BARRY COLLEGE

Jamboree II, Just Around Corner

By JEANNY SASSO

The time for Barry College's second Country Jamboree is rapidly drawing near. The fun-filled event will be held on February 15 and 16, lasting from 7 p.m. until midnight Friday and from 1 p.m. until midnight Saturday in the Florida Gardens.

Sponsored by the SGA, the Jamboree is being held in honor of Sr. M. Dorothy Browne, President, and her 25 years of service at Barry. Proceeds from the fair, including 50 percent of the profits from the booths and 100 percent of the profit netted by SGA, will go towards establishing a scholarship fund in Sr. Dorothy's name.

In addition, prizes will be awarded by a panel of judges to the most Original Booth, the Best Decorated Booth, and to the Booth with the Highest Earnings.

The prizes given to the winning booths will be backed by cash awards, donated by SGA to the scholarship fund in the name of the organizations which were responsible for the booths.

The main event of the Jamboree will be the drawing for the raffle. The winner of the SGA raffle will receive a stereo. Additional prizes will be an FM radio and a cassette recorder. The top 3 sellers of raffle-tickets will receive money prizes of $25, $15, and $10.

If anyone wishes to obtain raffle-tickets, contact either Sr. John Karen Frei or Sr. Paul James Villemure, boxes 48 and 183, respectively.

A bingo will be held continuously, with prizes valuing a total of $350. Other features will include a rollicking square dance on Saturday night plus a performance of the Barry College Drama Department's recent production, "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown." The ELS Center will also present a talent show.

Other attractions will include a sponge throw at faculty and students, a host of skill games, a gambling wheel, a kissing booth, a fortune teller's tent, a frustration booth (3 hits with a hammer at an old car for 25 cents), a caricature artist, a pay jail (pay to put someone in, pay to get yourself out!), a mirror maze, and a rat race sponsored by the Psychology Club.

Hamburgers, hot dogs, potato chips and Coke will be on constant supply, along with a variety of old fashioned donuts and ice cream.

Country Jamboree II has been initiated and organized by an Executive Committee comprised of Dot Case, Tim Czerniec, Bunny Donovan, Sr. Judith Ann, Jana Mullins, Fr. Neal McDermott, Pat Rodriguez, Vivian Senatore, and Cindy Strom.

Anyone wishing to participate in the decorations, the bingo, the food booths, or just wanting to help out where they are needed, contact Jana Mullins, box 925.

The Jamboree promises to be the event of the year...see you at the Fair!

Oliver!

Departments Combine For Spectacular Show

By PATTY LANGERMAN

The stage is dim, the walls show age. The mood is bleak, the place is England in the 1870's. This is the opening setting for the musical, "OLIVER," written by Lionel Bart, to be captured in a delightful splendor by the Drama and Music Departments.

In the opening, Oliver Twist is just one among many pale-faced, underfed orphan boys living in a workhouse. The audience joins the boys during their mealtime. Oliver has been chosen to be the first to ask for a second bowl of thin gruel. He asks Mr. Bumble, a large pompous man of 55 and Mrs. Corney, a sharp-tongued, domineering widow of 50.

Oliver is promptly thrashed and led off to the streets by Mr. Bumble to be sold for 5 pounds. Mr. Sowerberry, an undertaker, and his wife, his overseer, buy the boy.

After spending one night alone and frightened with a roomful of coffins, Oliver escapes to the streets of London. Tired, ragged, and starving, he is befriended by a sly but friendly boy named the Artful Dogger.

Dogger is a member of a gang of pickpockets under the guidance and protection of an elderly rogue, Fagin. Oliver suddenly has a home, food, and a type of profession. In Fagin's kitchen Oliver meets Nancy, an old protegee of Fagin's, and her friend Bet, who idolizes Nancy.

In the morning when Oliver is sent out to work with the rest of the boys, he is arrested, not for pickpocketing, but for simply looking guilty. When his innocence is proven to the police, Oliver is brought home by the man whom he was accused of robbing. Mr. Brownlow, an old gentleman of breeding and wealth, takes a strange attachment to the boy.

Fearful lest Oliver give away their set up, Fagin, and Sikes, the local villain, dispatch Nancy to get Oliver back. Meanwhile the boy is transformed from rags to riches.

He is properly dressed and cared for as he has never been in his life. But Sikes and his girlfriend, Nancy, find Oliver and return him to Fagin.

Back at the workhouse, Mr. Bumble and Mrs. Corney, now uncomfortably married, discover that Oliver is from a rich family. They scheme to get Oliver back, and Nancy, regretting her part in the capture, plans to return him to Mr. Brownlow at midnight on London Bridge. Mr. Brownlow discovers from Mr. and Mrs. Bumble that Oliver is really his grandchild.

Nancy is followed onto London Bridge by Sikes, who kills her and recaptures Oliver. Sikes is, in turn, shot and killed by the police. Oliver is returned to live permanently with Mr. Brownlow. Fagin, now minus boys, home and money, escapes to begin a new life.

The show is being directed by Sr. Marie Carol Hurley. The musical director is Michael Braz and the choreographer is Barbara Frankfurt.

The performances are March 1, 2, 3, and 8, 9, 10 at 8:15, with a 2:30 matinee on March 9.

The March 2 show was bought by Alumni for their annual Alumni Theater Cocktail Party. March 8 has been bought by the Lions Club and the matinee will be a Network Benefit.

"Spoke Folk" Cycling To Beach

By LOURDES JIMENEZ

"Spoke Folk," get your legs in gear! Join the Physical Education Department's bike hike to Haulover Beach, Sunday, February 10.

The Department is sponsoring the bike hike to Haulover in an attempt to put some pep into the campus social life.

The bikers will meet at Cor Jesu Chapel at 12 noon. From the starting point, they will bike to the Broad Causeway on 125 Street and across to Miami Beach. Once on the Beach, they will turn left, pass the Americana Hotel, and right into Haulover Beach.

There is no fee. All you need is a bike, a bagged lunch, a swim suit and a pair of powerful legs and lungs.

Recreational equipment will be provided by the Physical Education Department for games of softball, volleyball, and football.

For those who want to participate but do not have bikes, Toni's Bike shop, at 9716 N.W. 7 Ave., will rent bikes for $3.50 per day. Call them at least one day in advance to reserve a bike.

The bike hike is the beginning of a series of small events sponsored by the Physical Education Department for the benefit of the members of the Barry community. It will offer a chance to see new scenery, get out of the rat race, and get some exercise.

"We are concentrating on small, continuous events for those who don't like to join big crowds," Neill Miller said. "The bike hike is the beginning... It's for ANYBODY who wants to bike to the beach!"

Editorial

What Is The Hourglass?
Reflections On A Role

This editorial is an attempt to define the role of the HOURGLASS on the Barry College campus. After having printed four issues of the HOURGLASS, we feel that perhaps it is time to redefine our position.

By definition, a newspaper is to inform, persuade and entertain. There is no doubt that we do inform, persuade and entertain. The problem is the way in which we are forced to go about doing this.

Many times when we have tried to reflect student opinion on issues, both controversial and otherwise, people have not appreciated our right to express those views, and have even gone to the extent of reprimanding us for what we have said.

We do not take issue with those who contradict us, but rather with those who deny us the right to print both sides. There is a fear on this campus of anything that is controversial, and of anyone who tries to seek information regarding controversial topics.

There is a fear of raising issues; there is a fear of being interviewed and quoted; there is a fear of signing your name to something you fervently believe in; and there is a fear of losing the outmoded Barry image.

We are presently living in an era of change. We have been told by experts that we must be flexible and willing to talk about issues. Yet, isn't it sad that the HOURGLASS is caught between a fearful student body and a domineering tradition.

THE EDITORIAL BOARD

Food Service Committee Ready For Complaints

In the last issue of the HOURGLASS there appeared two letters of complaint regarding the service at the cafeteria.

Tim Czerniec, Acting Director of Business Affairs, has brought to the campus' attention the fact that there is a Food Service Committee at Barry, designed to solve problems concerning the cafeteria.

The Food Service Committee was established last semester and it consists of SGA appointees Kim Ballard, Marie Di Mino, Kate Galvin, Constance Harvey, Norine Hofmeyer, Allyson Maynard, Nancy Mislick, Carol Ulrich, Robert Bholer, School of Social Work, and Sr. Linda Bevilacqua, Tim Czerniec, Sr. Mary Giles and Fr. Neal McDermott.

Any reasonable complaints can be addressed to the above mentioned, or contact Tim Czerniec, Extension 386, Adrian 115.

"I am willing to talk and I am willing to communicate to Slater's and make them conform to what the students want. I am willing to listen to both sides," Czerniec said.

Workshop

The HOURGLASS Editorial Board announces the beginning of a four-month workshop for the purpose of training Editors and a Business Manager for the school year 1974-75.

Students interested must have had previous experience on a college or university newspaper. Hours will be arranged according to the production schedule.

All interested, please contact Debbie Barnett, Lourdes Jimenez, or Barbara Knopik, Box 193 or Extension 230.

Participation in the workshops does not guarantee acquisition of the positions of editors or business manager. After the workshops, participants will be allowed to submit applications for the jobs. These will be reviewed by the Publications Committee.

SOS

Enjoy Traveling; Summer In Europe

PRESS RELEASE

Luxembourg, Europe. There is a new and interesting way around the problem of scarce student jobs.

Any student between the ages of 17 and 27 can obtain a temporary paying student job in Europe through a new mail application system. Jobs, working papers, room and board arrangements and other travel documents are processed in advance.

The work is done on a non-profit basis by the SOS-Student Overseas Services, a student run organization specializing in helping American students in Europe for the past 16 years. SOS also provides a brief orientation in Europe to insure each student a good start on the job.

Standard wages are paid in addition to the profitable advantage of free room and board which is provided with each hotel, resort and restaurant job. Most jobs are in Switzerland, France, Austria and parts of Alpine Germany in ski resorts during the winter months, and in lakeside and city resorts, hotels and restaurants during the spring and summer months.

As inflation and unemployment increase, so does the attraction of a temporary paying student job in Europe. Recently raised wages in Europe not only offset any dollar devaluation loss, but a few weeks work in Europe — a personally broadening experience on its own — repays most of the trip cost. A few more weeks' work earns ample money for traveling around Europe.

Most jobs do not require knowledge of a foreign language (but what an opportunity for language students!), and willingness to work, adaptability and maintenance of an open mind count more than experience.

Applications should be submitted in time to allow for processing the job, working papers, room and board arrangements and other travel documents. Students can cut processing time by obtaining and holding until requested, 3 passport size photos and a letter of recommendation from a teacher or former employer.

Interested students may obtain an application form, job listings and descriptions, and the SOS handbook on earning your way in Europe by sending their name, address, name of educational institution and $1 (for postage, printing, handling and addressing only) to either SOS — Student Overseas Services, Box 5173, Santa Barbara, Calif. 93108, or to SOS — 22 Ave. de la Liberte, Luxembourg, Europe.

SGA News: Self-Regulated Hours Proposed

The meeting of the SGA Executive Board was called to order at 7:15 p.m. on Sunday, January 27. The members present were Cindy Strom, Manise Daniel, Pat McDermott, Dorothy Case, Vivian Senatore, Jana Mullins, Pat Rodriguez, Allyson Maynard, Pat Burch, Valerie Lightbourne, Kathryn Phipps, and Nadine Wright. Sister Judith Ann Balcerski, Executive Board advisor, was also present. Naomi Scott, Janet Palmer, and Bunny Donovan were absent.

The Ad-Hoc Curfew Committee presented a proposal to the SGA concerning self-regulated hours. Cindy Strom moved that the proposal, with minor changes, be accepted and sent to the Dean of Students Council together with research and the results from the student survey. The motion was carried.

A questionnaire has been approved and will be sent to all undergraduate faculty members of Barry College. This questionnaire will evaluate the effectiveness of the teacher evaluation. The possibility of distributing a mid-term evaluation form, upon the teacher's request, was also discussed.

The SGA Executive Board had three positions open. Nominations were accepted the week of Monday, February 4. Elections were held Wednesday, February 6 and Thursday, February 7. Members of the Election Committee were Allyson Maynard, Pat Burch, and Cindy Strom.

The letters of resignation from Janet Palmer and Naomi Scott have been accepted. The letters will be posted on the SGA Bulletin Board with their permission.

The SGA Executive Board will hold their weekly meetings on Sundays at 5:30 p.m. in the Thompson Hall Coffee House.

Weber Dorm will sponsor a 50-60's Dance with the Financial support of the SGA. Patty Rodriguez moved that the SGA support the Weber Dance Committee with the condition that publicity include that the Weber Dorm is sponsoring the dance with the financial support of the SGA Executive Board. The motion was carried.

An Ad-Hoc Committee to organize activities on the Barry College Campus is now being formed. All students are invited to join this new committee. The first meeting will be held Sunday, February 10 at 7 p.m.

in the Thompson Hall Coffee House.

Office hours have been assigned to all Executive Board members. These hours will be posted on the SGA Bulletin Board and in the SGA Office.

A rap session was held on Wednesday, January 30 and Thursday, January 31 during lunch and dinner hours. Students questioned administrators, stated complaints, and suggested ideas. Hassle hours during lunch were held in the gameroom. Hassle hours during dinner were held in the cafeteria.

The Black Students for Progress presented their budget for Black History Week to the Executive Board, Monday, January 28, at 5:30 p.m. in the SGA Office. The club would like to bring a well known Black poet to Barry College, however, it is necessary that they receive financial support from the SGA Executive Board.

The members from the Intercultural Committee from Barry College, Biscayne College, and Florida Memorial College will meet every two weeks. Allyson Maynard, Mel Hutchinson, and Pat Dimeglio have volunteered to serve on this committee as the student representatives from Barry College.

Student Activists Attention!

By VIVIAN SENATORE
SGA REPRESENTATIVE

The Student Government Association would like to see more weekend action on this campus.

Members have heard of the growing discontent of students who find Barry, the College Beautiful, only that and nothing more. However, SGA needs YOU — interested students who are willing to work toward making Barry come alive!

Don't let Barry become a 'suitcase' College. It's got too much potential for action. Instead of sitting in your room complaining about what Barry doesn't have to offer, get up, get out, and get going with us to make things happen here.

A Committee of Interested Activists will be formed Sunday, February 10, at 7 p.m. at the weekly SGA meeting in the Social Work Lounge, Thompson Hall. Bring ideas, enthusiasm, and determination to get this place moving.

Suggested activities are: weekend movies, nightly or weekend coffeehouse entertainment, Olympics day, dances, pool area activities, bicycle hikes, social awareness activities, and whatever else our heads can come up with. See you there!

Yepremian Kicks Off "Superwalk '74"

With Miami Dolphin all-pro kicker Garo Yepremian serving as honorary Chairman, and literally "kicking off" the event, the fourth annual March of Dimes Walkathon, called "Superwalk '74," will move off from the north side of the Orange Bowl Saturday, Feb. 9 at 9 a.m.

Far more than the 10,000 who walked last year, raising more than $135,000 to fight birth defects, will attempt the 20-mile route this year, each having secured pledges from family, friends, neighbors, businessmen of a certain amount for each mile completed.

Massive community support will encourage the walkers: 300 Lions Club members will man registration tables at 8 a.m. and all route checkpoints, working under the supervision of Bob Barry, Zone Chairman, Lions International 35-A, and Lee Sheidler, President, International Airport Lions Club.

All 52 local Lions Clubs are donating $1 per mile as sponsors of District Governor Mel Carver, who will walk the route.

Military support will include traffic direction, transportation, water supply, and the 13th Army Band leading the marchers for the first 1 1/2 miles. Capt. Edward C. Steele, Adjutant, 50th Supply and Service Battalion, Florida National Guard, will serve a liaison.

The U.S. Marine Corps Reserve will have 40 walkers and runners on the route. Lt. Col. Terry Turner in charge.

Walkathon General Chairman David A. Kocourek and vice chairman and chairman of the business committee Lou Creekmur said that many Miami business leaders will walk this year, picking up the "executive

Sr. M. Dorothy Browne, President; Sr. Linda Bevilacqua, Dean of Students; Tim Czerniec, Acting Director of Business Affairs; Mrs. Eunice Moore, Resident Director; William Bessiah,

Director of Maintenance and Physical Plant; and student representatives met with architect Murray Blair Wright on January 24 to approve and plan the renovations of the dormitory.

The group discussed and defined the students' specific recommendations for the renovations needed at Weber. A tentative schedule of operation was established, and completion is planned for July 30, 1975.

The Weber Project will take place in phases, the most important renovations being done before the beginning of this summer.

It was agreed that Weber will have central air conditioning, new appliances, furniture dividers in the social lounges, new windows on the second floor, fresh painting, and new lighting and plumbing.

In a later meeting, Tim Czerniec and architect Blair Wright, who designed Wiegand, knows Florida building codes and is well aware of the climatic conditions of the Miami area, established preliminary goals and an estimated budget for the project. It is hoped that the money needed to renovate Weber will come from outside funds.

The next step of the Committee will be to obtain all agreements in writing. Blair Wright expressed concern over the high costs facing the construction industry and the shortage of supplies.

Renovation priorities will be established according to costs, the money available, and the severity of the conditions.

Other sections of the campus have experienced uplifting. New windows have been installed in the first floors of Kelley, Farrell, and Weber. The Art Department was rewired, new lighting was set up in the area of Penafort Pool, repairs and painting have been partially completed in Perrault House, the Auditorium has been painted and new draperies and stage curtains have been ordered.

The lighting system of the Auditorium will also be improved. The Music Department air conditioning system has been newly insulated, and air conditioning has been installed in all of Adrian Hall, either by central air or by individual room units. The Adrian Hall renovations have been completed.

Projects in the process of being done are the second floor windows of Weber, Kelley and Farrell, establishing the preliminary stages for properly planned additional parking lots around campus, and setting up lighting facilities in the already existing parking lots, specifically around the Monsignor William Barry Memorial Library to insure the safety of the College community.

Lower Legal Age

Colleges Facing Problem

CPS PRESS RELEASE

Lowering the legal age of majority from 21 to 18 years may have serious implications for colleges and universities in those states where the change has been affected.

In a study prepared for the Council of Student Personnel Association in High Education, D. Parker Young of the University of Georgia discussed the legal and financial problems being created for college administrators by the newly gained adult status of many students.

Young questioned the legal status of campus rules requiring undergraduates to live in dorms and obey curfew hours, and suggested schools may be forced to stop acting "in loco parentis." Similarly, university regulations of campus organizations, clubs, publications, fraternities and sororities are subject to change.

According to the study, developing trouble spots include: students establishing residence to obtain lower tuition at state schools, the validity of awarding scholarships based on parental income, and the question of legal justification for mailing grades or disciplinary action notices to parents.

In addition to raising these questions, students who have attained the age of majority will have the right to bring suit against universities in an attempt to cope with other traditional tenant disputes with colleges and challenges to being charged a uniform activity fee.

Prompted largely by the 26th amendment which granted 18 year-olds the right to vote in federal elections, about two dozen states have lowered the age of majority.

As a result of the change, this fall two Texan students filed suit against Midwestern University to obtain an injunction preventing enforcement of rules requiring that students under 21 live in campus housing. In granting the injunction the court cited the Texas law lowering the age of majority to 18.

Similar suits have been filed by students against colleges in Georgia, Illinois, and Florida.

Peruvian Clinic Needs Our Support

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when all the small clinics which offer free service close their doors, a group of young doctors and interns from the Hospital Central del Empleado in Lima, Peru, begin their long 14-hour period of duty in a small clinic in Pamplona Atla.

Two doctors work into the early hours of the morning until each patient is cared for. They then remain on call until 6 a.m. the next day and often attend to the many emergency cases which arrive.

There are 50,000 persons in this area who live in abject poverty. Before the coming of the doctors, these people had to travel long distances in search of medical care. The 85 volunteer physicians see an

The program was initiated by Sr. Mary Kenneth, an Adrian Dominican Sister, who taught at Barry College for several years. Sr. Mary Kenneth was among the first to come to the aid of the exiled Cubans as they fled to Miami. She set up English classes for Spanish lawyers and doctors, translating and teaching them English methods and terms.

Sister made herself available to the Spanish-speaking community at all times. She was approached by the University of Miami to teach English, and English Medical terms to Latin American doctors.

It was in 1969 that she was asked to go to Lima to teach Medical English. The first group of doctors who volundoctors and from physicians in the U.S. have also helped to keep the clinic functioning.

Without this help it would be impossible to keep the program running; but due to the increase of patients more assistance is required. The patients pay 10 cents for their medical service and receive all medicines free of charge.

The right emergency service is a boom to the area because no other medical care is available for miles. It has proved to be dangerous for the doctors, however. Some months ago, the two men on duty were awakened at 2 a.m. by four individuals who were trying to force their way into the clinic.

Fortunately, some people who live in the nearby huts heard the noise and shouts of the doctors and came running to their rescue. The next day a Committee for the Defense of the Doctors was formed and the men from the area took all night guard duty until police protection was obtained.

This program serves a double purpose: it gives young physicians the opportunity to work, gain experience, and to come in contact with the poor, and it provides medical care to the extremely needy people.

Sr. Mary Kenneth is now stationed in Lima, but hopes to move to Pamplona Alta soon, to be closer to the clinic and the people. She plans to enlarge the services by offering a health education program in the future, if a building facility can be made available. Contributions toward this facility can be sent to Sr. Kenneth in care of Sr. Paul James at Barry College.

During the month of February, concerned students on campus will be selling raffle tickets for a beautiful red and white cable-stitch afghan, hand knit by Sr. Barbara Gass. All money contributed to the raffle will be sent to Sr. Kenneth for support of her work there.

Another big way to help would be to approach your doctor and ask him to save sample medicines for Sr. Kenneth's work with the poor. Sr. John Karen will be happy to pick up the medicine and repack it to send it to Lima. Hundreds of pounds of medicine have already been contributed this way. Many times Sr. Kenneth has written that without these samples, the work would not have been able to continue.

The raffle will be held on March 5. The tickets are 25 cents each or 5 for $1. Don't miss this opportunity to be a part of this wonderful work!

average of 80 patients daily. More than 17,000 patients have benefitted from this program which began in May of 1971.

The clinic is a small $3,000 one which was built with private donations from the U.S. and from a group of Peruvian ladies who reside in the States. Peruvian professionals donated their services as engineers, architects and electricians. The manual labor was donated by the people in the area. All that has been done in support of this program has been carried out in cooperation with the inhabitants of the section involved.

teered their services for the clinic were members of her English class, and medical care was given at night in a government health center until the clinic was built.

According to Sr. Mary Kenneth, more than $500 is needed monthly to cover the cost of the medicines and maintenance.

Many medicines have been donated by foundations in the U.S., such as the Catholic Medical Mission, Inc., the Medical and Surgical Relief Committee, Inc., and the Direct Relief Foundation. Donations of medical samples from local Barry and Biscayne students who commute to either campus are traveling in style these days. They're enjoying the ride in the new white bus, purchased by Tim Czerniec, Acting Director of Business Affairs.

The new 16 seat 1974 Dodge Maxiwagon replaced the previous bus, which was wrecked in an accident. Bought at Dadeland Dodge, it is half owned by both Barry and Biscayne, with the title to Barry. It is housed at Biscayne, and the Colleges split the cost of maintenance.

The bus loads in the area just north of the Monsignor William Barry Memorial Library and leaves for Biscayne every hour from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. It leaves Biscayne at 7:30 a.m. and on each successive half-hour through 4:30 p.m.

The bus, another of the benefits of the Consortium agreement between Barry and Biscayne, was purchased to supply transportation for the students who use the facilities of both Colleges. It was blessed by Fr. Neal McDermott on Friday, January 25, at an outdoor ceremony at Barry College.

Psychology Club Eligible For Psi Chi

By ESTER SOLER

In March the Psychology Club will celebrate its first birthday. The anniversary will make the club eligible for membership in the national honor society of psychology, Psi Chi.

The club has been working to fulfill the requirements for eligibility to Psi Chi for a year, and will submit its application in the near future. If approved, Psi Chi will be in effect at Barry by the end of the Spring semester.

Psi Chi is a nationwide service club. Thus, its members will be active in such places as the Sunland Training Center for retarded children. They will have the advantage of gaining experience in their field of psychology while helping the community.

To qualify as a member of Psi Chi, applicants must be either psychology majors or minors, have completed eight hours in psychology have a cumulative average of 2.7, and at least a 3.0 in all psychology courses taken.

At the present time, the Psychology Club, under the leadership of President Shelley Slapion and advisor Dr. Schaeffer, has been active sponsoring bake sales, raffles, and a series featuring guest lecturers.

Miami Dietetics Program Combines Barry, FIU

By GINNY ALBERTS

"Any man or woman who likes science and people, will love dietetics," says Sr. Clare Beaubien, the Associate Director of the Greater Miami Dietetics Program.

This program is a consortium agreement between Barry

College, which has a well-known reputation for its excellent Family and Consumer Science Department, and FIU, a new member of the Southern Universities which has adequate finances to initiate such a program.

Plans for the Dietetics Program were first drafted in July of 1971, and received the go-ahead from the American Dietetics Association in the Fall of 1972.

The program operates on a four year basis; two years are taken up with prerequisite courses and the remainder with full time clinical courses. Approval for admission to the clinical courses is determined after the first two years. Each applicant is interviewed by selected members of the clinical faculty.

Mrs. Susan Himburg, a Registered Dietician and a Barry College faculty member, states, "A dietician is not a cook. A dietician is one who educates toward better nutritional practices, from the time prior to birth through the life cycle."

The advantage of this program is that it enables students who can't attend the regular four years of college and the extra year of internship to become a dietician. Under this program they can receive their education in four years instead of five.

The Dietetics Program also allows its members to go to work after four years.

After completing the program students are required to take a registration exam. Successful completion of this exam enables them to become registered dieticians.

Sr. Beaubien adds, "We need super dieticians who see themselves as integral members of the health care team."

A series of eight lectures for parents will begin on February 8, 1974, given by Sr. Clare Beaubien.

This is a great opportunity for parents who want to learn how to rear children properly. For more information, contact the Family and Consumer Department.

Sr. Dorothy Honored

By ROSE SIERRA

Sr. M. Dorothy Browne, President of Barry, was awarded the Citizen of the Year Award by the Miami Shores Chamber of Commerce.

The Award was presented at their Annual Installation Dinner, on Friday, January 25, at the Miami Shores Country Club. It is given to a resident of Miami Shores who has contributed outstanding efforts to the community.

Michael Khoury, General Manager of the Miami Shores Chamber of Commerce, stated that the Award was given to Sr. Dorothy after a unanimous decision.

"We feel that Sr. Dorothy has done such a good job not only for Barry College, but for the entire community," he said. "One can always tell a big difference between a community that has a college and one that does not. Barry has made this great difference in Miami Shores.

"We also felt that by recognizing Sr. Dorothy, we are also recognizing Barry College," he continued. "We can easily say that Sr. Dorothy is loved by everyone here, and we are very grateful to her for her untiring efforts."

Prevent Bike Thefts

SECURITY RELEASE

The current "energy crunch" has resulted in increased bicycle use in the Barry community.

In all probability campus bike owners will be confronted with an increase in bicycle disappearances. To maintain our minimum loss ratio, the Security Department urges that the following steps be taken as precautions against bicycle theft:

- (1) Lock the bike to a stationary object.
- (2) Use a heavy duty, case-hardened chain and lock having a shackle of not less than 3/8" diameter.
- (3) Always lock your bike in a conspicuous place.
- (4) Run the chain or cable through both wheels and the frame.
- (5) Register your bicycle with the Miami Shores Fire Department. This is part of a County wide registration program and there is no charge. Registration hours between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., excluding Sundays.

Be sure you know the person to whom you're lending your bike.

During 1973 more than 5,000 bicycles were stolen in Dade County. Many of the recovered bikes were auctioned because the owners could not be located.

If the above precautions are taken they will minimize bike thefts.

Sister was commended on January 3 by Florida's Governor Askew and his Cabinet for her dedicated services to Barry during her 26 years at the College.

The Governor and his Cabinet proclaimed that, "such dedication and achievement deserve statewide recognition by the public and elected officials." Her untiring efforts, they felt, had given Barry the ability to reach new heights of integrity and achievement and had excellently served the youth of the State of Florida.

"Youth For Federal Union" Presents Views At Barry

By KATHI SOTOMAYOR

Maybe you've wondered how you could get involved in an organization to voice your feelings in such matters as population, world peace, pollution, and free trade?

Due to a concerned senator, Mike Mansfield, "Youth for Federal Union" has been established. This organization is designed to help young people voice their opinions and vote on major issues.

The fee of $2.50 can make you a member of the club called Together, which represents you. If you are hesitant and would like more information, contact Isabel Balboa, 373-7939.

"Youth for Federal Union" is a good way to keep in touch with the world today. Many senators and statesmen have recommended it and some of its better known supporters have been the late Senator Robert Kennedy; former Governor of New York, Nelson Rockefeller; Senator Hubert Humphrey; and the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

In March, Joann Horton, a speaker for "Youth for Federal Union," will be at Barry to speak on the organization. The date will be announced as soon as settlements are made. Area high schools have been invited to attend. If you are interested, come and listen and take this chance to join and speak up.

Pass/Fail Hurts Grad School Applicants

CPS PRESS RELEASE

A recent survey indicates undergraduates with more than 10 percent of their courses graded on a pass-fail basis will be disadvantaged when applying to graduate and professional schools.

According to the Educational Record, the survey also indicated students with a majority of pass-fail courses will face difficulties in transfering to other schools, obtaining financial aid, and finding employment.

The poll of 200 graduate schools, 50 law schools, and 50 medical schools showed that admissions directors feel evaluation of pass-fail is "extremely difficult, if not impossible."

Nationwide admissions officers expressed general agreement with the survey's findings and noted a preference for graded course work. One at Harvard said, "Pass-fail grades... are of no help to us. We don't even try to evaluate them."

State Offers Scholarships For Drug Abuse Work

PRESS RELEASE

TALLAHASSEE — Attorney General Robert L. Shevin and Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services Secretary O.J. Keller have announced a new scholarship and training program for drug abuse counselors and administrators in Florida.

The program will be financed through a self-perpetuating trust fund being established with $772,896.86. This amount was termed by a Federal District Court Judge in New York as the "excess consumer fund of the State of Florida," and consists of monies remaining after the claims of public and private consumers of tetracycline had been paid and as a result of an anti-trust lawsuit filed on behalf of the consumers of Florida as a class action by the Attorney General of Florida.

Ralph Glatfelter, a former administrative assistant to Attorney General Robert Shevin, was named Executive Director of the project, to be known formally as the Florida

Drug Abuse Prevention and Education Trust. Glatfelter's salary and all office expenses are being paid out of the trust. Glatfelter has served as a consultant to the Florida Medical Association Committee on Drug Abuse and as a liaison with the State Office of Drug Abuse and local drug abuse programs for the past three years.

Shevin and Keller said the Trust would be used initially to provide scholarships and work-study opportunities for men and women training for careers in drug abuse prevention, rehabilitation, and education.

"The judge who decided the anti-trust case in our favor made only two stipulations regarding the use of this money," Shevin said. "(1) It was to be used in the general area of drug abuse, and (2) the money was not considered to be part of the general revenue funds of the State and, therefore, not subject to legislative or executive budgeting or appropriation."

Shevin and Keller, who will act as court appointed trustees, said the decision was made to put the money into education and training when the first report of the State Drug Advisory Council cited training as the single most important problem in conducting effective drug abuse prevention and rehabilitation projects throughout the State.

Glatfelter said the first duty of his small staff will be to identify community colleges and universities throughout the State which have adequate curricula and work-study opportunities to qualify for the training programs and scholarship funds.

"Then," he said, "we will move rapidly to channel money to qualified and interested people."

Initial plans are to provide a limited number of scholarships and work study opportunities in the areas of education, therapy, counseling, personnel, social welfare, sociology, criminology and other disciplines related to drug abuse.

Attorney General Shevin said, "We hope to raise more money through voluntary donations to expand this critical program. I hope the public and various philanthropic foundations will be sympathetic to the need and urgency in dealing with this devastating and complex problem. Drug abuse is a people problem, and people must work together to solve it."

With the final payment of over $750,000 the drug companies charged by the Attorney General with fixing the prices of the antibiotic tetracycline have now returned over two million dollars to the state and its citizen-consumers.

File For Financial Aid

"Trauma: It's An Emergency"

PRESS RELEASE
WPBT — CHANNEL 2

Public Television's most ambitious health project will present "Trauma: It's an Emergency," on February 11 at 8 p.m.

The program will take a look at what is—and what isn't—being done for the 52 million Americans who are injured in accidents and violent crimes each year.

"Trauma..." is the fourth in a series which premiered in November concerning the nation's most deadly medical conditions. To increase the effectiveness of the national presentations, Channel 2 will utilize the shows as springboards for community action.

Each program in the series is followed by a locally-produced and oriented 30-minute segment, during which time Channel 2 shows, via filmed reports, those medical agencies and institutions available to the South Florida resident. In addition, each of the complete programs is followed by a Spanish translation of the national portion (10 p.m.).

Because Channel 2 feels the series important enough to warrant a huge participating audience, they have alerted their volunteer network to aid in the dissemination of program information.

Spearheaded in Dade County through the cooperation of the Heart Association of Greater Miami, Dade County Medical Association and its Auxiliary, and the American National Red Cross, the volunteer efforts have attempted to alert every citizen to the importance of "The Killers."

Similar drives have been made in the five-county area within WPBT's signal.

By JODI BEYER

When the Barry College Auditorium fills to capacity one should expect to find big name talent on stage. January 26 was no exception.

On that night one of the most enthusiastic audiences this writer has ever joined witnessed a performance (or two) of Buddy Rich and the band. For the audience this must have been a truly memorable experience. Their applause was deafening, not to mention the appreciation felt in their standing ovations.

But for Buddy Rich this concert must have been like every other. His "style" was strongly in evidence. Rich seemed almost bored during the show(s). It was evident in his appearance and performance. Furthermore, "annoyed" at his band, Rich made some audible comments that lacked any measure of good taste. The audience accepted this "style" and just kept on clapping.

Rich, a drummer by profession ("the" drummer for some), was accompanied by (or accompanied) 15 band members. The questionable sound system didn't seem to bother the audience. They clapped, whistled and verbally lauded every selection. They took pictures, with flash, during the performance. They shouted requests. Some of them even came back for a second show.

Both shows were sponsored by WBUS 94 FM with the incentive of Barry faculty member, Jay Corre. Corre, who was with Rich's group in Las Vegas some time ago, recently joined Barry to teach jazz. It was Corre's idea to show the community that Barry has a Music Department. Corre's talent, shared with Rich on stage, brought the point home without question.

Spotlights must also be shown on tenor sax Pat LaBarbara and trumpeter Lynn Bibiano of Rich's band. Their solos equaled those of Rich, and their enthusiasm perhaps excelled that of the drummer.

Surely, however, the enthusiasm of the audience beat them all. If it weren't for an audience, a performance would be nothing. For this audience, Rich's performance was everything.

If only Barry could fill the Auditorium to capacity with more students.

...Drama...

By PATTY LANGERMAN

In early February, Barry was fortunate to have an excellent hard-hitting psychological drama performed in the Little Theater.

The show, "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds," by Paul Zindel, was directed by George Jazombek.

This Pulitzer Prize winning show has a powerfully dramatic plot revolving around a domineering mother and her relationships to her two daughters.

Beatrice (Dee Dee Busher) is a violently cruel mother who takes out her hatred toward the world on her daughter, Tillie (Ce Ce Moore). Tillie is an intelligent girl who yearns to know the purpose and meaning of life.

Beatrice frequently detains Tillie from school and makes her stay home and do housework. Tillie's science teacher gives her marigolds that have been exposed to Cobalt 60. At home she raises these flowers and enters them in a science fair.

Her epileptic sister, Ruth (Carmen Blanco), criticizes Tillie for the experiment. She suddenly stops ridiculing when her sister wins first prize.

Beatrice is annoyed because social pressure demands her presence in school when Tillie is awarded her prize. As a final degradation to Tillie, she refused to go at the last minute.

Zindel created Beatrice as a master of brutal verbal warfare. Her influence on her children was as different as the gamma rays on Tillie's marigolds. They were both exposed to her affected psychological condition.

The new year was started very well, dramatically. Three other student productions are scheduled for this semester. Watch my column for exact dates and details!

Music students are now preparing for the Freshman-Sophomore Recital which will be held Saturday, February 9 at 8:15 p.m. The program, presented by the Music Department, will be staged in the Recital Hall under the direction of Miss Charlotte Megginson.

The Freshman-Sophomore Recital will include performances by the Madrigal Singers, Jazz Ensemble, String Ensemble, pianists, organists, and vocalists.

The recital is free and everyone is welcome.

The printing of the new Parking and Traffic Regulations Handbook for Barry College has just been completed. Distribution was via campus mail and additional copies are available from the Controller's Office, Room No. 112, Adrian.

New and returning students are reminded that parking on the Mall and at the Post Office is prohibited. The campus speed limit is 15 miles per hour and it is enforced.

Any person desiring to do student teaching during the first semester of the academic year 1974-75, and who has not already received an initial application in an Educational Psychology class, must obtain one from Sr. Marie Siena prior to February 15.
