Upperclassmen Elect Officers; Freshmen Appointed Pro Tem

Attention all students! Introducing you to the sophomore, junior, and senior class officers!

Senior class president is Isabel Dempsey, a dietetics major from New Rochelle, New York. Terry transferred from College of St. Elizabeth, Convent Station, New Jersey last year and served as junior class treasurer. She is also vice-president of the Student Council.

Constance Baldwin, a Miamian and an education major, is vice-president of the senior class. Connee is also president of the Press Club and editor of the Angelicus.

Social chairman of the senior class is Janet McGowan, an art major from St. Paul, Minnesota. Janet was president of the class in her freshman year.

Rosemary Geyer, an education major from Hamilton, Ohio, is secretary of the senior class. Rosemary was freshman and sophomore class treasurer, and vice-president of the junior class.

Treasurer of the senior class is Catherine Wodtke, a mathematics major from Vero Beach, Florida. Catherine was junior class secretary, is vice-president of the Athletic Association, vice-prefect of the Sodality, and secretary of the Student Council.

Concert Artists Appear at Barry

Bethany Beardslee, soprano, and Jacques Monod, pianist, will appear in a public concert in the Stella Matutina Social Hall Sunday, November 8. In addition, on November 9, they will conduct a master class for voice and piano majors and hold a workshop for students interested in conducting.

The artists are counted among today's outstanding interpreters of contemporary music, and both have extensive backgrounds. Miss Beardslee is a graduate of Michigan State college and studied at the Julliard School of Music. She now teaches privately in New York.

Mr. Monod, a native of Paris, studied at the Paris Conservatory of Music. In the United States he has been associated with Julliard and Columbia University. In New York he is actively identified with the work of Anton Wehern and Alban Berg.

This visit of the musicians is under the auspices of the Arts Program of the Association of American Colleges.

President of the junior class is Margaret Moran, an education major from Greenfield, Massachusetts. Margaret was treasurer of the sophomore class and is second vice-chairman of the Student Council.

Mary Kurtz is the vice-president of the junior class. Mary is a chemistry major from Washington, D. C. and a scholarship holder. She is also secretary of the Cosmos Club.

Social chairman of the junior class is Winifred Kine, a biology major from White Plains, New York. Winifred has held the office of president of the Cosmos club for two years.

Presiding as secretary of the junior class is Margaret Coste, a biology major from Savannah, Georgia. Last year Peggy was secretary of the Science Club, secretary-treasurer of the Deep South club. This year she is president of the Deep South Club and treasurer of the Science Club.

Treasurer of the junior class is Julia Bowen, a speech major from Ft. Lauderdale. Julia was a transfer student from Mary Grove college last year and is social board representative of the Impows.

Leading the sophomore class as president is Penelope Estabrook, a music major from Miami Beach. Penny was treasurer of the freshman class and is day student representative to the Student Council. She holds the Bishop Barry Memorial Scholarship sponsored by the Patriotic Club of Miami Beach.

Senior Will Preside At State Meeting

Mary Emma Grady, president of the college clubs of the State Home Economics Association, will preside at the state convention to be held in Jacksonville, November 13-15.

The convention will open with a get-acquainted reception. Smaller groups will discuss the different fields of home economics including teaching, home-making, dietetics, textile, and design.

The agenda also includes a luncheon and a fashion show. The convention will be climaxed by a dance and other social gatherings.

Mary Emma, a resident of Jacksonville, is completing arrangements for housing Barry students who will attend the convention.

Student Council Solemnly Takes Loyalty Pledge

Formal academic ceremony marked the installation of the 1953-54 student council October 12. Council officers and members solemnly recited the pledge of loyalty which includes faithfulness to Our Lady, to fellow students, and to the college.

Mary Harant was chairman of the assembly and introduced members of the council. Georgann Travnikar, chairman of the student government group, spoke for the council and Julia Bowen gave the student answer.

Mary Agnes Hanzo explained the college escutcheon and Ann Morley spoke on applying Barry's principles to life. Class charters were then presented to the presidents of each class.

Officers for the scholastic year are: Georgann Travnikar, president of the student body, chairman of the student council; Mary Emma Grady, Sodality prefect and honorary chairman of the student council; Isabel Dempsey, senior class president and first vice-chairman of the student council; Margaret Moran, junior class president and second vice-chairman of the student council; Catherine Wodtke, sodality vice-prefect and secretary of the student council.

Formal Ceremonies Mark 1953 Freshmen Investiture

Benediction and Reception Follow Cap Presentation

Freshmen from 21 states, Washington, D. C., and eight foreign countries received their academic caps and gowns in a formal ceremony on Sunday, October 18. The Reverend John F. Monroe, O.P., officiated at the investiture and was assisted by Georgann Travnikar and other members of the student council.

Father Monroe blessed the caps and gowns and presented the caps to the 140 freshmen. The Reverend Louis M. O'Leary, O.P., addressed the class of 1957 and their guests on "An Unchanging Fashion." A distinctive feature of the investiture program was the recessional to Cor Jesu Chapel for rosary and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

In the rotunda of the administration building, members of Barry college auxiliary were hostesses at a reception and tea for the freshmen and their friends.

Miami students were: Valerie Warzyniak, Catherine Mykytko, Thelma Rossmann, Sally Mae Mitchell, Jennette Trickey, Margaret Williams, Sandra Weshalek, Agnes McCarron, Maritza Hollandy, Frances Myers, Mary R. Buzolitsi, Barbara Decillis, Constance Coburn, Mary Catherine Cliatt, Joann Rucks, Joan Czarnecki, Georgana Doyle, Barbara Keck, Mary Patricia McGaffigan, Jeanne Mullen, Betty Radford, Anne Scannell, Therese Mathes, Dolores Wilsey, Lois Hays; from North Miami: Kathleen Hackett and Teresa Hendricks from North Miami Beach; Madalee Elkins, West Miami; Gene Fox and Dorothy Adlington, Miami Beach; Susan Thompson, Hialeah.

Students from the various states beyond Florida were next presented: Mary Frances Goodman, Denver, Colorado; Diane Suprenant, Nerwich, Connecticut; Lois Omlor, Washington, D. C.; from Illinois—Janet Metzger, East St. Louis; Meta Schmitz, Virginia Keeler, Margaret Carney, June White, Virginia Morrison, Chicago; Dolores Lange, Belleville; Rita

Shirley Hodge Queen At Coronation Ball

Shirley Hodge, a senior from Jacksonville, will be crowned Campus Queen at the annual Coronation Ball Saturday, November 7.

The queen's court will be composed of seniors: Patricia Mies, Rosemary Geyer, Janet McGowan and Esther Lopez.

The social chairmen of the classes comprise the social board directing the dance. They are Louise Dorn, sophomore; Winifred Kine, junior; Janet McGowan, senior.

Committees for the dance include: dates, Rosemary Geyer; refreshments, Jean Meece, Joann Rerucha; orchestra, Loretta McClellan; decorations, Mary Harant; chaperones, Winifred Kine; and clean-up, Isabel Dempsey.

President Names Faculty Changes

Reverend Mother Mary Gerald, O.P., president of Barry college, announced two additions and six changes in faculty and administration for the 1953-54 scholastic year.

The Reverend John F. Monroe, O.P., is chaplain and professor of religion and philosophy and replaces the Reverend Cyril W. Burke. Before his appointment, Father Monroe was prior at St. Stephen's Priory, Dover, Massachusetts.

Father received his B.A. from Providence college, his M.A. from the Catholic university of America, his S.T. Lr. from Immaculate Conception college, and his Ph.D. and Litt.D. from the University of Santo Tomas in Manila. He taught in the Regional Seminary of the Foochow Province in Fukien, China, and served as president of Aquinas college high school in Columbus, Ohio.

REVEREND J. F. MONROE, O.P.

The Reverend Louis M. O'Leary, O.P., has joined the faculty as professor of religion and philosophy, coming to Barry from the Catholic university of America, Washington, D. C. Father was formerly treasurer and procurator of the Dominican House of Studies in that city. For nine years he was pastor of St. Andrew's parish in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Father received his A.B. from Georgetown university and his M.A. and S.T.L. degrees from the Catholic university of America. He was assistant professor of religion and homiletics at the university until 1942.

Sister Mary Alice, O.P., formerly registrar of the college, has been named associate dean this year. Sister has charge of all student matters which do not pertain to the curriculum or to class work as such.

Sister M. Williamine, O.P., is the new registrar and also teaches in the department of romance languages. Sister received her B.S. from Siena Heights college and her M.A. from the Catholic university where she was associated with the department of education for five years. Her Ph.D. was obtained at the University of Santo Domingo. Before her appointment to Barry, Sister Williamine

Council Intends To Serve - You!

NO, WE CANNOT make the rain go away, and we cannot arrange a free day for you every other week, but we can offer you a helping hand whenever you have need of us. We are your Student Council—24 representatives from every major campus organization—and our main job is to be of service to you. In brief, the functions of a Student Council are these:

1. To act as liaison between the students and faculty and administration in presenting student opinions to the latter two groups.
2. To streamline the mechanics of government and serve the student community in specialized capacities.
3. To provide services for the students individually and collectively which they cannot provide for themselves.
4. To stimulate and lead the thinking of all students on the campus.
5. To aid students to fulfill their right and responsibility to help educate themselves as citizens in a democracy.
6. To execute the will of the majority and at the same time protect the rights of the minority.
7. To be of assistance to the faculty and the administration whenever and wherever possible.

We learned these fundamentals both through experience and through active participation in state and national confederations of student governments such as the Florida Inter-Student Government Association and the National Student Association. Membership in organizations such as these gives us an opportunity to compare ourselves with colleges throughout the country, and also with student groups in other nations of the world. Knowledge which results from these meetings is invaluable to those of us who have been privileged to attend them, and, in turn, to you who can benefit from the information we have gained.

Read the Student Council Bulletin and the literature that we receive from F.I.S.G.A. and N.S.A. and work with us in our effort to make this year a successful one. We know you will. We are counting on your support.

Georgann Travnikar
Student Body President

You're A Frosh? Don't Fret-Take Advantage Of It

Dear Frosh:

The idea of another welcome is perhaps a bit warped by now but this is the Angelicus staff's first opportunity to voice it. WELCOME from us, anyway.

We know that these past few weeks have been overwhelming in the transition you have experienced to become a college student. Some resident students are away from home for the first time; others are making completely new friends. Freshman orientation has made you a full-fledged college student, and new duties and responsibilities have been offered you.

Yes, it's a mighty big bite to swallow. But just remember, the upperclassmen have gone through those very same experiences and are still around, a proof that they weren't so bad. You will be, too. That's a certainty, with the helpful and cooperative faculty and student body you have behind you.

Here's to a very profitable four years. In that period will be formed certain attitudes which will influence you in whatever way of life you may chose. Make good use of your tenure in college. These are the best years of your life!

Next Year Is Mary's Declares Pope Pius

WE'LL GIVE NEXT year to Mary! "Shining Crown of Glory," an encyclical address by Pope Pius XII announced that December, 1953 to December, 1954 will be a Marian Year in honor of the one-hundredth anniversary of the dogma of the Immaculate Conception, declared December 8, 1854 by Pope Pius IX. What hope for the world! No big-four conference, no Kremlin overtures, could better point the way to peace. Let us plan now, as Barry students and true daughters of our Blessed Mother, to give ourselves entirely to Our Lady during her year. She will not fail us. The world will come back to Jesus—through Mary.

Symphony Orchestra Turning 'Playground' Into Culture Center

Miami can no longer be considered only as the "Playground of the World." During the past five years much has been done toward developing the cultural aspects of Miami life.

Foremost in the field of cultural attractions in the University of Miami Symphony Orchestra. Made up of approximately 100 students, faculty members, and professionals, the orchestra will be under the direction of John Bitter.

Rise Stevens will be soloist at the opening of the 27th season of the symphony on November 1 at the Miami Beach Auditorium, with the program to be repeated on November 2 at Dade County Auditorium.

The season's programs will include works by Bach, Beethoven, Mozart, Brahms, Ravel, Richard Strauss, Prokofieff, Dvorak, Rimsky-Korsakov, Sibelius, Gerswin, and Tchaikowsky.

An American premiere, the "Legend of the Noble Knight" by the young Austrian composer, Theodor Berger, will be heard, as well as a selection by Leonard Bernstein, "Three Dances from Fancy Free" and "Wheat Field at Noon" by Virgil Thomson.

The outstanding Brazilian composer-conductor, Villa-Lobos, will conduct two of his own works. He will have the assistance of the young American pianist, Maxim Schapiro.

The unique Casadesus family, who have made important contributions to French musical life for generations, will present a program of piano music with the orchestra.

Lukas Foss, one of America's most gifted young composer-pianists, will play his own Concerto.

Another highlight will be the presentation of Verdi's great work, "Requiem," with the full orchestra, chorus and four soloists who have sung the leading parts of this work with many of the major orchestras: Frances Yeend, Nan Merriman, David Lloyd, and Kenneth Smith.

The Cecilian Club arranges for attendance at such musical functions.

NOCTURNE

Hush, for the island is quiet;
Only the moon sheds her amber light.
Winds sign restlessly in the palms,
Telling tales of the night:
Of flashing smiles in brown faces,
Of swiftly dancing feet,
Of drums softly throbbing,
Filling the night with their beat.
The fires are slowly dying,
Only the embers are there,
Gleaming on a golden flower,
That fell from ebony hair.
Now deep in the jungle, watchful eyes
Glint in the silvery light;
Silent feet flit hidden paths,
Searching into the night.
Now, while the village lies deep in sleep,
The jungle night lives on—
To search, to stalk, to kill and fight,
Until the brilliant dawn.
Then will end the nocturne,
Lost into eternity,
Only to awake again,
When the sun sleeps in the sea.

—Jennette Trickey, 57

THE VERY REVEREND CYRIL W. BURKE

Barry Chaplain Elected Prior

Just a few lines of type were required to state that Father Cyril W. Burke, O.P., chaplain and professor at Barry college for eleven of the thirteen years of its existence, had been replaced by another Dominican Father and is now filling the responsible office of Prior at St. Stephen's Priory in Dover, Massachusetts. But no news story, no newspaper, no single volume could carry the magnificent account of Father Burke's undying contribution to the welfare and the life of the college.

In his priestly office, he was pre-eminently priestly and truly "another Christ" among us; as professor, he taught with the clarity and conviction of one who ever walked intimately with Him who is Divine Truth; as a faculty member he was as completely devoted to the welfare and happiness of the students, as he was to sharing the burdens and cares of the faculty. Father Burke's sympathetic understanding, his gentle kindness, his unusual patience were as magnets which drew others to him from far and wide. No one ever sought his advice or help without benefiting richly thereby.

As Father Burke himself said often, he veritably "lived and breathed Barry college in all his waking and sleeping hours." In one sense that sums up Father's devotion to everything that is Barry; in another sense his devotion could never be summed up because it can never be measured by earthly standards.

While it is impossible to pay full tribute to Father Burke's part in the growth and development of the college, it is a matter of deep pride for the faculty and student body to claim that he is "bone and sinew" of its very marrow. Barry will always claim Father Burke as her own and will give thanks always to God for him.

Every student of the college who has known Father and his work at Barry joins with the faculty in congratulating him on the high office to which he has been elected by his community, and in wishing him well in the new field of his labors. Their prayers for his welfare will always follow him.

Dean's List Junior Excels For Third Time

"Barry students in good standing at the end of the semester who have attained an average of 2.0 or higher in honor points are placed on the Dean's List."

Sonja Simberg, junior, led the Dean's list last semester with a 2.92 average. This marked Mrs. Simberg's third consecutive time to head the list.

Carole Turner, a senior, led her class with a 2.73 average, while Janet Howard, a sophomore, topped the list with a 2.44 scholastic average. Joyce Snowden with a 2.75 average, held the top place in the freshman class.

Other graduates who attained the 2.0 average necessary for inclusion were Elise Cartana, 2:59; Mrs. Ruth Hilgendorf, 2:56; Mrs. Ruth Nolle, 2:44; Elizabeth Demirgian, 2:20; Margaret Reiss, 2:13; Marion Petrossi, 2:07; Shirley Bliss, 2:00; Patricia Oak, 2:00.

Juniors on the list were Catherine Wodtke, 2:76; Marta Gonzales, 2:71; Mary Emma Grady, 2:67; Ruth Pugh, 2:38; Janet McGowan, 2:35; Georgann Travnikar, 2:33; Mary Agnes Hanzo, 2:31; Isabel Dempsey, 2:11; Shirley Hodge, 2:00; Esther Lopez, 2:00.

Sophomores appearing on the list were Mrs. Mary Eisinger, 2:41; Angelita Acosta, 2:40; Margaret Coste, 2:40; Winifred Kine, 2:38; Hilda Roguly, 2:38; Suzanne Curry, 2:33; Raquel Rivera, 2:23; and Julia Bowen, 2:00.

Freshmen who attained the honor were Cecile Roussell, 2:72; Elaine Franks, 2:68; Mrs. Aspasia Mitchell, 2:63; Lucia Gomez, 2:53; Patricia O'Connor, 2:53; Carmen Camejo, 2:42; Donna Lynskey, 2:37; Louise Dorn, 2:28; Penelope Estabrook, 2:22; Carol Schmitt, 2:18; Jean Meece, 2:00; Clarice Moyle, 2:00.

Enrollment Highest In History of School

Enrollment statistics for the 1953-1954 school year are the highest in the history of the college, according to Sister M. Dorothy, O.P., dean. The figures show that this year's enrollment of 376 is five over last year's record 371.

Barry's increase in full-time students during the 1952-53 scholastic year was 23.5 per cent over the preceding year. In contrast, nationwide the increase in other colleges was only two per cent.

The largest increase this semester is found to be in the attendance of part-time students who number 96. Following a national tendency, the upper classes are growing larger.

Parliamentary Course Added to Curriculum

In keeping with the current trend for training leaders in every profession, the college has instituted a course in parliamentary procedure. It is required of all sophomores, and classes meet once a week.

The course has been added to the curriculum as a preparation for upperclass leadership and future active citizenship. Sister Grace Alma, O.P., is the instructor.

Sister Helen Margaret, director of the new nursing school, and Sister Edmund, vice-president of the college, are pictured interviewing prospective girls in white: P. McGaffigan, G. Fox, T. Hendricks, I. Patterson, B. DeCillis, A. McCarron, G. Doyle, M. Petralia, and D. Wilsey.

21 Enrolled in Nursing School As Program Begins First Year

"To help meet the constantly increasing demand for nurses who are both academically cultured and professionally competent" is the aim of the newly organized school of nursing.

The new four year program is under the direction of Sister Helen Margaret, O.P., former administrator of Sisters hospital and Santa Cruz hospital in Santa Cruz, California.

The new nursing school has been given temporary approval by the Florida State Board of Nurse Registration and Nursing Education, which approbation will become permanent after the program has been in operation for twelve months. The school is also a member of the Conference of Catholic Schools of Nursing.

The collegiate nursing curriculum covers four calendar years with students spending their first two semesters in academic training in college. The second year is spent in alternate semesters at the college and the hospital while the third year is spent entirely at the hospital.

During the nursing student's fourth year, she will spend her first semester at the hospital and her last at the college. All four summers will be spent in actual nurses training.

Working with the Dominican sisters are the Sisters of St. Francis. Their Miami Beach hospital, St. Francis, will provide the basic nursing training and clinical experience for the students while further experience will be provided by Mercy hospital operated by the Sisters of St. Joseph.

Immediate plans include tours of the Dade County hospitals, a prelude to what the students will encounter next summer.

At present there are 21 students beginning the four year course which will lead to a Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree. Florida girls enrolled in the program are: Nora Malone, Agnes McCarron, Barbara DeCillis, Georgana Doyle, Gene Lee Fox, Terry Ann Hendricks, Patricia McGaffigan, Catherine Mykytka, Anne Marie Scannell, Betty Radford, Dolores Wilsey, Valerie Wawrzyniak, Miami; Ann Bolerasky, Joann Latendresse; Therese Mathea, Coconut Grove, Florida

Carousel

By FRANCES WHITE

Once again the old carousel starts its turning and sings out a mighty big "HOWDY" to everyone. No tellin' what you'll find among these columns this year . . . let's wait 'n see.

For most of the day students their "home away from home" is the library. One day-hop was heard sighing the other day, "If only I could put a refrigerator under the table."

Everyone had a purty fine time at the get acquainted beach party sponsored by the administration September 26. Those kids had the run of the pool and surroundings at the Golden Strand hotel. Snazzy!

No matter what the month, some Barryites can usually be counted on to come up with a ring on that certain finger! Congratulations to the latest two, Loretta McClellan whose engagement was just announced to Dick Powell, and Marta Gonzalez who plans to marry Cesar Fernandez.

The only violation heard so far from the playing of radios during quiet hours has been the blaring out of "DRAGNET." When the violator was asked to tone it down, she replied, "You'll hafta wait till I get out a 412." And that's the truth, ma'am.

It seems that Mary Ellen Tischer got slightly confused at the faculty reception. After traversing the entire line of faculty, she reached the last member and, acknowledging the introduction said, "Hello, I'm Sister Mary Ellen Tischer."

Definitely Spanish is not a medium for conversation in the dining room. Occasionally, however, when a north-American gal reaches for something at the table it comes out like this: "Pasa la leche," or "Pasa el pollo, por favor." Seems like some reverse tutoring has been going on!

Katie Lawler (ex '56) is now attending Broward Business college in Fort Lauderdale. . . . Dolores Jacobs, better known as Dody Ferrell, recently departed for Brussels, Belgium. This former student was a favorite vocalist at Miami's own Clover Club.

Room 229 in Stella Matutina dorm has recently been converted into a studio par excellence to teach the Mambo. You'll find instructors Nora Pinel and Cuchi Valencia in their studio by appointment only. And speaking of services, Joan Inglesby, who knits argyles for a R.C.A.F. friend, has had so many girls admiring her knitting, she is planning to teach a course in it!

Ruth Ogden (ex '55) is now more formally known as Seaman Apprentice Ogden. Ruth completed her basic training in the WAVES at Bainbridge, Maryland, last summer and was awarded the Honor Recruit medal and the American Spirit Honor medal. After a few more months of training, Ruth hopes to be sent abroad with the hospital corps.

Hats off to the junior class for their generosity in giving the senior class their song "Ha Ha Hee Hee." The only stipulation the juniors made, however, was that the seniors must sing it with gusto.

Twenty members of the Cor Jesu choir were privileged to sing the Solemn High Mass at the Veteran's Memorial hospital in Coral Gables, October 7. The Mass was offered by Monsignor Gilberts, chaplain of the hospital, to celebrate the second anniversary of the establishment of the Catholic chapel there.

Any suggestions for Carousel may be left in the basket in the press room. We'll see y'all around next month.

SPORTS

Frosh Fall Victims To Upperclassmen During Field Day

Upperclassmen got a preview of freshman athletic prowess during a field day held on September 23.

The frosh of course were represented by the largest number of athletes, but despite their superior forces, fell before the teamwork of the seniors and sophomores in volleyball, the major sport of the afternoon.

In the first game of the tournament, the sophs triumphed 11-2 over their successors to the title of "freshie."

Having played one game together, the frosh team began to click. In fact, the seniors were so worn out after edging the frosh 11-10 that they failed to score in the rubber game against the sophomores. It was 11-0, and the sophs showed they could out-volley the best of them.

The volley ball tournament was followed by a series of obstacle races in which teams of mixed classes competed. The winning team received lolly pops all around for its reward.

Those upholding the honor of the senior class in the tournament were: Kay Wodtke, Terry Dempsey, Janet McGowan, Pat Meis, Ann Morley, Joan Rambour, Rosemary Geyer, Emma Grady, Shirley Hodge, and Georgann Travnikar.

Members of the victorious sophomore team were: Clarice Moyle, Cecile Russell, Dolly Martinez, Ruth Mahoney, Parise Ouellette, Barbara Momm, Millie Lluberan, Myra Botner, and Ginny Dropp.

The freshmen were represented by: Ann Davis, Debbie Delaney, Gabriella Padelt, Jane Birbeck, Mary Lou Harding, Pat Ace, Georganna Doyle, Peggy Williams, Terry Hendricks, Maria Scott, Barbara DeCilia, and Sally Mitchell.

Miami Observes Columbus Day

The greatest Columbus Day observance in Miami history was celebrated last week and was climaxed by the unveiling of a huge statue of the great explorer. The 27-foot statue has for a base a column from the Roman Forum given to the city by the Republic of Italy.

The three day festival included a City of Miami reception and banquet in Dinner Key Marina which honored dignitaries present for the celebration. These included Dr. Rollin S. Atwood, director of the Office of South American Affairs and Alberto Tarchani, ambassador to the United States from Italy. Also present were the Italian consul General Enrico Aillaud and Jose F. de Lequerica, Spanish ambassador to the United States.

Spanish Club Honors Great Navigator, Too

On campus the Santa Rosa Spanish Club honored Columbus in a special program. Margaret Keith, president of the club, from Santa Jose, Costa Rica, presided over the program. Carmen Matinez of Santurce, Puerto Rico, told of "Columbus the Explorer" after which Esther Lopez of Miami spoke on "The Glory of Columbus." At the close of the panel discussion Dolores Martinez of Coral Gables read excerpts from a letter Columbus wrote to King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella.

Twelve students from Cuba honored the Cuban flag and sang the national anthem. Amelia Tourino and Bruniselda Lavergne interpreted a typical Panamanian folk dance. Terminating the assembly was the singing of "Dios Salve America."

Around the Town

By CONNEE BALDWIN

It seems that the most difficult thing to find time for at college is time itself and the easiest way to get around that is to cut corners. Instead of trekking all the way into Miami for that blouse, repair job, or what have you, make a survey of our own village shops. Just see if you don't save minutes!

Miami Shores offers the Barry-ite the gamut from book stores, dress shops and shoes stores to toy shops, optical shops, and hardware stores. And it is situated close enough to walk that 400 calorie sundae off! The hometown atmosphere of the village is reflected by the friendly merchants and citizens of the little community.

Why buy your clothes downtown when you can find beautiful creations in dresses, underwear, scarves, and jewelry in Elaine's, Loree Hollister's and the Miami Shores Dress Shop? These stores feature the latest in fashion selections and the Barry girl can be sure of a special welcome.

You can't possibly miss that dreamy store right in the middle of the village which goes by the name of The Village Book Store. The shelves in this establishment answer every book, music, card, or record need with some very cute gift suggestions thrown in for good measure.

For those men in your life, there is Paulsen's Men's Wear which is argyle and tie heaven and right next door the Paulsen's Boy's Shop for little brother. Troy's Toys can solve the problem of gift buying for little brother or cousin when Christmas rolls around.

Down the street is Harlee's Five- and was on the faculty at Siena Heights college for six years.

Sister Agnes Cecile, O.P., formerly of the department of romance and classical languages, is now a member of the faculty of Santa Maria university, Ponce, Puerto Rico.

Sister Mary Xavier, O.P., of the department of English and journalism, is on the faculty of Hoban Dominican high school, Cleveland, Ohio.

Sister M. Joannes, O.P., of the art department, is teaching art at Dominican high school in Detroit, Michigan.

Sister Mary Rudolph, O.P., of the foreign language department, is now doing catechetical work at the Las Matas de Farfan near the Haitian border in the Dominican Republic.

and-Ten where you can spend the afternoon without doing too much damage to that wallet. And for those shoe needs don't neglect Badder's Shoe Company, comparatively new to the village.

In case you get stymied for a birthday or anniversary gift just amble into Leonard's Florist because the proprietors make gift buying easy and a pleasure. If that watch has started making real crazy noises and your radio is getting temperamental, take them into the Shores Jeweler and the Mid-City Radio Shop respectively and they'll be fixed good as new.

Too much reading and the eyes are beginning to twitch? Dr. Stanley Fromm, optometrist, can find out what's wrong and fix your old glasses too!

The Shores is fortunate to have three fine drug stores where anything in drugs, toiletries and the usual drug store items can be obtained. These three are the Center Pharmacy, the Miami Shores Pharmacy, and Whelan's friendly drug store.

For a quick snack before going back to school, there's a variety of places to choose from. If you're driving one of those power contraptions, you might zip over to the Boulevard to the Shores Drive-In (featuring scrumptious hot dogs and hamburgers) or to Pickin' Chicken (featuring you know what!) Or if you're still walking, there's the Village Inn or the Shores Ice Cream Parlor.

The only place to stay out of is about two blocks north from the main shopping center. This is the courthouse and city hall!

Here we are . . . back to school an hour early! Must try that again!

Next month we'll visit our neighbors to the north in North Miami. See you there!

Angelicus Receives First Catholic Award

The Angelicus received a first honors award from the Catholic School Press Association's annual Survey-Rating for the 1952-53 school year.

Criticism of publications is based on the following points: integration of religion with regular school activities; enterprise and service to the school and to the community; editorial content; general appearance, layout, and journalistic construction.

The publication was rated particularly high by the judges for diffusion of Catholic thought, promotion of Catholic activity, and on content and writing of its editorials.
