SISTER MARY GONZAGA, O.P.

DEDICATION..

We know her to be a bride of Christ, a teacher in the Dominican tradition, and a mother to those in her charge; but we at Barry College think of her most often as an energetic pioneer in the spreading of our faith.

Our appreciation of Sister Gonzaga is manifested in the dedication to her of the TORCH AND SHIELD of the Class of 1948.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

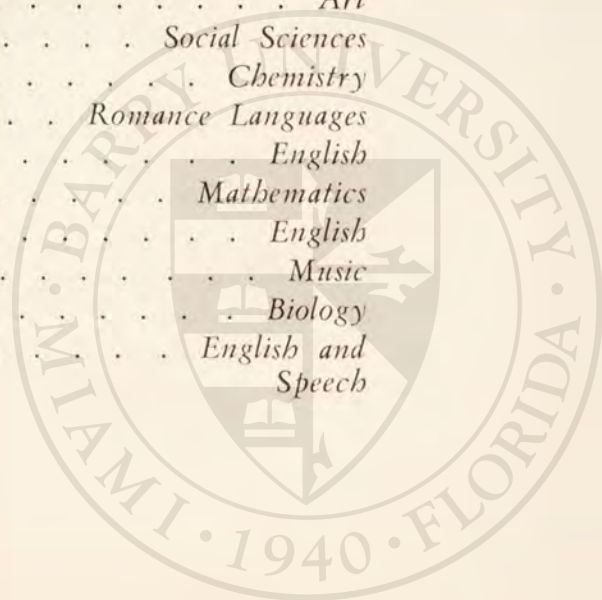

The ideals set before us by the administration and faculty are guides to that way of life by which we may gain "the myrtle crown and stainless sceptre of womanhood." They are keys opening for us the doors to an ever firmer faith, an ever clearer understanding of our purpose in life. It is our hope that when we meet in eternity, we shall be able to hand back these keys with loving gratitude, saying to these, our teachers, "We have fought the good fight, we have finished the course, we have kept the faith." (2 Timothy, 4:7)

THE REVEREND CYRIL W. BURKE, O. P.

There is no limit to the good things we should like to say about Father Burke. As friend, teacher, guide and priest he has helped us along those lanes of learning and sanctity which are the pathways to ideal Catholic womanhood.

We who have been in Father's classes can never forget his Irish witticisms nor his oft-recurring praise of a little town in Massachusetts. Always we shall remember his profoundly reverent exposition of Thomistic doctrine as well as his systematic philosophical approach: "Definition; Division; Roman Numeral One . . ."

Father Burke has been for us a model of sincerity, understanding and friendliness. Our memory of him will always be as deep as our memory of Barry and as warm as the Florida sun.

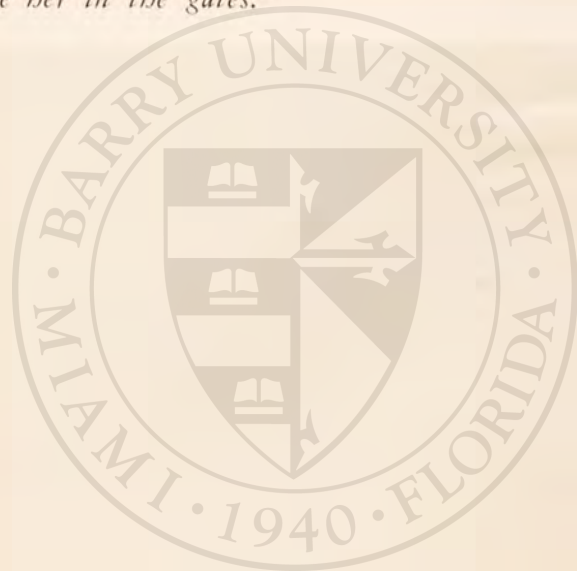

Schema . . .

Man is a rational creature. He possesses an intellect which seeks knowledge and a will which desires good. The program of the Catholic college provides for the right development and fulfillment of these faculties, attempting to equip each student with the necessary qualifications for a happy and holy life.

It is our plan in this TORCH and SHIELD to set forth the aims and ideals of our college, demonstrating the manner whereby they permeate every department of our school life.

It is our sincere hope that, having attained these ideals, it may one day be said of each one of us, "She hath wrought by the counsel of her hands With the fruit of her hands she has planted a vineyard She hath put out her hand to strong things, and her fingers have taken hold of the spindle She hath opened her hand to the needy, and stretched out her hands to the poor Give her of the fruit of her hands: and let her works praise her in the gates."

(Proverbs, 31.)

Seniors

By reason of their dextrous leadership of campus activities, the Seniors won the affectionate admiration of the student body. On December 10, they gathered the collegians together under Barry's red, silver and black, dedicating their class day to the TORCH AND SHIELD. United in the common cause of serious attention to higher education, they became the home-bodies of the campus. On occasion, however, they laid aside their books, doffing their dignity to the extent of presenting a rollicking black-face minstrel show. At a farewell party for the Faculty and the Juniors, they resumed their customary dignity and graciousness.

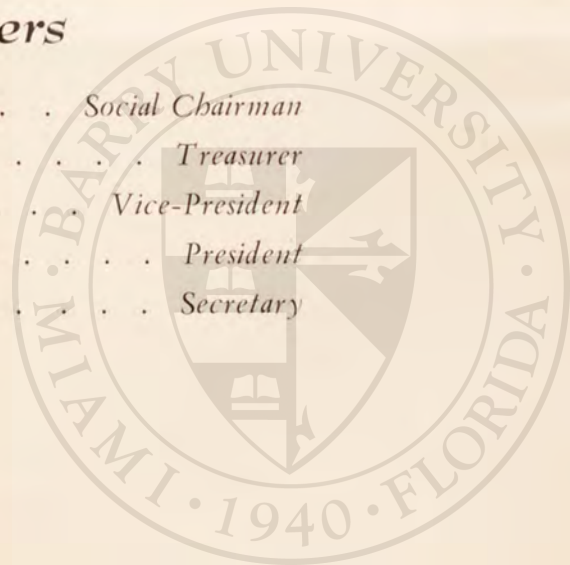

Whether marching in the vanguard of campus projects or residing quietly in Rosa Mystica, the members of the Class of 1948 have proved themselves worthy indeed of the grand name SENIORS and all that it implies.

The loveliness of the deep south is caught in Gerry's slow, pleasant drawl and in her rich mezzo-soprano voice. If her ambitions are attained she will one day sing in light opera. In addition to all her other interests, she has since last Thanksgiving vacation become an ardent supporter of the good-neighbor policy with Latin America.

Angelicus—3.

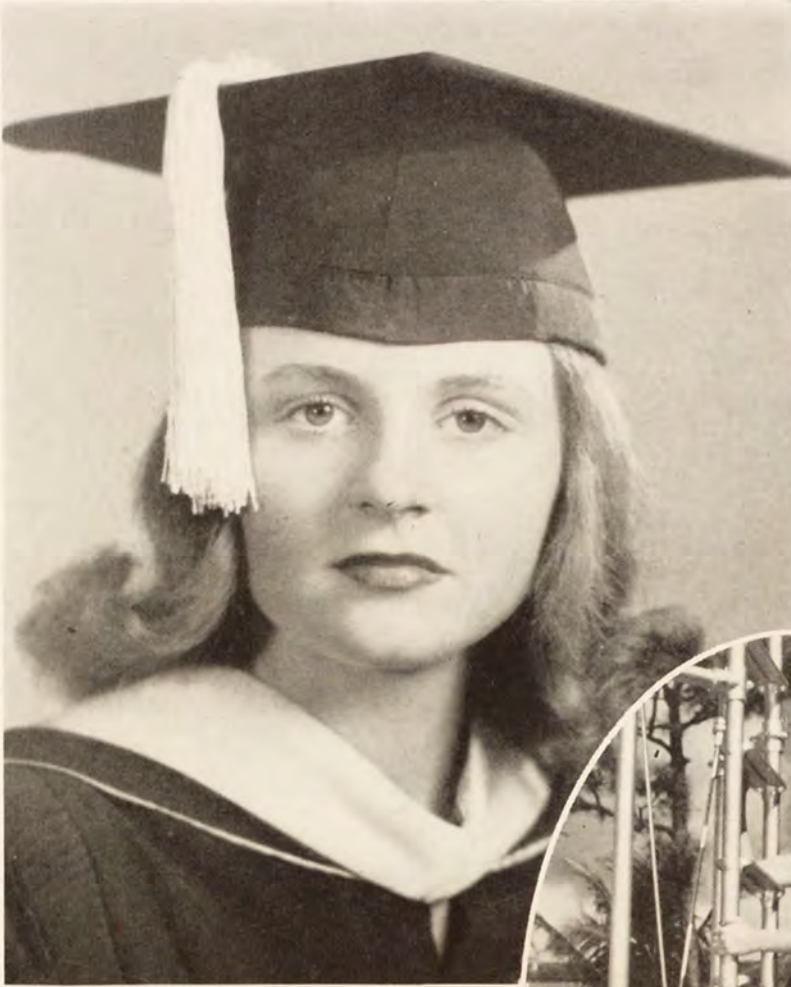

Editor of Angelicus—4.

Torch and Shield Co-Editor—4.

In Anne, freckles and laughing eyes go with a flair for work and leadership. With her ability to write for, as well as to manage, student publications, it's no wonder she is constantly mistaken for an English major. Sometimes, though, there's a bit of rivalry between the copy pencil and the knitting needles, especially if there is a deadline on a sweater or a pair of argyles.

Janie's the vivacious redhead whose campus beat includes Penafort, Calaroga, Angelicus (especially 210), and all points between. She is versatile as well as active, her gifts ranging from playing the piano to creating coiffures to dancing in the South American way. Need it be said that her heart and her feet fly to Cuba at the drop of a sombrero?

Vice-President of the Science Club—4.

Florida Club—1, 2, 3, 4.

A native of Miami, this ardent student of science and mathematics has traveled far and wide. Irene's sparkling accounts of her summer cruises have been a perennial source of envy. Though it means braving the cold winds of Minnesota, she plans after graduation to work toward her goal: internship at the Mayo Clinic.

Precise and personable, Cathy (with a "C") is the cosmopolite of the senior class. She's a New Yorker by birth, an Arizonian by adoption, but a Californian by preference. As photographic editor of TORCH and SHIELD, Cathy was complimented by a professional photographer for her talent at composition. But flash bulbs and films aren't her only loves—reading, classical music, art, and new shoes claim her interest as well.

Angelicus—1.

The fashion-plate par excellence of the senior class is Colleen, who has kept one step ahead of Paris and New York. Her interest in fashions hasn't hindered her, though, from being a precise and earnest student, with an emphasis on literature. Adding color and good nature to every occasion, Colleen has become an expert on the scientific approach to beach sun-bathing.

Always just herself, Chilly can be as demure as Alice in Wonderland or as elegantly poised as the First Lady—depending upon the occasion. An enthusiastic student of fashion journals, she is preparing for a position as college editor with an outstanding publication this summer. Her earnestness, coupled with her delightful habit of talking with her eyes, will doubtless captivate the mesdemoiselles completely.

Student, scientist and housewife, Georgie, as she was named by a certain faculty member, is formally known as Mrs. Marvin Gussow. Her mental alertness and ambitious industry have merited her an assured place on the Dean's List straight through four years. Future philosophy classes will lack the characteristic feminine touch when Georgia is no longer present to propose, with appropriate gestures, involved and time-consuming objections.

Barb will be especially remembered for two things: her capability as a musician, and her flair for comedy. Her potentialities are actualities when it comes to scholastic ability, for she has merited a place in "Who's Who" and Kappa Gamma Pi. She hopes to join either Fred Waring's or Paul Whiteman's glee club after graduation.

Flying, house counselling, entertaining—these are but a few of Rosie's interests. Her academic life revolves around the life and work of St. Albert the Great. Giving the lie to the promise of her red head and her snapping eyes, Rosie is a pillar of calm understanding amidst the little squalls of college years. To the seniors, especially, her name is synonymous with "friendliness" and "house parties."

Bobbie, the Campus Queen, is a senior who can boast a tan from the middle of September until the end of the school year, and still maintain the scholastic average necessary for a Student Council member. A Vogue-y look and a refreshing sense of humor make her one of the most popular girls on campus. Her big desire this past semester has been to slide into the driver's seat of her shiny new convertible.

Strains of "Lover" issuing from second floor, Rosa Mystica, are proof positive that Lulu is on campus and in her usual cheerful spirits. A disciple of the Spanish masters, she still finds time and energy for practical jokes. Lulu is the wit of the senior class—five days a week. The perennial green slip on the sign-out desk explains the other two days.

Claire, with "earnestness of purpose and consistency in effort," has more than fulfilled all expectations as Prefect of Our Lady's Sodality. Her integrity, together with a sincere smile, have aided in making her a competent hostess. A capable and gracious leader, Claire has added to her other accomplishments the feat of being listed regularly on the Dean's List.

Who's Who.

*Barry College Library
Miami, Florida*

"Joan McGraw, R.N., B.S." is a long title for one as young as Joan to possess. A newcomer in her junior year, she adds crispness and aplomb to the senior class. She is proficient in everything from mending broken fingernails to tending mumps patients. Two of her gifts no Barryite will ever forget are her infectious laugh and her ability to define "Definition, real and nominal."

DeDe, with her quiet manner and her slow smile, has the happy faculty of being able to face, plan and despatch any job which is given her to do. Her sympathetic ear and alert mind are a joy to her classmates, who predict great success for DeDe as a teacher, come next fall. The mission land of Florida has profited from her interest and activity, as certain orphans and pickaninnies could testify.

- Spanish Club—1, 2.
- Michigan Club Co-Chairman—4.
- Angelicus Circulation Manager—3, 4.

One question this home economics major will always be asked is, "Why are you called MooMoo?" Her frankness and resourcefulness, to say nothing of her efficiency, have made Marianne a welcome member on the house committees. She can cut a pattern or make hot chocolate with equal ease—the ease of an expert.

Rosemary Naef, B.S.

- Art Editor Torch and Shield—4.

A cheerful hum and bustle from the direction of the diet kitchen can mean only one thing: Rosie is working in her major field. Her excellence as a dietician, however, doesn't overshadow her aptitude for art, dancing, and doubling for Al Jolson. With a flower in her hair and a smile on her lips, Rosie leads the A.A.—and still has enough excess energy to take advantage of her full quota of "twelves."

Dottie is one of the leaders of the welcome invading army from Mobile. Whether she's rolling out "Shortenin' Bread" or counting senior class dues, her robust sense of humor is her hallmark. Always hopeful, Dottie (with a toss of her red head) consistently disregards her classmates' warning as to the dire effects of a hot afternoon spent on the sundeck.

Miramar, Puerto Rico

CANDIDATE FOR DEGREE BACHELOR OF PHILOSOPHY

Activities:

Minors: English and Philosophy

Sodality—3, 4.

Spanish Club—3, 4.

Foreign Students Club—3, 4.

President of Foreign Students Club—4.

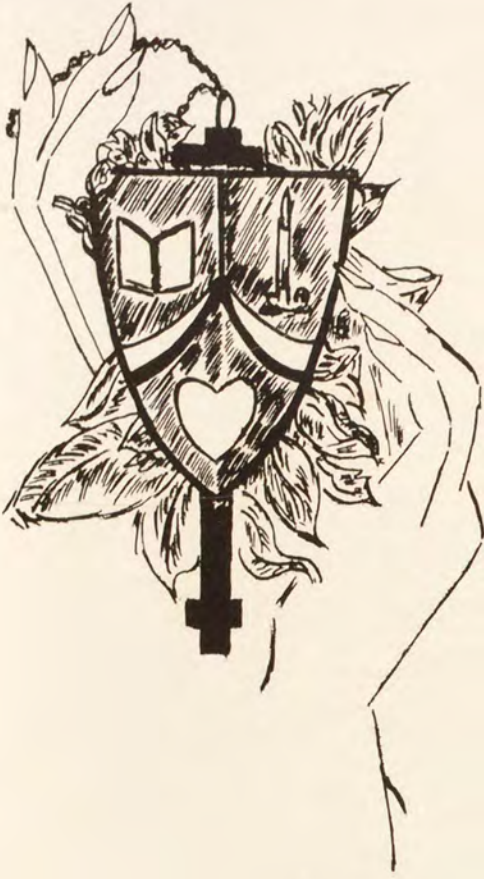

A young lady of moods—all of them pleasant—Norma has radiated serenity, with a Spanish accent, during her time at Barry. Whether singing plain chant or planning an up-to-date book review, she always brought energy and enthusiasm to her task. Puerto Rico will be richer by far when Norma goes flying home.

Secretarial Students

Having completed a two-year course in typing, shorthand, accounting and office practice, these four students are receiving certificates attesting to their excellence in the secretarial field. The philosophy and literature courses included in their program will enable them to fulfill the Barry College ideal of a cultured Catholic business woman.

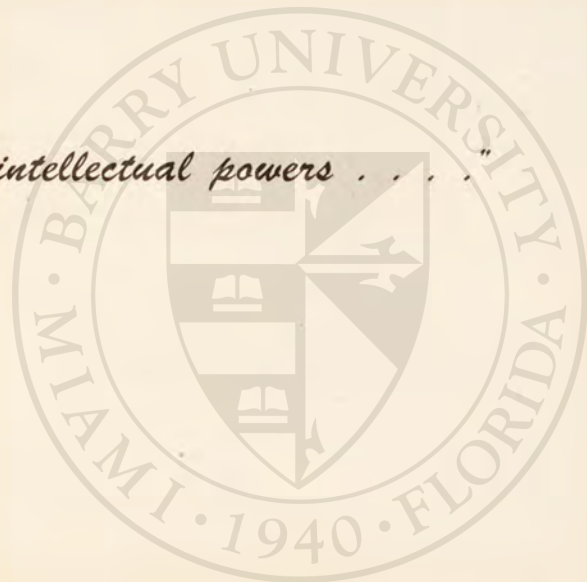

Those receiving certificates are (left to right) Gisela Posada, Lillian Renuart, Norma Nevares and Marjorie Nores.

General Aim I.

"To develop the intellectual powers"

HONOR SOCIETIES

Scholarship, leadership, character, participation in extra-curricular activities, and qualities showing promise of future usefulness to business and society—these are the requirements for the three honorary distinctions at Barry.

Selected for "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities" were Barbara Hannon, Claire McCullough and Joan McGraw (right).

Honor Society members for 1948 were Joan McGraw and Adelia McInarnay (lower left), Delta Epsilon Sigma; and Barbara Hannon and Claire McCullough, Kappa Gamma Pi.

For research or browsing, for delving into the classics or reading today's affairs, Barry's library is well known by every true student.

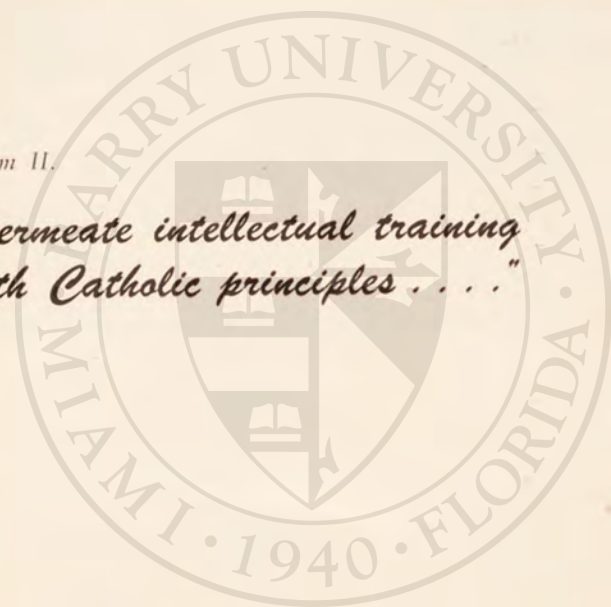

Precision and patience, together with hard work, both physical and mental, are required of the student who turns to science. The result of accepting the scientific challenge is a deep intellectual satisfaction.

Special Aim II.

"To permeate intellectual training with Catholic principles"

SENIOR RELIGION CLASS

From the luminous mind of Thomas of Aquin to the eager mind of the student of Barry is a long way; but with Father Burke to point out the path, the road becomes clear.

SCHOLASTIC DISPUTATION

On the way to becoming a tradition, the scholastic disputation is an important part of the celebration of the feast of St. Thomas Aquinas, patron of the classroom and administration building. This year's thesis, "The moral virtues are so connected that if one is bad, all are bad; if one is lacking, all are lacking," was defended by Claire McCullough (standing). Objectors were (left to right, seated) Barbara Hannon, Joan McGraw and Adelia McInarnay.

HOLY HOUR

TERTIARIES

In November of 1947 fifteen Barry students were professed as lay members of the Dominican Third Order. The campus group is formally known as the Saint Thomas Aquinas chapter of the Dominican Tertiaries, and is sponsored by Father Burke, O.P.

The Tertiaries are pledged to aim toward Christian perfection in a manner conformable to their everyday life. Works of charity, the propagation of the faith, and the recitation of the Little Office of the Blessed Virgin are among the most important of the practices of the Tertiary group.

Passion Oratorio

The stirring performance each Lenten season since 1945 of the Passion Oratorio composed by Sister Denise, O.P., has merited acclaim throughout the south. The Oratorio is sung by the Cor Jesu Choir under the direction of Sister Rose Therese, O.P.

With fervent religious significance, the Passion of Our Lord from the Last Supper to the Crucifixion is depicted through words and music in a homophonic style centering in the role of Christ.

In the March performance of this year, the Christus role was sung by Geraldine Condon. Other soloists were Barbara Hannon as Pilate; Patricia Cabill, Judas; Virginia Mitchell, Peter; Cilia Vallejo, High Priest; Marjorie McElroy, First Soldier and Wicked Thief; Irma Schaefer, John and Good Thief; Jane Dexter, Second Soldier; and Mary Jane Mills, Steward Girl.

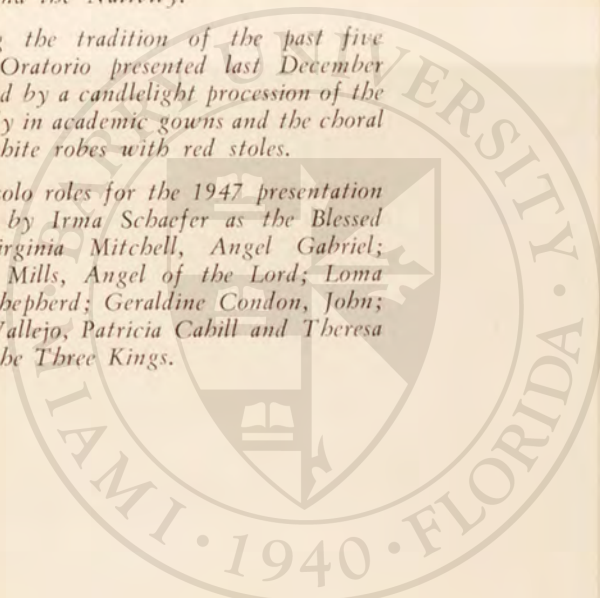

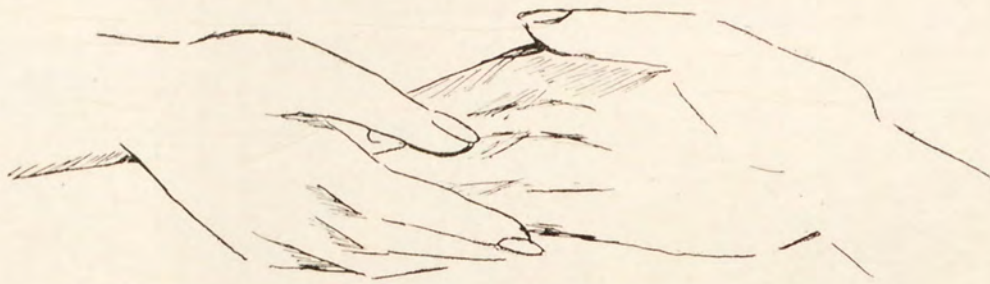

Christmas Oratorio

The Christmas Oratorio is combined with a pageant portraying the Annunciation, the Visitation and the Nativity.

Following the tradition of the past five years, the Oratorio presented last December was preceded by a candlelight procession of the student body in academic gowns and the choral group in white robes with red stoles.

Leading solo roles for the 1947 presentation were sung by Irma Schaefer as the Blessed Virgin; Virginia Mitchell, Angel Gabriel; Mary Jane Mills, Angel of the Lord; Loma Rafferty, Shepherd; Geraldine Condon, John; and Cilia Vallejo, Patricia Cabill and Theresa Slusber as the Three Kings.

General Aim III.

"To develop the social nature of the students"

Underclassmen

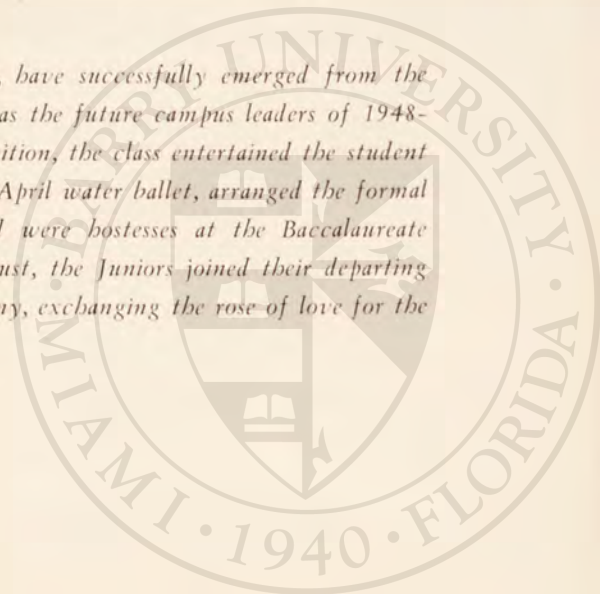

Junior Class Officers

EVELYN HOWARD	President
VIVIAN DECKER	Vice-President
LUCIA VALLEJO	Social Chairman
CARMEN SENGHAAS	Treasurer
MARY JANE MILLS	Social Chairman
GISELA POSADA	Secretary

The Juniors, loyal and cooperative in spirit, have successfully emerged from the realms of the underclassmen to take their place as the future campus leaders of 1948-1949. In the process of attaining to this new position, the class entertained the student body at a Christmas dinner party, sponsored the April water ballet, arranged the formal May dance given in honor of the Seniors, and were hostesses at the Baccalaureate breakfast. In a final gesture of affection and trust, the Juniors joined their departing sisters in the traditional Rose and Candle ceremony, exchanging the rose of love for the candle of learning.

After a year of observation on what was expected of the true Barry student, the Sophomores turned their training to good account in the initiation of the Freshmen last October. During the year they moulded their class into a unit through various group activities. Fine results were seen on March 17 when, dedicating their class day to St. Patrick and the wearing of the green, they celebrated in genuine upperclass fashion.

Vivacious (and perhaps not invariably above mirthful high school pranks), the Freshmen made an immediate conquest at Barry because of their good sportsmanship, their friendliness and their lack of sophistication. Officially accepted into the student body on Investiture Day, October 26, they took root by planting an acacia tree in the class grove in January. Much the wiser for their year of apprenticeship, the Freshmen terminated their first college year with a silver and blue class day on April 22.

Social activities and tradition blend to form an important part of campus life. Foremost among the social events are the formal dances. Beginning with the Coronation Dance, in honor of the Campus Queen, the chain of formal dances proceeds to the Valentine Dance, and concludes with the Junior-Senior Prom, a farewell dance for the graduating seniors.

"To give attention to the proper development of the physical being"

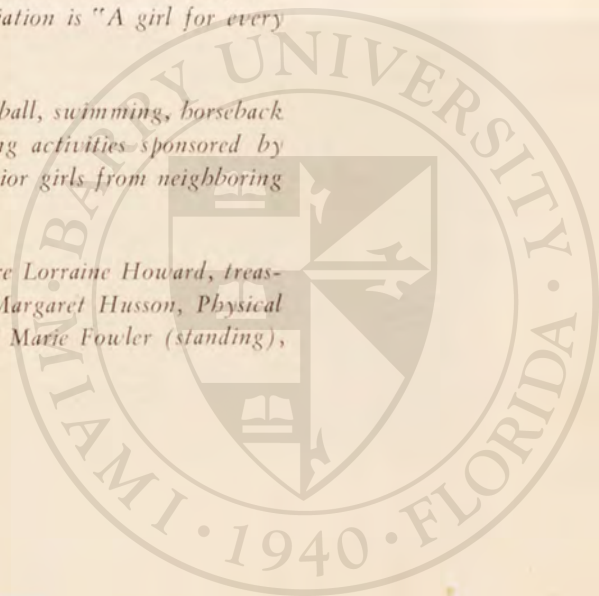

Athletic Association

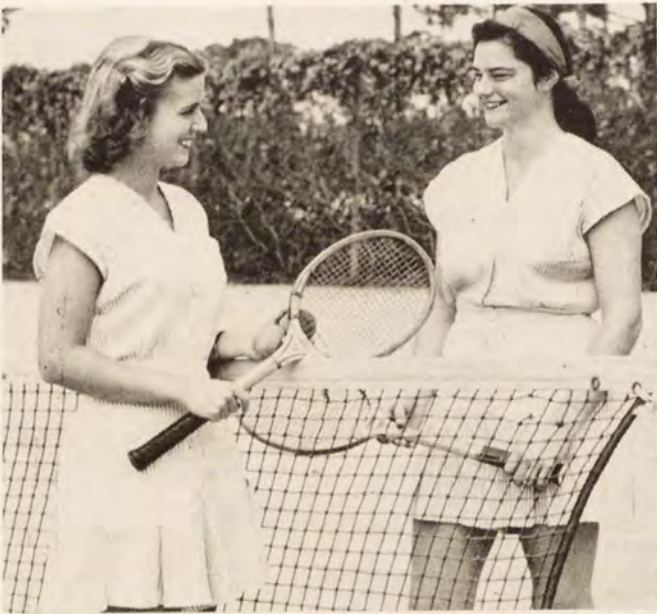

The aim of the Athletic Association is to foster in its members an interest in, and an appreciation for, athletics and to develop a true understanding of the phrase, "good sportsmanship." The motto of the Association is "A girl for every sport and a sport for every girl."

During the year volley ball, basketball, tennis, soft ball, swimming, horseback riding, archery and golf were offered. The outstanding activities sponsored by the A. A. were a bayride in October, a Play Day for senior girls from neighboring high schools in March, and the Water Ballet in April.

Handling the executive duties of the Association were Lorraine Howard, treasurer (seated, front); Rosemary Naef, president; Miss Margaret Husson, Physical Education instructor; Elaine Heilos, vice-president; and Marie Fowler (standing), secretary.

Special Aim I.

"To develop a realization of her dignity as a woman"

Each year the royal purple, the sceptre and crown are bestowed upon one Barry College student. The requirements for meriting this honor are many and exacting. Not everyone possesses the qualities necessary for a queen, but Barry found them in Barbara Lane, our Campus Queen for 1947-1948. She was elected by the students as an outstanding example of natural beauty, social grace and academic ability.

Congratulations, Your Highness! We hope that your reign has been glorious!

SODALITY OF OUR LADY

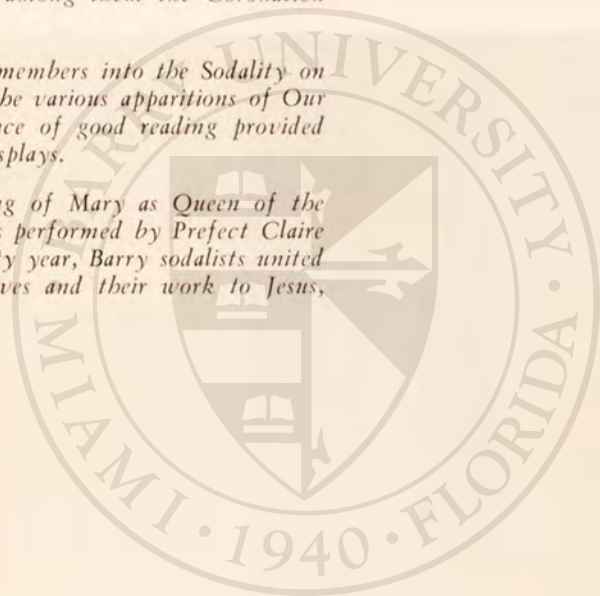

During the past year the ideal of reaching Christ through Mary was sought for and worked for by Barry sodalists through a variety of means. Because all campus activities are united under the sodality banner to achieve this ideal, temporal as well as spiritual projects were sponsored by the Barry children of Mary.

On the calendar of events for the year were the raffle of a radio-phonograph for a Negro mission in Florida; the preparation and distribution of gifts and baskets of food at Thanksgiving and Christmas; an all-committees carnival, the proceeds of which helped swell the purse for educating a priest for the diocese of St. Augustine; and a collection of clothing for students in European countries.

Several social events were on the Sodality schedule, among them the Coronation Ball and the Valentine formal.

The spiritual projects included the reception of new members into the Sodality on December 8th, and a series of tableaux commemorating the various apparitions of Our Lady, at Lourdes, Guadalupe and Fatima. The importance of good reading provided the theme for a skit, group discussions and several book displays.

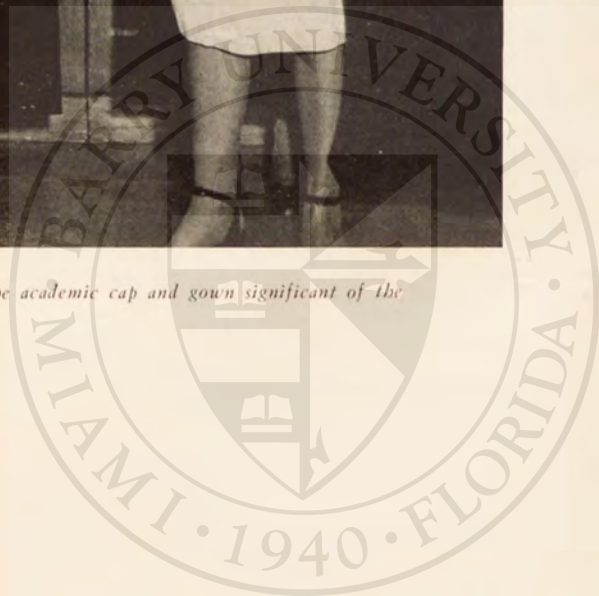

In May, Mary's own month, the traditional crowning of Mary as Queen of the Angels, Queen of the May, and Queen of Our Hearts was performed by Prefect Claire McCullough. During this ceremony climaxing the Sodality year, Barry sodalists united with sodalists throughout the world in pledging their lives and their work to Jesus, through Mary Immaculate.

Rose and Candle Ceremony . . . The departing Seniors bequeath to the Juniors the symbol of learning, accepting in return the token of friendship.

At formal Investiture ceremonies the Freshmen receive the academic cap and gown significant of the seriousness of their pursuit of knowledge and culture.

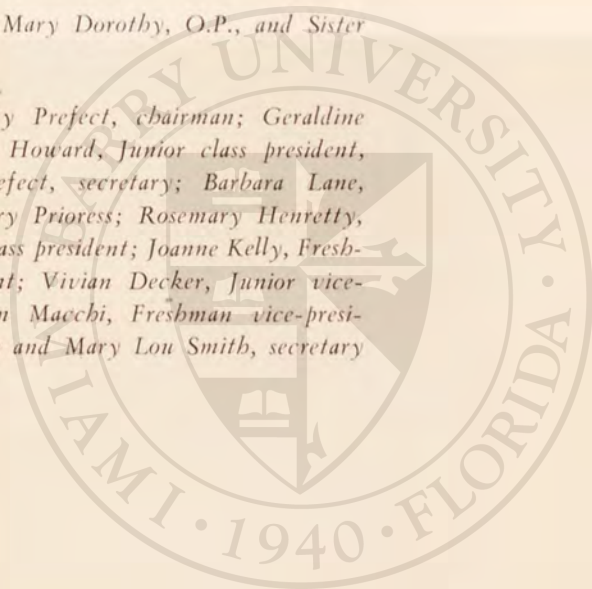

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Barry Collegians are represented by a Student Council composed of those girls whom they have elected to high campus offices. Established three years ago, it "provides for the cooperative handling of student problems by students and faculty."

Faculty representatives during 1947-1948 were Sister Mary Dorothy, O.P., and Sister Mary Paul, O.P.

Special Aim II.

"To provide training in the fine art of homemaking"

The purpose of the House Council is to assist students and faculty in the solution of residence hall problems and to promote a friendly, happy spirit on the campus. Under the leadership of its chairman, Rosemary Henretty, the Council of 1947-1948 provided entertainment several times for resident students, and prepared for distribution the student directory, "Who's Where?"

Aiding Rosemary on the Council were Nancy Hanna, vice-chairman, and Mary Luisa Smith, secretary. Other members were Veronica Barry, Doris Barton, Patricia Abernethy, Mary Catherine Marelli and Patricia Cabill.

HOSTESS STYLE DINNER

AFTERNOON SOCIAL

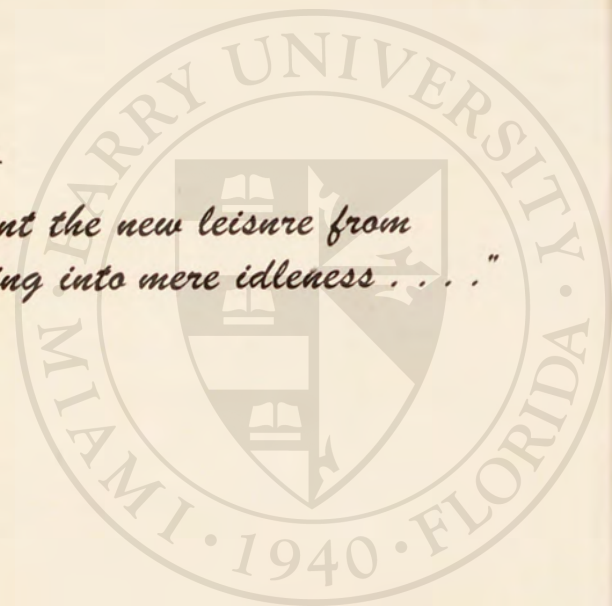

Opportunities for practice in gracious living and entertaining are offered to every Barryite. Formal and informal meals in Calaroga dining hall, teas and parties are events to challenge the social poise of the students.

Special Aim III.

"To prevent the new leisure from degenerating into mere idleness"

PRINCESS AND THE SWINEHERD

SLEEPING BEAUTY

Continuing the project begun last year, the Playhouse presented during the 1947-1948 season the second group of plays for children. The young audiences were entertained with THE SLEEPING BEAUTY, THE PRINCESS AND THE SWINEHERD, and THE EMPEROR'S NEW CLOTHES. These plays, as well as the drama, CATHERINE THE VALIANT, were under the direction of Sister Trinita, O.P.

Scenery was planned and executed by the art classes under the guidance of Sister Joannes, O.P., while costumes were accurately and beautifully fashioned by Sister Eulalia, O.P. and her clothing groups.

CONFRATERNITY OF CHRISTIAN DOCTRINE

To become leaders and apostles is the aim of Confraternity members. Through the media of discussion groups, circulation of Catholic reading materials, catechetical instruction and prayer, the members have aspired to bring Christ to others. Under the chairmanship of Mary Ellen DeDominicis and Nancy Hanna, the group was sponsored by Sister Agnes Cecile, O.P.

BETA KAPPA KAPPA

An interest in the classics is the prime requirements for membership in Beta Kappa Kappa. This group was organized under the guidance of Sister Agnes Cecile, O.P. to develop understanding of and appreciation for the works of classical antiquity.

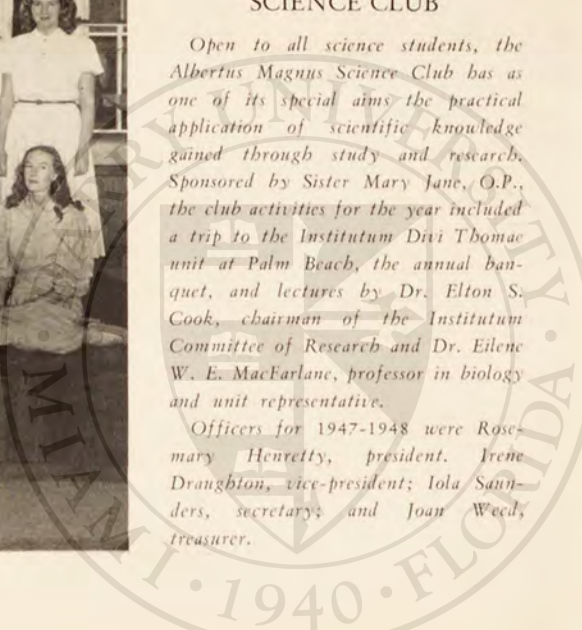

Officers for 1947-1948 were Patricia Young, First Consul; Gloria Galloway, Second Consul; Adelia McNarnay, Quaestor; and Joan Weed, Censor.

ALBERTUS MAGNUS SCIENCE CLUB

Open to all science students, the Albertus Magnus Science Club has as one of its special aims the practical application of scientific knowledge gained through study and research. Sponsored by Sister Mary Jane, O.P., the club activities for the year included a trip to the Institutum Divi Thomae unit at Palm Beach, the annual banquet, and lectures by Dr. Elton S. Cook, chairman of the Institutum Committee of Research and Dr. Eilene W. E. MacEarlane, professor in biology and unit representative.

Officers for 1947-1948 were Rosemary Heuretty, president; Irene Draughton, vice-president; Iola Saunders, secretary; and Joan Weed, treasurer.

ART STUDIO

"Art is the right making of things" is a definition sufficient in scope to cover activities in the studio. There, aspiring artists render in various media landscapes, figure studies, and still life. Nor are the Graphic Arts neglected, for the studio serves campus groups by lettering, cartooning, and serigraphy.

STRING QUARTET

Music is the universal language which speaks to all races and creeds simply by sound and rhythm. Barry is fortunate to have many students with entertaining talents.

SANTA ROSA CLUB

Any student having an interest in Latin America and the Spanish language is eligible for admission to the Santa Rosa Club. Active and enthusiastic, the organization sponsored a Christmas Posada, a pre-Lenten Fiesta, a dance for the student body, a Columbus day program, and the annual Pan American day ceremonies.

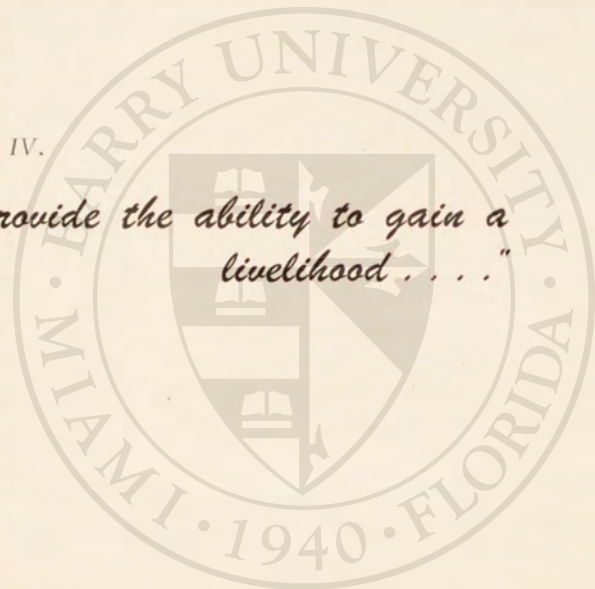

Wholeheartedly promoting their aim to foster an interest in Pan American life, the club had as 1947-1948 leaders, Mary Edith Lautner, president; Mary Lou Lomastro, vice-president; and Jane Dexter, secretary-treasurer. The Santa Rosans had as advisor Sister Mary Jean, O.P.

Special Aim IV.

"To provide the ability to gain a livelihood"

TEACHERS

Armed with Christian principles and sound Thomistic philosophy, these graduates can put to good use the teaching methods learned and practiced while in college. The teachers of the Class of '48 are Marianne Moesta and Lucille Steiner (seated); Barbara Thompson, Claire McCullough, Adelia McNarnay and Jean Pastor.

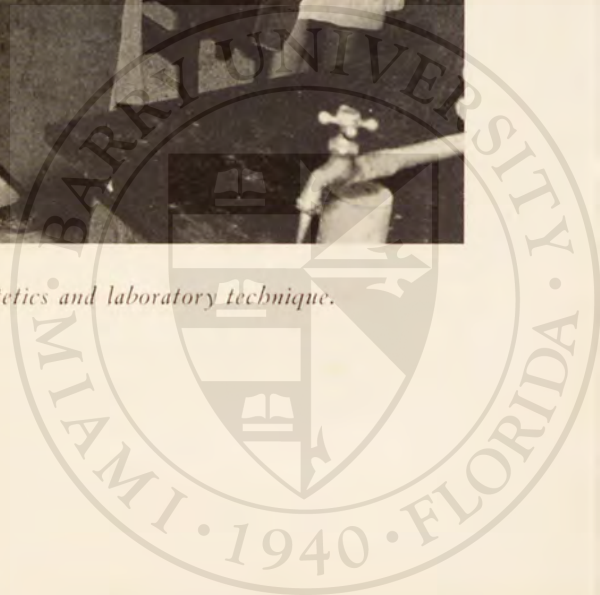

OFFICE PRACTICE IN SECRETARIAL SCIENCE LABORATORY

Speed and practice cannot be perfected in secretarial work without many hours spent in practicing the skills learned through lecture and class work. Barry's future business women realize the need for frequent and painstaking practice.

College science courses lead to advanced work in dietetics and laboratory technique.

Going to press required much planning and labor, but each month the campus news was presented in a four-page student publication, ANGELICUS. Under the editorship of Anne Criado, '48 and Mary Evelyn Nash, '50, ANGELICUS produced headlines seven times during the 1947-1948 term.

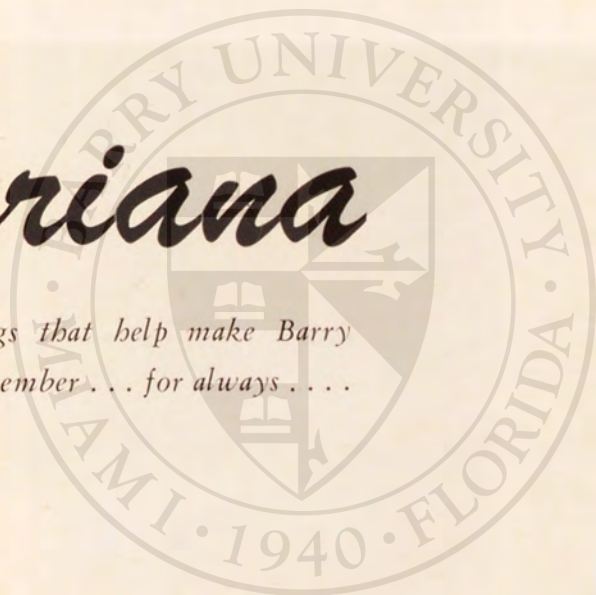

Long hours of work went into the makeup of the annual, TORCH AND SHIELD, edited in 1948 by Anne Criado and Mary Jane Mills, '49. The staff agreed, however, that the anticipation of the enjoyment to be derived from the yearbook in future years more than compensated for the energy and effort spent on its production. Assisting the editors and class representatives on TORCH AND SHIELD were the following: Patricia Hand, Geraldine Condon, Marion Roberts, Donna Guilfoyle, Anastasia McNichols, Marie Lococo, Madeline DeChairo, Betty Ann Beaufait, Shirley Jean Wright, Mary Alice Droze, Mary Barbara Baker, Mary Ellen DeDominicis, Elaine Heilos, Mary Lou Connelly, Claire Butterfield, Alice Newman, Fran Marie O'Donnell, Agnes Galban, Carol Lewis and Norma Nevares.

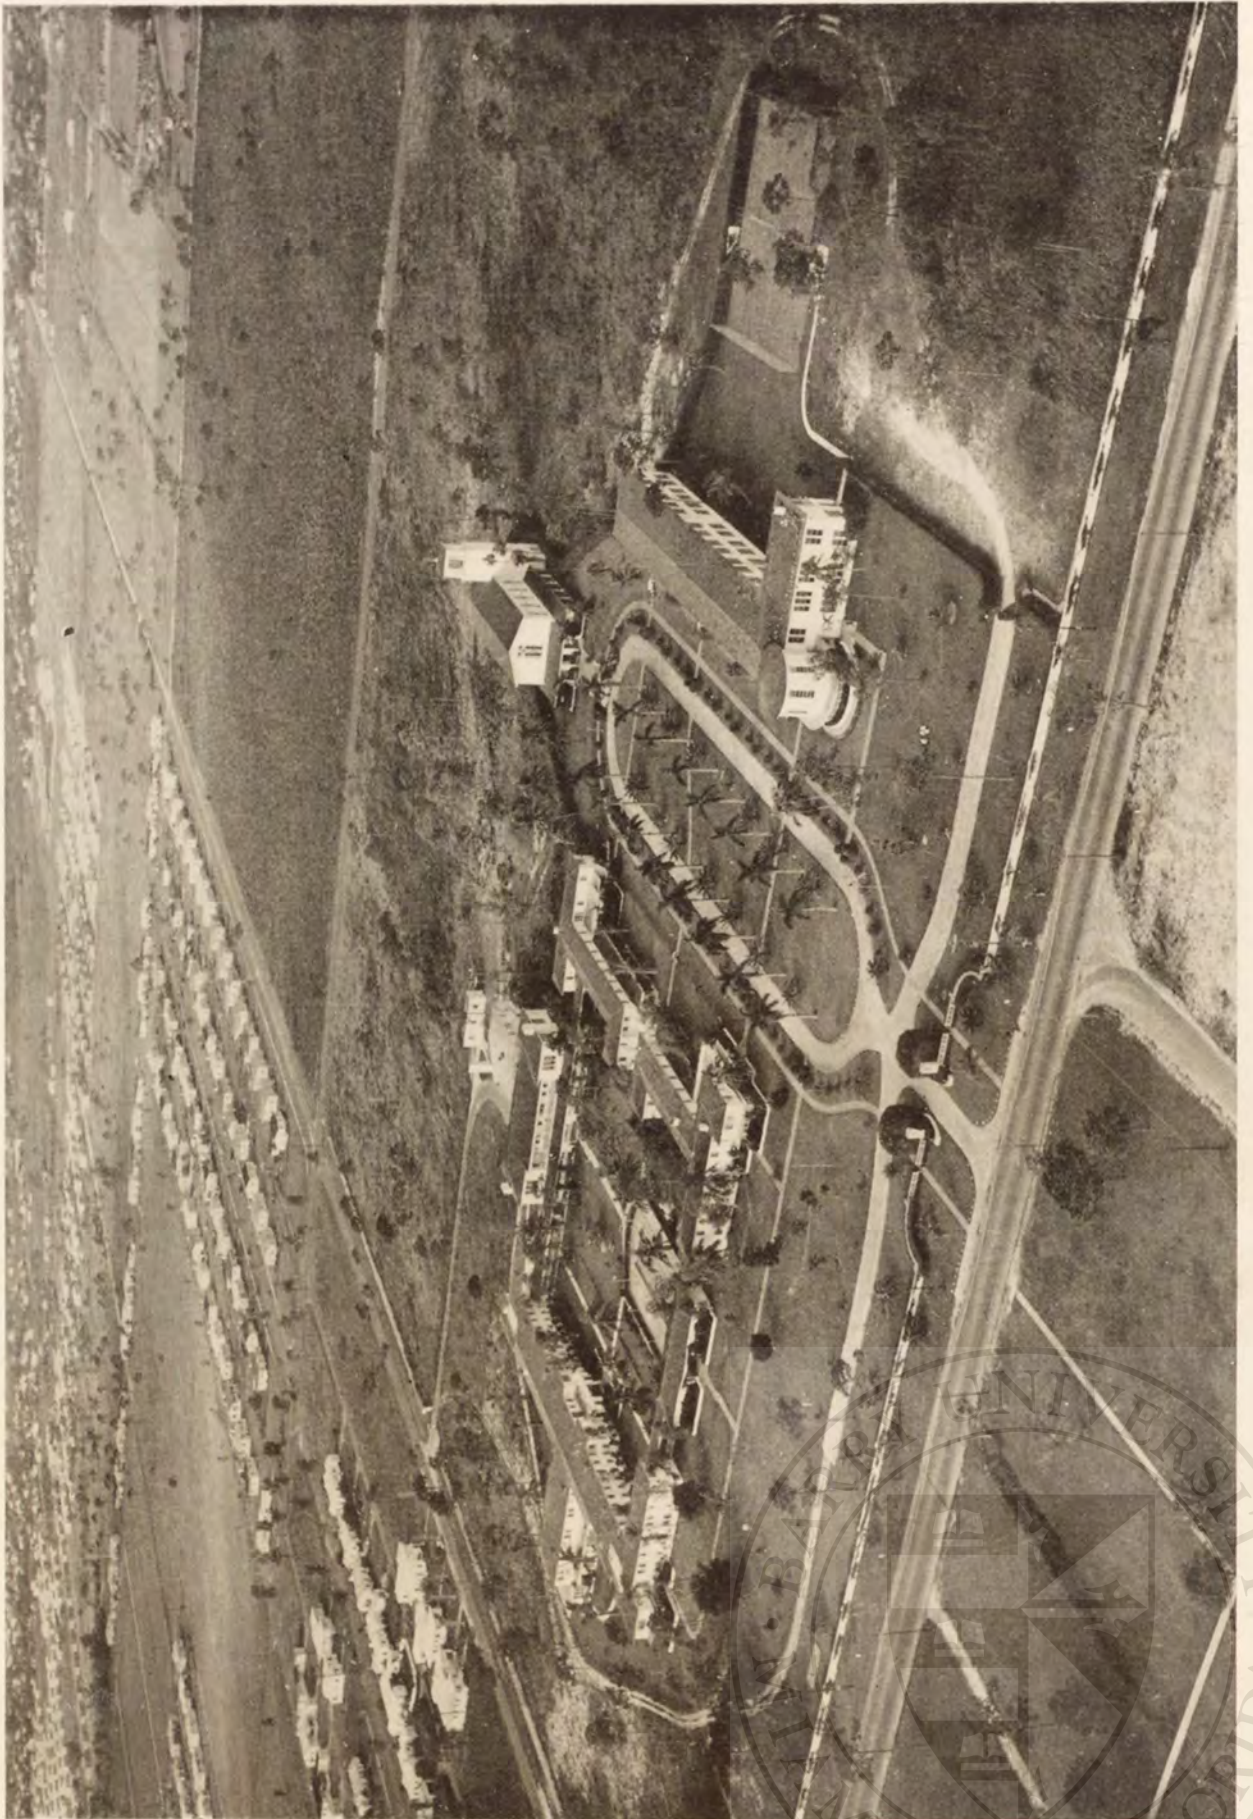

Sister Mary Paul, O.P. was moderator for ANGELICUS and TORCH AND SHIELD.

MIDNIGHT OIL . . .

It takes lots of studying to get ahead in school. In the business world it takes plenty of studying, too. How to serve our customers better, more efficiently. How to make their tough jobs easier. How to improve our service and cut our prices so that everyone can enjoy all the advantages of "living electrically."

And just as your studying "pays off" in better grades and a better education . . . our studying pays off in making our state a better, more pleasant, more prosperous place in which to work and live.
