Angelicus Brings Contest to Close At Final Assembly

Home Economics Club Wins Gold Trophy

The second annual Club-of-the-Year contest sponsored by ANGELICUS came to a close May 9 at the final student body assembly of the year. First place award, a gold trophy, went to the Home Economics club. Constance Coburn, president, accepted the honors presented by Sister Mary Edmund, O.P. to signify recognition of the club's commendable activities during the 1955-1956 school year.

Second and third place citations were awarded to the Athletic Association and the Albertus Magnus Science club for achievements in planning campus-wide programs with successful results. Presidents Patricia Ace and Lucia Gomez, respectively, accepted the parchment scrolls for their groups.

Honorable mention was merited by the Barry college Playhouse.

Decision of the judges was based upon club report sheets filed monthly since September in the ANGELICUS office. Special attention was given to the clubs' activities in re-

Summer Session Registration Begins June 22

Registration for the 1956 summer session at Barry college will be held June 22 and 23 from 9:00-11:30 a.m. and 1:30-4:30 p.m. Schedules of the graduate and undergraduate courses are now available in the administration office.

Present students attending Barry in good standing may procure re-admission cards for the summer session by filling in a pre-registration card and paying a $10.00 deposit fee on account. All students planning to attend summer school at Barry for the first time should have their applications on file before June 6.

Summer graduation will be held Aug. 1 at 7:30 p.m.

Annual Ceremony Held In Gardens

The annual Rose and Candle ceremony, held this year in the Florida Gardens May 27, included the entire student body assembled in pastel evening gowns at 8:15 p.m. in the Gardens.

Cecile Roussel presented her candle, a symbol of faith, to the newly elected Student Council president, Mary Lu Harding, in exchange for the rose "of devotion." Lyn Schlise and Margy Canty, the new sodality prefect, also exchanged, followed by Lucia Gomez and Peggy Ralph, outgoing and incoming senior class presidents.

The graduating class then bade farewell to Barry with the traditional song, "Fare ye Well O Halls Of Barry." The junior class replied to this with "God Touched This Rose."

At the conclusion of the festivities, the parents and friends of the graduates participated in a reception held in the Gardens. Hostesses were officers of the Class of 1959.

Barry to Broadcast Weekly Programs

With the ringing of two school bells by "Poor Suzie Quiz," Words, Wise and Otherwise, a series of programs produced by the Barry college speech and drama department to explore the field of semantics, will be on the air every Saturday at 1:45 o'clock over WGBS radio.

Written by Sister Marie Carol, O.P., the broadcasts are being helped along by Sister M. Trinita, O.P., as casting and recording director, and Sister Thomas Gertrude, O.P., composer of the program's theme music.

The first weekly broadcast, May 16, was moderated by Inez Roche, with Mildred Crew as announcer.

Harriett Johnston, Gene Schneider and Dorothy Haggerty comprised the panelists for the initial program while the second, May 19, was composed of Pat Villaba, Harriett Johnston, and Katherine O'Donnell.

Future programs are being recorded so that broadcasts may be continued throughout the summer.

Campus Elects Major Officers For Next Year

Three Barry juniors were elected to major student body offices in the campus wide elections held May 1-4.

Seventy-one per cent of the entire student body voted for Student Body President; ninety-seven per cent of the Sodality elected the Sodality Prefect, with eighty-five per cent voting for Campus Queen at the polls which were set up at the rotunda and post office.

Elected by a two-thirds majority of the student body, Miss Mary Lu Harding of Cleveland will be Student Body President for 1956-57. Acting in the capacity of president will not be a new duty for Mary Lu as she has held the office of class president for three years. She has also served on the Student Council for three years, is the chairman of publicity for the Playhouse, and is an active member of the Athletic Association and Sodality.

The position of Sodality Prefect and honorary chairman of the Student Council will be held by Miss Margaret Canty, a resident student

Enrollment Boost Noted For '56-'57

Recent reports released by Sister M. Dorothy, O.P., dean, indicate an over-all enrollment increase of 90% as compared to new applicants enrolled at this same time last year. Sister reported that the largest percentage of increase is shown by day students with a 240% rise over that of last year.

There has been a notable increase in the number of new resident student applications for the fall term of 1956, representing a 68% increase.

Sister Dorothy estimated that there is going to be a substantial enrollment increase in all classes as well as freshmen for the forthcoming year. "Teaching still remains the field of greatest preference," Sister stated, "though it is gratifying to note a marked student interest in the fields of nursing and science as well, two fields in which trained personnel are greatly in demand."

Graduation To Take Place Wednesday In Auditorium

Commencement for forty-eight Barry students will take place this year for the first time in the college auditorium, Sedes Sapientiae, May 30, beginning at 8:00 p.m.

The Reverend James B. Walker, O.P., S.T.Lr., Ph.D., from the Dominican House of Studies, River Forest, Illinois, will address the graduates, returning to the campus for Most Rev. Joseph P. Hurley, D.D., Archbishop, Bishop of Saint Augustine, will confer degrees upon the graduates.

Graduate With Distinction

Graduating "magna cum laude" are Cecile Roussel and Lucia Gomez, an English major and science major, respectively, with Noreen O'Sullivan and Shirley Davis receiving the honor, "cum laude."

Providing vocal numbers for the exercises, the combined voices of the Cor Jesu Choir and Tara Singers will perform the Gregorian Salve Regina and the Sanctus from St. Cecilia's Mass.

Graduation day will begin with the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass celebrated by Rev. John Monroe in the college chapel at the request of the Alumnae. Faculty convocation will follow, at which time various honors will be bestowed upon the graduates. Among those receiving citation at this time will be Noreen O'Sullivan, Donna Lynskey and Shirley Davis, elected to Delta Epsilon Sigma.

The first to have completed their graduate work at Barry college, Nora C. Meredith and Ida P. Myers will receive their master degrees May 30, at the evening exercises.

Bachelor of arts degrees will be bestowed on Sister Annette Theresa, S.N.J.M., Shirley Davis, Margaretta Floyd, Elizabeth Frost, Mary Ann

Msgr. Barry Offers Baccalaureate Mass

Baccalaureate ceremonies for the 1955-56 school year at Barry commenced with High Mass Sunday morning, May 27, in Cor Jesu Chapel at 10:30 o'clock. Offered by the Right Reverend Monsignor William Barry, LL.D., P.A., rector of St. Patrick's Church, Miami Beach, the Mass honored the graduating class of 1956, their parents and friends.

The Reverend William F. McKeever, superintendent of schools, diocese of St. Augustine, was scheduled to deliver the Baccalaureate address.

Brunch in the Calargoa Dining hall was served following the Mass, after which a program was presented with Mary Lu Harding acting as toastmistress. Others preparing brief speeches to honor members of the clergy, the faculty, parents, and graduates were Georgana Doyle, Noreen O'Sullivan, Marie Kersting, Mary Mack, Mary Ann Guzman, Joanne Rerucha, Joan Weiller, Alba del Toro, and Shirley Davis.

The entire student body participated in the day's ceremonies.

Sophs Sponsor Farewell Party

The final student body get-together of the school year 1955-56 will be sponsored by the sophomore class with their traditional Serenade, May 29.

A reunion garden party will be the theme of this year's fest, held for the first time in the Florida Gardens. General chairman of the affair is Jennifer Castello, who will be assisted by Pat Minnaugh, Pat Casey, Lyn Donahue, Gail Hargadon, and Sue Magee, in charge of refreshments and decorations.

Songs to be sung for the occasion are being arranged by Maria DiPrima, Mary Jean Crane, Carol Cottrell, Mary Agnes Hierholzer, and Luette Mertz, with Mirta Gonzales, Anne Marx, and Dot Hosford in charge of gifts.

During the course of the party the departing seniors will be honored with the reading of their class "Prophecy" composed by members of the sophomore class.

"As this is our last party for this year," sophomore Dot Hosford stated, "we are trying to make it a wonderful success. To make it extra nice, we hope that all the girls will come in something dressy."

GOING TO BE AROUND THIS SUMMER? If so, the speech and drama department would like your help in assisting with their weekly radio productions. Students are needed for all phases of broadcasting; script-writing, narrating, program co-ordinating, etc. Don't let your school down over the summer—see Sister Trinita—and get in on the fun!

Dear Seniors:

The longed-for day is at hand. The crown of accomplishment is about to be awarded your youthful efforts. We know that life begins at birth. Some say, "It begins at forty." It might well be said, "It begins at Commencement." Whenever it begins, it is a restless, constant, hectic struggle. In our unhappy civilization it is practically "warfare." In this battle, which we call life, never forget that for which you are fighting, Eternal Life. Constantly protect yourself against the enemy with the weapon God has given you, Prayer. All during life pray the Rosary as much as you possibly can. It is simple—the prayers are familiar to all. It is inspiring—it keeps you in touch with the life of our Savior and His Blessed Mother. It is efficacious—it is of divine-angelic origin. It is profitable—it honors God in His Blessed Mother through whom it pleases Him to dispense all blessings. It is domestic—it familiarizes us with and links us to the members of the Heavenly Household in which we hope and pray we shall all meet again for an eternity of happiness. Valete et Dominus vobiscum.

Student Council Achieves Its Aims

As students throughout the length and breadth of the land pause during this last lap of the school year to elect leaders to functions for the coming year, it is timely to give a little consideration to the priceless contributions these leaders make to campus life.

Barry College Student Council has always been an active, intelligent group, serious about responsibilities and undertakings. The leadership this year of a student-body president who saw needs clearly, who maintained the confidence of her group because of her willingness to work with them, who concerned herself wholeheartedly with attention to detail so that all jobs were finished in a thorough, complete manner, who gave generously of her time and talents to the work of the Council,—this it is which has brought the work of the Student Council of 1955-1956 to a highly-successful close.

Many projects have been undertaken and accomplished during this past year. The main general characteristic of each undertaking was this consistent concern for detail, this steady enthusiasm which typifies real leadership. It is so easy to launch projects in a sea of enthusiasm only later to smother them by overpowering waves of boredom, ennui, and lassitude.

Let us, then, congratulate the departing Barry leaders on the thoroughness of their work, and let us thank them for having raised Barry leadership levels through the sureness of their aim. Let us remind the incoming leaders that they have a high standard to maintain.

For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle? — I Cor. 14:8.

Members of the Sociology club found themselves in Juvenile Court the afternoon of May 2, but only to investigate the procedure and augment their sociological study as future case workers. After spending a most beneficial afternoon with Judge Culbreath, Michaelen Buckentin, Beth Frost, Millie Lluberas, Joan Mullins, Marie Kersting, and Margaretta Floyd returned home to prepare reports of their field trip, given at the club's monthly meeting.

The Home Ec-ers in their usual entertaining and warm spirit tossed a surprise farewell party for their senior members during this month's meeting time. Gifts were presented to the seniors in the club, Joan Weiller, Yuko Kumata, Donna Lynskey, Joanne Sicking and Louise Dorn.

Other activities of the month included the catering service which the Home Ec Clubbers conducted for the senior Spring dance.

The Mission Council members have snooped around and come up with an idea to relieve the distress of anyone who might have packing problems. They are sponsoring a clothing drive from now 'till the end of school, so toss in your discarded duds—you'll be able to close your suitcase, and someone in far-off mission territory will be mighty pleased.

A collector will be around to your dorm . . . there's a box in the day hop lounge too!

The Impows are really looking ahead. Plans are being made to hold a luncheon for future Barry students hailing from Indiana, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Oklahoma, Ohio, and Wisconsin, during the month of August.

The gals have also been taking royal care of themselves, with a recent dinner May 15 at the Top o' Columbus to wrap up their year's activities.

The Cosmos have been eating out to wind things up too, with their May 15 dinner at the Bon Fire held in honor of Beth Frost, graduating senior president of the club. The girls presented her with a farewell gift to be a token of their appreciation for her able leadership in their club.

Fr. Walker's Visit Recalls Beginning Months At Barry

Father James Bernard Walker's visit to Barry as Commencement day speaker will recall to mind for some of us another time when the beloved Dominican priest came to the college and stayed on for a whole year.

This was in 1940, at the beginning of Barry's opening year, and Father Walker witnessed much of the growth and excitement of those first months while serving as campus chaplain.

In November of the same year, a ten-page mimeographed student newspaper appeared on campus for the first time, at the behest of Barry students. Published by a handful of girls, it was known as the "Barry College Digest," and with its immediate success became the forerunner of ANGELICUS, published a few months later.

This first mimeographed issue covered the campus doing well, with write-ups on sports, a faculty tea, the art department, faculty conventions, lectures, class elections, verse speaking and dramatics. Feature interest was included in the paper, too, with one article entitled "Father Walker Proposes Objectives for School Paper," attracting particular attention.

"The appearance of a college paper on the campus at Barry College in the very first year of its foundation is a healthy and encouraging sign," Father stated in his article. "The Barry girls are aware of the changes taking place in the world they are to live in. They understand that the ideas and ideals which have for centuries formed the warp and woof of our individual and social lives are being replaced by ideologies both inhuman and depraved. They are also cognizant of the printed word in propagating the doctrines that are effecting these transformations."

Father Walker went on to say that Barry girls "are quite conscious, despite their enthusiastic entry on the field of journalism, that what they now have to say may not carry much weight, nor have much influence on the outcome of the struggle."

"But," he added, "the appearance of a Barry College Digest points to the willingness to enter the fray upon the side of truth and a recognition of the importance literary expression must play in the cause of reason and sanity . . . If I may presume to point out an immediate objective, may I say that there is a great need for insistence upon the Christian conception of the dignity of womanhood and a correct understanding of the nature of love . . ."

ANGELICUS is proud of itself and Barry college and the manner in which both have adhered to those ideals laid down sixteen years ago. With joy we welcome back Father Walker, the inspiring priest who first assisted us with our pioneering plans.

To the graduating class of Barry college the Angelicus staff extends its best wishes for a successful and blessed life . . .

WHEN seven nuns head for Las Vegas anything is liable to happen and it did!—the evening of May 20, during the hilarious farce-comedy, SEVEN NUNS AT LAS VEGAS. Here Lou Buzone as Mr. Edelman, owner of the Silver Dollar night club, is apparently doling out some secret advice to seven fascinated nuns: top row, Lynn Donahue, Anna Weichman, Gail Hargadon, Helen Wilson, and Pat Minnaugh. The two Sisters in the front row are Donna Wilson and Dot Hosford.

Prefect Crowns Blessed Mother In May Ceremony

Following a solemn processional of the entire student body, Lyn Schlise, Sodality Prefect, crowned the statue of Mary, our Queen, in the annual ceremonies held Tuesday evening, May 1, in Cor Jesu chapel.

Members of the Sodality council, Donna Lynskey, Gail Hargadon, Mary Kathryn Cliatt, Margie Canty, Mary Agnes Hierholzer, Barbara Keck, Noreen O'Sullivan, Ann Gallagher, and Janet Hart, wearing pastel floor length gowns, were Lyn's attendants. Young Carol McCaughan and Michael McEachern acted as junior attendants.

The crowning took place after the recitation of the rosary and litany of the Blessed Mother. The prefect placed a crown of pink carnations on our Lady, after which the council presented their bouquets to the Blessed Virgin as the student body sang "Mary, We Crown Thee With Blossoms Today".

Standing before the shrine of Mary banked with white lilies, Father John F. Monroe gave a sermon en-

Those Gambling 'Habits!' Playhouse Stages Two-Act Comedy

"Seven Nuns at Las Vegas," an entertaining two-act comedy, was presented by the Playhouse May 20 at 8:15 p.m. in the campus auditorium.

Written by Natalie White, instructor in drama at Notre Dame University, the hilarious farce was first produced at the University in 1954. Since then it has gone through two printings, and has been a marked success in colleges throughout the country.

Barry's "seven nuns" were Helen Wilson, Anna Wiechman, Dorothy Hosford, Donna Wilson, Patricia Minnaugh, Lynn Donahue, and Gail Hargadon. Lou Buzone was cast as Mr. Edelman, owner of the Silver Dollar Night Club, and Berenice Heretick, Bertha Quina, and Clarissa Molina were the night club entertainers. Mother General was played by Bernadette DiCrocco.

Sister Marie Carol, O.P., director of the play, was assisted in the production by Royce Lake. Patricia Ace was stage manager. The stagecraft class built the set from an original design by Sister M. Karen, O.P., of West Palm Beach.

A Saturday matinee was presented May 19 especially for the enjoyment of Sisters from neighboring convents.

A dietetics major from Caracas, Venezuela, Miss Eugenia Arcila was elected Campus Queen for next year and will reign over campus social life as head of the Social Board. Eugenia, who is completing her studies in three years, is a member of the Foreign Students club and the Home Economics Club, and is secretary-treasurer of the Santa Rosa Spanish Club. Dear Sister Dorothy,

We wish to extend to you our congratulations on the happy occasion of your Silver Jubilee Year. In giving fourteen years of your life as a Dominican Sister to us here at Barry, you have become closely associated in our minds and hearts with all that our beloved college stands for.

We are honored to be a part of your celebration and hope that your twenty-fifth year as a professed Sister of St. Dominic will be filled with abundant blessings and graces from Our Divine Lord.

Our prayers and good wishes are with you, Sister, in all that you do. We shall be with you in spirit as you celebrate your Jubilee officially at the Adrian Motherhouse in June.

Juniors Hold Spring Prom For Graduating Students

Plush atmosphere and a touch of young romance were visible highlights at the annual Junior-Senior Prom, Spring Fantasy, held May 19 from 9-1 p.m. The Flamingo hotel, on Biscayne Bay, was the scene of the long-awaited evening, the ballroom festooned and heaping baskets of pastel daisies decorating the long tables.

Don Rose's ten-piece orchestra provided the music while rustling tafetas and diaphanous chiffons glided about the ballroom floor. Meta Schmitz, junior class social chairman, took charge of the over-all arrangements which included pink stuffed autograph hounds as favors and white velour-like dance programs etched with bright flamingoes.

Given in honor of the 1956 graduates, the dance was presented by the juniors. Committee heads were Margaret Canty and Mary Kathryn Cliatt, dates; Kathleen Hackett, favors; Rita Wiltsey, decorations; Joan Colletti, dance programs; Eugenia Arcila, refreshments; Peggy Ralph, photography; Ruth Mahoney, chaperones; and Diane Surprenant, publicity.

Chaperones for the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Lynskey, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Roussell, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Ouellette, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Brady, Mr. and Mrs. Ubaldo Del Toro, and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Ogden.

Ten Years from Now Wid De-Camera-On . . .

(Apologies to Boccaccio)

*Listen my children and let us tell
Some tales of woe and good as well:
'Twas Miami and May 1966,*

*When a great storm broke trees like sticks
And sent people scurrying, an absurd kind of race,
Seeking some shelter, almost any place.*

*The '56 class, Barry College's own, had gathered
Both near and far from home
To hold a reunion for old times sake
And see what fortunes had been dealt by Fate.*

*But until the storm's wild fury abated
They huddled inside and then related
Their status in life, to see how they compared With the dreams they long ago had spun and shared.*

Dr. Comez (Lucia by name), veterinarian of widespread fame, told of inventing a tiny pill which would cure all animale of any ill.

Barbara Keller now Fifi D'Amour, famous movie star, spoke of her tour. Then Parise of Paree, just over from France, entertained all with a song and a dance.

Marie Kersting, once a teacher, now happily married with nine mischievous children still doesn't look harried.

Beth Frost, a maker of boats from Nyack came down for vacation in a homemade kyack. Married and prosperous with career twofold, she now has twins eight years old.

Mary Mack won the title "Flag Pole Sitter Supreme"—She sat up there longest, and now reigns as queen. A knitting school Carmen Suarez now runs, her largest orders are stoles for the nuns.

The crowd applauds when "Margarita" sinks a ball and a deafening roar fills up the hall, for Yuko Kumata, regardless of height, is a basketball star, tho' just a wee mite.

An interpreter now at the United Nations, Shirley Davis saves us with her translations.

Mrs. Hedgecock has taken the world by a storm giving dynamic speeches on Women's Reform.

Helen Limongelli doesn't want to boast, though she has five children, she still burns the toast.

Mike Buckentin, an artist famous and renowned, Will exhibit in Paris—for there she's soon bound.

Lyn Schlise has a job which many admire—As taster of wines, she soon can retire.

Dot Haggerty's a much-sought clothes designer, while Donna Lynskey runs a diner.

In an all girls' orchestra is Louise Dorn, She not only conducts, but plays a French horn.

Cecile and Shirley, Sally and Noreen, are teachers whose pupils rarely scream or cut up in school, playing about, they're so well trained, they don't dare shout.

An expert seamstress is our own Pat Rowan, All come to her with problems on sewin'.

Mary Ann Guzman is an African guide who just brought back a large elephant hide so that Mary Dinnen, a tanner by trade, some shoes can whip up, by her own hands made.

Testing the vibrations of song in the air is Kathy Shyu, a scientist rare.

Marjorie Benoit is a traveler thru space, her rocket ship leads her quite far apace.

Joanne Rerucha, on a circus trapeze, flies through the air, but not with much ease. A gust of wind, or even a breeze, and she wafts away, to rest in some trees.

Andrea's factory makes paper clips, while a restaurant owner is Miss Buzolits.

Special nurse for the President when he is sick is Mary Ann Hurley, who gets in her lick.

While our other two nurses an ambulance drive, Misses Halsema and Woodward keep patients well and alive.

Kay Hollister's running a soup kitchen now; her M.A. in social work has taught her how.

Kiddies love Sister Michael Henry, O.P., She teaches them Calculus and Trigonometry.

Though Joann Sicking has another name Queen Elizabeth gave her title of "Dame." She cooked in "quantity" for the royal domain, (Let us give thanks, there was no ptomaine!)

Joan Weiller breeds dogs, her spaniels are best, Millie just loaf—she needs the rest.

Christ Church, New Zealand, is Aggie Floyd's home, she first went to look for a prehistoric bone, then decided to settle, and nevermore roam.

*The storm is now over, but the talk goes on;
No one notices that it's nearly dawn*

*Till the sun appears, and all rush away,
To meet again—ten years from this day.*

Alumnae Induct 53 Graduates

Performing the final act of their 1955-56 term Barry College Alumnae officers conducted the reception of fifty-three graduates into the association. Miss Phyllis Gray, president, was assisted in the ceremony by Miss Vivian Decker, vice president; Mrs. Maria Garcia, treasurer; Mrs. Ann Lee Smallwood, recording secretary; and Mrs. Betty Duby, corresponding secretary.

The reception was held Sunday, May 20, from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Florida Room, with the keynote speech being delivered by the Reverend Louis M. O'Leary, O.P.

The fifty-three new alumnae, forty-four seniors and nine two-year secretarial science graduates, received complimentary membership cards which will be effective until December, 1956.

Following the ceremony, tea was served by Alumnae members.

Auxiliary Gives Tea For Seniors

The annual tea given by the Barry college Auxiliary will be held this afternoon, May 28, at 3:30 p.m. in the Florida Gardens.

Mrs. Allen J. Herschling, president, called a board meeting at her beach home on Monday, May 21, to make final arrangements for the tea which will honor the 1956 graduates and their parents.

January graduates, Joanne Rerucha, Toledo, Ohio; Mary Ann Hurley, Shelton, Connecticut; and Andrea Zinane, Kenosha, Wisconsin, are planning to be present for the tea, along with the other festivities that go hand and hand with graduation.

Faculty co-ordinator, Sister M. Jerome, O.P., announced, "The tea is destined to be delightful for both parents and students. Although it has been an annual affair since 1945, we are hoping to add a spice of variety this year, by providing special entertainment."

Angela Clark courageously took a swim, to make the party conform to the announced plans!

May 20, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m., the 1956 graduates were formally inducted into the Alumnae at a social function in the Florida Room of the fine arts building.

May 23 the annual meeting for the election of officers was held in the Florida Room. Alumnae were urged to pay dues.

Address all your letters in future to Barry College Alumnae Association, Room 207, Angelicus Hall, Barry College, Miami 38. This is the new Alumnae Office to be opened in June.

Palm Beach Scene Of Skip Weekend

It was a heyday for the seniors when they vacated the campus en masse May 17 for their traditional Skip Day activities. Beginning on Ascension Thursday, the seniors "skipped" Friday's classes and motored to Palm Beach where they remained until, sunburned and worn out, they returned home Sunday.

Headquarters for their four-day "last-thing" was the Whispering Palms motel situated south of Palm Beach, in Lake Worth. Furnished with kitchenette apartments and an urgent need on everyone's part to "go easy," the girls did most of their own cooking, with food a-plenty and the home ec majors' assistance helping out.

Chaperones were Miss Margaret Husson and Miss Betty Demirgian, Barry faculty members.

Planned activities included a shuffleboard tournament on the motel courts Friday afternoon, and a Saturday night barbecue held at the picnic patio on the motel grounds.

Friday evening the girls dined out as a class at the Palm Beach Pier for a crispy fish dinner and a chance to exchange tales of their experiences while rafting and sunning at the shore earlier in the afternoon.

Shopping on the fashion-renowned Worth Avenue and movie-going filled in the hours not spent riding the huge rolling waves.

Most everyone returned to campus just a little stiff from the sun and exercise, but not without first attending Mass and Communion together at St. Ann's in West Palm Beach and stopping off afterwards for breakfast at Howard Johnson's before packing up to "hit the road" for home.

LOOKING mighty anxious to be on their way, Kathleen Shyu, Cecile Roussell, and Marjorie Benoit pause long enough to say 'so long' to their B.C. classmates before motoring to Palm Beach for senior skip weekend and three full days of sun.

More Than Tennis Keeps Freshman Champ Busy

by Pat Rowan

Dolls and dishes are the usual playthings for a twelve-year-old girl, but for Mary Barry, a tennis racket was her best-loved toy.

Mary is an amateur tennis champ from Orlando, enrolled as a freshman at Barry. Proof of her prowess on the court can be seen in the many trophies and titles she has won. At nineteen, she is the holder of the West Coast Championship, the Orlando City Championship, the Junior and Single-Doubles of Florida, and the East Coast Women's Singles.

One might suppose that an interest in a sport as active as tennis would leave little time for much else. But Mary, in spite of the fact tennis is her first love, manages to study with good success, keep up a few hobbies, and yes, have dates!

She says if eating is a hobby, then it's her favorite one. Steaks rare, and chocolate milk shakes are probably not very good for the figure, but they're very tasty all the same, says Mary. When asked if her tennis required any special diet, she smiled wryly and answered, "It's supposed to, but I manage to slip a few little favorites in every now and then."

Reading occupies much of Mary's spare time. She enjoys a thrilling western or mysteries, and thinks that to relax with a good book is the best method for resting weary muscles after a strenuous practice or meet.

Mary has definite ideas for her future, and states that she entertains no idea of becoming a tennis player. She's satisfied with being amateur, and thinks that professional sports should be left to the men.

"I want what almost every girl wants, a home and family," she explains. When asked if she had any special affair of the heart at present, she shrugged her shoulders and said, "There's plenty of time for thinking about that, when I'm through school."

Class Applies Makeup Skills At St. Pat's

That "experience is the best teacher" is agreed upon by the members of Sister Trinita's theatrical makeup class. The class was recently offered the opportunity to practice their skills on the cast of "The Wizard of Oz," the annual school operatta of Saint Patrick's high school, Miami Beach. In the absence of Sister Trinita, the girls planned and applied the makeup for performances on April 25, 27 and 29.

Such characters as the Tin Man, the Lion, and the Witch afforded excellent opportunity for the girls to use their initiative. Makeup artists included Canora Woodham, Pat Minnaugh, Donna Wilson, Pat Davidson, Anna Wiechman, Bunny Heretick, Clarissa Molina and Joan Wooten.

CLUB CLIPPINGS . . .

Last Sunday Sodality prefect, Lyn Schlise, and next year's prefect, Margie Canty, attended a deanery meeting at St. Patrick's auditorium, Miami Beach, for World Sodality day. Lyn reports a stimulating discussion was held on the organization of the lay apostolate.

At their last general meeting May 16, the sodalists heard Carol Healy sing a hymn in honor of the Blessed Mother, afterwards electing Patricia Ace as their vice prefect for next year.

Dorothy Hosford was elected president of Beta Kappa Kappa with Canora Woodham serving as vice-president for the school term beginning next fall. Elected to office also at the May meeting was Janis Brown, acting as new secretary-treasurer for next year.

A discussion period was held to reiterate the aims and purposes of the club and discuss plans for next year's meetings. Other business included an open talk concerning the Good Neighbor policy, with special reference to the Far Eastern and European countries.

Induction of new members to Beta Kappa was held May 18, concluding their one-year period of probation. Silver keys were presented to the new members, after which refreshments were served to members and their guests.

Contemplating a trip to Europe, Regina Buzolits is desirous of a dark wardrobe, and has already purchased a nubby blue wool suit by Dan Millstein. Afterwards, her married life will require mostly simple basic clothes, well tailored, complemented with tasteful accessories.

THE TRADITIONAL May crowning of our Lady took place in Cor Jesu chapel the evening of May 1 with Sodality Prefect, Marilyn Schlise placing the wreath of flowers on the Blessed Mother's statue. With the prefect (center) is her court, l. to r., Noreen O'Sullivan, Anne Marx, Margaret Canty, Gail Hargardon, Donna Lynskey, Mary Kathryn Cliatt, Janet Hart, Barbara Keck, and Mary Agnes Hierholzer. Marilyn's two young attendants are Carol McCaughan and Michael McEachern.

On arrival she found that her things were still back in Miami, so-o-o-o-o her date escorted her to the girls' dorm nearby where they helpfully let her choose from their wardrobes whatever she needed. Ultimately the whole affair turned out beautifully.

Sally Had a Shower . . .

and the juniors and seniors had just as much fun as the bride-to-be, watching her open so m-a-n-y lovely packages. The June bride's mother, Mrs. Mitchell, was on hand, as were Mrs. Lynskey and Mrs. Limongelli. The party was a linen shower, given in Sally's honor by Myra Botner, Donna Lynskey, and Helen Limongelli.

Seniors Choose Varied Fashions For New Occupations Ahead

by Helen Limongelli

With the termination of the school year for Barry girls and the advent of many into different walks of life, each student will be making her contribution to the fashion world.

After a hop and jump survey 'cross campus your fashion reporter is ready to give you a brief sketch on the various fashions which will soon be taking Barry's seniors on through the summer.

Margie Benoit will be showing anything but a studious outlook for the coming summer, with her new wardrobe that includes two bathing suits, one a Scotch plaid, the other a sailor style, complete with middy and Bermuda shorts.

SALLY WEARS WEDDING GOWN

Sally Mitchell will swish into style soon after graduation, in a ballerina wedding dress of white chantilly lace over nylon tulle, featuring a square neckline with a lace applique bodice. Her elbow length veil will be topped with a pearl-trimmed lace hat coming to a point in the front. Thereafter, Sally will be seen mostly in sheath dresses with French-heel shoes, to carry her through her teaching and married life. As an economy-wise gesture, she will also aspire to learn sewing through a certified teacher, Donna Lynskey.

Donna, however, states that she won't be able to afford anything new, so her contribution to the fashion world will be a repetition of last year's, save for some material which she will make up in teaching her high school girls how to sew.

Lucy Gomez is very succinct in the account of her wardrobe for her medical profession—a "white coat".

Marie Kersting announces her requirements to be clothes which are comfortable, sporty, and neat in appearance.

LOUISE MAKES HER OWN

Louise Dorn is already in the process of making her future wardrobe, containing a straight linen dress with a color scheme of beige monochromatic butterflies; also, for Joanne Sicking's wedding, a bridesmaid dress of pale blue embroidered cotton featuring a lapping neckline.

Joanne Sicking has purchased her wedding dress of white lace applique extending from the princess styled waist to the ankle length hem, over white Duiponi silk. Its sleeves are short and shirred, the neck scooped. Joanne's headdress will be a Juliet cap with veil.

MYRA CHOOSES COTTONS

Myra Botner is desirous of anything that is practicable for teaching in the elementary school, mainly, washable cottons. After the wedding, her going-away dress will
