We Like Ike!

If next month's election were to depend on the "X's" of Barryites, Dwight D. Eisenhower would be the next president of the United States.

Thus showed the results of a campus presidential poll sponsored by the Angelicus October 9. In this poll of the Barry delegation, 175 ballots were cast for Eisenhower and 46 for Stevenson.

Nonpartisans, or at least nonvoters, numbered 74 among the full time students.

In the campaign preceding the election, a button very plainly stating "No Like," displayed by one of the girls, confronted but did not discuorage the "I Like-Ike" voters.

Why All Talk And-No Do?

PROBABLY a hundred million Americans - all qualified to vote-will be discussing the state of the nation this month, a great many of them with heat and spirit, BUT ONLY FORTY-TWO MILLION VOTED IN OUR LAST NATIONAL ELECTION.

Some of the facts will probably shock you. A national study made by Elmo Roper in 1951 disclosed that the following percentages of people had not voted once in the previous four years-housewives 56%, farmers 48%, white collar workers 37%, union labor 48%, VOTERS UNDER THIRTY-FIVE

You are either in the "voters under 35" group or will be moving into it within a year or so. Will you be among the active 40% or that indifferent 60%?

Are the great issues our country faces of so little concern to half our qualified voters? Is the world our children must live in so undarkened with threats that we can afford to put all kinds of distractions ahead of the first duty of citizenship?

Surely our danger lies in good Americans (Americans like us) who talk so much and vote so little.

What has come over us since the days when nearly all our citizens went to the polls? The world's strongest democracy, the bulwark of hope for all the people of the world who yearn to live in freedom-can we point with much pride to our record when we consider that:

June 1949, Canada 75% voted Sept. 1950, Sweden 80% voted July 1951, Israel 72% voted Oct. 1951, England 83% voted Nov. 1948, U. S. 51% voted

Remember this: Every loss of freedom in the modern world has begun by a negligent electorate!

World News Link In College Life

YOU ARE LEADING A DOUBLE

First there is your life in the little world of Barry college, complete with its own government. You also have a place in the big "outside world"-a vital place.

Caught up in the busy whirl of school, especially in this first month of readjustment and reorganization, one's only contact with the outside world is too likely to become narrowed to incoming letters.

This shouldn't be, particularly at this crucial time in our history. When you leave Barry and its temporary sanctuary from the real problems of maturity, you will be taking your place in the world. You and you alone can fill that place.

To fill it properly you must be aware of what is going on in your community, state, country and nation. This may seem a big order for someone who has class assignments and committees to take up all of her time, but a daily session with the paper will help you to become an intelligent, well-informed citizen.

And when a news broadcast interrupts your favorite disk jockey, don't just tolerate it or tune in on another station in search of music. Listen and learn.

As a Catholic student, you owe it to your faith to know what is going on. You have many enemies and nothing suits their purpose more than your ignorance of world af-

Remember your double responsibility of now and later. The world of the future is your world. To make it the kind of world you want to live in, you have to start TODAY, preparing to accept responsibility as voters and citizens tomorrow.

May the Lord Christ reign in your hearts as you pray especially on the feast of Christ the King, October 26, that His Kingdom may come "on earth as it is in heaven."

Miami Is No New York, but Not a Cultural Vacuum Either

THIS is it-our college days are here! How often have you heard an older person refer to them as the "best days of your life"? And they can be-whether or not they are is up to you.

If your days at Barry are to be a complete success and something to look back on with satisfaction, you must make use of every minute. Work hard, and play hard, too.

There is more to college life than can be gotten in a classroom, more than a day at the beach or a movie in town. While Miami is not New York so far as cultural activities go, it does have much to offer. So before you start the oft-heard cry, "There's nothing to do," let's see what there IS to do.

Let's begin right here on campus where lecturers and musicians are brought in to round out our cultural education begun in the classroom, and the students in the music department display their talent in frequent recitals.

During the year, the University of Miami Symphony orchestra presents many interesting and varied programs featuring top artists. Below is a list of the offerings for Tryouts for the 1952-53 Players were held Tuesday, September 30, under the direction of Sister M. Grace Alma, O.P., new Playhouse director. Officers elected were Emma Grady, chairman, and Shirley Hodge, cochairman. Both are juniors.

The verse-speaking choir, under the new name of the Choric Cameos, has been reactivated this year. This speaking choir, the girls say, is an excellent laboratory for checking diction and acquiring poise.

The Cameos will provide a drama bank for the Playhouse.

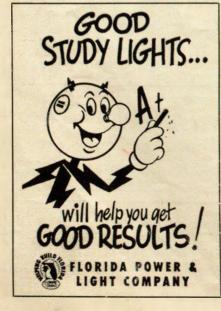

The Cameos held their first meeting September 30. They dedicated the club to Our Lady of the Rosary.
