Students Elect New President

By MYRNA GALLAGHER

Upon the second ballot, with 97% of the student body voting, Miss Gail Hargadon was elected Student Body President for the 1957-1958 school year. Gail, a native of West Palm Beach, is an elementary education major at Barry.

She has taken an active part in Barry's club life and holds membership in the Tara Singers, Choir, Sodality, Playhouse, Athletic Association, and Beta Kappa Kappa.

Gail has held the offices of social chairman for her sophomore and junior classes. She has also been secretary and treasurer of the Sodality, secretary of the Athletic Association, and social board representative.

She has been pledged to Lamba Sigma Honor Society and was elected "Queen For A Day" in her sophomore year.

Miss Maria Diprima, a resident student from Rome, Ga., was elected Sodality Prefect for the coming year.

Maria, a music education major, holds the Bishop Barry Scholarship. She was secretary-treasurer of the Deep South club and was active in the Cecilian club. Maria holds membership in the Sodality, Tara Singers, Choir, Beta Kappa Kappa, Athletic Association and Barry's orchestra.

Presently Maria is House Council chairman. She was elected to her new position on the third ballot with 83% of the Sodality voting. (Only Sodality members are eligible to vote for the Prefect.)

A music education major from Eau Gallie, Fla., Miss Jennifer Castello, was elected as next year's Campus Queen.

Jenny was awarded a prize in her first year at Barry for being the "freshman who contributed the most."

She presented a concert in her sophomore year, and won the honor of appearing on the Ted Mack Amateur Hour in her junior year. In 1956 Jenny performed as a representative of Barry at the Florida Music Teachers' Association.

She now holds membership in the Tara Singers, Choir, and Barry or-

At Commencement ...

College to Confer LL. D. On Southern Educator

By Virginia DeSiato

Barry college will confer an Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws on Dr. Guy Everett Snavelly, chancellor and president of Birmingham-Southern college, at commencement exercises in the auditorium, Monday, June 3, at 8 p.m.

Also receiving degrees will be 48 Barry college students including the charter class of department of nursing candidates.

The Most Rev. Archbishop Joseph P. Hurley, D.D., Bishop of St. Augustine, will confer the student degrees, which include eleven Bachelor of Arts, 16 Bachelor of Science, and 21 B.S. in Nursing degrees. For successful completion of their two-year course nine secretarial science students will be given certificates.

Rev. Louis M. O'Leary, O.P., will introduce the guest speaker, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick O'Connor. Msgr. O'Connor is pastor of the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Atlanta, Ga., and former director of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, Washington, D. C.

Graduating "magna cum laude" are Catherine Mykytaka, Mary Rose Riordan and Margaret Ralph. Terry Ann Hendricks will receive the honor "cum laude."

Dr. Snavelly will be honored for the service and guidance he has rendered Barry college ever since its opening in 1940.

A graduate of Johns Hopkins University, Dr. Snavelly has been active in many national education associations and has written several books, among them Choose and Use Your College and The Church and the Four-Year College.

The graduation program will include the Tara Singers who will sing the "Hallelujah Chorus" from the Messiah by Handel.

Grads Inducted Into Alumnae

The annual May meeting of the Barry College Alumnae, at which outgoing seniors and secretarial students are inducted into the association, was held this year on the twenty-first, in the Florida Room.

Presiding was Mrs. Marilyn Byrnes Healy, '51, and the meeting opened with a prayer led by Father Louis M. O'Leary, O.P.

After minutes read by secretary Betty Saunders Duby, '49, and a report given by the treasurer, Cecile Roussell, '56, Adelia McInarnay, '48, presented three scholarships to Sister M. Edmund, O.P.

The scholarships consisted of a $350 tuition grant for a Florida student, $450 for an out-of-state girl, and $168 as a partial tuition scholarship.

Following her words of acceptance, Sister M. Edmund presented a paper which she had read for the diocesan convention of the NCCW recently. It was entitled, "Woman, Handmaid of the Lord."

Graduates of 1957 were inducted into the Alumnae by Mrs. Healy and Sister M. Dorothy, O.P. Received as associate members were the students completing the two-year course in secretarial science.

A. A. Takes Prize As Club-of-Year

The Athletic Association is the winner of the third annual Club-of-the-Year contest sponsored by ANGELICUS. This is the formal announcement of the winner and Dorothy Hosford, A.A. president, is asked to come to the ANGELICUS room, 155, today to receive the gold trophy.

Second place is awarded to the Barry college Playhouse. President of the Playhouse for the past year was Patricia Minnaugh. The Santa Rosa Spanish Club wins third place and the Foreign Students Club, honorable mention.

The clubs were judged mainly on material from the typed report blanks distributed monthly by ANGELICUS. The ability to fulfill club purposes and aims and to stimulate campus activity were other necessary factors in the contest.

Some campus clubs have not consistently returned their reports although they have been active on campus. Thus they were not in the final running.

Juniors Choose Fleisch Again

Following the major campus elections, the juniors met May 17 to choose a president to lead them in their senior year. Carolyn Fleisch, this year's president, was reelected.

At this same meeting the juniors elect Dorothy Hosford and Anne Marx as co-editors of the 1958 Torch and Shield. The girls expect to attend a workshop in Florida during the summer to get ideas on annual make-up and themes. The yearbook staff will be selected and plans made before school closes. Each class will be represented on the staff.

The day students also did some electing this month. Diane Le Fevre was elected upon the first ballot to head their organization, the largest on campus, for the 1957-58 school year. Diane previously held the office of secretary and served as a counselor.

SYMPATHY

The faculty and students extend an assurance of prayers and deepest sympathy to Sister Joseph Margaret, O.P., on the death of her mother. R. I. P.

Four Seniors Win Full Scholarships

Four high school seniors received full tuition scholarship to Barry college for the 1957-58 school year. The scholarships were awarded on the basis of competitive examinations.

Winners and their high schools are Julie M. Atkins, 2040 Country Club Prado, Coral Gables, St. Theresa high school;

Mary Ann English, 630 N.W. 133rd St., Miami, North Miami Senior High; Mercedes Molina, sister of Clarissa Molina, Barry junior, 825 N. E. 91st Terr., Miami Shores, St. Patrick high school; and Carolyn Oswald, 561 Osceola, Clermont, Clermont high school.

Partial tuition scholarships were awarded to Edwina Scanlan, 1835 N.E. 154th Terr., North Miami Beach, North Miami High; Jane Gallagher, 1201 N.W. 16th Ct., Ft. Lauderdale, Central Catholic; Noreen F. McGeown, 670 Nightingale Ave., Miami Springs, Notre Dame Academy.

Eleven girls throughout the state received honorable mention. They are Mary Jane Faherty, Academy of the Holy Names, Tampa; Jeanette Valik, Convent of Mary Immaculate, Key West; Marion Lewis, St. Ann High School, West Palm Beach; Patricia Conrad, North Miami Senior High, North Miami; Maryann Milmore, North Miami Senior High, North Miami; Judith Wieman, Academy of the Holy Names, Tampa; Elizabeth Dixon, Notre Dame Academy, Miami; Mary Hirsch, St. Theresa, Coral Gables; Mary Theresa Seegers, Bishop Kenny High, Jacksonville; Shirley Tani, St. Paul High School, Daytona Beach; and Mary Hellwig, Bishop Moore High, Orlando.

Registration Dates

Registration for the Barry college summer session will take place on June 21, 22 from 9:00-11:30 a.m. and from 1:30-4:30 p.m. The actual session will be June 24 through Aug. 1.

Summer graduation will be Aug. 1 at 7:30 p.m.

Summer school schedules are now available in the administration office.

Rooms are available for resident students. For reservations call the Villa, PL 7-2687.

Athletes Hold Annual Banquet Soph Named President

The annual Athletic Association banquet was held Wednesday, May 22, in Calaroga dining hall.

Announcement of the new A.A. president for 1957-58 was the highlight of the evening. Priscilla Belanger was elected president.

The class plaque was awarded to the junior class. This presentation is based on the results of Big and Little Olympic Day.

Dot Hosford was given the award for receiving the most points during the school year. Pat Ace, Ruth Mahoney and Dot Hosford have achieved 500 points in the association.

Ruth Mahoney received the ping-pong award and Inky Vieling, tennis.

Five olive wreaths were given to freshman Sandy Riley, Larita Norris, Elinore Lackey, Janet Marine and Sally Lathers for winning 100 points.

Father Monroe Celebrates Silver Jubilee as Priest

Philosophy professor and originator of the "ineffable Charlie," Father John Monroe is celebrating his Silver Jubilee as a priest in the Order of Preachers this month. For the past four of these 25 years, he has been at Barry as college chaplain.

The philosophy Father consistently recommends to his students for their happiness is "Love God."

To assist Father on his trip to Europe in early June, the student body presented him with a bon voyage purse. A special program was held in his honor Monday, May 20, the actual date of his ordination in 1932.

Father Monroe studied at St. Rose's Priory, Springfield, Ky., and was ordained in Washington.

The following year he went to China and taught in the seminary there until 1939 when he was transferred to Manila. In 1940 Father returned to the United States and from 1941 to 1950 he was president of Aquinas College high school, Columbus, Ohio.

After being Prior at St. Stephen's in Dover, Mass., for the next three years, Father Monroe came to Barry college, Miami.

Father obtained his A.B. degree at Providence college, Rhode Island; his M.A. and S.T.Lr. at Catholic University and Immaculate Conception college, in Washington, D.C., respectively. He received his Litt. D. in Manila.

Fr. Monroe

Guests who assisted at the "family" jubilee celebration on campus included Msgr. William Barry and Father Cyril W. Burke, O.P.

Retrospect and Forecast

Only one short year ago we paid tribute to the successful achievements of the campus leaders who were graduating. We reminded newly-elected officers that the work of maintaining the level of 1955-1956 leadership was distinctly challenging.

Once again, then, let us pause to thank God for His goodness in blessing the efforts of our student leaders. The incumbent student-body president attacked a big job. She succeeded notably in the work of maintaining the level of leadership bequeathed her by her predecessor. She worked consistently toward strengthening faculty-student relationships and understanding. Enthusiasm, sincerity, loyalty, fidelity to detail, and a genuine concern for each aspect of campus life has characterized the work of the student body president of 1956-1957.

The Student Council has worked together cooperatively, and for the most part wholeheartedly. As we evaluate the work of the past year, we find a long list of big and little jobs which have been successfully finished. We find many recommendations which the Council has made to guide the incoming leaders and to suggest yet other avenues of work to be done. Much student time has been sacrificed in planning and executing these projects. Much student thought has been directed toward the suggestions now on file. Genuine seriousness of purpose has characterized the over-all picture of these activities.

Barry college appreciates and treasures this record. Faculty members regretfully bid farewell to these departing leaders, praying that their work here will prove to have been a fitting preparation for the wider and more varied leadership which awaits them in their communities.

We thank those who are departing and wish them well; we likewise welcome and congratulate the newly-elected leaders who replace them. May God continue to direct and bless the Barry college student body. If we may accurately judge the future in the light of the past, then we may expect new levels of leadership achievement in the year to come.

—Sister Mary Alice

My Dear Graduates:

It is four years since we met. I sincerely hope that the association was as pleasant for you as it was for me.

When you leave Barry you will take part of Barry with you. What you leave at Barry will be following you in prayer and good wishes. God be with you wherever you may go.

God bless you in everything you do.

Sincerely,

Father Monroe, O.P.

Patch That Deflating Balloon

Have you ever thought of yourself as a balloon?

Well, if not, think of it now because when you arrived on campus in September you were so filled with animation and joy that you acted like one—ready to float.

After a few days of preparation, the tasks of school and homework, tests began. It is usually agreed that it would be nice to make a good grade.

But just how important?

Is it important enough to make you deceitful? To make you lose face in the eyes of your classmates? To cheat?

If you began cheating first semester, you're still cheating now in May—each time taking a bit more and more.

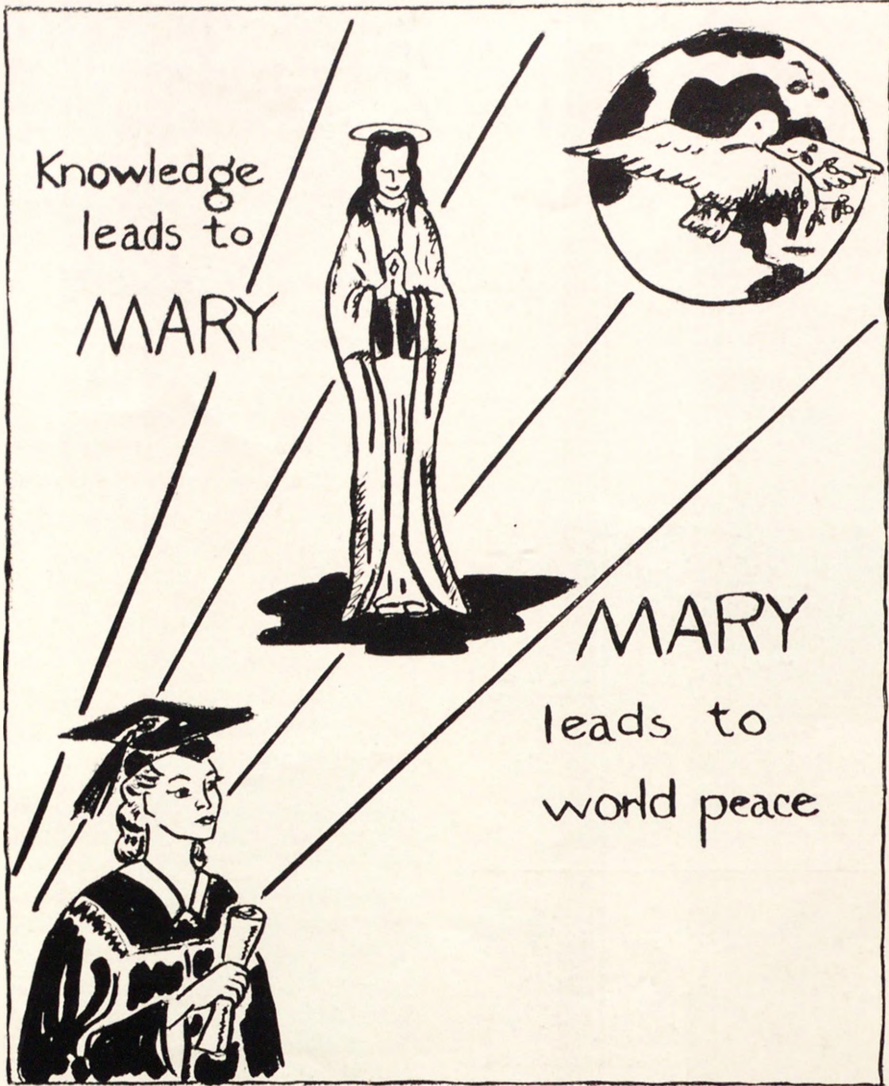

The first time you cheated it was as if a small pin had pricked that big balloon. As the cheating increased, the joyous air began to escape.

The peace of mind is fleeing and the grades aren't much different!

By the time the final exams have arrived (and they HAVE), you're practically deflated. However, it's not too late to patch that balloon before the end of the year. Let's get busy and doctor that "deflated spirit" by a good confession and hard studying. With some earnest prayers you may make a "C" or possibly a "B" on your card!

In your eyes and the eyes of heaven that "C" will appear an "A" if you know it's your own.

A letter of the alphabet doesn't mean very much when your conscience is content and at peace.

CAMPUS MAILBAG

Dear Editor:

For me, the most enjoyable monthly article in the paper is the fashion one. It always contains something new which has not been previously seen in all the local papers. The commentary by Diane is always very interesting and is written in a pleasing manner.

I always look forward to the paper but mainly to the fashion article because I enjoy it so much.

I hope that in the coming years you will always include a fashion story of some kind because I am sure most of the girls really enjoy it.

Catherine Hundley

Dear Editor:

This past November, I planned to write a letter to you telling you how I really like Barry. And now that I have been here for two and a half years, I can tell you and all those interested a lot more about it.

Many factors make Barry the exceptional college that it is. We all realize that living practically under the same roof with the Blessed Sacrament is a great privilege. Daily Mass, Benediction, Family Rosary, and visits to the chapel are offered to every Barryite. A trip to chapel is a big lift, especially when an examination or an important decision faces us. Education is vital because our aim in college is to develop our intellectual powers.

Our classes are made interesting by the Sisters, priests and other faculty members who strive to give us as well rounded an education as possible. The general and reference libraries offer the necessary information and quiet needed to accomplish difficult assignments.

Our development into cultured women comes second only to religion and education. The Sisters' motherly suggestions are necessary because the traits and habits we develop now will always remain with us. A soft voice, a polite and sincere manner, a cheerful disposition, and promptness form a cultured woman—the kind of woman we all strive to become.

A vital part of college, of slightly less importance, is our social life.

Special lectures and concerts provide us with actual occasions to learn and practice our etiquette as part of a group. The many dances, formal and informal, are excellent social functions. The Investiture ceremony is an invaluable experience for the freshmen.

The big and little sister party, outdoor suppers, and other social functions are homelike events that all of us have enjoyed. The personal interest of our advisors and other faculty members makes us all feel at home, members of Sister Mary Edmund's Dominican family. All these factors together make Barry a perfect "second home."

Sincerely yours,
Mary Agnes Hierholzer

Book Review

By CATHLEEN PHELAN

The Man On A Donkey, according to critic V. S. Pritchett in the New York Times, is "a scholar's brilliant evocation of life in the England of Henry VIII . . . immensely superior to the faked-up costume stuff we usually get in historical fiction."

H. F. M. Prescott, who won the James Tait Black prize for her biography of Mary Tudor, wrote The Man On A Donkey over a period of eleven years, extending from 1941 to 1952. Miss Prescott received her B.A. in the School of Modern History at Oxford, and M.A. degrees from Oxford and Manchester.

An author's note describes The Man On A Donkey as a chronicle, whose reader must find his way through a mass of incidents and details. At first the shift from one story with its own characters, to another different story, is distracting.

Then there appears a thread running through these loosely-connected events. This type of narration becomes more interesting as the pieces of the pattern fit together. Much of the material has its basis in fact, and the real names of many important characters are retained. The characterizations are clear and human — commanding the sympathy of the reader.

The book moves along at a fair pace; adventure sometimes is dragged out by description, but it is good description. The reader is left with a strong impression of the effect of Henry VIII's pillage of the English countryside. England is seen divided and torn. On one side is the self-willed king, on the other a small group of Catholics determined to oppose the tyrannical monarch. From this presentation, it would seem that Henry's success was due in part to the dangerous indifference of many English Catholics.

The least ostentatious part of the novel is that which deals with Malle, the half-crazy serving woman who sees the Man on the donkey. Yet this idea is ever-present and keeps the unfolding tale from being utterly pessimistic.

Much To Do Before "I Do"

Two commencements in one week is a big order, even for an efficient Student Council president who is accustomed to tangling with many projects at the same time!

Mary Lu Harding, who has held Barry's highest student office during 1956-1957, will graduate on June 3, and on June 10 she will become Mrs. James Seery Desmond at a Nuptial Mass to be celebrated at 10:00 a.m. in St. Anthony's Catholic church, Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

The formal double-ring wedding will be followed by a breakfast reception in the Starlight Room of the Largo Mar Hotel, Fort Lauderdale. The color scheme will be blue and white in honor of Our Lady.

Mary Lu in a full length, princess line white organzine gown, will wear the fingertip Brussels lace veil that she bought in Europe. She will carry white roses, blue daisies and ivy in a floral arrangement over white rosary beads, a wedding gift from Sister Mary Alice, Student Council moderator.

Mrs. Caesar O. Aldisert, Pittsburgh resident and sister of the bride, is to be matron of honor. She will wear a blue organza gown and will carry a white bouquet. Richard A. Desmond, brother of the groom, will be best man.

Flower girls Debra and Diane Catlin, six and seven respectively, will wear gowns of white nylon over blue taffeta.

The groom, assistant manager of Household Finance in Fort Lauderdale, is a graduate of St. Joseph's college, Philadelphia. After receiving his B.B.A. degree, he served with the United States Marine Corps in Korea.

In keeping with the blue and white theme, a small shrine of Our Lady will replace the usual bride and groom atop the three-tiered cake. The replica is being made by two Barry students, Margaret Donnelly and Amalia Navarro.

Mary Lu, an education major, plans to teach next fall in the Fort Lauderdale area where the couple will re-

They plan a two-week honeymoon touring Florida.

Sister Attends Ordination of Brother in Ind.

Rev. Joseph Emanuel, brother of Sister Marie Rosaria of Barry's music department, was ordained Saturday, May 25, at 9:30 a.m. in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Joseph Emanuel of Ft. Wayne, the new priest is the only brother of Sister Marie Rosaria.

His Excellency the Most Rev. Leo Pursley officiated at the ordination.

Father Emanuel celebrated his first Mass at 11 a.m. Sunday, May 26, in Immaculate Conception Cathedral, his family parish. Present for the ordination and the first Mass were his parents, other relatives, and friends, as well as Sister Marie Rosaria.

Sister flew to Indiana last Friday morning, and was accompanied to the ceremonies in Ft. Wayne by Sister Michael Agnes, O.P., who teaches at St. Ambrose high school, Detroit, Mich.

Sister Marie Rosaria requested the ANGELICUS reporter to solicit the students' prayers for her brother, "that in his priestly life he may truly be another Christ."

Seven Girls Give Student Concert

Seven members of the music department presented a student concert May 5 in the Barry auditorium. Juniors in recital were Maria Diprima, Jennifer Castello and Luette Mertz; sophomores, Constance Von Bramer, Adele De Los Santos and Roseline Serralles, and freshman Elizabeth Bartlett.

Maria Diprima played "Le Petit Ane Blanc" by the contemporary artist, Ibert, and "Etude in C Minor, Op. No. 10, No. 12" by Chopin in her piano solo.

Jennifer Castello in the works of the classicists, Chopin and Beethoven, played "Etude in A Flat, Op. 25" and "Sonata, Op. 27, No. 2 Presto Agitato," respectively. Elizabeth Bartlett, violinist, balanced classicist Vioti's "Concerto, Op. 22 Allegro" with "Shon Rosmarin" by the contemporary Kriesler.

Constance Von Bramer added to the Brahms' "Intermezzo" the well-known composition of the contemporary, Coplan, "The Cat and the Mouse."

Adele De Los Santos and Luette Mertz both played the works of the impressionistic Debussy, "Arabesque, No. 2" and "Prelude—Les Tierces Alternees," respectively. Adele also presented Mozart's "Sonata, No. 8 Allegro" and Luette, Beethovens "Sonata, Op. 31, No. 2 Allegro."

Cellist Roseline Serralles played Below's "Berceuse."

Besides their solos the students played three duets, and four of the girls, Luette Constance, Adele and Maria, concluded the concert with a double-duet, "Rugue in A Minor" by Bach-Grainger.

Alumnae . . .

Business included the adoption of the 1957 revision of the Alumnae constitution, and the election of new officers. Mrs. Margaret Conlon Brodeur, '52, was elected president for 1957-1958, while Adelia McInarnay was elected vice president, and Cecile Roussell, secretary.

Informal talks were given by the Alumnae chaplain, Father Louis M. O'Leary, O.P., and by a special guest, Father Cyril W. Burke, O.P., who spent eleven years as chaplain and professor at Barry college, beginning in 1941.

Before refreshments were served, the chairman announced that the annual Mass requested by the Alumnae for the graduates and the living members of the association would be on June 3, 1957.

Old Shad Feels Petulant

Did you know that Aristotle and Aquinas have joined the Barry family? Those illustrious names belong to none other than Sister Loyola's two pet-turtles.

Sister is having a bit of trouble, Shad heard on the faculty porch the other evening. Aquinas refuses to stay in his pen. He keeps wandering off by himself . . . meditation and introspection, perhaps?

In the Menagerie Corner must be included the tale of the Dartmouth Alligator. It seems that Mary Alice Curry had sent (upon request) a souvenir of Florida—a baby 'gator—to a friend at Dartmouth.

Just the other night she received an emergency long-distance call. It was the friend wanting to know (a) "What do you feed the thing?" and (b) "Why isn't it eight feet long?"

Shad didn't quite catch Mary Alice's answer to the first question, but to the latter she replied, "Just wait eight years."

Quip of the Month Dept.: While taking a logic test, Barbara Romanello had written "Come, Holy Ghost, enlighten me" at the top of her paper. After it had been graded, it was returned to her with this comment added, "A little louder, kid, He didn't hear you."

After seeing the smile on Margie Fisher's face when she received her miniature Notre Dame ring, and noticing the way Joanne Sullivan has been walking on clouds since she came back from a week-end at Holy Cross, Old Shad is left with this thought: Nothing makes a college girl happier than a college boy!

Dreams really do come true. Ask Virginia Saran. She received a silver blue mink (yes, MINK) stole for her birthday.

Shad will be there to wish Father Monroe, Sister Eulalia, Margie Canty and Pat Minnaugh "bon voyage" when they embark on their respective trips to Europe this summer. With a bit of encouragement he might even decide to go along as a stow-away . . . 'cause Old Shad will be a mighty lonesome spirit until y'all return to his favorite haunts next September.

See you then!

Swim Togs Match For Fun in Sun

By DIANC

With only days to go until summer grants a whole three months' reprieve to college students, suitcase packing seems to be a most popular pastime.

Before closing the lid, you'll be real smart to tuck in a summer fashion must—the covered-up swim suit.

It might hinder your getting a nice, even tan, but the glamor galore this high-necked, splashy-printed suit of polished cotton lends is more than ample recompense.

Everything is made to match lately, and bathing attire is no exception. This white splattered with black suit has a white terry cloth beach coat with a reversible lining of black and white.

But the trend doesn't stop there! Even the lining of the natural straw coolie hat matches!

And, for that "tres chic" touch, there's an over-sized draw-string beach bag in the same printed fabric.

Editor Attends Staff Luncheon

Joan Nielsen McHale, Woman's editor of the Miami Daily News, was guest of the Angelicus staff for an informal luncheon held in the press room, 155, on Thursday, May 2.

Joan said that she "enjoyed talking to the girls informally" and she felt that with a small interested group present "more could be accomplished."

The importance of practical experience in all phases of newspaper work for future use in applying for jobs was emphasized by Joan. She also said that the girls had to keep uppermost in their minds the fact that a woman must be twice as good as a man in the field of journalism.

The general conversation of the luncheon verged on the social aspect of news writing and how the socially prominent of all cities, especially Miami and Miami Beach, react to publicity. Joan feels that most members of the social set are honest, sincere people.

chestra. Previously she belonged to Beta Kappa Kappa and was secretary of the Cecilian club.

This year Jenny served as vice-president of her class. Holder of the Food Fair scholarship for her junior and senior year, she has also been awarded a scholarship to Columbia University, N. Y., for further study.

Jenny was elected upon the third ballot with 89% of the student body voting.

Elected to attend the Queen in next year's court were Ana Dominguez, Anne Marx, Marilyn Wood and Donna Wilson.

FIPA-FISGA Calls Joint Convention

U. of M. Plays Host

The joint convention of the Florida Intercollegiate Student Government Association and Florida Intercollegiate Press Association was called into session on May 9, at 7:30 p.m. 'til noon May 11.

The University of Miami played host to the FIPA-FISGA spring session, and delegates from eleven Florida colleges convened at the University's Student Union building for the scheduled sessions of the convention.

The three days called for joint and separate sessions of the associations. The student government assemblies included talks and panel discussions on "Student Government in America," "Student Government Problems," "Integration of Student Activities," and an address by Dean Noble Hendrix, Dean of Students at the University.

The Press Association subdivided its discussions into newspaper, yearbook and sports. Their open forums and addresses included, "Freedom of the College Press," "Supporting a Political Party," "Sports Editing," "Yearbook Layout," and Norman D. Christensen, University of Miami director of student publications, advised "How to Make Your Paper Better."

Dr. Paul Vonk, of the University's Philosophy department, chose the topic "Why Student Government and Press" for the convention banquet, held Friday night in the faculty dining room.

Mary Lu Harding, Gail Hargadon and Juanita Keeton represented Barry as FISGA delegates. FIPA delegates from Barry were Pat Johnston, Diane LeFevre and Cynthia Dodd.

Three Plays Draw Final Curtain On Theatrical Productions for 1957

THE UGLY DUCKLING

The Ugly Duckling, by A. A. Milne, was presented May 19 under the student direction of drama major Donna Wilson, in the Barry auditorium.

Barbara Riecken played Princess Camilla; Sandra Riley, the King; and Bernice Heretick, the Queen. Ducibella was portrayed by Jane Turnbull and Prince Simon was enacted by Anna Wiechman. The Chancellor and Carlo were played by Rosemary Schiraldi and Barbara Ronan, respectively.

The committee line-up included Sally Lathers and Helen Wilson working on publicity and Pat Minnaugh as stage managers.

Crew members were Boots Kiep, Judy Balcerski, Judy O'Neill, Barbara Miskell, Terry Barry, Pat Coffman and Pat Malo. Sister Karen, O.P., designed the set for the play.

Mary Jane Cole and Terry Maxwell were in charge of properties and Betty Benford directed the lighting. Clarissa Molina, Gail Hargadon and Joyce Estes handled costumes while Mary Alice Curry and Joan Wooten headed make-up.

A SUNNY MORNING

At the last Playhouse meeting of the school year, May 23, at 7:30 p.m.,

A Sunny Morning, by the Quintero Brothers, was enacted. It is a translation of a one-act Spanish play with Kay Holpp as student director. Royce Lake and Ariela Carbonell played the leading roles.

ANTIGONE

As part of their final exam, the Play Production class and the Fundamentals of Acting class will present Antigone, a Greek tragedy. Staged in the outdoor theater of the Florida Gardens, it recounts the plight of a young maiden who disobeys the king's order and buries her dead brother, Polyneices. Antigone is one of the most perfect of the Greek tragedies and the classes have made a study of its lines.

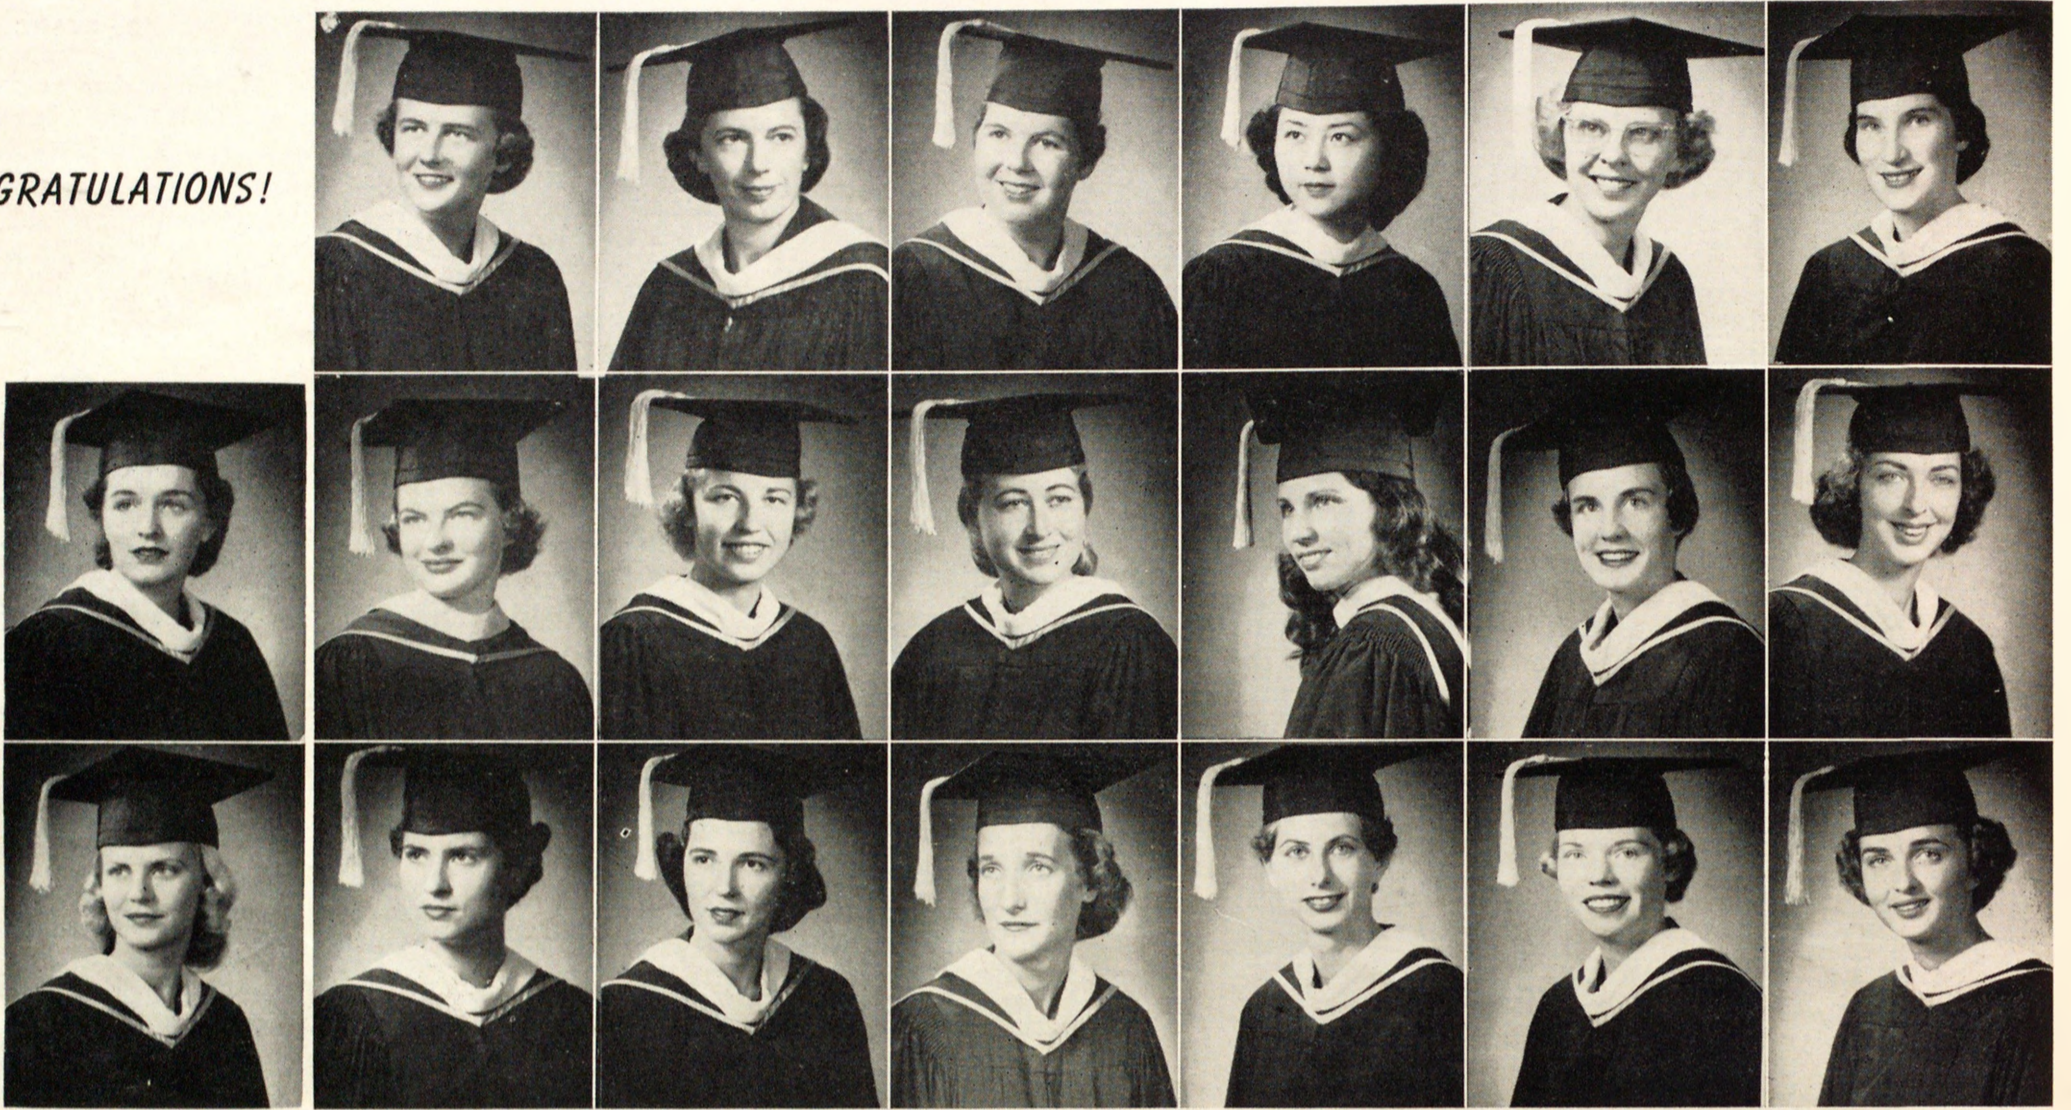

Clarissa Molina has the title role of Antigone. Pat Minnaugh portrays Creon, the king. Kay Holpp plays Isment, Antigone's sister, while Donna Wilson is Haimon, the bridegroom of Antigone.

The Chorus is Anna Weichman with Bernice Heretick as Teiresias. Royce Lake and Ruth Gola interpret the roles of the Sentry and Queen Eurydice.

The play is under the direction of Sister Marie Carol, O.P., and will be presented May 30.

Senior Reigns As Miss Floriana

If any of the art studios have taken on the aspect of an European Court of nobility lately, the reason is elementary, my dear Rembrandt!

Senior art major Joan Colletti has been selected as "Miss Floriana" of the Royal Poinciana Festival, held this year June 2-6.

The pageant, sponsored by the city of Miami in honor of the stately tree with the flaming scarlet blossom, will begin Sunday at 12:30 p.m. with a flotilla of yachts from the Jordan Marsh yacht basin.

The flotilla, carrying the Poinciana Queen and her court will proceed to Haulover Beach to view the Royal Poinciana water-ski tournament.

The office coronation will take place Wednesday, June 5, at 7:45 p.m. at the Bayfront Park Bandshell.

Doris Bruner, University of Miami, will be crowned Royal Poinciana Queen XX.

The members of Queen Doris's court are residents of Dade County, and were selected on the basis of their scholastic ability, participation in campus activities and personality.

Band 'Gilds' 1957 Prom

Jrs. Pick Surf Room

The Surf Room and the formal gardens of the Roney Plaza Hotel, along with the music of Claude Harris and his orchestra, set the mood for the annual Junior Prom, "Fantasy in Gold," May 25, 9 p.m.

Decorations for the prom, which was given in honor of the senior class, were done entirely in gold and white to carry out the theme.

Gail Hargadon, class social chairman and general coordinator of the dance, supervised the arrangements with the help of committee chairmen and junior class president, Carolyn Fleisch.

Theme committee and publicity were headed by Barbara Hartley; invitations, Rose Marie Brodeur; escorts, Patricia Casey; refreshments, Dot Hosford; decorations, Bernice Heretick; and programs, Carole Boemer.

Skip Day Spent Aboard Yacht

Mr. Mead Lends Boat

Skip day was ship day!

Senior skip day, May 16, was spent by the Class of '57 aboard the Leprechaun, through the courtesy of Mr. George Mead of 5666 Collins Ave., Miami Beach, who donated the yacht for the occasion.

Captain Meyers and the class embarked at 9:30 a.m. and spent several hours at sea, returning in the afternoon in time for the girls to have a dip and a snack at the Kenilworth.

To satisfy the appetites whetted by sea spray and wind, the seniors had box lunches, packed at home by day-hops and at school by Mr. Thomas Ogden.

General arrangements for skip day were handled by Peggy Ralph, senior president, while Therese Mathes was in charge of plans for the Leprechaun.

The Angelicus Staff extends its hearty congratulations, best wishes and prayers to the graduating class of 1957.

Sophs Honor 9 At 'Old Scandia'

Sophomores met at the Old Scandia May 8, for a farewell dinner party honoring the nine secretarial students finishing their two-year course this June.

The honored students received individual remembrances from their classmates at the famous restaurant, whose authentic Scandinavian atmosphere and international cuisine added to the celebration.

Banquet style provided the seating arrangement for the affair. The secretarial students sat at a long banquet table facing the other tables.

Liz Joyce was in charge of general plans. Joanne Sullivan handled transportation and Diane LeFevre arranged for the gifts.

Auxiliary Holds Tea

The Ladies Auxiliary of Barry honored graduates and their parents at a tea in the Florida Gardens, Tuesday, May 28, 3-5 p.m.

Mrs. Kieran Harford was chairman of the event. Senior class president Margaret Ralph cut the cake which was decorated in the class colors of the graduates, rose and white.

Angelicus Rates First

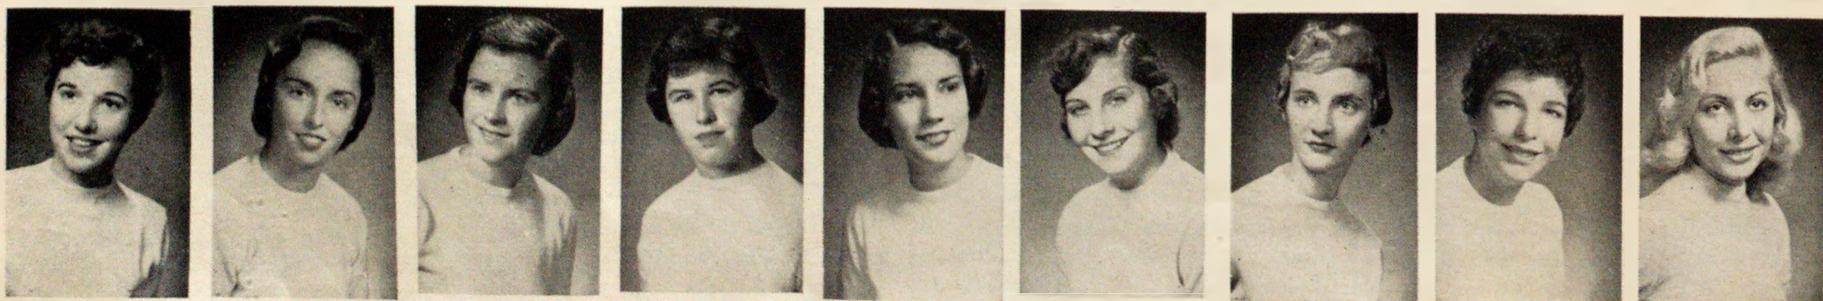

A first class rating of 1,615 points were awarded to the ANGELICUS, campus newspaper, by the Associated Critical Service of the ACP. For an All-American rating 1,700 points are necessary.

Each year ANGELICUS is rated by the ACP in comparison with papers of other schools of similar enrollment.

Excellent rating was received for sports coverage, balance, editorials, front page make-up, editor page make-up, features and typography.

"Very interesting and colorful," was the comment made on the editorials.

Sophs Bid Adieu To Seniors Tonight

In honor of the class of 1957, the sophomore class will present the traditional Sophomore Serenade May 29 in the Florida Gardens. This will be the final social assembly of the student body for the year.

The highlight of the evening will be a serenade especially for the seniors by their sister class.

"Assuming a formal theme, the sophomores will dress in pastel evening gowns and will assemble on the outdoor stage," said Jeanette Friedheim, general chairman.

During the course of the evening the senior class prophecy will be read. Ann Tuttle, chairman of this committee, was assisted in the prophecy by Diane LeFevre, Helen Grady, Myrna Gallagher, Connie Von Bramer, Joyce Estes, Joan Wooten and Pat Johnston.

Cathleen Phelan is in charge of programs. Refreshments will be served immediately following the serenade.

Tradition Kept In Fla. Gardens

Attired in pastel evening gowns the entire student body will participate in the traditional Rose and Candle Ceremony held in the Florida Gardens, Sunday evening, June 2.

Terry Ann Hendricks will give the getting, followed by Mary Rose Riordan who will explain the symbolism of the rose and Joan Mullins, the significance of the candle.

Mary Lu Harding, student body president, will give her candle to Gail Hargadon, president-elect, in exchange for a rose.

Sodality prefect Margaret Canty and newly elected prefect Maria Diprima will also exchange the symbolic rose and candle.

Carolyn Fleisch, incoming senior class president, will accept the candle of truth from Peggy Ralph, her predecessor.

The seniors in bidding farewell to Barry will sing the traditional song "Fare ye Well, O Halls of Barry."

A reception for parents and friends of the graduates is to be held in the Gardens at the conclusion of the festivities. Officers and members of the class of 1960 are hostesses for the affair.

Ceremonies Open Commencement Rites Msgr. O'Donoghue Addresses Graduates

Baccalaureate Sunday, June 2, will initiate the formal ceremonies honoring the graduating class of 1957. Members of the student body will participate attired in academic cap and gown.

Monsignor William Barry, pastor of St. Patrick's church, Miami Beach, will celebrate the Baccalaureate Mass at 11:00 a.m. and will confer academic hoods on the 48 graduates.

Monsignor Patrick J. O'Donoghue, pastor of St. Mary's church, Miami, will deliver the Baccalaureate address.

Breakfast following the Mass will be in Calaroga Hall for members of the graduating class and the student body. Parents of the honorees will be served in the Florida Gardens.

Parents whose daughters are graduating will at the Baccalaureate program receive recognition in the form of a scroll. This is the second year that such certificates of merit will be presented to the graduates' parents.

Orchestra Plays Musical Varieties

A variety of musical compositions was presented by the 19-piece instrumental ensemble in the auditorium, May 6, at 7:45 p.m.

Conducted by Karen Koehnemann, the orchestra played such well-known selections as the Three Waltzes from "Maytime" by Romberg-Mason, Opus 64, No. 2 by Chopin and Hungarian Dance, No. 5 by Brahms-Zamecnik.

The program featured three solos and a duet. Elizabeth Bartlett, violinist, played Fritz Kreisler's Schon Rosmarin and Jennifer Castello, cornetist, played the Overture from "Romeo and Juliet." Spit Fire Gallop was played by Roberta Levine on the marimba. Scherzo, a duet for clarinets, was played by Margaret Canty and Janet Marine.

Others sitting in the orchestra pit were: Adele De Los Santos, Dolores Rogers, Sandra Rosen, Monica Saliko, Mary Agnes Hierholzer and Helen Wilson. Bertha Chistensen, Martha Cliatt, Elva Street, Joan Coletti and Maria Diprima were also among the instrumentalists.

Lurette Mertz, pianist, accompanied the orchestra. Director of the instrumental ensemble is Sister Marie Rosaria, O.P.

Prefect Crowns Mary in Chapel

Sodality prefect Margaret Canty crowned the statue of Our Blessed Lady at the ceremonies held Thursday evening, May 2, in Cor Jesu Chapel.

Following a procession of the student body into Chapel, Margaret and her court proceeded to Mary's altar. The prefect, attired in a white formal and white cape trimmed in blue, placed a crown of white carnations and rosebuds on the head of Our Lady while "Bring Flowers of the Rarest" was sung.

Attending Margaret were Sodality members Pat Ace, Gail Hargadon, Barbara Keck, Janet Hart, Cabeth Caven, Barbara Naughton, Mary Agnes Hierholzer, Anne Marx, and Peggy Drury, who wore pastel formals and carried pink and white nosegays. Small Marie McCaughan and Michael Barrett were crown-bearer and train-bearer respectively.

Other May Crowning devotions included recitation of the Act of Consecration and a sermon given by Father John Monroe, O.P.

Rosary and Benediction ended the coronation ceremonies.

Barry Clubs Show No May Let-Down

Play day at Miami University, May 4, was attended by 25 members of the Athletic Association

It was announced that Barry rates 15th in bowling throughout the nation.

To close the year the A.A. planned a banquet for its members in Calaroga dining hall, May 22.

Members of Beta Kappa Kappa shared in President Dot Hosford's trip to Europe at their meeting May 13. Dot showed all the movies taken on her travels.

At the last special meeting May 26, a reception was held in the rotunda to elect the new officers. A formal reception of the new members followed.

Teachers in the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine were present at the First Communion of the children of Holy Family church, May 11. "Keeping up with the parishes," so to speak, are the children of Gesu church who will receive their First Communion, June 2.

A beach party for the children of Gesu is being planned by the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine for the summer.

The officers for 1957-1958 of the Third Order of St. Dominic were elected at their last meeting. They are: prioress, Diane Keehan; sub-prioress, Mildred Crew; novice mistress, Sharon Carroll and secretary, Bertha Christensen.

First and second councillors, Sue Magee and Donnie Guthrie, respectively, were also elected.

Members of the Playhouse claim three plays to their credit this month.

Donna Wilson directed the children's fantasy, "The Ugly Duckling" and Kay Kolpp, "A Sunny Morning."

The Greek tragedy, "Antigone" is being directed by Sister Marie Carol.

After the inspiring May Crowning, May 2, Our Lady's Sodality began a May altar contest.

At the end of this month various members of the Sodality will judge the May altars in the residence halls.

At the final meeting of the Secretarial Club a skit was enacted by the office practice class entitled "The Do's and Don'ts of Office Manners." The short play was given in the Little Theater.

The Spanish Club had a small "get-together" Monday, May 20, for their last meeting.

Reeling Back The Sports Scene

Calling all Florida colleges . . . to the annual playday on May 4. This year the University of Miami physical education department played hostess to six Florida colleges. Those included were Rollins, St. Petersburg, Tampa, Florida State, Stetson and Barry.

During the morning volleyball, badminton, ping-pong and tennis were played. Lunch was then served in the Student Union cafeteria and was followed by skits presented by each college.

The afternoon consisted of an exhibition of hallball by the University of Miami team. This was followed by a basketball game, the two teams composed of colleges from the north vs. colleges from the south.

Although playday holds no form of "real" competition, Barry did win the tennis singles and tied for doubles.

Next year the University of Florida at Gainesville will play hostess to the colleges of the south."

Sharpening of green sticks . . . took place as the A.A. members dusted off their "green sticks" and sharpened the ends for their old-fashioned weeney roast held May 18 on the old music building site.

Ash-covered hotdogs and burnt marshmallows were the main courses of the meal and a musical serenade completed the evening.

By the way, those who didn't own a "green stick" converted hangers into perfect roasting sticks.

Everyone have a good summer. Be sure you exercise and come back in the fall for the next Sports Scene.

Thimble Theater

Barry's library is indeed the mecca of all industrious students. Barbara Keck, senior day student, can testify to this fact; she has been one of the faithful staff members for several years.

Barb hails from Ohio, but lives at present with her family in Greater Miami. Most conveniently, her very favorite hobby is reading, but "good American music" readily follows as another pet pastime. Barbara, neatness personified, has a certain pet peeve towards the sloppy shoes and not-too-tidy look that occasionally haunts the campus.

Graduation day is drawing near, and time is passing too quickly for much retrospection. Barbara, an education major, does recall all the wonderful summers spent at Crandon Park, however. When asked how she feels about leaving Barry, Barbara smiles and says, "I really have enjoyed my four years here. I wouldn't trade them for anything in the whole world. How I hate to leave the place!"

Juniors certainly have an unusual class, and when it was discovered that Sue Magee, home economics major, owned a post office, another unique feature was added to their roll-call.

Actually, Sue doesn't own the post office entirely. She more or less shares the ownership with her younger brother. Sue's hometown is Prescott, Wisconsin, a rollicking little town of 1,000 citizens.

Coming from a family where men are in the majority, a girl has quite a bit to do to keep abreast of things. Sue admits that she has quite a liking for relay races, not to mention water-skiing.

Sue's future plans are optimistic—graduation from Barry and marriage.

Peggy Ann Heiker, a northerner by birth, decided several years ago that the sunny south was "for her."

New Jersey bred, Peggy is an English major with an eye for a career in business. She can be found at noon patronizing the snack-shop for some of Nina's scrumptious milkshakes—chocolate, strawberry, or vanilla.

Peggy, when chatting about hobbies, laughs and declares that no one could or would ever guess hers. How right she is! Mountain-climbing is her favorite, although she has never had the opportunity to scale a mountain. "Of course," says she, "I'm still young."

Frequent phone calls from that special someone in Boston have made a private personal phone, just for Peggy Ann, a necessity.

Where were you born? Usually the answer will be somewhere in this vast land of ours.

Elizabeth Rall, though, will shake her head and with a familiar grin say "Guam." It's only a tiny island, but it was Liz's first home. After Guam, Liz spent several of her younger years touring the Pacific. Now she lives with her family in Jacksonville, Fla.

She is in the field of nursing, but hasn't decided what particular phase of nursing she likes best.

Versatile Liz likes a little bit of everything, and "all kinds of sports." She has a praiseworthy coin collection, and wishes she had more time to spend with it.

Freshman year brought many good friends to Liz, and she hopes that next year will be even brighter and richer.

LIBRARY GIFT

The Santa Rosa Spanish Club has presented the Barry library with 12 volumes of leather bound Spanish reference books, "The Biblioteca de Autores Espanoles."

The library sincerely appreciates this gift since it is anxious to build up its Spanish department.
