this summer. Henrietta is a freshman from Charlotte, North Carolina.

Initiation Shadows Fall On Freshmen

The sophomores will get you if you don't watch out! This is a special message for the "green" freshmen.

Sometime in the very near future you will be invited to participate in a whole day of jovial antics. And, of course, the freshmen will all be on campus in plain view, since there is "danger in the shadows".

A few of the presiding potentates will be: Janet McGowan, Pat Warner, Yolie Roy, Connie Senger, Marcia Daly, and Pat Mies.

establishing a new world student union at the present time.

The organization re-affirmed its stand not to work with the Communist-dominated International Union of students. It was decided that in 1951, NSA should send observers to the IUS council meetings if possible, but unless some change in the IUS policy is noted, the observers will be the only contact.

After careful consideration of acceleration policy, the congress voted to urge all college programs be made flexible enough to allow for individual differences and also that colleges recognize the need for each individual to be able to move into adult life without undue delay.

Science Faculty Attend Jubilee Meet of ACS

The Diamond Jubilee meeting of the American Chemical Society in New York was attended by Sister Mary Jane and Sister Thomas Mary, September 3-7.

The 120th national meeting was the largest ever held by the American Chemical Society. There were 13,000 scientists from all over the world present at the "Diamond Jubilee."

"Chemistry: Key to better living," was the slogan of the national meeting. Without breaking stride in sparking the advance of its science, the American Chemical Society observed its 75th anniversary by presenting all fields of chemistry and chemical engineering that will mark tomorrow's industrial progress and better living.

For a society that is 75 years young this year, the ACS took to the airwaves in a big way at the national meeting. Both radio and television brought to the public the story of the chemists of the country, their accomplishments, problems, and the potential worth of their discoveries.

Sister Mary Jane and Sister Thomas Mary attended the division of chemical education. In a key speech, Ralph L. Shriner of Iowa State College emphasized, "A research project should have an inspirational center which calls upon a creative instinct, and should definitely embody the thrill that comes with doing something which has never been done before."

According to Sister Mary Jane, "The Diamond Jubilee meeting of the American Chemical Society offered much to be gained from the wealth of experiences of men and women both in the field of chemical education and chemical industry."

Caribbean Lures Spanish Faculty

Cuidad Trujillo in the Dominican Republic was the summer home of Sister Mary Jean, Sister Jean Marie, and Sister Mary Paul who resided at Colegio Santo Domingo.

Sisters Mary Jean and Jean Marie began work on their doctorates in Spanish language and literature at the University of Santo Domingo.

Sister Mary Jean visited Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands before returning to Barry. Sister Jean Marie enjoyed a pleasant stop-over in Puerto Rico before flying to Detroit to visit relatives.

Sister M. Joannes spent the summer in Adrian, Michigan, where she studied under the Rev. Angelico Zarlenga, O.P., of the Studio Beato Angelico in Rome and Mr. Matthew Boyhan, artist-in-residence at Studio Angelico, Siena Heights college.

Miss Eileen Meyers, assistant librarian, attended the School of Sacred Theology, St. Mary's College, Holy Cross, Indiana, where she did graduate work in theology.

Isabelle Williams Heads Deans List

Isabelle Williams, senior, president of the Student council and leader of the student body, headed the Dean's list for the second semester 1950-51.

Other seniors to make the list are Margaret Conlon, 2.84; Patricia Heldman, 2.38; Marguerite Lapham, 2.35; Patricia Genter, 2.4; Dorothy Hoff, 2.2; Barbara Ann Braun, 2.11; and Raquel Gaztambide, 2.1.

Juniors whose scholastic averages made them eligible are: Dorothy Newkirk, 2.53; Matilde Ramos, 2.05; and Betty Demirgian, 2.

Sophomores listed are: Arlene McCormick, 2.59; Marie Dudley, 2.5; Catherine Hodson, 2.5; Mary Emma Grady, 2.47; Georgann Traviknar, 2.27; Rosemary Geyer, 2.05; Mary V. Diamond, 2.; and Shirley Hodge 2..

Something New Has Been Added

Off with the old, and on with the new, easily typifies the many improvements that are included in Barry College's newest look.

A visit to Cor Jesu Chapel presents an almost entire change. Persian green walls trimmed with a darker green give a definite air of peace, serenity, and coolness. A dark, rich, mossy green in the background niches highlights the hand-carved wooden statues of Our Lady and St. Joseph.

Fourteen Stations of the Cross designed and executed by Sister Mary Joannes of the art department line either wall of the chapel. Each depicted scene of the Way of the Cross is pictured on an elevated mound to draw emphasis and dignity toward Christ, Who holds the center and highest point of interest throughout.

An addition to Angelicus can be found in the biology lecture room. Five eight-foot murals picturing the famous scientists Gregor Mendel, Louis Pasteur, Georges Cuvier, Claude Bernard, and St. Albert, the Great, decorate the concave walls. The murals are the work of '51 graduates Stephanie Swinich and Bernice Gagnon. The girls used oil paint, employing bristle brush and an air gun. Each man is shown surrounded by symbols and objects representing the phase of science he was most noted for.

Calaroga dining hall, the campus store, and Rosa Mystica and Maris Stella reception rooms all gleam in freshly painted pastels.

The rooms throughout Stella Matutina display new printed drapery and pastel chenille spreads.

Sum all this up and it's still Barry College, the college beautiful.

St. Rose's Staff Reside on Campus

Have you wondered about the extra Dominicans on campus?

Eight sisters constituting the teaching staff of the newly opened St. Rose of Lima school in Miami Shores are living on the Barry campus this year.

The 200 children who have swarmed over the campus and been instructed by the members of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine for the past three years are now enrolled in their own school, and peace reigns again on Saturday mornings.

Regina Pacis has been converted into a convent for the St. Rose Sisters.

Teaching at St. Rose of Lima are Sister Kathleen Marie, O.P., superior; Sister Harriet Marie, O.P.; Sister M. Rose Claire, O.P.; Sister M. Margaret John, O.P.; Sister Marie Giles, O.P.; Sister M. Michael Henry, O.P.; Sister M. Jean Kevin, O.P.; and Sister Marie Rita, O.P.

Sophomores Rosemary Geyer and Patricia Mies look admiringly at the new murals in the biology lecture room.

Carousel

On September 9, 1951, the Florida Club held a party at Penafort Pool to acquaint the local new students with Barry college. There were tours of the school and of the student residences, and later there were games for all the swimmers. The party was organized by Loretta McClellan, who had as hostesses Marguerite Renuart, Lucille Renuart, Jo June Knight, Angela Clark and Virginia DiCristofaro.

Attending a bridal shower for Teresita Rivera, ex '54, given by Mary Lou Clark at her home in Miami Shores October 6, were Norma LaBoe, Elizabeth LaBoe, Rosemary Geyer, Janet McGowan, Pat Mies, Georgann Travnikar, Yolande Roy, Grace Clark, Anne Morley, and Julie Hall.

Freshmen students were welcomed to Miami and to Barry college at the various transportation centers by volunteer members of the Florida club, September 20, 1951.

The new students were frequently recognized, as one girl said, by the "Oh, why did I ever leave home" looks on their faces.

The welcoming committee consisted of Loretta McClellan, Dorothy Newkerk, Barbara Schmid, and Mildred Hall.

'Tis said around campus that the thing the State clubs are most interested in is food. Look at the Cosmos fr instance. Their very first project was a get-acquainted (or that was their excuse) box supper.

The whole school is wondering what the horse is doing without a pin to keep its blanket on now that Mimi Scanlon is using it on her skirt.

It has been proposed that we have a contest to find the most original nickname. We cast our vote for "Muckles" Riley. Go one better than that if you can!

Thimble Theatre

A new resident on campus this year, although not a new Barry student, is musically inclined Patricia Heldman, president of the senior class.

A music major, Pat was a member of the National Honor Society at Miami Edison. She was elected to membership in the campus honor society, Lambda Sigma, last year.

Pat, although a native of Miami, feels that a year spent on the campus will add zest to her memories of college days. Active in the Florida club and a member of Beta Kappa Kappa, Pat is looking forward to a teaching career.

Pat is one half of that famous improvising duo, Heldman and Williams. These accomplished pianists have played together for three years.

Flushing, Long Island, lost a resident but not a home-town rooter, when Betty Demirgian came to Miami five years ago.

Betty, a graduate of St. Patrick's high school, is vice president of the junior class and holds membership in the Florida club, Home Economics club, and is president of the Athletic Association.

A heavy schedule of classes and active participation in club activities has not retarded Betty's enjoyment of her favorite hobbies. She is especially interested in free-lance drawing and all sports activities.

Spending the summer in Flushing, Betty returned to Barry with renewed vigor to begin another year toward her goal—a B.S. in dietetics.

Any Wednesday evening you may see a tan convertible speeding (use the word lightly) down 119th street to Opa Locka. When you do, the driver is probably Loretta McClellan, an avid stock car racing fan, on her way to the races.

Loretta was graduated from St. Mary's high school and has completed the freshman year at Barry—yet she hasn't missed a stock car race in two years.

An active member of the Florida club, the Sodality, and Athletic Association, Loretta is on the staff of the sodality publication, Mary Notes.

She was, for many freshmen, a gracious first contact with Barry college, having transported about 2,000 freshmen from innumerable trains and planes.

Majoring in education, Loretta plans a teaching career.

Freshmen Receive Academic, Music Scholarships

Barry always welcomes students who have been recognized for their outstanding work in high school, and this year several freshmen are scholarship students.

Competitive tests resulted in a number of Barry scholarships. June Wittekind of St. Patrick's, Miami Beach, was the winner of such a scholarship given by the college. Helen Conner of St. Theresa's, Coral Gables, was the recipient of the Barry alumnae scholarship.

Marguerite Barnes, of Sts. Peter and Paul, Miami, was given a full scholarship through a Knights of Columbus essay contest, and from the same contest Mary Lucille Mayes, St. Mary's in Miami, received a partial scholarship.

Music scholarships were awarded to students planning to participate in the college orchestra. These include: Caroline Childs, Suzanne Curry, and Patricia Sandre of Miami Senior High, and Barbara Schmid and Sylvia Moore from Miami Jackson and Valerie Geisz from Dominican High, Detroit.

Foreign scholarship students are: Cecilia Ezoe, High School of the Sacred Heart, Tokyo; Francisca Olba, Lubuagan of St. Teresita, the Philippines; Raquel Rivera, Catholic College, Caquas, Puerto Rico; and Raquel Gaztambide, St. George's Academy, Santurce, Puerto Rico.

There are three scholarships which are held by seniors. These are: Isabelle Williams, who has a full scholarship from the diocese of St. Augustine; Patricia Heldman, who holds the Bishop Barry Memorial granted by the Patrician Club of St. Patrick's, Miami Beach; and Margaret Conlon, who has a scholarship from the Bishop Barry endowment fund, an award which has continued since the founding of Barry College.

Mary Emma Grady of the sophomore class holds the Ibero-American scholarship.

Spanish Club Lauds Columbus

"Oh, Columbia, the gem of the ocean, the home of the brave and the free, the pride of each patriot's devotion, the world offers homage to thee."

In honor of the 500th anniversary of the birth of Columbus, the Spanish club presented a Columbus Day program October 9, in the social hall.

Elena Hernandez, president of the Spanish club, introduced the program. Georgann Travnikar discussed the achievements of Columbus and what is being done to honor him throughout the world.

Representatives of ten Latin American countries and Puerto Rico paid tribute to Columbus. Taking part were: Maria Gnecco, Colombia; Carmen Castells, Ecuador; Amelia Tourino, Panama; Peggy Keith, Costa Rica; Oliva Soldana, El Salvador; Marianela Duron, Honduras; Elisa Cartana, Cuba; Elizabeth Allen, Haiti; Luisa Bonnelly, Dominican Republic; Noemi Garcia, Puerto Rico; and Janet Albuquerque, Brazil.

Pictures were exhibited of the Memorial Lighthouse being built in Santo Domingo by the combined efforts of 21 Pan American countries in honor of Columbus landing in Santo Domingo.

The assembly closed with the group singing "America Immortal," the official song of the Pan American Union.
