

'58 Dramatists Give Recitals

In partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Arts with a major in speech and drama six seniors, Bernice Heretick, Royce Lake, Patricia Minnaugh, Clarissa Molina, Anna Wiechman and Donna Wilson, presented their recitals this month.

Bernice Heretick began the recitals with a selection from Paul Claudel's "Humiliation of the Father." She portrayed a blind Jewess speaking to her lover as he prepares to go to war.

Donna Wilson enacted a scene from the "Barretts of Wimpole Street," by Rudolph Besier, followed by "Sonnets from the Portuguese" by Elizabeth Barrett Browning. The scene shows Elizabeth deciding whether to join Robert and go to Italy or remain in her father's house.

The solo recitals included Anna Wiechman's presentation of cuttings from the "Merchant of Venice," Act IV, by William Shakespeare. Anna, who portrayed Portia, was assisted in the first scene of her recital by Bernice Heretick, who played Nerissa. Anna also did the well-known courtroom scene where Portia pleads for Antonio.

Royce starred in a dramatic presentation of Lillian Farrett's "Sorry, Wrong Number."

Patricia Minnaugh, Playhouse president, did a selection of Alfred Noyes, "If Judgment Comes," concerning the trial of Hitler.

A selection from Euripides, "The Trojan Women," was Clarissa Molina's choice for the recitals.

The first series of recitals held May 11 were concluded with the presentation of Thornton Wilder's, "The Happy Journey" starring Bernice Heretick, Royce Lake, Patricia Minnaugh, Clarissa Molina, Anna Wiechman and Donna Wilson.

The recitals were concluded on May 18 with the enactment of Henri Gheon's "The Sausage-Maker's Interlude" by the six senior speech majors and Mary Crowley, Jacqueline Orlando and Sandra Riley.

Banquet Reveals New A. A. Prexy

Priscilla Belanger, president, presided at the annual Athletic Association banquet in Calaroga dining room, May 22. Special tables were provided for members and honored guests.

The announcement that Elinore Lackey, sophomore, is A. A. president for 1958-59 was the highlight of the banquet.

On the basis of points accumulated throughout her four years at Barry—an "extraordinary" 1,000 points—a senior, Dorothy Hosford, was presented with a trophy.

Sandra Riley, Mary Crowley, and Priscilla Belanger received smaller trophies for their sums of 500 points.

Five outstanding freshmen, Agnes Adamson, Mary Margaret Reich, Jane Lawton, Martha Saconchick and Louise LaJeunesse, were awarded Olympic wreaths.

Sandra Riley won another trophy for the greatest point score accumulated this year and Mary Emma Barboni and Inky Veling, Martha Saconchick, Agnes Adamson and Sandra Hovey respectively, for tennis, archery, ping-pong and golf.

The senior class received an award on the basis of the best sports achievements throughout the year.

Priest Marks Silver Jubilee

Five Years Spent at Barry College

Father Louis M. O'Leary, O.P., celebrates his silver jubilee as a priest in the Order of Preachers this month. For the past five of these 25 years he has been at Barry.

The student body in academic attire assisted at the celebration of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass offered in thanksgiving by Father in Cor Jesu chapel, Thursday, May 22. A student assembly at 12:45 p.m. honored Father O'Leary in the auditorium.

Father Louis O'Leary

In 1927 Father enrolled in the novitiate of the Dominican Order of the Province of St. Joseph at Springfield, Ky. He made his final profession at the Convent of St. Joseph, Somerset, Ohio.

On June 17, 1933, Father O'Leary was ordained to the priesthood at St. Dominic church, Washington, D. C., and made his first year studies in theology there.

Having completed his studies in theology in 1934 he was sent to Boston and spent one year studying at the Curry School of Expression. The following year he was appointed Professor of Homiletics at the Dominican House of Studies in Washington, D. C.

Father joined the faculty of Catholic University as an instructor in the religion department. At the University seminary he was assistant professor of Homiletics.

He served in these capacities until 1942 when he was assigned to Cincinnati, Ohio, where he became Pastor of St. Andrew parish, Avondale. He remained there until 1952 when he was assigned to Washington, D.C., as procurator and treasurer of the Dominican House of Studies.

During the years 1936-1939 Father received his M.A., and S.T.L. degrees from the Catholic University.

In the fall of 1953 he was transferred to Barry college, where he teaches economics, ethics, and theology.

Father O'Leary served as assistant to Father Ignatius Smith, O.P., for nine summer sessions at Catholic University Preacher's Institute. Father Smith established this special course in preaching for ordained priests.

Definite plans for this summer have not as yet been made but Father is looking forward to "an interesting and relaxing interim."

Playhouse Earns Club Trophy

The Playhouse is victorious in the fourth annual Club-of-the-Year contest sponsored by Angelicus. If the club president Patricia Minnaugh, will come to the press room, 155, today, she will be formally presented with the gold trophy.

The Athletic Association places second in the contest. Priscilla Belanger was president of the A.A. this past year. Third place is awarded to the Science club, and the Mission Council merits honorable mention.

The clubs were judged mainly from the typed club report blanks distributed monthly by Angelicus. Promptness and consistency in returning the blanks were very important considerations.

Other factors contributing to the decision were the ability to fulfill the club purposes and aims and the stimulation and encouragement of campus participation.

'59 Seniors Elect Keeton President

The junior class elected Juanita Keeton at their final meeting, May 12, to hold the presidential gavel for 1958-59.

Juanita accepts her new office with the experience of being president of the Home Economics club and State president of the college clubs section of the Florida Home Economics Association.

Juanita also served as vice-president of her class in her sophomore year. She was a member of the student council, the Angelicus staff and the Barry orchestra.

She is a Sodality member and chairman of the Catholic Truth committee. In her freshman year, Juanita won the Leadership Training award acknowledging her capabilities as an outstanding future leader.

A counselor herself, Juanita has been appointed chairman of the 1958-59 counseling program.

At the conclusion of the elections Juanita said, "I feel very grateful to you for your vote of confidence and I know that with the wonderful spirit and cooperation that are characteristics of our class of '59, our senior year will be the best ever."

Freshman Mary Ann Coomes proudly displays her Leadership Training Award on the steps of Angelicus hall. Mary Ann received the certificate at an assembly May 14, recognizing her as the most promising future leader who participated in the Leadership Training Week sponsored by the student council. Honorable mention was awarded to sophomore Janet Paterson, and to freshmen Mimi Reich and Edwina Scanlon.

From the Chaplain . . .

Dear Graduates:

Freedom and restraint are our constant companions during life. Soon you will enjoy freedom from academic disciplines and be subject to the restraints of the economic, social and political world.

The Masters of Living are people who realize that restraint is as beneficial as freedom and subscribe to it without reluctance. This can be accomplished only by the application of the principles of the "Master of Life."

The trick is not to try to adapt the Eternal Verities to temporal vicissitudes but to dispose temporalities in conformity with the Eternal Verities. This alone is "the Way, the Truth and the Life" of happiness in time and eternity.

God bless you—God be with you

All Ways,

FATHER JOHN F. MONROE, O.P.

From the Dean . . .

My Dear Graduates:

I am not going to follow the tradition of Commencement and Baccalaureate speakers by placing you at perilous crossroads and bidding you choose your way, by burdening you with the problems of the world, by urging you to solve national and international crises.

Those of you who have had classes from me will remember how often I have reminded you that true education is the process of developing the ability to judge equitably, to make decisions intelligently, to take a long-range view of all problems. Life is really a matter of making decisions, large and small. Sometimes even the smallest decisions have far-reaching effects. Always these choices are an index to character and personality.

The choice of one's friends, the selection of reading material, the preference for certain amusements or social affairs, these things constitute only minor decisions, seemingly, but the results of these decisions may seriously affect one's adult life for better or for worse. Sometimes principle requires that we stand alone on important issues.

As you accept your degree and leave Barry college to found homes of your own or to fill positions of responsibility in professional and cultural circles, your decisions will have greater weight. Your choices now will have a deeper effect upon your home circle, or in some instances, upon your husbands; in all cases upon those with whom you associate. Let each tiny choice be founded on prayerful consideration and on a realization that these things are all steps toward eternity. My prayer for each of you is that your decisions, great and small, will always reflect credit on your Barry college education.

SISTER MARY ALICE, O.P.

From the Student Body President

Dear Girls:

Only a few short months ago we were facing the challenge of a new year. That year is no longer the future but rather the past. During this time many noteworthy accomplishments have been made and Barry college is to be highly commended.

In the student body, each class has certainly been outstanding in many ways but a few highlights we will especially remember—freshman class day, the sophomores' Alma Mater, the Junior Prom, and the triumph of the seniors on Olympic Day.

You are to be congratulated for your fine achievements, but we know that without such proficient guidance and direction we could never have been so successful.

God has certainly blessed all of us at Barry college. I pray He will continue to do so and that 1958-59 will bring even greater happiness and blessings.

GAIL HARGADON

Campus Mailbag

Dear Editor:

We are always prone to discuss at length any situation that we are opposed to or that we feel strongly about.

I would like to thank you, as the editor of the Angelicus for the feature, Thimble Theater, which is currently being presented as a "regular" feature in the campus newspaper.

These fingertip sketches with the accompanying photographs make names more of a reality to me.

Thus, we are more able to recognize in a more intimate manner, the present doings and future desires of a cross section of Barry girls.

Interestingly written, this article reveals many otherwise unknown aspects of our own student body. Usually associating as we do with students that are either in the same field or clubs as we are, we tend to forget that there are other fields of study herein represented.

All those who are concerned with making our campus newspaper the always anticipated event that it is, deserve our most sincere thanks and I would like to initiate this movement with this letter.

Sincerely,
PAT VILLALBA.

Dear Editor:

We all feel that Barry is certainly a wonderful school — but it needs more publicity. We really don't have enough of it!

The sisters, especially trained for their work, have an excellent background for teaching. They have a very special and personal interest in each student. Our campus is beautiful. There is a wonderful spirit here, and I, personally, have met some of the finest girls I've ever known.

Isn't there some way we could advertise, and let other young girls all over the country know more of our school? I'm sure that they would find Barry everything they ever hoped for in a college.

We have an outstanding institution for the developing of our intellectual and moral qualities.

I know this—you know this—but, let us spread this good news to all coming high school graduates who are searching for a fine college.

Sincerely,
JEMILLE ZAYDON

Latin major Dot Hosford chose this field for many reasons. "My teachers loved Latin and instilled in me a great interest in it, to learn about our heritage from the Romans and to understand the importance of Latin, as such, in our language."

After graduation in June, Dot is

Dot has added substantially to her souvenir collection of hats since her summer tour of Europe in 1956, and also put her hobby of photography to quite a workout. She smiles wistfully when recalling her memorable trip.

"Throwing snowballs on the 4th of July in the Alps was really fun and of course, the city of Rome was very exciting to me as a Latin major, but most of all the audience with the Holy Father was an experience I'll never forget." Dot kept a day-by-day log of her tour and her photos and movies are easy reminders of her excursion.

Sports top the list of Dot's activities. She has held the offices of vice-president and president in the Athletic Association. Dot is also co-editor of the 1958 yearbook, president of the Beta Kappa Kappa and a member of Delta Epsilon Sigma

Mary, originally from Cincinnati, Ohio, spent her freshman year at Barry, her sophomore year at Mount St. Joseph in Ohio, and returned this year as a day student.

A European tour with special emphasis on art features is Mary's ambition—one which she feels would be of inestimable value in her future career.

Judy Duncanson's desire to work with children prompted her to choose elementary education as a major. This summer she plans to be a camp counselor to gather some helpful experience.

GRADUATING CLASS OF 1958

Donna Wilson Accepts Offer from Summer Stock Company

By MYRNA GALLAGHER

"Theater is a part of the culture of all people. It is a place where people give of themselves for the entertainment and betterment of others," said senior speech major Donna Wilson. "This summer," she continued, "I hope to prove where I can best give to others—if not as an actress, then as a better teacher and a more satisfied person." Donna spoke in relation to the work she will do this summer at St. Michael's Playhouse, Winooski Park, Vt.

During her eight weeks' residence at St. Michael's Playhouse she will work as an apprentice. In this capacity Donna will be eligible to audition for each of the eight productions given during the summer.

Usually professional people with much experience are selected for these major roles but Donna said, "I feel that I will gain much from meeting and working with these people. Also it is by meeting well-known people in my field that I will be able to make contacts."

Apprentices are often selected for minor roles. They attend regular classes in make-up, voice interpretation and acting. (Donna received a reminder to bring the complete works of Shakespeare.)

An apprentice works in close association with each play as assistant in directing, costuming, make-up and lighting. Donna will also help with programs, tickets, publicity and backstage work.

Since the jobs at St. Michael's are distributed on a rotation basis Donna will have an opportunity to gain experience in each phase of the theater in her 16-hour a day schedule.

Donna has wanted to be an actress since she was a little girl and upon coming to Barry chose speech and drama for her major. She commented that her training here has been "wonderful" and has served to instill in her even a greater desire to seek a career in acting.

"I have been fortunate in receiving a great deal of good advice," she said, not only from my major teachers here at Barry, but also from Father John Hartke, O.P., who is the head of the speech and drama department at Catholic university."

St. Michael's Playhouse was suggested to Donna since it is a Catholic stock company affiliated with Catholic university and known for its excellent training.

When the Catholic University Players were here on campus for the Culture Series performance of "Romeo and Juliet," Donna spoke to them about the company and their encouragement made her enthusiastic about the idea. Donna then wrote to Father Hartke, received an application and applied.

She was accepted on the basis of her college training, the number of plays in which she had participated, and a letter of recommendation from her major teacher.

Donna is no stranger to Barry audiences in her four years on campus. As an active member of the Playhouse she held the title roles in "Mary of Scotland" and "Boy with a Cart."

She has been an officer in the Playhouse and Sodality, a member of the Queen's Court and student council secretary. Donna has also been active in Beta Kappa Kappa, Athletic Association, Tara Singers, choir and Dominican Tertiaries.

To conclude her speech requirement she presented, May 11, her speech recital by enacting a scene from "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," and the "Happy Journey."

Miamians Win Eight Scholarships to BC

Eight girls in the Miami area have received full or partial tuition scholarships to Barry college for next year, Sister Mary Alice, O.P., Dean of Barry, announced.

A total of 20 scholarships have been awarded.

The largest amount offered, $4,200, was received by Kathleen P. Hartnett of Sarasota High School and Ida Margaret O'Connor of St. Joseph Academy.

Winners of full tuition scholarships are Pastora San Juan of St. Theresa high school, Coral Gables; Martha M. Schwandt of Notre Dame Academy, Miami; Janice Rocchio of Central Catholic, Ft. Lauderdale; Isabel Pierce of North Miami senior high school; Carol Ann Prochniak of St. Paul high school, St. Petersburg; Judith Nancy Biswanger of Melbourne high school.

Partial tuition scholarships were awarded to Elizabeth Crawford and Ann Louise Jerret, North Miami high school; Natalie J. McCleskey of St. Theresa high school; Elizabeth Jane Waddell of Notre Dame; Mary Thomas of Cocoa Beach high school.

Pianists Conclude Cultural Season

Senior Luette Mertz was presented in a piano recital Sunday in the Barry college auditorium, offering a program of Bach, Mendelssohn, Schumann, Chopin, Beethoven, and Gershwin. She was assisted by Carol De Marco, freshman, at the second piano.

Students Present Recital

Luette's recital was one of three which brought Barry's cultural season to a musical close. Another senior, Maria Diprima, was a featured soloist at a piano and violin recital, May 21 in the auditorium. Maria chose two sonatas, Scarletti's, "Sonata No. 7" and Beethoven's "Sonata Op. 2 No. 3."

Appearing on the same program was sophomore violinist Elizabeth Bartlett who played "Concerto No. 4 in D Major" by Mozart and the "Prize Song" from Wagner's Die Meistersinger.

Accompanying Elizabeth at the piano was senior Jennifer Castello. Other featured pianists were sophomores Teresa Graff and Margaret Pfeffer; junior Adele de los Santos, and freshman Carol De Marco.

Students' Pupils Play

The third recital was given by Adele and Jennifer, who presented their seven music pupils May 18 in the social hall.

Sacks May Go; Blouses, No!

By DIANE

Blouses are always in the limelight and the chemise, no matter how popular, hasn't come close to upstaging these perennial fashion stars.

If anything, the sack's second cousin took a page from blouses' script on casual charm and viola! the blouson!

Colors are the craze, but for summer wear nothing looks cooler than a fresh, crisp, sparkling white blouse. Here are three daisy-white numbers that are destined for summer stardom.

One of the nicest things found in the Good Ole Summertime is a country pond shaded by weeping willows and partly covered by water lilies.

These fragile flowers are used to advantage by a popular blouse manufacturer to create eye-catching back detail. Although the blouse looks like linen, it's made of sudsable rayon.

Classic lines make this second blouse of softly contoured washable silk broadcloth another good co-star for your skirt wardrobe. The bow is detachable.

The very last word in blouses comes with this startling print of black on white pique. The loose top swivels easily above a waist tie. With capri pants, or a slim skirt it's bound to make your grand entrance truly grand.

Marx Competes for Fellowship

During the early part of this year senior math major Anne Marx applied for the Woodrow Wilson Foundation Fellowship. Anne heard of this fellowship originally from Sister M. Petronilla and also through a discussion of its advantages by Sister Mary Alice at a Beta Kappa Kappa meeting.

Although Anne did not win this fellowship, she did merit the honorable mention list. It was through this list that Anne came to the attention of the State University of Iowa.

The University wrote to her offering an assistantship teaching math.

Anne is not accepting this assistantship since, as she states, "I feel at this time I would like some practical working experience before going on for my Master's."

To become eligible for this fellowship Anne was required to fill out the usual information forms, write a paper telling of her activities and interests, and send five references.

After these forms were evaluated she was asked to come to Daytona Beach for an interview with the Southeastern Regional Committee. Her folder with all her qualifications and the results of the interview was then sent to the National Committee in Michigan.

Sodality Initiates Breakfast 'Out'

The first Sodality Communion breakfast took place at Clifford's restaurant, Sunday, May 18. The Sodality, accompanied by Father Louis M. O'Leary, O.P., held the breakfast following Mass in Cor Jesu chapel.

At the breakfast new Sodality members received certificates and recognition was made of the new prefect Cabeth Caven and vice-prefect Marie Zerbey.

This breakfast socially closed the 1957-58 Sodality year with Marie Diprima as prefect.

Flames, Flowers Color Terrace

The symbolic Rose and Candle ceremony will be held this year June 1, on the mall terrace at 8:15 p.m. Seniors in academic caps and gowns will be contrasted against a pastel-gowned student body.

Doris Thornhill will give the opening address which will be followed by the explanation of the symbolism of the rose and candle by Claire Pierce and Elizabeth McLeod, respectively.

Student body president, Gail Hargadon, will present president-elect Helen Grady with a lighted candle in exchange for the rose, which signifies friendship.

Maria Diprima, Sodality prefect, will make the exchange with Cabeth Caven, prefect for 1958-59.

Following Maria, Carolyn Fleisch, senior class president, will give the candle of learning to Juanita Keeton, president of the 1959 graduating class.

After Jennifer Castello presents Diane LeFevre, next year's Campus Queen, with the candle, the remainder of the seniors will receive roses from the juniors in exchange for candles.

That evening the parents will receive special honors—diplomas acknowledging the many sacrifices which they have made in order that their daughters might enjoy the benefits of a Catholic college education.

Virgin Crowned On May Day

Maria Diprima, Sodality prefect, crowned the Blessed Virgin, Queen of May, in the annual Sodality May crowning held in Cor Jesu chapel May 1.

The Sodality council, including Donna Wilson, vice-prefect; Cabeth Caven, secretary, and Margaret Donnelly assisted the prefect.

The chairmen and secretaries of the three Sodality committees, Amalia Navarro, Joyce Estes, Juanita Keeton, Ralene Sullivan, Antoinette Beland and Ethelmary McCleskey, also aided in the coronation.

The Litany of the Blessed Virgin preceded the crowning and the Act of Consecration followed.

Father John F. Monroe, O.P., Barry chaplain, led the rosary and preached the sermon.

Following this the student body, attired in white dresses and veils for the occasion, sang the hymn "Immaculate Mary." Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and a recessional concluded the crowning for this year.

Miss Margaret Husson Serves Twelve Years on Barry Faculty

By MYRNA GALLAGHER

Whether swinging a tennis racket, checking regulation gym suits, arranging and rearranging physical education majors' schedules or chatting amiably with a group of students, Miss Margaret Husson has been an outstanding member of the Barry faculty for the past 12 years.

A native of Rochester, N.Y., Miss Husson attended Sargent College for physical education, Boston University. During her internship she had an opportunity to work with retarded children and, as she states, "to see one of these children walk around in a circle without falling was like having the world at your feet."

Miss Husson

Working in Cincinnati Miss Husson tired of the cold weather and the chore of bundling children in snowsuits. Consequently she moved south. Florida and Barry college were the "warm" answer she wished!

Since her initial working days at Barry Miss Husson has seen many changes in the physical education department. At first physical education was required for four years and no credit was given. Now only two years are required and one credit is received for each year.

Until four years ago Barry did not offer a major in physical education. Now, next February the first physical education major will be graduated from Barry college.

This year St. Dominic's Field was dedicated and opened to the students.

Her main project now, Miss Husson says, "is to interest the entire campus in the real meaning of recreation."

She helped design the uniforms that the physical education majors will wear when they begin their interning next year.

The outfits consist of blue jamaica shorts and a white blouse with a peter-pan collar. Miss Husson says "these colors were chosen in honor of the Blessed Mother to put the majors under her special protection." The art department is designing a special pin for the majors.

Miss Husson is "anxious for the first majors to graduate to see how they stand up and how the department can be improved."

Miss Margaret Husson plans to follow up the graduates with questionnaires inquiring what they are doing and what courses they think should be added to Barry's physical education department.

Frosh Attends Ordination of Brother in Va.

By JANE GALLAGHER

The Missionary Servants of the Most Holy Trinity will increase their ranks by seven May 27. Ordinations will take place on that date at Sacred Heart Church, Winchester, Va. and Mimi Reich, Barry freshman, will be present when her brother, the former Thomas G. Reith, now Father Warren, will receive the Sacrament of Holy Orders.

Mimi and her family will participate in Father Warren's first Solemn Mass, June 1, in their home parish, Holy Infant of Prague, Trussville, Ala.

The Missionary Servants of the Most Holy Trinity is a young American mission community, founded in 1929 by the late Father Thomas Augustine Judge, C.M. The Church has entrusted these priests with the care of the most neglected and abandoned souls in those parts of the United States where need is greatest. They labor in fourteen States and in Puerto Rico.

Almost twelve years ago Father Warren began his preparation for the priesthood. He entered Saint Joseph's Preparatory Seminary in Sept. 1946, the start of his sophomore year in high school. At present another brother, Bill, is also studying for the missionary priesthood at St. Joseph's.

The ordinand finished his minor seminary course in 1951 and entered Holy Ghost Novitiate, receiving his religious name and habit. The following year he made his first profession of vows and in 1955 made his final profession.

Throughout his entire seminary training Father has been organist for ecclesiastical functions. During his course in theology he was a member of the staff of the Missionary Cenacle Review. The other major seminary publication, the yearbook, Coenaculum, claimed him as photographer between 1954 and 1956.

How does Mimi feel about all this? "It doesn't seem possible that one of my brothers is going to be another Christ, a real Apostle," Mimi sighed.

"The three most thrilling experiences for me," she said, "will be at that moment during his Ordination when he is prostrate, offering his entire life to God; when I and the rest of the family receive his first consecrated Holy Communion and when we all participate in his first solemn Mass back home."

Sophs Bid Seniors Musical Farewell

Committee chairmen for the serenade are Peggy Kennedy, general chairman; Janet Paterson, songs and Ethelmary McCleskey, prophecy. The Last Will and Testament will be written by Peggy Kennedy and Frances Flood; and Zoe Dvorak is in charge of refreshments. Rosemary Schiraldi and Ruth Gola will arrange the staging.

BKK Installs New Members at Rotunda Tea

A formal installation of the new members of Beta Kappa Kappa took place May 25 in the rotunda. All club members were present at the induction which signifies the end of one year's probation necessary to become a full member of the club.

The sixteen inductees were awarded certificates at the Sunday tea and nine of them also received engraved silver keys.

A gift of appreciation was given to Sister M. Petronilla, O.P., moderator of the club. The election of officers for 1958-59 was a major part of the proceedings.

Shad Turns Pages of History

Unlike most people on campus I can recall events and happenings on the Barry campus as far back as 1940.

I was there when:

The first contract was signed for Barry college on Jan. 18, 1940 and the following month the college received its charter. The dining room was built to accommodate 400 persons and the chapel would seat 500 persons.

The first students of Barry college came to register Sept. 16, 17, 18 and the first classes were held on the 19th in 1940.

The first Mass was celebrated in Cor Jesu chapel in 1940 on All Saint's Day.

The first issue of Angelicus (then called Angelicum) appeared in 1941. Eleanor Neary, editor, and her nine staff members replaced the Barry College Digest with the Angelicus. The Digest was a mimeographed publication.

Penafort Pool was built in April-May, 1941 with the huge dimensions of 30 ft. by 75 ft.

The future teachers of Barry college went out to intern for the first time in November, 1944. There were five of them at that time.

Barry was first received into the national scholastic honor society, Delta Epsilon Sigma, in November, 1944. The Barry chapter is known as the Beta Zeta chapter.

Delta Epsilon Sigma are the Greek initials letters of an Aristotelian phrase, rendered by St. Thomas Aquinas in the SUMMA CONTRA GENTILES as "Sapientis ordinare — it is for the wise men to set things in order."

The student council initiated the demerit system for the torch porch and dining room on Nov. 6, 1949.

The Playhouse produced the first play given with the new stage lights (IN STELLA MAT!) Dec. 10, 1949, "The Elves and the Shoemaker."

Forty members of the University of Notre Dame choir sang in concert at Barry, Jan. 30, 1949. Daniel Pedtke was the director of the choir.

Before the concert the choir was entertained at a dinner, and afterwards, with a dance in the rotunda decorated in ND's colors.

The Miami Herald carried a "Campus Chatter" column telling all the events of the past and future week on the Barry campus. Diane Le Fevre was the Herald correspondent in 1957-58.

Your old Shad glided through a few old pages of the Barry college history as his graduating present for the seniors. EveryBODY have a wonderful summer. See you in September.

Sodality Announces Poetry Winner

On May 21 Mildred Crew was announced the winner of the poetry contest sponsored by the Catholic Truth Committee of Our Lady's Sodality.

Honorable mention was awarded to Julia Bardoly and Elizabeth McLeod.

The entire student body was invited to submit poems written in honor of Our Lady in the competition, which ran from May 1 to 14.

"Old" Counselors at Villa Pool Party

A splash party in honor of the freshman counselors of 1957-58, was held May 19, 7:30 p.m. at the Villa Pool.

Gail Hargadon arranged the party and provided sweet rolls, potato chips, pretzels and cokes as refreshments.

Sister M. Trinita attended the informal gathering and she and Gail thanked the counselors for their efforts.

Seniors Combine Two Traditions

Two traditional senior functions were held during the month of May. The class dinner at the House of Prime Ribs was highlighted by the presentation of an album with individual photographs of the class of 1958 to Mrs. Agnes Lynch.

The class of 1958 chose Hollywood Beach as the scene of the annual skip day.

Activities for the day included swimming, sunbathing, and much discussion of after-graduation plans. Fried chicken from the Alamo restaurant provided a tasty lunch.

Eleanor Perez was chairman of this affair and was assisted by Carolyn Fleisch, Gail Hargadon, Bernice Heretick, Dorothy Hosford, Patricia Minnaugh and Mary Jane Moran.
